ITEM 1.

DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS.

Corporate History

Deal a Day Group Corp. ("DADG" or "the Company") was incorporated in the state of Nevada on April 27, 2005 under the name Puppy Zone Enterprises, Inc. On December 20, 2007, we entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger with Actiga Corporation whereby Puppy Zone Enterprises, Inc. merged into Actiga Corporation, and we filed Articles of Merger to effectuate the merger and name change. On January 14, 2008, we effectuated the merger (the "Merger") of our subsidiary with and into QMotions, Inc., ("QMotions") with QMotions becoming the surviving wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. In conjunction with the Merger on January 14, 2008, Mr. Amro Albanna ("Mr. Albanna") acquired approximately 42.1% of the Company's total issued and outstanding common stock, and was appointed as the Chief Executive Officer, Treasurer, and a Director of the Company. We presently have three employees, other than persons who are the Company's officers and directors.

Until October 23, 2008, we, through two of our then wholly-owned subsidiaries QMotions and Aptus Games Inc., ("Aptus") operated our business as a developer, manufacturer and distributor, marketer and seller of motion-based controllers for on-line video games and developer of three-dimensional gaming software. On August 20, 2009, we changed our name to Avisio, Inc., to reflect the new business model of the Company, which is to acquire and commercialize underutilized but potentially high value assets into profitable companies.

Thereafter and due to the growth and evolution of the daily deal industry, we decided to change our business model. On September 1, 2011 we changed our name to Deal a Day Group Corp. to reflect our new business direction in the internet sales and marketing industry. Accordingly, on November 4, 2011, we entered into an Asset Acquisition Agreement (the Asset Acquisition Agreement) with Rich Media Corp. (RMC) whereby the Company acquired certain assets directly related to various online marketing and media websites, and social media accounts operating in the internet sales and marketing industries, including but not limited to our current website, www.ridethedeal.com (collectively the Acquired Assets). In exchange for the Acquired Assets, RMC received an aggregate payment of one million five hundred thousand (1,500,000) restricted shares of the Company s common stock.

From our headquarters in Long Beach, California, we plan to become an internet-based social media company focused on marketing coupons to local merchants. The Company s goal is to set itself apart from the larger competitors by developing long term relationships with its merchants. We will offer value-added products, services and support to help retain the customers brought in by the deals we offer, with a constant focus on offering such deals to a local consumer base. We have found that these are the most sought after criteria to attracting merchant participation.

Since the adoption of our new business venture as the central focus of the Company, we have concentrated our efforts on building a core operations team and requisite software platforms. As part of these efforts, we secured the domain name, www.ridethedeal.com, and we finalized the development of our website towards the end of January 2012. The majority of our time since the fourth quarter of 2011 has been spent on market research and analysis, continuing software development, and direct contact and feedback with local merchants and people within the target community. We believe our success will come from the strategic marketing of our product and service offerings and the development of strong relationships with our merchants for continuous repeat-business. We intend to launch in other communities in the United States with the eventual goal of expanding internationally.

The developers of the proprietary software referenced in the comment were Dan Meyers and Hugo Samayoa. No labor contracts exist with the developers referenced herein. No patents, trademarks, or licenses for our proprietary software exist. We have not incurred any research or development costs.

Business Model

The initial component of our revenue model is the sale of merchants daily deal offerings. We have developed the website and supporting backend software enabling an efficient and streamlined process for: (i) posting a daily deal; (ii) monitoring, tracking, and statistical record keeping of the deal coupon purchase; and, (iii) detailed transactional accounting among the consumer, the merchant and the Company. We will identify which merchants to target on the basis of geography and demand. Because we are based in Long Beach, California, we will first target merchants in the immediate geographic area. Further, given that our goal is to support local businesses, we will intend to develop relationships with businesses and potential consumers at local community events, such as farmers markets, in order to target businesses that we believe already have strong ties to the local community. Targets will be retail, service, and food and beverage outlets who offer products and services in the $30 to $60 price range.

Additionally, we intend to offer merchant advertising whereby merchants will be offered participation in our purchased advertising, email, and social media campaigns, banner advertising on our website, and special events. We believe this low-cost but high-margin model has the potential to gain momentum if we are able to generate greater name recognition and as our user and follower base grows.

Affiliate Marketing will also be an added revenue stream providing high margins and minimal costs to the Company. Affiliate programs are offered by companies or individuals that want to market a product or service but do not necessarily want to incur additional advertising expenditures. Banner advertising will be displayed on the Company's website driving merchant traffic to the affiliate business website. The entity or individual would pay DADG commissions on transactions facilitated between customers and affiliate suppliers. There are no overhead costs to the Company and our in-house personnel can manage the entire process of the Affiliate Marketing procedures for the website.

Products and Services

Our current website, www.ridethedeal.com, will be the basis of our first venture into the social media/online coupons industry. This site will feature a daily Deal of the Day and it will be the center point for future Merchant Advertising and Affiliate Marketing. Our website will only be a portal for coupons, and we will not be involved in any direct sales of products or services through our website. Our initial revenue stream will come from selling coupons for the daily deals. Each sale is split between the Company and the merchant offering the deal. To date, we have not engaged with any merchants to create customized deals.

Through our Ride The Deal brand, the Company will develop its business model and offer its deals in tier 2 markets, which consist of the communities outside of the major metropolitan areas with populations of less than 500,000. We believe that these areas may tend to have a much stronger sense of community since supporting the local community is an important factor in both consumers' choices as well as the desire for merchants to participate in these promotions. Thus our brand statement: Shop Local. Save Local. Support Local. will be a theme throughout our Company.

