Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires that management make certain estimates and assumptions. Significant estimates and assumptions have been made regarding the allowance for doubtful accounts, estimated sales returns, stock-based compensation, fair value of intangibles and goodwill, fair value of stock issued, inventory reserve, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent litigation. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Table of Contents

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is primarily derived from the sale of packaged software and audio practice products, online software subscriptions and professional services. Professional services include training, implementation services and dedicated conversational coaching associated with Rosetta Stone TOTALe. Rosetta Stone TOTALe online, which was released in July 2009, combines dedicated conversational coaching and an online software subscription. Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe, which was released in September 2010, combines packaged software and dedicated conversational coaching. The Company recognizes revenue for software products and related services in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification subtopic 985-605, Software: Revenue Recognition (ASC 985-605).

Revenue is recognized when all of the following criteria are met: there is persuasive evidence of an arrangement; the product has been delivered or services have been rendered; the fee is fixed and determinable; and collectability is probable. Revenues from packaged software and audio practice products and online software subscriptions are recorded net of discounts.

Revenue is recognized from the sale of packaged software and audio practice products when the product has been delivered, assuming the remaining revenue recognition criteria have been met. Software products include sales to end-user customers and resellers. In most cases, revenue from sales to resellers is not contingent upon resale of the software to the end user and is recorded in the same manner as all other product sales. Revenue from sales of packaged software products are recognized as the products are shipped and title passes and risks of loss have been transferred. For most of the Company's product sales, these criteria are met at the time the product is shipped. For some sales to resellers and certain other sales, the Company defers revenue until the customer receives the product because the Company legally retains a portion of the risk of loss on these sales during transit. A limited amount of packaged software products are sold to resellers on a consignment basis. Revenue is recognized for these consignment transactions once the end-user sale has occurred, assuming the remaining revenue recognition criteria have been met. In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification subtopic 985-605-50, Software: Revenue Recognition: Customer Payments and Incentives (ASC 985-605-50), price protection for changes in the manufacturer suggested retail value granted to resellers for the inventory that they have on hand at the date the price protection is offered is recorded as a reduction to revenue. The Company offers customers the ability to make payments for packaged software purchases in installments over a period of time, which typically ranges between three and five months. Given that these installment payment plans are for periods less than 12 months and a successful collection history has been established, revenue is recognized at the time of sale, assuming the remaining revenue recognition criteria have been met. Packaged software is provided to customers who purchase directly from us with a six-month right of return. The company also allows its retailers to return unsold products, subject to some limitations. In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification subtopic 985-605-15, Software: Revenue Recognition: Products (ASC 985-605-15), product revenue is reduced for estimated returns, which are based on historical return rates.

Revenue for software license agreements sold via online software subscriptions as hosting agreements are recognized in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification subtopic 985-605-05, Software: Revenue Recognition: Background (ASC 985-605-05). Revenue for online software subscriptions is recognized ratably over the term of the subscription period, assuming all revenue recognition criteria have been met, which typically ranges between three and 12 months. Some online licensing arrangements include a specified number of licenses that can be activated over a period of time, which typically ranges between six and 24 months. Revenue for these arrangements is recognized on a per license basis ratably over the term of the individual license subscription period, assuming all revenue recognition criteria have been met, which typically ranges between three and 12 months. Revenue for set-up fees related to online licensing arrangements is recognized ratably over the term of the online licensing arrangement, assuming all revenue recognition criteria have been met. Accounts receivable and deferred revenue are recorded at the time a customer enters into a binding subscription agreement and the subscription services are made available to the customer. In connection with packaged software product sales and online software subscriptions, technical support is provided to customers, including customers of resellers, at no additional cost from one year of purchase. As the fee for technical support is included in the initial licensing fee, the technical support and services are generally provided within one year, the estimated cost of providing such support is deemed insignificant and no unspecified upgrades/enhancements are offered, technical support revenues are recognized together with the software product and license revenue. Costs associated with the technical support are accrued at the time of sale.

Revenue for online service subscriptions for dedicated conversational coaching is recognized ratably over the term of the subscription period, assuming all revenue recognition criteria have been met, which typically range from three months to 15 months. Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe bundles, which include dedicated conversational coaching online services and packaged software, allow customers to begin their online services at any point during a registration window, which is 6 months from the date of purchase from the Company or an authorized reseller. Dedicated conversational coaching online service subscriptions that are not activated during this registration window are forfeited and revenue is recognized upon expiry. Accounts receivable and deferred revenue are recorded at the time a customer purchases the online services.

In accordance with ASC 985-605-50, cash sales incentives to resellers are accounted for as a reduction of revenue, unless a specific identified benefit is identified and the fair value is reasonably determinable.

The Company has been engaged to develop language-learning software for certain endangered languages under fixed-fee arrangements. These arrangements also include contractual periods of post-contract support (PCS) and online hosting services ranging from one to ten years. Revenue for multi-element contracts are recognized ratably once the PCS and online hosting periods begin, over the longer of the PCS or online hosting period. When the current estimates of total contract revenue and contract cost indicate a loss for a fixed fee arrangement, a provision for the entire loss on the contract is recorded.

Revenue Recognition for Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables

As of January 1, 2010, the Company began to recognize revenue prospectively for new arrangements with multiple deliverables in accordance with ASU No. 2009-13, Revenue Recognition (Topic 605) Multiple Deliverable Revenue Arrangements (ASU No. 2009-13). For multi-element arrangements that include online services and auxiliary items, such as headsets and audio practice products which provide stand-alone value to the customer, the Company allocates revenue to all deliverables based on their relative selling prices in accordance with ASU No. 2009-13. These accounting principles establish a hierarchy to determine the selling price to be used for allocating revenue to deliverables as follows: (i) vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value (VSOE), (ii) third-party evidence of selling price (TPE), and (iii) best estimate of the selling price (ESP). VSOE generally exists only when the Company sells the deliverable separately and is the price actually charged by the Company for that deliverable. ESPs reflect its best estimates of what the selling prices of elements would be if they were sold regularly on a stand-alone basis.

The Company accounts for multiple element arrangements that consist only of software or software related products, in accordance with industry specific accounting guidance for software and software related transactions. For such transactions, revenue on arrangements that include multiple elements is allocated to each element based on the relative fair value of each element, and fair value is generally determined by VSOE or the residual method when VSOE exists only for the undelivered element. If the Company cannot objectively determine the fair value of any undelivered element included in such multiple element arrangements, the Company defers revenue until all elements are delivered and services have been performed, or until fair value can objectively be determined for any remaining undelivered elements.

The Company has identified two deliverables generally contained in Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe software arrangements. The first deliverable is the packaged software, which is delivered at the time of sale, and the second deliverable is the dedicated conversational coaching online services. The Company allocates revenue between these two deliverables using the residual method based on the existence of VSOE for the undelivered service element. Amounts allocated to the software are recognized at the time of sale, provided the other conditions for revenue recognition have been met. Amounts allocated to the online services are deferred and recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the online services or upon expiry of the online services. The language-learning software cost of sales are generally recognized at the time of sale. Costs for online services and sales and marketing are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

Edgar Filing: ROSETTA STONE INC - Form 10-Q

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification topic 740, Income Taxes (ASC 740), which provides for an asset and liability approach to accounting for income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities represent the future tax consequences of the differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of assets and liabilities versus the tax bases of assets and liabilities. Under this method, deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences, and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The impact of tax rate changes on deferred tax assets and liabilities is recognized in the year that the change is enacted.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

In 2008 and 2009, the Company adopted the provisions of ASC No. 820, Fair Value Measurements. The valuation techniques required by ASC No. 820 are based upon observable and unobservable inputs. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect our market assumptions. These two types of inputs create the following fair value hierarchy:

Level 1: Quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets.

Table of Contents

Level 2: Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active; and model-derived valuations whose inputs are observable or whose significant value drivers are observable.

Level 3: Significant inputs to the valuation model are unobservable.

The carrying amounts reported in the consolidated balance sheets for cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and other accrued expenses approximate fair value due to relatively short periods to maturity.

On November 1, 2009, the Company acquired certain assets from SGLC International Co. Ltd. (SGLC), a software reseller headquartered in Seoul, South Korea. As the assets acquired constituted a business, this transaction was accounted for under Accounting Standards Codification topic 805, Business Combination (ASC 805). The purchase price consisted of an initial cash payment of $100,000, followed by three annual cash installment payments, based on revenue performance in South Korea. The terms of the acquisition agreement provide for additional consideration to be paid by the Company in each of the following three years, if the acquired company's revenues exceed certain targeted levels each of these years. The amount is calculated as the lesser of a percentage of the revenue generated or a fixed amount for each year, based on the terms of the agreement.

