During the third quarter of 2015, Luxottica maintained its growth trajectory in key markets, in line with the trends experienced in the first half of the year. Solid demand for the latest sun collections in North America and Europe, Sunglass Hut and LensCrafters buoyant performance and the continued expansion in new markets were the biggest contributors in the quarter. The Group continues to use speed and flexibility to achieve its strategic objectives and to benefit and drive the structural growth of the global eyewear market.

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

In a rapidly changing and more challenging macroeconomic environment, Luxottica posted adjusted<sup>3,5</sup> net sales year-to-date of approximately Euro 7 billion, representing a 19.7% increase on a year-over-year basis. The pursuit of efficiencies and cost management helped Luxottica improve adjusted<sup>3,5</sup> operating margin by 110 basis points, while adjusted<sup>3,5</sup> net income grew by 29.7% to Euro 734 million. Strong free cash flow<sup>3</sup> generation to approximately Euro 700 million during the past nine months, Euro 396 million generated solely in the third quarter, allows Luxottica to accelerate its investment plan and support future growth.

It is really gratifying to see the Group continue to grow in retail, wholesale and in key markets. There is vast opportunity across the board for our business , commented Adil Khan and Massimo Vian, Chief Executive Officers of Luxottica.

Our eyewear collections, which continue to be among the most loved and sought-after by consumers around the world, together with the customer service we provide, drove Wholesale s positive performance during the quarter. Similarly, our Retail business performed well with Sunglass Hut continuing to shine in the Americas, Europe and Australia, while strong performance from LensCrafters in North America helped to counter the weakness experienced in Australia and Hong Kong .

Results achieved so far allow us to confidently confirm our 2015 outlook. We expect the positive trend of organic growth to carry into 2016, with earnings continuing to grow faster than sales. Looking forward, we believe the opportunities offered by the industry, coupled with our investment plan, allow us to confirm our objective of doubling sales over the next ten years .

North America

North America has proven to be one of the key growth engines for the Group, with adjusted net sales<sup>3,5</sup> increasing by 22.8% (+4.5% at constant exchange rates<sup>2</sup>) in the third quarter. Both the Wholesale and Retail divisions contributed to this solid performance with Wholesale growing by 7.0% at constant exchange rates<sup>2</sup> in the third quarter, confirming the strong growth experienced by the division over the past year. At the same time, Retail posted excellent results with year-over-year comps<sup>4</sup> growth of 4.5%, supported by the performance of Sunglass Hut, whose comps<sup>4</sup> growth accelerated to 7.8% compared to the first half of 2015, and LensCrafters, posting comps<sup>4</sup> up by 3.8% compared to the first half of 2015. The two brands benefitted from their superior levels of service, the capillarity of their store networks and their ability to anticipate the ever-changing needs and tastes of consumers.

Europe

Europe has also proven, along with North America, to be another key engine of the Group's net sales growth. Sales in Europe further strengthened during the quarter, growing 8.9% overall and double-digits in certain countries such as Italy, Spain, Germany and the UK. These results were enhanced by a strong summer season, the effectiveness of the capillary distribution network and the increased penetration of the STARS program, which improves the clients' product assortment and levels of service. The Retail division, up 18.6%, benefitted from the excellent results achieved by Sunglass Hut in Continental Europe.

Asia-Pacific

Asia-Pacific sales were up 3.2% in the third quarter with double-digit growth in India and Korea and a solid contribution from Japan. The Chinese market showed a temporary slowdown due to the combined effect of the previously announced price harmonization program and the negative economic environment in Hong Kong. However, China is among the countries with the highest growth potential and currently represents only 3% of Luxottica's aggregate net sales. October portfolio orders and the planned expansion of Sunglass Hut, with a network of twenty locations in Mainland China, leads Luxottica to be optimistic on its growth opportunities in the country, with a strong recovery in volumes anticipated in the coming months. During the third quarter, Sunglass Hut entered the Thai market with five stores and another ten openings are planned before year-end. Sunglass Hut also posted double-digit growth in comps<sup>4</sup> in Australia as compared to the third quarter of 2014, where the re-alignment of OPSM's optical strategy is in progress.