Our sales team will work with each merchant to create customized deals for each individual merchant. We have also created standardized deal templates for the main categories of merchants such as restaurants, bars, and spas for quick demonstrations, sales and postings for potential merchant clients. We are continuing to develop templates for different categories of deals, and we are working on providing a greater selection of options for the sales team to offer merchants. These standardized templates are efficient for the merchants and they also reduce the time and costs for the Company.

Plan of Operations

Phase 1 Company Structure, Software and Technology

The Ride the Deal assets were acquired as part of the Asset Acquisition Agreement with RMC and we began implementing our new business plan in November 2011. Since then, we have established a central headquarters in Long Beach, California as the basis of our initial operations, and as our operations are mostly virtual, new satellite cities can be operated and managed remotely once we expand our operations into other cities. With the exception of local sales and writing staff, we anticipate incurring minimal infrastructure costs as part of expanding our deal offerings to additional cities.

We believe a stable and feature-rich software platform is the foundation on which the electronic coupon industry is based. Accordingly and after careful consideration and analysis, we determined that the creation and development of our own proprietary software platform would ultimately provide the greatest value to the Company and to our potential and existing clients. Our sales cycle relies almost exclusively on this platform; therefore, we focused our initial research on various third-party offerings for such software platform. The proprietary software platform required a larger initial investment of time and resources, but we believe the numerous benefits it offers far outweigh its costs. Additionally, ownership and control of our own software platform has created an asset which can be monetized via several channels:

Scalability built into the design means expanding to additional cities does not require further investment or licensing fees paid to third parties;

2.

We can adapt readily to technology requirements as the electronic coupon industry continues to evolve;

3.

Our products and services are highly customizable; therefore, changes can be implemented immediately using our in house technical experts;

4.

Alternative revenue sources can be established by offering a customized suite of software packages to other, non-competitive operations; and,

5.

Further revenue sources can be exploited as proprietary applications and features are developed, utilized and tested within our own operations. Those that have high monetizable value can be re-packaged and offered to third parties

Version 1.0 of our software platform and website went live in beta testing in December 2011. Other milestones we completed during the 4th quarter of 2011 include the hiring of a sales team, development of the Company's marketing plan, the onset of an email database development, and our official name change, as declared effective by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority on November 4, 2011. Version 2.0 of our software is expected to be completed by the start of the 3rd quarter of 2014.

In addition, we also rely on a stable network of servers and routers capable of handling high internet traffic and large database driven search features in order to support our website and anticipated traffic. The database and server infrastructure is outsourced to a company designed to provide these specific services.

Phase 2 Operations, Marketing & Sales

Phase 2 of our business plan began at the start of 2012 with the completion of the Company's website. Our website, www.ridethedeal.com officially went live in January 2012 and has been operational and available to the public since then. Marketing is a two-fold aspect of our business since we market out services to both merchants and subscribers. Although the primary goal of our marketing activities is to create a local subscriber base through the procurement of emails, there are positive spill-over effects that aid in procuring participating merchants and ultimately creating more daily deals. We believe that the simple and most important analysis is that higher number of emails equals higher revenues. A large subscriber base also attracts merchants to participate as the daily deals will be viewed by a large number of individuals. Therefore, even if the daily deal is not purchased, the simple act of viewing the daily deal provides exposure and advertising. These effects allow us to devote most of our marketing budget and resources to the task of collecting opt-in emails.

The Company has begun utilizing local outside sales staff that prospect for and engage with local merchants. Our research has shown that merchant participation and closing rates with face to face presentations are far higher than solicitations via telephone, email and other forms of communication. Each sales associate is given an Apple iPad which is pre-loaded with the Company's own proprietary software tools and applications, including:

Ride The Deal website presentation;

Various deal templates;

Deal and revenue calculator;

Post-deal promotions and marketing tools; and,

Electronic contracts (with signing function)

Sales associates will be able to create, submit and close a deal immediately upon the approval of the participating merchant with the specific conditions of a sale to require final approval from Company management. The iPad applications allow for a paperless contract with a signing function; however a printed copy of the deal will be provided for merchant records. New deals are submitted to the deal queue within the Company's software platform and uploaded according to a schedule, which is designed to offer a strategic mix of daily/featured deals along with continuing deals which will be presented in the side bar of the deals page until the offering of that specific deal has expired. Daily deals are offered through our website and sent via email blast to our subscriber base and social media channels. Revenues are generated from the purchasing of the deals and reconciled daily through our transaction engine which is integrated with our accounting systems.

Revenues from sales of the daily deals are divided between the merchant and our Company. This model was first introduced by Groupon, Inc. where the merchant and the daily deal operator would split the proceeds from the deal 50/50.

For example:

A deal would be offered at $20 (retail price to consumer)

2.

The $20 is paid immediately to the daily deal site through the transaction engine

3.

$10 would be retained and $10 would be paid out to the participating merchant over a 2-3 month period

Merchants have negotiated the split on the daily deal operator's side resulting in a decrease from 50% to 45%-35% of the proceeds being kept by the daily deal operator. Much of this split is determined by the structure of the deal, but the industry standard is now averaging at a gross profit of between 40-45% of the deal proceeds for the daily deal operator. Additionally, the merchants are getting paid out at a much quicker rate, with the payout happening generally within 2 weeks to a month, versus the original 2-3 month period.

The Company's policy is to offer a 55% payout to the merchant with payments made to the merchant in two tranches. The first payment will be advanced within 7 days of the receipt of the proceeds of the deal transaction, and the second 15 days thereafter. The response to this policy has been positive as we have also developed programs to retain customers after the deal has been run.