Based on these terms, the minimum additional cash payment is zero if none of the minimum revenue targets are met, and the maximum additional payment is $1.1 million. For the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, we made no additional payments in accordance with the terms of the purchase.

See table below for a summary of the opening balances to the closing balances of the contingent purchase consideration (in thousands):

	As of March 31,
	2012	2011
Contingent purchase price accrual, beginning of period	$ 300	$ 573
Minimum revenue target met, increase in contingent liability charged to expense in the period
Payment of contingent purchase liability
Contingent purchase price accrual, end of period	$ 300	$ 573

See table below for summary of the Company's financial instruments accounted for at fair value on a recurring basis, which consist only of our short-term investments that are marked to fair value at each balance sheet date, as well as the fair value of the accrual for the contingent purchase price of our acquisition of SGLC in 2009 (in thousands):

There were no changes in the valuation techniques or inputs used as the basis to calculate the contingent purchase price accrual.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for its stock-based compensation in accordance Accounting Standards Codification topic 718, Compensation - Stock Compensation (ASC 718), which was adopted by the Company effective January 1, 2006. Under ASC 718, all stock-based awards, including employee stock option grants, are recorded at fair value as of the grant date and recognized as expense in the statement of operations on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period, which is the vesting period.

Stock Options

During the three months ended March 31, 2012, 422,342 stock options were granted at a weighted average exercise price of $8.89 per share. The aggregate grant date fair value of options issued during the period was $3.8 million, which will be recognized as expense over the requisite service period of the options, which is also the vesting period. During the three months ended March 31, 2011, 89,935 stock options were granted at a weighted average exercise price of $19.80 per share. During the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, zero and 5,062 stock options were exercised, respectively. The total intrinsic value of options exercised during the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011 was approximately zero and $66,000, respectively.

The fair value of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. For the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, the fair value of options granted was calculated using the following assumptions:

	Three Months Ended
	March 31,
2012		2011

Edgar Filing: ROSETTA STONE INC - Form 10-Q

Expected stock price volatility	65.0% - 65.2%	57.1% - 57.3%
Expected term of options	6 years	6 years
Expected dividend yield
Risk-free interest rate	0.79% - 0.88%	1.96% - 2.35%

Since the Company's stock has been publicly quoted since April 2009 and the Company has a limited history of stock option activity, the Company reviewed a group of comparable industry-related companies to estimate its expected volatility over the most recent period commensurate with the estimated expected term of the awards. In addition to analyzing data from the peer group, the Company also considered the contractual option term and vesting period when determining the expected option life and forfeiture rate. For the risk-free interest rate, the Company uses a U.S. Treasury Bond rate consistent with the estimated expected term of the option award.

Table of Contents*Restricted Stock*

During the three months ended March 31, 2012, 493,451 shares of restricted stock were granted. The aggregate grant date fair value of the awards was $3.8 million, which will be recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period of the awards, which is also the vesting period. The Company's restricted stock grants are accounted for as equity awards. The grant date fair value is based on the market price of the Company's common stock at the date of grant. During the three months ended March 31, 2011, 38,708 shares of restricted stock were granted. The aggregate grant date fair value of the awards was $0.8 million.

Restricted Stock Units

During the three months ended March 31, 2012, 5,422 restricted stock units were granted. The aggregate grant date fair value of the awards was $47,497, which will be recognized as expense on the grant date, as the awards were immediately vested. The Company's restricted stock unit grants are accounted for as equity awards. The grant date fair value is based on the market price of the Company's common stock at the grant date. During the three months ended March 31, 2011, no restricted stock units were granted.

Foreign Currency Translation and Transactions

The functional currency of the Company's foreign subsidiaries is their local currency. Accordingly, assets and liabilities of the foreign subsidiaries are translated into U.S. dollars at exchange rates in effect on the balance sheet date. Income and expense items are translated at average rates for the period. Translation adjustments are recorded as a component of other comprehensive income (loss) in stockholders' equity.

Cash flows of consolidated foreign subsidiaries, whose functional currency is the local currency, are translated to U.S. dollars using average exchange rates for the period. The Company reports the effect of exchange rate changes on cash balances held in foreign currencies as a separate item in the reconciliation of the changes in cash and cash equivalents during the period. The following table presents the effect of exchange rate changes and the net unrealized gains and losses from our available-for-sale securities on total comprehensive income (dollars in thousands):

Recently Issued Accounting Standards

Accounting Standards Update No. 2011-05 Comprehensive Income (Topic 220). Under the amendments to Topic 220, an entity has the option to present the total of comprehensive income, the components of net income, and the components of other comprehensive income either in a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. In both choices, an entity is required to present each component of net income along with total net income, each component of other comprehensive income along with a total for other comprehensive income, and a total amount for comprehensive income. This update eliminates the option to present the components of other comprehensive income as part of the statement of changes in stockholders' equity. The amendments in this update do not change the items that must be reported in other comprehensive income or when an item of other comprehensive income must be reclassified to net income, thus the adoption of such standard did not have a material impact on the Company's reported results of operations and financial position.

In September 2011, the FASB issued new guidance on goodwill impairment testing (ASU 2011-08, Intangibles - Goodwill and Other (Topic 350): Testing Goodwill for Impairment), effective for calendar years beginning after December 15, 2011. Early adoption is permitted. The objective of this standard is to simplify how an entity tests goodwill for impairment. The amendments in this standard will allow an entity to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying value as a basis for determining whether it needs to perform the quantitative two-step goodwill impairment test. Only if an entity determines, based on qualitative assessment, that it is more likely than not that a reporting unit's fair value is less than its carrying value will it be required to calculate the fair value of the reporting unit. The Company adopted this guidance beginning in fiscal year 2012, and the adoption of such guidance did not have a material impact on the Company's reported results of operations or financial position.

3. NET INCOME (LOSS) PER SHARE

Net income (loss) per share is computed under the provisions of Accounting Standards Codification topic 260, Earnings Per Share. Basic income per share is computed using net income (loss) and the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding. Diluted earnings per share reflect the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding plus any potentially dilutive shares outstanding during the period. Potentially dilutive shares consist of shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, restricted stock awards, restricted stock units and conversion of shares of preferred stock. Common stock equivalent shares are excluded from the diluted computation if their effect is anti-dilutive.

The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted net income (loss) per common share:

5. GOODWILL

The value of goodwill is primarily derived from the acquisition of Rosetta Stone Ltd. (formerly known as Fairfield & Sons, Ltd.) in January 2006 and the acquisition of certain assets of SGLC in November 2009. The Company tests goodwill for impairment annually on June 30 of each year at the reporting unit level using a fair value approach, in accordance with the provisions of Accounting Standards Codification topic 350, Intangibles - Goodwill and Other (ASC 350) or more frequently, if impairment indicators arise. The Company reports its results in two reportable segments, which resulted in two reporting units for goodwill impairment purposes - Consumer and Institutional. The Company's annual testing resulted in no impairments of goodwill since the dates of acquisition.

The following table represents the balance and changes in goodwill, by reporting unit, for the three months ended March 31, 2012 (in thousands):

For the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, $10,000 and $10,000 was included in research and development expense and zero and $13,000 was included in sales and marketing expense, respectively.

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification topic 360, Property, Plant, and Equipment, the Company reviews its long-lived assets, including property and equipment and intangible assets, for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amounts of the assets may not be fully recoverable. If the total of the expected undiscounted future net cash flows is less than the carrying amount of the asset, a loss is recognized for the difference between the fair value and carrying amount of the asset. There were no impairment charges for the three months ended March 31, 2012 or March 31, 2011.

8. INCOME TAXES

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification topic 740, Income Taxes, and Accounting Standards Codification subtopic 740-270, Income Taxes: Interim Reporting, the income tax provision for the three month period ended March 31, 2012 is based on the estimated annual effective tax rate for fiscal year 2012. The estimated effective tax rate may be subject to adjustment in subsequent quarterly periods as the estimates of pretax income for the year, along with other items that may affect the rate, change and create a different relationship between domestic and foreign income and loss.

The Company adopted Accounting Standards Codification topic 740-10-25, Income Taxes: Overall: Background (ASC 740-10-25) on January 1, 2007, which clarified the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise's financial statements. ASC 740-10-25 prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. ASC 740-10-25 also provides guidance on derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure, and transition.

