insurance, telephone, occupancy, travel and compliance related expenses. The large increase in general and administrative expenses for three and nine months ended September 30, 2002, compared to the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001, is primarily due to expensing deferred compensation for Concept

Affiliate agreements secured in 2001. For the nine months ended September 30, 2002, expensing deferred compensation accrued under these agreements accounted for approximately 62%, or $822,608, of our general and administrative expenses for the period. Similarly, prepaid Concept Affiliate services expensed during the nine months ended September 30, 2002 accounted for approximately 16%, or $205,120 of our general and administrative expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. Approximately 15%, or $200,000 of our general and administrative expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 consisted of an investment banking fee. While this fee was intended to cover a period of 12 months, the Company elected to expense the entire amount, as no significant financing had materialized from the agreement as of September 30, 2002. The remaining 7% is composed primarily of compliance related expenses. Compliance related expenses include legal, accounting and other charges related to filing our reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Of the $1,316,400 we expensed under the general and administrative caption for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, 78% or $1,027,728 were prepaid for using our common stock, $200,000 or 15%, require payment to our shareholders in common stock, and $88,672 or 6.7% require settlement in cash. We plan to utilize more professional services from our officers, directors and Concept Affiliates in the remaining quarter of 2002.