The Company also works with merchants to create special offers and deeply discounted products and services in the form of stored value vouchers or coupons that can be redeemed at the purchaser's leisure. The Company's sales plan involves offering new deals on a daily basis on our website and disseminating such deals to a subscriber base via email blasts and social networking channels. If the subscriber likes the deal, he or she can purchase it immediately through our payment gateway. We have chosen Authorize.net as our payment processor which ties in seamlessly with our transaction engine and software platform. Since Authorize.net accepts all major credit cards and other forms of electronic payment, including Pay Pal. We plan to eventually rotate deals daily with the featured deal being presented as the deal of the day with past deals being offered until the offering or buy period has expired.

Deals generally fall into one of several main themes and categories, the determining factors of which are typical for each type of business category. We have developed standardized templates for the main categories of merchants such as restaurants, bars, and spas for quick demonstrations, sales, and postings for the potential merchant clients. Customized deals can also be made according to the goals and needs of the specific merchant.

We anticipate that a typical deal will offer 50% or greater savings to the purchaser. For example, a restaurant may offer a dining certificate which carries a value of $40 dollars to be spent at the restaurant at a price of $20 (i.e. the customer pays $20 and is given a voucher with $40 value). All deals will have an expiration time and date for the purchase of the deal in order to help create a sense of urgency.

Deals will have a minimum and maximum number of units available depending upon the merchant's ability and desire to deliver/provide such deals. Some deals will depend upon a threshold limit for the deal to be viable for the merchant. For example, in order to create a viable deal, a total of 15 purchases must be made before the deal is active. Once this threshold is met, the deal becomes active and all deals previously purchased or purchased before the expiration time become valid. If this threshold is not met within a given time limit, the deal never becomes active and any customers who purchased the deal will be refunded their purchase price.

All coupons and vouchers will have unique number code identifiers in order to deter copying or counterfeiting and for accounting and reconciliation purposes. We are working on a mobile application to enable downloading and storing the deal voucher onto smartphones. Consumers will eventually have the choice to either print a hard copy of the voucher for presentation, or simply present their smartphone with the electronic voucher to the merchant. Our software platform has been designed to provide easy redemption for both the merchant and the consumer. The back end of the software platform also allows for simple and automated reconciliation between the Company and the merchant so that the appropriate commissions and division of revenues are calculated and paid.

Phase 3 Expansion Plans

We believe that California is the best area strategically to launch our services. The state includes an abundant list of cities near major metropolitan areas that meet our criteria of populations under 500,000. Where some of our larger competitors may offer nation-wide exposure, we offer exposure to local consumers who we believe have a much higher propensity to purchase the deal and also to be returning customers to their local merchants. We plan to expand into markets within geographical proximity to existing markets, while maximizing the efficiency of the ways in which we obtain subscribers, both virtual (Search Engine Optimization, Social Media, etc.) and physical (involvement and presence in the community through relationships with charities, chambers of commerce and involvement in community events).

Our business model is such that capital costs are relatively low compared to the ability to create revenue immediately.

We plan to expand to 3 other locations in 2012 and estimate each location will cost between $25,000 to $50,000 depending on the actual distance from our headquarters in Long Beach. We will seek further debt funding and or equity financing to meet our operations commitments and expansion plans.

The following cities have been targeted for our next possible locations:

Temecula

Murrieta

Victorville

Fresno

San Luis Obispo County

Danville

La Quinta

Palm Springs

Marketing Strategy

The Company's Marketing Strategy is focused on expending resources on optimal opportunities in order to generate revenues, maximize exposure, and develop a loyalty amongst both subscribers and merchant clientele. Our strategies also anticipate changes in consumer buying habits and market conditions, allowing us flexibility to quickly and efficiently make changes to our online presence, marketing efforts, and communications with all parties.

We will continue to develop our flagship location in the Long Beach, California, area, and we will also continue to fine tune our recently launched, fully-operational website by using the feedback of our merchants and subscribers to assist us in growing our brand name awareness. Approximately 50% of our operational budget will be allocated to marketing efforts moving forward.

Search Engine Optimization and Web-Based Marketing. Search and social media have proven to be key drivers that determine the sites that consumers visit. We believe that effective web-based marketing and strong Search Engine Optimization (SEO) strategies have become critical to any company's ongoing internet success. Therefore, the Company has developed an in-house SEO and Web-Based marketing team that is leveraging its experience and developing specialized tools to maximize the effectiveness in these areas:

On the front-end, the SEO and web-based marketing efforts drive traffic to our site, provide information to users and help to procure a larger subscriber base

On the back-end, we have implemented analytical tools, which further help to assess online-behavior and the effectiveness of our campaigns and the message we are providing to users.

The Company is utilizing the marketing tools offered by social media sites such as Facebook, Pinterest and Twitter and creating city-specific blogs using local writers to create awareness in the social media arena. These tools have proven highly effective in extending reach and exposure in both the virtual and real-world communities, thereby ultimately increasing our subscriber base.

Community Involvement. The Company has engaged with and is developing working agreements with local and national charities with a local presence. We will donate 1% to 5% of gross revenues of the proceeds from our work with charities. We believe that by working closely with the charities we will be able to develop solutions where both consumers and merchants can choose to help give back to the community and support local charities. Engaging with and working with local charities also helps to validate our Company and our brand in the community. Offering partial proceeds to charity has made our offerings more attractive to our subscriber base and provided an avenue for participating merchants to give back to the community.

The Company targets charities that have core values and characteristics that are in line with the concept of the promotion of activities that will benefit first the local community at large. Additional considerations are that these charities would have affiliations in other communities that would offer brand recognition and synergistic effects.