The Company is currently under income tax audit in various foreign jurisdictions for tax years 2008, 2009 and 2010. Although the Company has not received a formal assessment the Company believes it has provided adequate reserves related to all matters in the tax periods open to examination. During the quarter ended March 31, 2012, the Internal Revenue Service concluded the audit of the company's 2008 tax return and accepted the return as filed, a no change audit.

Although the timing of income tax audit resolutions and negotiations with taxing authorities is highly uncertain, the Company does not anticipate a significant change to the total amount of unrecognized income tax benefits within the next 12 months.

As of March 31, 2012, we had $1,759,000 of unrecognized tax benefits, of which $485,000 if recognized, would affect our effective tax rate. As of December 31, 2011, we had $165,000 of unrecognized tax benefits which, if recognized, would affect our effective tax rate. These liabilities for unrecognized tax benefits are included in Other Long Term Liabilities with an offset in Other Long Term Assets. Interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions are recorded as part of the income tax provision, which were zero at the adoption date, and are approximately $237,000 as of the three months ended March 31, 2012.

Despite generating taxable income each year since becoming a C-corporation for income tax purposes in 2006, the U.S. operations of the Company incurred a loss in 2011. As a result of the loss, the Company is required to evaluate the need for a valuation allowance on its U.S. deferred income tax assets. The analysis of the need for a valuation allowance on U.S. deferred tax assets recognizes that while the Company has not incurred a cumulative loss over the evaluation period, after adjusting for nonrecurring expenses related to our initial public offering in 2009, a loss was incurred in the most recent year. Based on the evaluation and forecasted performance, the Company believes its U.S. deferred tax assets are more likely than not recoverable.

At March 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the Company's net deferred tax asset was $20.2 million and $19.0 million, respectively. Based on the assessment, it appears more likely than not that the net deferred tax assets will be realized through future taxable earnings. If future results fail to provide objectively verifiable evidence to support the realization of the deferred tax assets, a valuation allowance may be required to reduce the deferred tax assets to their expected net realizable value. The Company will continue to assess the need for a valuation allowance in the future.

9. STOCK PLANS

2006 Stock Incentive Plan

On January 4, 2006, the Company established the Rosetta Stone Inc. 2006 Stock Incentive Plan (the "2006 Plan") under which the Company's Board of Directors, at its discretion, could grant stock options to employees and certain directors of the Company and affiliated entities. The 2006 Plan initially authorized the grant of stock options for up to 1,942,200 shares of common stock. On May 28, 2008, the Board of Directors authorized the grant of additional stock options for up to 195,000 shares of common stock under the plan, resulting in total stock options available for grant under the 2006 Plan of 2,137,200 as of December 31, 2008. The stock options granted under the 2006 Plan generally expire at the earlier of a specified period after termination of service or the date specified by the Board or its designated committee at the date of grant, but not more than ten years from such grant date. Stock issued as a result of exercises of stock options will be issued from the Company's authorized available stock.

2009 Omnibus Incentive Plan

On February 27, 2009, the Company's Board of Directors approved a new Stock Incentive and Award Plan (the "2009 Plan") that provides for the ability of the Company to grant up to 2,437,744 new stock incentive awards or options including Incentive and Nonqualified Stock Options, Stock Appreciation Rights, Restricted Stock, Restricted Stock Units, Performance Units, Performance Shares, Performance based Restricted Stock, Share Awards, Phantom Stock and Cash Incentive Awards. The stock incentive awards and options granted under the 2009 Plan generally expire at the earlier of a specified period after termination of service or the date specified by the Board or its designated committee at the date of grant, but not more than ten years from such grant date. On May 26, 2011 the Board of Directors authorized and the Company's shareholders approved the allocation of an additional 1,000,000 shares of common stock to the 2009 Plan.

Concurrent with the approval of the 2009 Plan, the 2006 Plan was terminated for purposes of future grants. At March 31, 2012 there were 586,727 shares available for future grant under the 2009 Plan.

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification topic 718, Compensation - Stock Compensation (ASC 718), the fair value of stock-based awards to employees is calculated as of the date of grant. Compensation expense is then recognized on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period of the award. The Company uses the Black-Scholes pricing model to value its stock options, which requires the use of estimates, including future stock price volatility, expected term and forfeitures. Stock-based compensation expense recognized is based on the estimated portion of the awards that are expected to vest. Estimated forfeiture rates were applied in the expense calculation.

Stock Options

The following table summarized the Company's stock option activity from January 1, 2012 to March 31, 2012:

Edgar Filing: ROSETTA STONE INC - Form 10-Q

As of March 31, 2012, there was approximately $8.8 million of unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to non-vested stock option awards that is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 2.99 years.

Table of Contents

Stock options are granted at the discretion of the Board of Directors or the Compensation Committee (or its authorized member(s)) and expire 10 years from the date of the grant. Options generally vest over a four-year period based upon required service conditions. No options have performance or market conditions. The Company calculates the pool of additional paid-in capital associated with excess tax benefits using the simplified method in accordance with ASC 718.

Restricted Stock Awards

During the three months ended March 31, 2012, 493,451 shares of restricted stock were granted. The aggregate grant date fair value of the awards was $3.8 million, which will be recognized on a straight-line basis as expense over the requisite service period of the awards, which is also the vesting period. During the three months ended March 31, 2012, 10,834 shares of restricted stock were forfeited. As of March 31, 2012, future compensation cost related to the nonvested portion of the restricted stock awards not yet recognized in the statement of operations was $6.9 million and is expected to be recognized over a period of 2.48 years.

The following table summarized the Company's restricted stock award activity from January 1, 2012 to March 31, 2012:

	Nonvested Outstanding	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value	Aggregate Intrinsic Value
Nonvested Awards, January 1, 2012	323,010	$ 18.22	$ 5,885,242

Restricted Stock Units

During the three months ended March 31, 2012, 5,422 restricted stock units were granted. The aggregate grant date fair value of the awards was $47,497, which was recognized as expense on the grant date, as the awards were immediately vested. The Company's restricted stock unit grants are accounted for as equity awards. The grant date fair value is based on the market price of the Company's common stock at the grant date.

10. STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

At March 31, 2012, the Company's Board of Directors had the authority to issue 200,000,000 shares of stock, of which 190,000,000 were designated as Common Stock, with a par value of $0.00005 per share, and 10,000,000 were designated as Preferred Stock, with a par value of $0.001 per share. At March 31, 2012, the Company had shares of common stock issued and outstanding of 21,746,787.

11. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Operating Leases

The Company leases many kiosks, copiers, parking spaces, buildings, a warehouse, and office space under operating lease and site license arrangements, some of which contain renewal options. The rental payments under some kiosk site licenses are based on a minimum rental plus a percentage of the kiosk's sales in excess of stipulated amounts. Kiosk site licenses range from a period of one month to 89 months. Building, warehouse and office space leases range from 12 months to 89 months. Certain leases also include lease renewal options.

Table of Contents

The following table summarizes future minimum operating lease payments for the remaining nine months of 2012 and the years thereafter (in thousands):

2012-remaining	$	4,374
2013		4,236
2014		1,766
2015		375
	$	10,751

Rent expense was $2.7 million and $3.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

The Company accounts for its leases under the provisions of Accounting Standards Codification topic 840, Accounting for Leases (ASC 840), and subsequent amendments, which require that leases be evaluated and classified as operating leases or capital leases for financial reporting purposes. Certain operating leases contain rent escalation clauses, which are recorded on a straight-line basis over the initial term of the lease with the difference between the rent paid and the straight-line rent recorded as either a deferred rent asset or liability depending on the calculation. Lease incentives received from landlords are recorded as deferred rent liabilities and are amortized on a straight-line basis over the lease term as a reduction to rent expense. The deferred rent liability was $469,000 at March 31, 2012. The deferred rent asset was $31,000 at March 31, 2012. The deferred rent asset is classified in prepaid and other assets as all associated leases have less than one year remaining on their term.

Litigation

In July 2009, the Company filed a lawsuit in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia against Google Inc., seeking, among other things, to prevent Google from infringing upon its trademarks. In August 2010, the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia issued its final order dismissing our trademark infringement lawsuit against Google. The Company appealed the District Court's decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. On April 9, 2012, the appellate court reversed the District Court's grant of summary judgment in Google's favor and remanded the case to the District Court for further consideration. The Company has incurred, and may continue to incur material legal fees and other costs and expenses in pursuit of our claims against Google.