Latin America

During the third quarter of 2015, the Group confirmed its strong growth trend in Latin America, notwithstanding the devaluation of the Brazilian Real. Sales in the region increased by 13.6% at constant exchange rates<sup>2</sup>, mainly due to the success of the made in Italy collection in Brazil, continuous growth in Mexico and encouraging results in Chile and Colombia, where the Wholesale division opened two local subsidiaries earlier in the year. In Retail, GMO and Sunglass Hut recorded strong comps<sup>4</sup> growth as compared with the third quarter of 2014.

NON-IFRS MEASURES: ADJUSTED MEASURES

In order to provide a supplemental comparison of current period results of operations to prior periods, we have adjusted for certain transactions or events.

We have made such adjustments to the following measures: EBITDA, EBITDA margin, net sales, cost of sales, operating income, operating margin, net income and earnings per share.

For comparative purposes, management has adjusted each of the foregoing measures by excluding expenses related to the integration of Oakley and other minor projects with an impact on operating income of Euro 34.1 million and an impact on net income of Euro 28.9 million for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2015 and an impact on operating income of Euro 13.7 million and an impact on net income of Euro 9.3 million for the three-month period ended September 30, 2015. In addition adjusted measures are also affected by a change in presentation of net sales relating to the modification of an EyeMed reinsurance agreement with an existing underwriter whereby the Group assumes less reinsurance revenues and less claims expense. The impact of the contract for the nine-month period ended September 30 2015 was Euro 130.0 million (the Eyemed Adjustment ).

In addition, management has made adjustments to fiscal year 2014 measures as described in the footnotes to the tables that contain such fiscal year 2014 data.

The Company believes that these adjusted measures are useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with that of other companies in its industry because they exclude the impact of certain items that are not relevant to the Company's operating performance.

The adjusted measures referenced above are not measures of performance in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS). We include these adjusted measures in this presentation in order to provide a supplemental view of operations that excludes items that are unusual, infrequent or unrelated to our ongoing core operations.

These adjusted measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Rather, these non/IFRS measures should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company. The Company cautions that these adjusted measures are not defined terms under IFRS and their definitions should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors. Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculating these adjusted measures may differ from methods used by other companies.

The Company recognizes that there are limitations in the usefulness of adjusted measures due to the subjective nature of items excluded by management in calculating adjusted comparisons. We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using these adjusted measures as a comparative tool, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance.

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

See the tables on the following pages for a reconciliation of the adjusted measures discussed above to their most directly comparable IFRS financial measures or, in the case of adjusted EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA margin, to EBITDA and EBITDA margin, respectively, which are also non-IFRS measures. For a discussion of EBITDA and EBITDA margin and a reconciliation of EBITDA and EBITDA margin to their most directly comparable IFRS financial measures, see the tables on the pages immediately following the reconciliation of the adjusted measures.

LUXOTTICA GROUP

NON-IFRS MEASURES: EBITDA AND EBITDA MARGIN

EBITDA represents net income before non-controlling interest, taxes, other income/expense, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA margin means EBITDA divided by net sales. The Company believes that EBITDA is useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with that of other companies in its industry. Our calculation of EBITDA allows us to compare our operating results with those of other companies without giving effect to financing, income taxes and the accounting effects of capital spending, which items may vary for different companies for reasons unrelated to the overall operating performance of a company's business.

EBITDA and EBITDA margin are not measures of performance under International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS).

We include them in this presentation in order to:

- improve transparency for investors;
- assist investors in their assessment of the Company's operating performance and its ability to refinance its debt as it matures and incur additional indebtedness to invest in new business opportunities;
- assist investors in their assessment of the Company's cost of debt;
- ensure that these measures are fully understood in light of how the Company evaluates its operating results and leverage;
- properly define the metrics used and confirm their calculation; and
- share these measures with all investors at the same time.

EBITDA and EBITDA margin are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Rather, these non-IFRS measures should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company. The Company cautions that these measures are not defined terms under IFRS and their definitions should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors. Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculating EBITDA may differ from methods used by other companies.

The Company recognizes that the usefulness of EBITDA has certain limitations, including:

- EBITDA does not include interest expense. Because we have borrowed money in order to finance our operations, interest expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits and cash flows. Therefore, any measure that excludes interest expense may have material limitations;

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

- EBITDA does not include depreciation and amortization expense. Because we use capital assets, depreciation and amortization expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits. Therefore, any measure that excludes depreciation and expense may have material limitations;
- EBITDA does not include provision for income taxes. Because the payment of income taxes is a necessary element of our costs, any measure that excludes tax expense may have material limitations;
- EBITDA does not reflect cash expenditures or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, working capital needs; and
- EBITDA does not allow us to analyze the effect of certain recurring and non-recurring items that materially affect our net income or loss.