Ronald McDonald house charities, for example, have local chapters that focus on the community, however the nationwide presence and the synergies and benefits can spill over as the network of community based chapters can often provide assistance where issues for individuals may require resources in other communities (for example, when travel to a specialized hospital is required for a sick child and his or her family).

Because the business model and strategy included expansion into other cities, aligning with such charitable organizations made sense both from the business standpoint as well as the importance of aligning with business partners and affiliates that shared the local/community centric motto.

Street Teams and Brand Ambassadors. The Company has created street teams consisting of Brand Ambassadors who offer customized Ride The Deal promotional items and provide information to the local community on a one-on-one basis. These teams are deployed in various events such as Farmers Markets, Local Business/Community Gatherings and Special Events to offer our brand presence at the local level. The response from the community has been overwhelmingly positive and this has become a source for a cost-effective, grassroots campaign for collecting subscribers who wish to opt-in to our email blasts. We intend to use these street teams in each new city where Ride The Deal will have a presence.

Chambers of Commerce. We intend to become a member and attend and/or sponsor various events of the local Chambers of Commerce in every community that we launch.

Print Media. Although newspaper ads in the larger local and community publications have proven to be effective compliments to our advertising and marketing efforts, traditional forms of advertising and marketing such as radio, print media and billboards will be kept to a minimum in order to control costs and maximize the efficiency of our marketing budget.

Competition

We consider our two biggest competitors to be Groupon and Living Social. We feel that it would be difficult for our Company to compete with them on the same level due to their international name recognition and available financial resources. Therefore, we have differentiated ourselves enough so that they are not a threat to our target audience and markets.

When attracting potential merchants, we target the smaller markets, as opposed to the large metropolitan markets our competitor s target and we communicate and transact with the merchants in person. We also offer flexible deal structures that allow us to cater to individual merchants when required. Our research has shown that the bigger companies inflexibility has caused merchants to push back. We focus on client retention, with the belief that the best and easiest client is a repeat client.

With subscribers, we highlight the authentically local and boutique-oriented approach, which has been readily accepted and enticing to subscribers. We are building community awareness through organic marketing measures.

The deployment of our street teams as brand ambassadors and their attendance at community events have actually created awareness and helped educate both consumers and merchants on the format of daily deals. In light of these differences, the response from both consumers and merchants in the community has been overwhelmingly positive.

Although we are aware that there are also constantly new smaller companies entering into the marketplace, we believe that attrition rates are extremely high primarily because as the barriers to entry into this industry are deceptive and much more complex than simply a software package and email list.

We believe overcoming these competitors can be accomplished with our plan of creating true brand awareness and carving our own unique niche. We own our own software platform and have an in-house tech team that can adapt quickly and efficiently to our technology needs. We are authentically local and involved in the community through charities, chambers of commerce special events, and even our outside sales people are local hires.

ITEM 1A.

RISK FACTORS

RISKS RELATED TO OUR BUSINESS

We are a development stage company with limited operating history and may never be able to carry out our plan of operations or achieve any significant revenues or profitability; at this stage of our business, even with our good faith efforts, potential investors have a high probability of losing their entire investment.

We are subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise. Any profitability in the future from our business will be dependent upon the successful development, marketing and sales of our services, which itself is subject to numerous industry-related risk factors as set forth herein. Accordingly, we may not be able to successfully carry out our plan of operation and any investor may lose their entire investment.

Key management personnel may leave the Company, which could adversely affect the ability of the Company to continue operations.

The Company is highly dependent on the efforts of our CEO and President because of the time and effort that he devotes to the Company. He is in charge of supervising all marketing and website development projects that we carry out including supervision of any consultants or contractors that we engage to assist in enhancing or marketing our website. The loss of him, or of other key personnel in the future, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. The Company does not maintain key person life insurance on its officer. Our success will depend on the performance of Mr. Pak and our ability to attract and motivate other key personnel.

The Company Does Not Have Profitable Operations.

Currently, the Company has not produced revenue and although the Company is optimistic about its potential, there is no assurance that the Company will be successful in its endeavors to generate sufficient revenues to generate a profit and/or support our operations. As such, we may never generate significant revenue and our securities may decline in value or become worthless.

We have a going concern opinion from our auditors, indicating the possibility that we may not be able to continue to operate.

Our independent registered public accountants have expressed substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern. This opinion could materially limit our ability to raise additional funds by issuing new debt or equity securities or otherwise. If we fail to raise sufficient capital when needed, we will not be able to complete our proposed business. As a result we may have to liquidate our business and you may lose your investment. The Company believes that $250,000 would allow the Company to implement its current plan of operations and allow the Company to continue as a going concern. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to successfully accomplish its plan of operations described herein and eventually attain profitable operations. You should consider our independent registered public accountant's comments when determining if an investment in First Resources Corp. is suitable.

We will need to achieve commercial acceptance of our website to generate revenues and achieve profitability.

Even if our development yields a technologically superior website, we may not successfully develop a commercial market for our site, and even if we do, we may not do so in a timely basis. We cannot predict when substantial commercial market acceptance for our website will develop, if at all, and we cannot reliably estimate the projected size of any such potential market. If markets fail to accept our website, we may not be able to generate revenues from the sale of coupon space to merchants. Our revenue growth and achievement of profitability will depend substantially on our ability to introduce our Company, and be accepted by consumers and merchants alike. If we are unable to cost-effectively achieve acceptance of our site by customers, our business will be materially and adversely affected.

We may need to establish additional relationships with website developers and marketing consultants to fully develop and market our site.