On or about April 28, 2010, a purported class action lawsuit was filed against the Company in the Superior Court of the State of California, County of Alameda for damages, injunctive relief and restitution in the matter of Michael Pierce, Patrick Gould, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated v. Rosetta Stone Ltd. and DOES 1 to 50. The complaint alleges that plaintiffs and other persons similarly situated who are or were employed as salaried managers by the Company in its retail locations in California are due unpaid wages and other relief for the Company's violations of state wage and hour laws. Plaintiffs moved to amend their complaint to include a nationwide class on January 21, 2011. In November 2011, the plaintiffs' attorneys and the Company agreed to the mediator's proposed settlement terms, and as a result, as of September 30, 2011, the Company reserved $0.6 million for the proposed settlement amount. Approval of the proposed settlement by the court is pending. The Company disputes the plaintiffs' claims and it has not admitted any wrongdoing with respect to the case.

On June 23, 2011, Rosetta Stone GmbH was served with a writ filed by Langenscheidt KG (Langenscheidt) in the District Court of Cologne, Germany alleging trademark infringement due to Rosetta Stone's use of the color yellow on its packaging of its language-learning software and the advertising thereof in Germany. Langenscheidt is seeking, among other things, to enjoin Rosetta Stone GmbH from using the color yellow in Germany, a declaratory judgment that Rosetta Stone GmbH is liable for damages based on our activities in Germany, and the award of costs and attorneys' fees associated with the legal proceeding. A hearing was held on October 27, 2011 and the presiding judge indicated his opinion that Rosetta Stone GmbH has infringed on Langenscheidt's German trademark. On January 19, 2012, the District Court of Cologne ordered an injunction of Rosetta Stone GmbH's use of the color yellow in packaging, on its website and in television commercials and declared Rosetta Stone liable for damages, attorneys' fees and costs to Langenscheidt. However, no dollar amounts have been specified yet for the award of damages by the District Court of Cologne. In its decision, the District Court of Cologne also ordered the destruction of Rosetta Stone GmbH's product and packaging which utilized the color yellow and which was deemed to have infringed Langenscheidt's trademark. The decision is immediately enforceable upon Langenscheidt posting of a bond. To date, Langenscheidt has not posted a bond. It is required in this jurisdiction for a plaintiff to post a bond in order for a decision to be immediately enforced because if the decision were reversed upon appeal, the defendant would be awarded the bond amount for costs and damages incurred. Langenscheidt has not yet pled the amount of its damages and the court has not yet made any determination as to the amount of damages. The Company intends to vigorously defend this matter and have filed a notice of appeal with the Court of Appeals in Cologne. In addition, the Company commenced a separate proceeding directed at the cancellation of Langenscheidt's German trademark registration of yellow as an abstract color mark. However, the range of any potential loss is not reasonably estimable at this time. Even if the plaintiff is unsuccessful in its claims against the Company, the Company will incur legal fees and other costs in the defense of these claims.

From time to time, the Company has been subject to various claims and legal actions in the ordinary course of its business. The Company is not currently involved in any legal proceeding the ultimate outcome of which, in its judgment based on information currently available, would have a material impact on its business, financial condition or results of operations.

12. SEGMENT INFORMATION

Beginning in 2011, the company was managed in two operating segments Consumer and Institutional. These segments also represent our reportable segments. Management, including the chief operating decision maker, began to measure the performance of our operating segments in the first quarter of 2011 based upon operating segment revenue and operating segment contribution. Operating segment contribution includes segment revenue and expenses incurred directly by the segment, including material costs, service costs, research and development and selling, marketing, and administrative expenses. We do not allocate certain expenses, which include the majority of general and administrative expenses, facilities and communication expenses, purchasing expenses, manufacturing support and logistic expenses, depreciation and amortization, amortization of capitalized software development costs, and stock-based compensation. These expenses are included in the unallocated expenses section of the table presented below. Revenue from transactions between our operating segments is not material.

With the exception of goodwill, we do not identify or allocate our assets by operating segment. Consequently, we do not present assets or liabilities by operating segment.

Overview

We are a leading provider of technology-based language-learning solutions. We develop, market, and sell language-learning solutions consisting of software, online services and audio practice tools primarily under our Rosetta Stone brand. Our teaching method, which we call Dynamic Immersion, is designed to leverage the innate, natural language-learning ability that children use to learn their native language. Our courses are based on our proprietary interactive technologies and pedagogical content and utilize a sophisticated sequencing of images, text and sounds to teach a new language without translation or grammar explanation. We believe our award-winning solutions provide an effective, convenient and fun way to learn languages. We currently offer our self-study language-learning solutions in over 30 languages. Our customers include individuals, educational institutions, armed forces, government agencies and corporations.

The strength and breadth of our solutions have allowed us to develop a business model that we believe distinguishes us from other language-learning companies. Our scalable technology platform and our proprietary content can be deployed across many languages, which have enabled us to cost-effectively develop a broad product portfolio. We have a multi-channel marketing and distribution strategy that directly targets customers, utilizing print, online, television and radio advertising, public relations initiatives and our branded kiosks. Approximately 86% of our revenue for the year ended December 31, 2011 was generated through our direct sales channels, which include our call centers, websites, institutional sales force and kiosks. We also distribute our solutions through select retailers such as Amazon.com, Barnes & Noble, Best Buy, Books-a-Million, Staples and Costco in the U.S., as well as select third party retailers in our international locations.

We generate revenue primarily from sales of packaged software and audio practice products and online software subscriptions. Our continued growth depends, in part, on our ability to maintain strong brand recognition in order to generate sales from new customers. We continuously balance our need to achieve short-term financial goals with the equally critical need to invest in our products, our brand and our infrastructure to ensure our future success. In making decisions about spending levels in our various functional organizations, we consider many factors, including:

- our ability to expand our presence and penetration of existing markets;

- the extent to which we can sell new products and services to existing customers;
- our success in expanding our brand;
- the evolution of our product and service offerings; and
- our ability to expand our presence and reach geographically.

We believe the primary factors that affect our financial performance include the following:

- customer acceptance of our product and service offerings;

Table of Contents

- continued product and service innovation;
- average revenue per customer;
- direct marketing variables, including:
 - print, television and radio media discounts and rates;
 - the relevance of our advertising and website;
 - online pay-per-click and other online advertising rates;
 - internal and external call center conversion rates; and
 - website traffic and conversion rates;
- customer brand loyalty;
- the number and quality of our kiosk locations;
- our relationships with retailers;
- our presence in international markets; and

- cross-channel management of consumer and institutional markets.

We believe that our multi-channel marketing and distribution models are fundamental to our success. Specifically, we focus on educating customers about the many benefits of our products and services by leveraging our advertising and kiosk network in order to drive website and call center traffic.

On February 22, 2012, our board of directors promoted chief financial officer Stephen M. Swad, to president and chief executive officer (CEO). As our CEO assumes his new role, he is conducting an assessment of the company's critical areas over the coming months. The primary areas of focus will be:

1. further stabilizing and optimizing the U.S. Consumer market;
2. regaining positive momentum in Asia;
3. taking steps to improve margins across all of our businesses, both in the U.S. and internationally; and
4. examining and evaluating ways to grow our institutional business.

As part of this review, we are looking at eliminating marketing investments that have low expected yields and better leveraging our worldwide general and administrative expenses. As this process evolves, we may record one-time expenses associated with transition to our new strategy.

Components of Our Statement of Operations

Revenue

We derive revenue from sales of language learning solutions consisting of packaged software and audio practice products and online software subscriptions. Revenue is presented as product revenue or subscription and service revenue in our consolidated financial statements. Our audio practice products are normally combined with our packaged software products and sold as a solution.

Revenue is primarily derived from the sale of packaged software and audio practice products, online software subscriptions and professional services. Our professional services include training, implementation services and dedicated conversational coaching associated with Rosetta Stone TOTALe. Rosetta Stone TOTALe online, which was released in July 2009, combines dedicated conversational coaching and an online software subscription. Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe, which was released in September 2010, combines packaged software and dedicated conversational coaching. The content of our packaged software and subscription offerings are the same. We simply offer our customers the ability to choose which format they prefer without differentiating the learning experience. We began bundling time-based subscription licenses of our web-based TOTALe services with perpetual licenses of our Rosetta Stone Version 3 language learning solutions in the U.S. consumer market as part of our Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe launch. As a result, we defer approximately 10%-25% of each of these bundled sales over the term of the subscription license.

We sell our solutions directly to individuals, educational institutions, corporations, government agencies and armed forces. We distribute our consumer products predominantly through our direct sales channels, primarily our websites and call centers, which we refer to as our direct-to-consumer channel. We also distribute our consumer products through our kiosks, which we own, as well as through select retailers. The majority of our consumer customers purchase our packaged software and audio practice products, online software subscriptions and professional services. We sell to institutions primarily through our direct institutional sales force. Many institutions elect to license our products on a subscription basis. For purposes of explaining variances in our revenue, we separately discuss changes in our consumer and institutional sales channels because the customers and revenue drivers of these channels are different

Our consumer revenue is affected by seasonal trends associated with the holiday shopping season. As a result, our fourth quarter ended December 31, 2011 accounted for 32% of our annual revenue in 2011. Our institutional revenue is seasonally stronger in the second and third quarters of the calendar year due to education and government purchasing cycles. We expect these trends to continue, however government budget reductions may negatively affect future revenue.

Cost of Product and Subscription and Service Revenue

Cost of product revenue consists of the direct and indirect materials and labor costs to produce and distribute our products. Such costs include packaging materials, computer headsets, freight, inventory receiving, personnel costs associated with product assembly, third-party royalty fees and inventory storage, obsolescence and shrinkage. We believe cost of subscription and service revenue primarily represents costs associated with supporting our online language learning service, which includes online language conversation coaching, hosting costs and depreciation. We also include the cost of credit card processing and customer technical support in both cost of product revenue and cost of subscription and service revenue. We believe cost of revenue will also increase as a percentage of revenue in future periods as a result of our launch of Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe, which includes services that have higher direct costs to deliver to customers than prior versions of our product.

Operating Expenses

We classify our operating expenses into three categories: sales and marketing, research and development and general and administrative.

Our operating expenses primarily consist of personnel costs, direct advertising and marketing expenses and professional fees associated with contract product development, legal, accounting and consulting. Personnel costs for each category of operating expenses include salaries, bonuses, stock-based compensation and employee benefit costs.

Sales and Marketing. Our sales and marketing expenses consist primarily of direct advertising expenses related to television, print, radio, online and other direct marketing activities, personnel costs for our sales and marketing staff, rental payments for our kiosks and commissions paid to our sales personnel. In 2007, we began to make significant investments to expand our sales and marketing operations in Europe and Japan. In 2009, we began to make significant investments to expand our sales and marketing operations in South Korea, in 2010 we established our presence in Germany, and in 2011 we established offices in Brazil and China. In each case we established local sales offices, added employees and launched marketing and public relations campaigns within the region. We intend to continue to expand our sales activities within some of these regions as well as to expand our presence into new countries, in addition to expanding our media and advertising campaigns in the United States. As a result, we expect sales and marketing expenses to continue to increase in future periods.

Research and Development. Research and development expenses consist primarily of personnel costs and contract development fees associated with the development of our solutions. Our development efforts are primarily based in the United States and are devoted to expanding our product portfolio through the addition of new content and new complimentary products and services to our language learning solutions. We expect our investment in research and development expenses to increase in future years but provide us with significant benefits in the future.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expenses consist primarily of personnel costs of our executive, finance, legal, human resources and other administrative personnel, as well as accounting and legal professional services fees and other corporate expenses. In 2012, there have been and we expect that there will continue to be increases to certain general and administrative expenses to support our expansion into new international markets. However, we also are taking steps to reduce certain general and administrative expenses as we realign our resources with our business priorities.

Other Income (Expense)

Other income (expense) primarily consists of interest income and interest expense. Interest expense is primarily related to our short-term investment account as well as interest related to our capital leases. Interest income represents interest received on our cash and cash equivalents.

Income Tax Expense (Benefit)

For the three months ended March 31, 2012, our worldwide effective tax rate was approximately 28%. For the year ended December 31, 2011, our effective tax rate was approximately 29%. The effective rate includes federal, state and international components. Our worldwide rate may vary on a quarterly and annual basis based upon the contribution of international operations to taxable income and any changes in applicable federal, state or international income tax rates. We expect our worldwide rate to be approximately 35-42% in 2012, and 28-35% in subsequent years assuming no general change in federal, state or foreign income tax rates applicable to companies such as ours.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

In presenting our financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, we are required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues, costs and expenses and related disclosures.

Some of the estimates and assumptions we are required to make relate to matters that are inherently uncertain as they pertain to future events. We base these estimates and assumptions on historical experience or on various other factors that we believe to be reasonable and appropriate under the circumstances. On an ongoing basis, we reconsider and evaluate our estimates and assumptions. Our future estimates may change if the underlying assumptions change. Actual results may differ significantly from these estimates.

Revenue Recognition for Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables

As of January 1, 2010, we began to recognize revenue prospectively for new arrangements with multiple deliverables in accordance with ASU No. 2009-13, Revenue Recognition (Topic 605) Multiple Deliverable Revenue Arrangements (ASU No. 2009-13). For multi-element arrangements that include online services and auxiliary items, such as headsets and audio practice products which provide stand-alone value to the customer, we allocate revenue to all deliverables based on their relative selling prices in accordance with ASU No. 2009-13. The new accounting principles establish a hierarchy to determine the selling price to be used for allocating revenue to deliverables as follows:

(i) vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value (VSOE), (ii) third-party evidence of selling price (TPE), and (iii) best estimate of the selling price (ESP). VSOE generally exists only when we sell the deliverable separately and is the price that we actually charge for that deliverable. ESPs reflect our best estimates of what the selling prices of elements would be if they were sold regularly on a stand-alone basis.

We have identified two deliverables generally contained in arrangements involving the sale of online services bundled with auxiliary items. The first deliverable is the auxiliary items, which are delivered at the time of sale, and the second deliverable is the online services. We allocate revenue between these two deliverables using the relative selling price method. Amounts allocated to the auxiliary items are recognized at the time of sale, provided the other conditions for revenue recognition have been met. Amounts allocated to the online services are deferred and recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the online services. The auxiliary item cost of sales are generally recognized at the time of sale. Costs for online services and sales and marketing are expensed as incurred.

We have identified two deliverables generally contained in Rosetta Stone V4 TOTALe software arrangements. The first deliverable is the packaged software, which is delivered at the time of sale, and the second deliverable is the dedicated conversational coaching online services. We allocate revenue between these two deliverables using the residual method based on the existence of VSOE. Amounts allocated to the software are recognized at the time of sale, provided the other conditions for revenue recognition have been met. Amounts allocated to the online services are deferred and recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the online services or upon expiry of the online services. The language learning software cost of sales are generally recognized at the time of sale. Costs for online services and sales and marketing are expensed as incurred.

Goodwill

In accordance with ASC 350, goodwill is not amortized and is tested for impairment annually on June 30th and whenever events and circumstances occur indicating goodwill might be impaired. Beginning in 2011, we began reporting our results in two reporting units - Consumer and Institutional. The Company first assesses qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events or circumstances leads to a determination that it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If, after assessing the totality of events or circumstances, it is determined it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, then the Company performs the first step or the two-step impairment test by calculating the fair value of the reporting unit and comparing the fair value with the carrying amount of the reporting unit, including goodwill. The second step measures the amount of impairment loss, if any. As of the last annual testing date, we reviewed the goodwill for impairment and determined that no impairment of goodwill was identified during any of the periods presented, nor are the reporting units at risk of failing step one of the goodwill impairment test. If in the fourth quarter or any subsequent quarter, we identify events or changes in circumstances that could impact the fair value of our reporting units (e.g. dramatic decrease in our stock price), we will evaluate if impairment exists at that time.

For further information on our critical and other significant accounting policies, see our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on March 14, 2012.

We believe that the following critical accounting policies involve our more significant judgments, assumptions and estimates and, therefore, could have the greatest potential impact on our consolidated financial statements:

- Revenue Recognition
- Stock-based Compensation
- Income Taxes
- Allowance for Doubtful Accounts Receivable
- Sales Return Reserve
- Goodwill
- Other Intangible Assets

Comparison of the three months ended March 31, 2012 and the three months ended March 31, 2011

Our revenue increased to $69.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 from $57.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. The increase in revenue was primarily due to growth in the U.S. market of $13.6 million, partially offset by a $1.2 million decrease in international revenue over the prior year period. The consumer average revenue per unit decreased from $374 to $290, resulting in a $16.0 million decrease in revenue, which was offset by an increase in consumer units sold from 114,200 to 190,800, or 67%, during the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to the prior year period, resulting in a $28.6 million increase in revenue. The decrease in revenue per unit was the result of lower prices across all channels in the U.S. market. Bookings, calculated as revenue plus the change in deferred revenue, increased to $65.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 from $55.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. The increase in bookings was due to a $9.5 million increase in consumer net bookings, primarily in the U.S., and a $0.2 million increase in institutional net bookings.