Once we expand into other communities, we may not possess all of the resources necessary to develop and commercialize our website on a mass scale. We will need to expand our development capacity and enhance our marketing through appropriate arrangements with collaborative affiliates to develop and commercialize our planned website.

We rely on third parties to support our website, and our business will suffer if they do not provide adequate support.

A stable network of servers and routers capable of handling high internet traffic and large database driven search features is required to support our website and anticipated traffic. The database and server infrastructure is outsourced to a company designed to provide these specific services. If they do not provide the level of services and support necessary our business may suffer.

The daily deal website industry has experienced rapid growth over a short period of time, and it is uncertain whether this market will continue to develop or whether it can be maintained. If we are unable to successfully respond to changes in the market, our business could be harmed.

Our industry has grown rapidly as merchants and consumers have increasingly used the Internet marketplace. Further, the daily deal website industry is relatively new and with the success of companies like Groupon and Living Social, has seen a flood of new participants seeking to enter this space. Accordingly, given the limited history, it is difficult to predict whether this market will continue to grow or whether it can be maintained. It is foreseeable that merchants or subscribers could broadly determine that they no longer believe in the value of our products and services. If this occurs we could see a substantial negative effect upon the market. Our success will depend on our ability to adjust our strategy to meet the changing market dynamics. If we are unable to do so, our business could be harmed.

If we fail to acquire subscribers to purchase our daily deals, our business will be significantly harmed.

We must acquire subscribers to purchase our daily deals in order to generate revenue and achieve profitability. We cannot assure you that any revenue that we may generate will ultimately exceed the costs involved with acquiring new subscribers. If subscribers do not perceive our offers to be of high value and quality or if we fail to introduce new deals or deals customized to our subscribers' interests, we may not be able to acquire or retain subscribers.

We believe that many of our new subscribers will originate from word-of-mouth and non-paid referrals from existing subscribers; therefore, we must ensure that our existing subscribers remain satisfied and loyal to our Company in order to continue receiving those referrals. Once we establish a subscriber base, if our efforts to satisfy our established subscribers are not successful, we may not be able to acquire new subscribers in sufficient numbers to continue to grow our business or we may be required to incur significantly higher marketing expenses in order to acquire new subscribers. A decline in the number of subscribers or subscriber satisfaction would have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If our merchants do not meet the needs and expectations of our subscribers, our business could suffer.

Our business will depend on having a reputation for providing high-quality deals from merchants in the local community; as a result, our brand name and reputation may be harmed by actions taken by merchants that are beyond our control. Any shortcomings of any of our merchants, particularly with respect to the quality or value of the deal offered, may be mistakenly attributed to us, thus damaging our reputation, brand value and potentially affecting our results of operations. In addition, negative publicity and subscriber sentiment generated as a result of fraudulent or deceptive conduct by our merchants could damage our reputation, reduce our ability to attract new subscribers or retain our current subscribers, and diminish the value of our brand.

Our business is highly competitive which presents an ongoing threat to the success of our business.

Most of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical, marketing and distribution resources as well as greater experience in the industry than we have. We expect competition in e-commerce, generally, and daily deal websites, in particular, to continue to increase because there are significant barriers to entry into this market. Recently, a substantial number of daily deal websites have emerged nationally and our main competitors include Groupon.com and LivingSocial.com. In addition to these new competitors, we expect to compete against large Internet and technology-based businesses, such as Facebook®, Google® and Microsoft®, each of which has launched initiatives which are directly competitive to our business. We also expect to compete against other Internet websites that are focused on specific communities or interests and offer coupons or discount arrangements related to such communities or interests. We will also compete with traditional offline coupon and discount services, as well as newspapers, magazines and other traditional media companies who provide coupons and discounts on products and services.

In addition to these competitors, we expect to compete against large Internet and technology-based businesses, such as Facebook, Google and Microsoft, each of which has launched initiatives which are directly competitive to our business. We also expect to compete against other Internet websites that are focused on specific communities or interests and offer coupons or discount arrangements related to such communities or interests. We will also compete with traditional offline coupon and discount services, as well as newspapers, magazines and other traditional media companies who provide coupons and discounts on products and services.

Many of our current and potential competitors have longer operating histories, significantly greater financial, marketing and other resources and larger subscriber bases than we do. These factors may allow our competitors to benefit from their existing subscriber base with lower customer acquisition costs or to respond more quickly than we can to new or emerging technologies and changes in consumer habits. These competitors may engage in more extensive research and development efforts, undertake more far-reaching marketing campaigns and adopt more aggressive pricing policies, which may allow them to build larger subscriber bases or generate revenue from their subscriber bases more effectively than we do. Our competitors may offer deals that are similar to the deals we offer or that achieve greater market acceptance than the deals we offer.

We plan for our website to be competitive with other websites, but there is no guarantee that we will be able to successfully compete with other similar websites. If this happens, our sales and revenues will decline. In addition, our current and potential competitors may establish cooperative relationships with larger companies, to gain access to greater development or marketing resources. Competition may result in price reductions, reduced gross margins and loss of market share.

Failure to comply with existing federal and state privacy laws and regulations, or the enactment of new privacy laws or regulations, could adversely affect our business.

A variety of federal and state laws and regulations govern the collection, use, retention, sharing and security of consumer data. The existing privacy-related laws and regulations are evolving and subject to potentially differing interpretations. In addition, various federal and state legislative and regulatory bodies may expand current or enact new laws regarding privacy matters. For example, recently there have been Congressional hearings and increased attention on the capture and use of location-based information relating to users of smartphones and other mobile devices. We intend to post privacy policies and practices concerning the collection, use and disclosure of subscriber data on our website and future products. Several Internet companies have incurred penalties for failing to abide by the representations made in their privacy policies and practices. In addition, several states have adopted legislation that requires businesses to implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices to protect sensitive personal information and to provide notice to consumers in the event of a security breach. Any failure, or perceived failure, by us to comply with our posted privacy policies or with any data-related consent orders, Federal Trade Commission requirements or orders or other federal or state privacy or consumer protection-related laws, regulations or industry self-regulatory principles could result in claims, proceedings or actions against us by governmental entities or others, or other liabilities, which could adversely affect our business. In addition, a failure or perceived failure to comply with industry standards or with our own privacy policies and practices could result in a loss of subscribers or merchants and adversely affect our business.

The success of our business will depend on our ability to develop a website platform capable of sustaining rapid growth and development; any significant disruption in service on our website or applications could result in a loss of subscribers or merchants.

Subscribers will access our deals through our website and applications for mobile devices. Our reputation and ability to acquire, retain and serve our subscribers will be dependent upon the reliable performance of our website and applications and the underlying network infrastructure. As our subscriber base and the amount of information shared on our website and applications begin to grow, we will need an increasing amount of network capacity and computing power. The operation of these systems will be expensive and complex and could result in operational failures. In the event that our subscriber base or the amount of traffic to our website and applications grows more quickly than anticipated, we may be required to incur significant additional costs for the repair or maintenance of our infrastructure and the hiring of additional technical personnel. Interruptions in our systems, whether due to system failures, computer viruses or physical or electronic break-ins, could affect the security or performance of our website and applications, prevent our subscribers from accessing our website or applications and as a result, significantly harm our business.

Our Company will rely entirely on online commerce to conduct secure sales transactions over the Internet. Outdated technologies, security breaches to our systems, or problems with our Internet infrastructure could cause interruptions to our business, impact our reputation with customers and harm our operating results.

Our Company will rely entirely on online commerce to offer merchant's products and services. Online commerce is rapidly evolving and a fundamental aspect of our business will be our ability to keep up with these changes. If we fail to respond to technological changes or to adequately maintain, upgrade or develop our website platform and the systems used to process subscribers' purchases, we will not be able to keep up with the rapid growth of online commerce and our business could fail. Further, a fundamental requirement for online commerce is the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks. Our website platform will store and transmit merchants' and subscribers' information, some of which may be private, and security breaches or glitches in our Internet infrastructure could expose us to a risk of loss of this information and result in potential liability and litigation. Like all websites, our website is vulnerable to computer viruses, technical failures, break-ins, phishing attacks, attempts to overload our servers with denial-of-service or other attacks and similar disruptions from unauthorized use of our computer systems, any of which could lead to interruptions, delays, or website shutdowns, causing loss of critical data or the unauthorized disclosure or use of personally identifiable or other confidential information. If we experience compromises to our security, malfunctions in our Internet infrastructure, a complete shutdown of our website, or the loss or unauthorized disclosure of confidential information, our intended merchants or subscribers may lose trust and confidence in us. Any one of these factors could harm our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Our business may be subject to seasonal sales fluctuations which could result in volatility or have an adverse effect on the market price of our Common Stock.

Our business, like that of our merchants, may be subject to some degree of sales seasonality. As we grow our Company, these seasonal fluctuations may become more evident. Seasonality may cause our working capital cash flow requirements to vary from quarter to quarter depending on the variability in the volume and timing of sales. These factors, among other things, make forecasting more difficult and may adversely affect our ability to manage working capital and to predict financial results accurately, which could adversely affect the market price of our Common Stock.

RISKS RELATING TO THE COMMON STOCK

The Company's stock price may be volatile.

Our shares of common stock are quoted on the OTCQB tier of the OTC Markets Group Inc. The market price of the Company's Common Stock is likely to be highly volatile and could fluctuate widely in price in response to various potential factors, many of which will be beyond the Company's control, including the following:

services by the Company or its competitors;

additions or departures of key personnel;

the Company's ability to execute its business plan;

operating results that fall below expectations;

industry developments;

economic and other external factors; and

period-to-period fluctuations in the Company's financial results.

In addition, the securities markets have from time to time experienced significant price and volume fluctuations that are unrelated to the operating performance of particular companies. These market fluctuations may also materially and adversely affect the market price of the Company's Common Stock.

As a public company, we will incur substantial expenses.

Upon declared effectiveness of this Registration Statement by the SEC, we will become subject to the information and reporting requirements of the U.S. securities laws. The U.S. securities laws require, among other things, review, audit, and public reporting of our financial results, business activities, and other matters. Recent SEC regulation, including regulation enacted as a result of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, has also substantially increased the accounting, legal, and other costs related to becoming and remaining an SEC reporting company. If we do not have current information about our Company available to market makers, they will not be able to trade our stock. The public company costs of preparing and filing annual and quarterly reports, and other information with the SEC and furnishing audited reports to stockholders, will cause our expenses to be higher than they would be if we were privately-held. In addition, we are incurring substantial expenses in connection with the preparation of this Registration Statement. These increased costs may be material and may include the hiring of additional employees and/or the retention of additional advisors and professionals. Our failure to comply with the federal securities laws could result in private or governmental legal action against us and/or our sole officer and director, which could have a detrimental effect on our business and finances, the value of our stock, and the ability of stockholders to resell their stock.

FINRA sales practice requirements may limit a stockholder's ability to buy and sell our stock.

The Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) has adopted rules that relate to the application of the SEC's penny stock rules in trading our securities and require that a broker/dealer have reasonable grounds for believing that the investment is suitable for that customer, prior to recommending the investment. Prior to recommending speculative, low priced securities to their non-institutional customers, broker/dealers must make reasonable efforts to obtain information about the customer's financial status, tax status, investment objectives and other information. Under interpretations of these rules, FINRA believes that there is a high probability that speculative, low priced securities will not be suitable for at least some customers. The FINRA requirements make it more difficult for broker/dealers to recommend that their customers buy our Common Stock, which may have the effect of reducing the level of trading activity and liquidity of our Common Stock. Further, many brokers charge higher transactional fees for penny stock transactions. As a result, fewer broker/dealers may be willing to make a market in our Common Stock, reducing a shareholder's ability to resell shares of our Common Stock.

We may be exposed to potential risks resulting from new requirements under section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002.

In addition to the costs of compliance with having our shares listed on the OTCBB, there are substantial penalties that could be imposed upon us if we fail to comply with all regulatory requirements. In particular, under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, as a smaller reporting company, our management will be required to provide a report on the effectiveness of our internal controls over financial reporting, beginning with our second annual report, and we will not be required to provide an auditor's attestation regarding such report. We have not assessed the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal controls over financial reporting, and we expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time as a result of performing the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification requirements. Additionally, investors should be aware of the risk that management may assess and render the Company's internal controls ineffective, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or result of operations.

The market price of our common stock is volatile, leading to the possibility of its value being depressed at a time when you may want to sell your holdings.

Although our stock is quoted on the OTC Markets, there is not an active market for our common stock. There are many days in which there is no or insignificant trading volume in our common stock. The absence of any significant activity can result in a very volatile stock. When there is little trading activity, the purchase or sale of a relatively small number of shares could result in a disproportionate change in the stock price. In addition, numerous other factors, many of which are beyond our control, may cause the market price of our common stock to fluctuate significantly. In addition to market and industry factors, the price and trading volume for our common stock may be highly volatile for specific business reasons. Factors such as variations in our revenues, earnings and cash flow, and announcements of new investments, potential cooperation arrangements or acquisitions could cause the market price for our shares to change substantially. Securities class action litigation is often instituted against companies following periods of volatility in their stock price. This type of litigation could result in substantial costs to us and divert our management's attention and resources.

The Company's Common Stock is currently deemed to be penny stock, which makes it more difficult for investors to sell their shares.

The Company's Common Stock is currently subject to the penny stock rules adopted under section 15(g) of the Exchange Act. The penny stock rules apply to companies whose common stock is not listed on the NASDAQ Stock Market or other national securities exchange and trades at less than $5.00 per share or that have tangible net worth of less than $5,000,000 ($2,000,000 if the company has been operating for three or more years). These rules require, among other things, that brokers who trade penny stock to persons other than established customers complete certain documentation, make suitability inquiries of investors and provide investors with certain information concerning trading in the security, including a risk disclosure document and quote information under certain circumstances. Many brokers have decided not to trade penny stocks because of the requirements of the penny stock rules and, as a result, the number of broker-dealers willing to act as market makers in such securities is limited. If the Company remains subject to the penny stock rules for any significant period, it could have an adverse effect on the market, if any, for the Company's securities. If the Company's securities are subject to the penny stock rules, investors will find it more difficult to dispose of the Company's securities.

The elimination of monetary liability against the Company's existing and future directors, officers and employees under Nevada law and the existence of indemnification rights to the Company's existing and future directors, officers and employees may result in substantial expenditures by the Company and may discourage lawsuits against the Company's directors, officers and employees.

The Company's Articles of Incorporation contain specific provisions that eliminate the liability of directors for monetary damages to the Company and the Company's stockholders; further, the Company is prepared to give such indemnification to its existing and future directors and officers to the extent provided by Nevada law. The Company may also have contractual indemnification obligations under any employment agreements it may have with its officers and directors. The foregoing indemnification obligations could result in the Company incurring substantial expenditures to cover the cost of settlement or damage awards against directors and officers, which the Company may be unable to recoup. These provisions and resultant costs may also discourage the Company from bringing a lawsuit against existing and future directors and officers for breaches of their fiduciary duties and may similarly discourage the filing of derivative litigation by the Company's stockholders against the Company's existing and future directors and officers even though such actions, if successful, might otherwise benefit the Company and its stockholders.

The business of the Company overview

Deal a Day Group Corp., formerly known as Avisio Inc., was incorporated in the State of Nevada on April 27, 2005 under the name Puppy Zone Enterprises, Inc. We changed our name to Deal a Day Group Corp., on November 3, 2011 to reflect the new business model of the company, in the wake of the massive growth and evolution of the multi-billion dollar daily deal market space. Our business units will focus on the Daily Deals/Group buying arena, print media, and software and applications development.

Results of Operation

Since inception to March 31, 2012, the company has generated no revenues.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and the Results of Operations:

Comparison of the three month period ended March 31, 2012 and the three month period ended March 31, 2011

The Company is a development stage company with no sales or revenue as of the date of this report.

Discontinued operations

The Company's former operations were discontinued in October 2008 and have been accounted for as discontinued operations. The results of operations have been removed from the results of continuing operations for all periods presented. The assets and liabilities of discontinued operations have been reclassified and are segregated in the consolidated balance sheets.

Non-controlling interest in subsidiaries

The share of allocated expenses related to the subsidiaries non-controlling interest for the three months end March 31, 2012 is a loss of $Nil and a loss of $13,478 for the three months ended March 31, 2011.