Edgar Filing: ROSETTA STONE INC - Form 10-Q

Table of Contents

We reported an operating loss of $2.4 million during the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to an operating loss of $13.6 million during the three months ended March 31, 2011. The decrease in operating loss was primarily due to an increase in gross profit of $10.5 million as a result of increased revenue primarily in the U.S., as well as a decrease in operating expenses of $0.8 million. The decrease in operating expenses was primarily related to a decrease of $2.7 million in kiosk related expenses as the number of worldwide kiosks decreased from 237 as of March 31, 2011 to 102 as of March 31, 2012, offset by a $0.4 million increase in personnel-related costs, primarily related to increased headcount in content personnel to continue the expansion of our ReFLEX product, $0.2 million increase in payment processing fees as a result of increased revenue over the prior year period, $0.5 million in increased media and marketing activities related to U.S. remarketing campaign, $0.2 million increase in professional services and a $0.3 million increase in depreciation and amortization expenses incurred to support our international expansion.

As of March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011 we employed approximately 1,700 and 1,900 personnel, respectively, including full time, part-time and temporary employees.

Revenue by Operating Segment

The following table sets forth revenue for each of our two operating segments for the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011:

Consumer Segment

Consumer revenue was $55.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, an increase of $12.6 million, or 30%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. The number of consumer units sold increased from 114,200 to 190,800, resulting in a $28.6 million increase in revenue, which was partially offset by a decrease in consumer average revenue per unit from $374 to $290 during the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to the prior period, resulting in a $16.0 million decrease in revenue. The decrease in average revenue per unit was the result of our ongoing price testing across all channels in the U.S. market. Consumer bookings, calculated as revenue plus the change in deferred revenue, increased to $54.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 from $44.8 million for the year ended March 31, 2011. The increase in bookings was due to higher unit volumes offset by lower average selling price per unit in the United States.

Edgar Filing: ROSETTA STONE INC - Form 10-Q

There was a $3.2 million decrease in consumer deferred revenue during the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to the prior year period, which was primarily related to revenue recognized for Version 4 TOTALe online services.

Product revenue represented 81% of total consumer revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2012, with the remaining balance attributable to subscription and service revenue. We began bundling time-based subscription licenses of our web-based TOTALe services with perpetual licenses of our Rosetta Stone Version 3 language-learning solutions in the U.S. consumer market during the third quarter of 2010, in Japan during the first quarter of 2011, in the United Kingdom during the second quarter of 2011, and in Korea during the third quarter of 2011, with the launch of Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe. As a result, we defer approximately 10% - 25% of the revenue of each of these bundled sales. We recognize the deferred revenue over the term of the subscription license in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification subtopic 985-605, Software: Revenue Recognition.

We are currently testing different price points for our online products. If we fully implement an offering based on our tests, it could result in lower revenues over the next twelve months as customer payments and revenues would be spread over the subscription period.

Direct-to-Consumer

Direct-to-consumer revenue was $36.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, an increase of $5.0 million, or 16%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. The increase in direct-to-consumer revenue was driven by $6.5 million in growth in our U.S. direct-to-consumer business, offset by a $1.5 million decrease in our international direct-to-consumer markets. The worldwide average revenue per unit decreased 30% during the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to the prior year period, resulting in a $16.0 million decrease in revenue. The number of units sold increased 66% during the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to the prior year period, resulting in a $21.0 million increase in revenue. There was a $1.5 million decrease in direct-to-consumer deferred revenue during the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to the prior year period, which was primarily related to revenue recognized for Version 4 TOTALe online services.

During the fourth quarter of 2011 and first quarter of 2012, we experienced softness in the direct-to-consumer channel in Japan and we are working to improve our messaging and performance.

Kiosk

Kiosk revenue was $6.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, a decrease of $0.8 million, or 11%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. The number of worldwide kiosks decreased 57% from 237 as of March 31, 2011 to 102 as of March 31, 2012. The number of units sold decreased 5% during the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to the prior year period, resulting in a $0.4 million decrease in revenue, primarily related to the decrease in kiosks. The worldwide average revenue per unit decreased 6% as a result of changes to the pricing of our products in the U.S. market, resulting in a $0.4 million decrease in revenue. There was a $0.7 million decrease in kiosk deferred revenue during the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to the prior year period, primarily related to revenue recognized for Version 4 TOTALe online services. During 2012, we plan to continue to reduce the size of our worldwide kiosk program, in addition to continually reviewing the performance of remaining kiosk locations.

Retail

Retail revenue was $11.0 million for the year ended March 31, 2012, an increase of $8.4 million or 326% from the three months ended March 31, 2011. The worldwide average revenue per unit increased 72% during the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to the prior year period, resulting in a $4.6 million increase in revenue. The primary driver of the increase related to a $3.1 million reserve recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2011 for price protection offered to certain resellers as we prepared to implement price changes across all sales verticals in the U.S. market. The number of units sold increased 148% during the three months ended March 31, 2012, resulting in a $3.8

million increase in revenue, compared to the prior year period. This increase was driven by lower prices across the U.S. market during the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to the prior year period. Additionally, we experienced a larger volume of restocking orders during the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to the prior year period.

We are actively working to reduce our business and financial exposures in our retail business by working with key retailers on potential modifications in our business relationship. We are considering, among other changes, changes to credit limits, payment terms, SKU reduction, store reduction or a change from terms to consignment. Discussions are ongoing and the ultimate outcome is unknown. Any change in credit limits or payment terms would have no immediate impact, however a change from terms to consignment could result in recording a charge in the period of the change and the issuance of a credit to the retailer for existing inventory previously purchased on terms. Alternatively, a change from terms to consignment could result in a delay in the recognition of revenue on future shipments until existing inventory has been exhausted and sell through materializes. In addition, if the credit quality of a partner deteriorates, we may move to delay the recording of bookings until we receive cash.

The majority of our sales in our Korean subsidiary are generated by sales on home shopping television networks. During the fourth quarter of 2011 and first quarter of 2012, sales of most educational products on home shopping networks were down, including our products. We are working on changes to our go to market strategy, including changes in price and messaging to improve sales in this important channel, however we expect these trends to continue during 2012.

Home School

Home school revenue was $1.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, an increase of $0.1 million from the three months ended March 31, 2011. The average revenue per unit decreased 22% as a result of changes to the pricing of our products in the U.S. market, compared to the prior year period, resulting in a $0.3 million decrease in revenue, which was offset by a 37% increase in units sold in 2012, compared to the prior year period, resulting in a $0.3 million increase in revenue.

Institutional Segment

Institutional revenue was $14.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, a decrease of $0.2 million, or 1%, compared to the three months ended March 31, 2011. We had a $1.0 million increase in education revenue and a $1.1 million increase in corporate and non-profit revenue in 2012, compared to the prior year period due to the expansion of our direct sales force and a shift from sales of perpetual licenses to sales of renewing online subscriptions. These increases were offset by a $2.2 million decrease in governmental revenues, primarily as a result of government budget cuts including the non-renewal of the U.S. Army and U.S. Marines Corps contracts.

Institutional bookings, calculated as revenue plus the change in deferred revenue, increased to $11.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 from $10.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. The increase in bookings was due to a $0.8 million increase in corporate and non-profit bookings and a $0.5 million increase in government bookings in the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to the prior year period, offset by a $1.0 million decrease in education bookings. We have recently added sales representatives to this group to allow greater focus by senior sales executives on regaining some of our key government and armed forces relationships.

Product revenue represented 18% of total institutional revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2012, and subscription and service revenue represented 82% for the same period.

Revenue by Product Revenue and Subscription and Service Revenue

We categorize and report our revenue in two categories – product revenue and subscription and service revenue. The following table sets forth revenue for products and subscription and services for the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011:

Three months ended March 31, 2012	2011	2012 versus 2011 Change	% Change

(in thousands, except percentages)

Product revenue	$	47,530	68.4%	$	42,303	74.2%	$	5,227	12.4%

Total revenue		69,449	100.0%		56,978	100.0%		12,471	21.9%

Product Revenue

Product revenue increased $5.2 million to $47.5 million during the three months ended March 31, 2012 from $42.3 million during the three months ended March 31, 2011. Consumer product revenue increased $6.0 million, primarily as a result of increased strength in U.S. consumer sales. Institutional product revenues decreased $0.7 million as a result of a shift from sales of perpetual licenses to sales of renewing online subscriptions.

Service and Support Revenue

Subscription and service revenue increased 49%, or $7.2 million, to $21.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, from $14.7 million during the three months ended March 31, 2011. The increase in subscription and service revenues was due to a $6.6 million increase in consumer online subscription and service revenue related to sales of Version 4 TOTALe.

Table of Contents

At the launch of Rosetta Stone Version 4 TOTALe in the U.S. consumer market during the third quarter of 2010, we began bundling time-based subscription licenses of our web-based TOTALe Studio and Rosetta World services with perpetual licenses of Rosetta Course, the product feature which previously comprised our Rosetta Stone Version 3 language-learning solutions. Approximately 10-25% of each of these bundled sales is allocated to online services. Institutional subscription and service revenue increased $0.6 million related to growth in the institutional customer base with renewing online subscriptions.

Cost of Product Revenue and Subscription and Service Revenue and Gross Profit

The following table sets forth cost of product revenue and subscription and service revenue, as well as gross profit for the three months ended March 31, 2012 and 2011:

	Three months ended March 31,		2012 versus 2011
	2012 (in thousands, except percentages)	2011	Change	% Change

Total revenue	69,449	56,978	12,471	21.9%

Gross margin percentages	80.6%	79.9%	0.7%

Cost of Product Revenue

Cost of product revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2012 was $9.1 million, an increase of $0.3 million, or 4%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. As a percentage of product revenue, cost of product revenue decreased to 19% for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to 21% for the prior year period. The dollar increase in cost was primarily attributable to a $0.4 million increase in expense associated with product support activities, a $0.5 million increase in freight, $0.2 million increase in communications, and $0.1 million increase in payment processing fees related to the increase in revenue over the prior year period. This increase was partially offset by a $0.6 million decrease in inventory obsolescence and scrap associated with the international Version 4 TOTALe launches as well as a $0.2 million decrease in costs related to our 2012 standard cost revaluation of our raw materials. We are exploring the possibility of moving more of our business online, which should reduce the cost of product revenue as the cost of producing and shipping CDs would decline. However, we could experience a temporary increase in the cost of our product revenue as we scrap existing packaging.

Cost of Subscription and Service Revenue

Cost of subscription and service revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2012 was $4.4 million, an increase of $1.7 million, or 64% from the three months ended March 31, 2011. As a percentage of subscription and service revenue, cost of subscription and service revenue increased to 20% for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to 18% for the prior year period. The increase in cost was primarily attributable to our web-based service offerings in our Version 4 TOTALe and ReFLEX products that include a component of dedicated online language conversation coaching and higher direct costs to deliver to customers than our previous software solutions. This increase in costs includes $1.4 million increase in product support activities including personnel-related costs and third-party expenses for coaches, product support, and success agents, $0.1 million increase in training for coaches and costs associated with the new Germany website platform, as well as a $0.1 million increase in communication expenses as a result of increased revenue. We expect our cost of subscription and service revenue will increase in future periods, as a percent of revenue, associated with the launch of our Version 4 TOTALe and ReFLEX solutions in our international markets.

Operating Expenses

	Three months ended		2012 versus 2011
	2012	March 31, 2011	Change	% Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Sales and marketing	38,404	$ 37,820	$ 584	1.5%
Research and development	6,273	6,484	(211)	-3.3%
General and administrative	13,657	14,808	(1,151)	-7.8%
Total operating expenses	$ 58,334	$ 59,112	$ (778)	-1.3%

Sales and Marketing Expenses

Sales and marketing expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2012 were $38.4 million, an increase of $0.6 million, or 2%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. As a percentage of total revenue, sales and marketing expenses were 55% for the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to 66% for the three months ended March 31, 2011. The dollar increase in sales and marketing expenses were primarily attributable to the continued expansion of our direct marketing activities in the U.S. and international markets. Professional services increased $1.3 million, of which approximately $1.0 million related to an information technology reorganization and approximately $0.3 million related to the visual design of our new German website. Media and marketing activities grew by $0.5 million, primarily related to an increase in radio advertising and our remarketing strategy in the U.S. Personnel-related costs as a result of growth in our institutional sales channel, web engineering, and marketing and sales support activities increased by $1.1 million over the prior year period. Additionally, depreciation and amortization increased $0.2 million due to increased capitalized software costs in 2011. These costs were partially offset by a decrease of $2.7 million in kiosk-related expenses, including rent and personnel costs as the number of worldwide kiosks decreased from 237 as of March 31, 2011 to 102 as of March 31, 2012. We plan to continually evaluate our kiosk performance as we balance the positive branding with the profitability of the kiosk, potentially closing additional underperforming kiosk locations.

Research and Development Expenses

Research and development expenses were $6.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, a decrease of $0.2 million, or 3%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. As a percentage of revenue, research and development expenses decreased to 9% for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to 11% for the three months ended March 31, 2011. The dollar and percentage decreases were primarily attributable to a $0.3 million decrease in consulting expenses related to a Chinese and Russian voicing project in the first quarter of 2011, as well as a $0.2 million decrease in travel other expenses related to the production of our ReFLEX product in the first quarter of 2011. These expenses were partially offset by a $0.4 million increase in personnel costs associated with the development of our ReFLEX product. We expect research and development expenses to remain flat in 2012 as we improve our TOTALe product and invest in our product platform enabling improved online learning, and optimize our English remediation solution for our Asian markets, as well as invest in digital platforms such as the iPad, and support institutional development initiatives.

General and Administrative Expenses

General and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2012 were $13.7 million, a decrease of $1.2 million, or 8%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. As a percentage of revenue, general and administrative expenses decreased to 20% for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to 26% for the quarter ended March 31, 2011. The dollar and percentage decreases were primarily attributable to a decrease in professional services of $0.8 million related to an information technology reorganization and a decrease of $0.2 million related to a decrease in hardware and software upgrades, hosting, and telephone expenses, compared to the prior year period. During 2012, we plan on taking steps to reduce certain general and administrative expenses as we realign our cost structure to help fund investment in areas of growth.

Interest and Other Income (Expense)

	Three months ended March 31,		2012 versus 2011
	2012	2011	Change	% Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Interest Income	$ 78	$ 80	$ (2)	-2.5%
Interest Expense		(3)	3	-100.0%
Other Income (Expense)	(364)	2	(366)	18300.0%
Total other income (expense)	$ (286)	$ 79	$ (365)	462.0%

Interest income represents interest earned on our cash and cash equivalents. Interest income for the three months ended March 31, 2012 was $78,000, a decrease of $2,000, or 3%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011.

Interest expense is primarily related to our short-term investment account as well as interest related to our capital leases. Interest expense for the three months ended March 31, 2012 was $200, a decrease of $3,000 or 100%, from the three months ended March 31, 2011. We expect interest expense to be minimal in future periods as we allowed the revolving line of credit with Wells Fargo to expire on January 17, 2011.

Other expense for the three months ended March 31, 2012 was $364,000 a decrease of $366,000 from the three months ended March 31, 2011. The decrease was primarily due to foreign exchange losses.

Income Tax Benefit

	Three months ended March 31,		2012 versus 2011
	2012	2011	Change	% Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Income tax benefit	$ (742)	$ (4,236)	$ 3,494	-82.5%

Income tax benefit for the three months ended March 31, 2012 was $0.7 million, compared to $4.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. The change was the result of an increase of $10.9 million in pre-tax income for the three months ended March 31, 2012 and an increase in our effective tax rate. Our effective tax rate was 28% for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to 31% for the three months ended March 31, 2011.

At March 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, our net deferred tax assets were $20.2 million and $19.0 million, respectively. Based on our evaluation of past and future performance, we believe it is more likely than not that the net deferred tax asset will be realized through future taxable income. If future results fail to provide objective and verifiable evidence to support the realization of the deferred tax asset, a valuation allowance may be required to reduce the deferred tax assets to their expected net realizable value. During 2012, we will continue to assess the need for a valuation allowance.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary operating cash requirements include the payment of salaries, incentive compensation, employee benefits and other personnel related costs, as well as direct advertising expenses, costs of office facilities and costs of information technology systems. We fund these requirements through cash flow from our operations.

We expect that our future growth will continue to require additional working capital. Our future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including development of new products, market acceptance of our products, the levels of advertising and promotion required to launch additional products and improve our competitive position in the marketplace, the expansion of our sales, support and marketing organizations, the establishment of additional offices in the United States and worldwide and building the infrastructure necessary to support our growth, the response of competitors to our products and our relationships with suppliers and clients. We have experienced increases in our expenditures consistent with the growth in our operations and personnel, and we anticipate that our expenditures will continue to increase in the future. We believe that anticipated cash flows from operations and existing cash reserves will provide sufficient liquidity to fund our business and meet our obligations for at least the next 12 months.