As a result of the foregoing, we reported a net loss attributable to common shareholders for the three months ended March 31, 2012 of $192,905 compared to a loss of $76,864 for the three months ended March 31, 2011.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

There is substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern as the continuation of our business is dependent upon obtaining further long-term financing, successful and sufficient market acceptance of our products and achieving a profitable level of operations. The issuance of additional equity securities by us could result in a significant dilution in the equity interests of our current stockholders. Obtaining commercial loans, assuming those loans would be available, would provide liquidity and increase our liabilities and future cash commitments. Presently, our revenues are not sufficient to meet our operating and capital expenses. Management projects that we will require additional funding to maintain our current operations

Operating Activities: Net cash used in operating activities for the three months ended March 31, 2012 was $156,919 as compared to $36,276 for the three months end March 31, 2011. The increase is primarily due to the net loss of $156,919 in 2012 and an increase in accrued expenses of $35,986.

Investing Activities: Net cash used in investing activities for the three months ended March 31, 2012 consisted of $390 for the purchase of equipment.

Financing Activities: Net cash received from financing activities for the three months ended March 31, 2012 came primarily from proceeds from loans of $144,940.

As a result of the above activities, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of $10,025 as of March 31, 2012 as compared to $22,394 at December 31, 2011. The ability the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on its success in obtaining additional financing.

Going Concern

In their report on our financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2011, our independent registered public accounting firm included an explanatory paragraph expressing substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern. Our financial statements contain additional note disclosures describing the circumstances that lead to this disclosure.

There is substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern, as the continuation of our business is dependent upon our obtaining further long-term financing, successful and sufficient market acceptance of our products and ultimately achieving a profitable level of operations. We have historically incurred losses, and through March 31, 2012 have incurred losses of $7,029,226 from our inception.

There are no assurances that we will be able to either (1) achieve a level of revenues adequate to generate sufficient cash flow from operations; or (2) obtain additional financing through either private placement, public offerings and/or bank financing necessary to support our working capital requirements. To the extent that funds generated from operations and any private placements, public offerings and/or bank financing are insufficient, we will have to raise additional working capital. No assurance can be given that additional financing will be available, or if available, will be on terms acceptable to us. If adequate working capital is not available we may not increase our operations.

Application of Critical Accounting Policies

Our financial statements and accompanying notes are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. Preparing financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. These estimates and assumptions are affected by management's application of accounting policies. We believe that understanding the basis and nature of the estimates and assumptions involved with the following aspects (i.e. Allowance for Doubtful Account and Product Returns) of our financial statements is critical to an understanding of our financials.

In preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and revenues and expenses during the reported period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Company is not aware of accounting standards or interpretations issued or recently adopted expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial position, operations or cash flows.

Off-balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company is not a party to any off-balance sheet arrangement.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and the Results of Operations:

Comparison of the year ended December 31, 2011 and year ended December 31, 2010

The Company is a development stage company with no sales or revenue as of the date of this report.

Operating Expenses

Our operating expenses for the year ended December 31, 2011 compared to the year ended December 31, 2010 consisted primarily of general and administrative expenses and research and development.

General and administrative expenses for the year ended December 31, 2011 were $186,736 compared to $216,731 for the year-ended December 31, 2010.

Interest expense for the year ended December 31, 2011 totaled $173,866 and compared to $221,032 for the year ended December 31, 2010. This is a result of the Company's successful negotiation of a decrease in certain interest rates and extension of certain debt maturity dates. It also reflects the conversion of $1,200,000 of notes payable to equity and eliminating the related interest expense.

Non-controlling interest in subsidiaries

The share of allocated expenses related to the subsidiaries non-controlling interest for the year end December 31, 2010 is a loss of $46,582. In 2011, the related subsidiaries were sold to Innovation Economy Corp for 10 million shares of the common stock.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

There is substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern as the continuation of our business is dependent upon obtaining further long-term financing, successful and sufficient market acceptance of our products and achieving a profitable level of operations. The issuance of additional equity securities by us could result in a significant dilution in the equity interests of our current stockholders. Obtaining commercial loans, assuming those loans would be available, would provide liquidity and increase our liabilities and future cash commitments. Presently, our revenues are not sufficient to meet our operating and capital expenses. Management projects that we will require additional funding to maintain our current operations

Operating Activities: Net cash used in operating activities for the year ended December 31, 2011 was $227,894 as compared to $308,237 for the year end December 31, 2010. The increase is primarily due to the net loss of $360,602 in 2011, a decrease in accounts payable of $51,504, an increase in accrued expenses of $163,865. Net cash used includes deposits and prepaid expenses of $20,347. The net loss is primarily $173,866 of interest expense accrued for notes payable. The decrease in accounts payable reflects the company effort to settle vendors with equity.

Financing Activities: Net cash received from financing activities for the year ended December 31, 2011 of $214,131 came primarily from proceeds from notes of $212,631.

As a result of the above activities, the Company recorded cash and cash equivalent balance of $22,394 as of December 31, 2011 as compared to the cash and cash equivalent of $36,157 for the year ended December 31, 2010. In addition, sales of significant amounts of Common Stock by the Company subsequent to this offering could have an adverse effect on the market price, if any, for the Company's securities.

The market price of the Company's common stock will likely fluctuate significantly in response to the following factors, some of which are beyond the Company's control: variations in its quarterly operating results; changes in financial estimates of its revenues and operating results by securities analysts; changes in market valuations of similar companies; announcements by us of significant contracts, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures or capital commitments; additions or departures of key personnel; future sales of its common stock; stock market price and volume fluctuations attributable to inconsistent trading volume levels of its stock; commencement of or involvement in litigation.