Cash Flow Analysis

Net Cash Provided By Operating Activities

Net cash provided by operating activities was $2.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to $0.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011, an increase of $1.8 million. Net cash provided by operating activities was primarily the result of the reduction in net losses as adjusted for depreciation, amortization and stock compensation expense and collection of accounts receivable, offset in part by decreases in net liabilities. The net loss totaled $1.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to net loss of $9.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. For the three months ended March 31, 2012, we incurred depreciation, amortization and stock compensation expense in the amount of $4.1 million, compared to $3.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. Accounts receivable decreased by $17.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, the result of continued collection efforts compared to a decrease of $18.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. Accounts Payable decreased by $0.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012 primarily the result of more efficient cash management and the timing of cash expenditures compared to a decrease of $1.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011. This decrease was partially offset by an increase in income tax receivable of $1.2 million. In the future, our cash flow management may not be successful in extending the timing of payments to vendors, which would then cause this cash flow benefit to reverse. If our efforts to reposition the U.S. consumer business are not successful, we would anticipate our cash flow from operations to decline for the remainder of 2012. The total amount of cash that was held by foreign subsidiaries as of March 31, 2012 was $15.4 million. If we were to repatriate the cash from our foreign subsidiaries, a significant tax liability may result.

Net Cash Provided By (Used In) Investing Activities

Net cash provided by investing activities was $2.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2012, compared to net cash used of $4.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011, an increase of $6.8 million. The increase in cash provided by investing activities was primarily driven by a reduction in capital expenditures and the timing of purchases and sales of short-term investments.

Net Cash Provided By (Used In) Financing Activities

Net cash used in financing activities was $2,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2012 compared to net cash provided by financing activities of $55,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2011. Net cash used in financing activities during the three months ended March 31, 2012 related directly to payments under capital leases. We had no proceeds from the exercise of stock options in the three months ended March 31, 2012.

We believe our current cash and cash equivalents, short term investments and funds generated from our operations will be sufficient to meet our working capital and capital expenditure requirements through the foreseeable future, including at least the next 12 months. Thereafter, we may need to raise additional funds through public or private financings or borrowings to develop or enhance products, to fund expansion, to respond to competitive pressures or to acquire complementary products, businesses or technologies. If required, additional financing may not be available on terms that are favorable to us, if at all. If we raise additional funds through the issuance of equity or convertible debt securities, the percentage ownership of our stockholders will be reduced and these securities might have rights, preferences and privileges senior to those of our current stockholders. No assurance can be given that additional financing will be available or that, if available, such financing can be obtained on terms favorable to our stockholders and us.

During the last three years, inflation and changing prices have not had a material effect on our business and we do not expect that inflation or changing prices will materially affect our business in the foreseeable future.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not engage in any off-balance sheet financing arrangements. We do not have any interest in entities referred to as variable interest entities, which include special purpose entities and other structured finance entities.

Contractual Obligations

The following table summarizes our contractual obligations at March 31, 2012 and the effect such obligations are expected to have on our liquidity and cash flow in future periods.

	Total	Less than 1 Year	1-3 Years (in thousands)	3-5 Years	More than 5 Years
Long-term debt	$	$	$	$	$
Operating lease obligations	$ 10,751	$ 5,552	$ 5,069	$ 130	$
Total	$ 10,751	$ 5,552	$ 5,069	$ 130	$

The operating lease obligations reflected in the table above include our corporate office leases and site licenses for our kiosks.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market RiskForeign Currency Exchange Risk

Edgar Filing: ROSETTA STONE INC - Form 10-Q

The functional currency of our foreign subsidiaries is their local currency. Accordingly, our results of operations and cash flows are subject to fluctuations due to changes in foreign currency exchange rates. The volatility of the prices and applicable rates are dependent on many factors that we cannot forecast with reliable accuracy. In the event our foreign sales and expenses increase, our operating results may be more greatly affected by fluctuations in the exchange rates of the currencies with which we do business. At this time we do not, but we may in the future, invest in derivatives or other financial instruments in an attempt to hedge our foreign currency exchange risk.

Interest Rate Sensitivity

Interest income and expense are sensitive to changes in the general level of U.S. interest rates. However, based on the nature and current level of our marketable securities, which are primarily short-term investment grade and government securities and our notes payable, we believe that there is no material risk of exposure.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our management, with the participation of our principal executive and principal financial officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2012. The term disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act), means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company's management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives, and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2012, our principal executive and principal financial officer concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There was no change in our internal control over financial reporting identified in connection with the evaluation required by Rule 13a-15(d) or 15d-15(d) of the Exchange Act that occurred during the quarter ended March 31, 2012 that had materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

In July 2009, we filed a lawsuit in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia against Google Inc., seeking, among other things, to prevent Google from infringing upon its trademarks. In August 2010, the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia issued its final order dismissing our trademark infringement lawsuit against Google. We appealed the District Court's decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. On April 9, 2012, the appellate court reversed the District Court's grant of summary judgment in Google's favor and remanded the case to the District Court for further consideration. We have incurred, and may continue to incur material legal fees and other costs and expenses in pursuit of our claims against Google.

On or about April 28, 2010, a purported class action lawsuit was filed against us in the Superior Court of the State of California, County of Alameda for damages, injunctive relief and restitution in the matter of Michael Pierce, Patrick Gould, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated v. Rosetta Stone Ltd. and DOES 1 to 50. The complaint alleges that plaintiffs and other persons similarly situated who are or were employed as salaried managers by us in our retail locations in California are due unpaid wages and other relief for our violations of state wage and hour laws. Plaintiffs moved to amend their complaint to include a nationwide class on January 21, 2011. In November 2011, we and the plaintiffs' attorneys agreed to the mediator's proposed settlement terms, and as a result, as of September 30, 2011, we reserved $0.6 million for the proposed settlement amount. Approval of the proposed settlement by the court is pending. We dispute the plaintiffs' claims and have not admitted any wrongdoing with respect to the case.

On June 23, 2011, Rosetta Stone GmbH was served with a writ filed by Langenscheidt KG (Langenscheidt) in the District Court of Cologne, Germany alleging trademark infringement due to Rosetta Stone's use of the color yellow on its packaging of its language-learning software and the advertising thereof in Germany. Langenscheidt is seeking, among other things, to enjoin Rosetta Stone GmbH from using the color yellow in Germany, a declaratory judgment that Rosetta Stone GmbH is liable for damages based on our activities in Germany, and the award of costs and attorneys' fees associated with the legal proceeding. A hearing was held on October 27, 2011 and the presiding judge indicated his opinion that Rosetta Stone GmbH has infringed on Langenscheidt's German trademark. On January 19, 2012, the District Court of Cologne ordered an injunction of Rosetta Stone GmbH's use of the color yellow in packaging, on its website and in television commercials and declared Rosetta Stone liable for damages, attorneys' fees and costs to Langenscheidt. However, no dollar amounts have been specified yet for the award of damages by the District Court of Cologne. In its decision, the District Court of Cologne also ordered the destruction of Rosetta Stone GmbH's product and packaging which utilized the color yellow and which was deemed to have infringed Langenscheidt's trademark. The decision is immediately enforceable upon Langenscheidt posting of a bond. To date, Langenscheidt has not posted a bond. It is required in this jurisdiction for a plaintiff to post a bond in order for a decision to be immediately enforced because if the decision were reversed upon appeal, the defendant would be awarded the bond amount for costs and damages incurred. Langenscheidt has not yet pled the amount of its damages and the court has not yet made any determination as to the amount of damages. We intend to vigorously defend this matter and have filed a notice of appeal with the Court of Appeals in Cologne. In addition, we commenced a separate proceeding directed at the cancellation of Langenscheidt's German trademark registration of yellow as an abstract color mark. However, the range of any potential loss is not reasonably estimable at this time. Even if the plaintiff is unsuccessful in its claims against us, we will incur legal fees and other costs in the defense of these claims.

From time to time, we have been subject to various claims and legal actions in the ordinary course of its business. We are not currently involved in any legal proceeding the ultimate outcome of which, in our judgment based on information currently available, would have a material impact on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

For a further discussion of our Risk Factors, refer to the Risk Factors discussion contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the period ended December 31, 2011.