We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using EBITDA as a comparative tool, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance and leverage.

See the table on the following page for a reconciliation of EBITDA to net income, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure, as well as the calculation of EBITDA margin.

NON-IFRS MEASURES: NET DEBT TO EBITDA RATIO

Net debt to EBITDA ratio: Net debt means the sum of bank overdrafts, current portion of long-term debt and long-term debt, less cash. EBITDA represents net income before non-controlling interests, taxes, other income/expense, depreciation and amortization. The Company believes that EBITDA is useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with that of other companies in its industry. Our calculation of EBITDA allows us to compare our operating results with those of other companies without giving effect to financing, income taxes and the accounting effects of capital spending, which items may vary for different companies for reasons unrelated to the overall operating performance of a company's business. The ratio of net debt to EBITDA is a measure used by management to assess the Company's level of leverage, which affects our ability to refinance our debt as it matures and incur additional indebtedness to invest in new business opportunities. The ratio also allows management to assess the cost of existing debt since it affects the interest rates charged by the Company's lenders.

EBITDA and ratio of net debt to EBITDA are not measures of performance under International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS). We include them in this presentation in order to:

- improve transparency for investors;
- assist investors in their assessment of the Company's operating performance and its ability to refinance its debt as it matures and incur additional indebtedness to invest in new business opportunities;
- assist investors in their assessment of the Company's cost of debt;
- ensure that these measures are fully understood in light of how the Company evaluates its operating results and leverage;
- properly define the metrics used and confirm their calculation; and
- share these measures with all investors at the same time.

EBITDA and ratio of net debt to EBITDA are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Rather, these non-IFRS measures should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company. The Company cautions that these measures are not defined terms under IFRS and their definitions should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors. Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculating EBITDA and the ratio of net debt to EBITDA may differ from methods used by other companies. The Company recognizes that the usefulness of EBITDA and the ratio of net debt to EBITDA as evaluative tools may have certain limitations, including:

- EBITDA does not include interest expense. Because we have borrowed money in order to finance our operations, interest expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits and cash flows. Therefore, any measure that excludes interest expense may have material limitations;
- EBITDA does not include depreciation and amortization expense. Because we use capital assets, depreciation and amortization expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate profits. Therefore, any measure that excludes depreciation and expense may have material limitations;

Edgar Filing: LUXOTTICA GROUP SPA - Form 6-K

- EBITDA does not include provision for income taxes. Because the payment of income taxes is a necessary element of our costs, any measure that excludes tax expense may have material limitations;
- EBITDA does not reflect cash expenditures or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, working capital needs;
- EBITDA does not allow us to analyze the effect of certain recurring and non-recurring items that materially affect our net income or loss; and
- The ratio of net debt to EBITDA is net of cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash and short-term investments, thereby reducing our debt position.

Because we may not be able to use our cash to reduce our debt on a dollar-for-dollar basis, this measure may have material limitations. We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using EBITDA and the ratio of net debt to EBITDA as two of several comparative tools, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance and leverage.

See the table on the following page for a reconciliation of net debt to long-term debt, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure, as well as the calculation of the ratio of net debt to EBITDA. For a reconciliation of EBITDA to net income, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure, see the table on the preceding pages.

NON-IFRS MEASURES: FREE CASH FLOW

Free cash flow represents net income before non-controlling interests, taxes, other income/expense, depreciation and amortization (i.e. EBITDA -- see table on the earlier page) plus or minus the decrease/(increase) in working capital over the prior period, less capital expenditures, plus or minus interest income/(expense) and extraordinary items, minus taxes paid. The Company believes that free cash flow is useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's operating performance compared with other companies in its industry. In particular, our calculation of free cash flow provides a clearer picture of the Company's ability to generate net cash from operations, which is used for mandatory debt service requirements, for funding discretionary investments, for paying dividends or pursuing other strategic opportunities.

Free cash flow is not a measure of performance under International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS).

We include it in this presentation in order to:

- Improve transparency for investors;
- Assist investors in their assessment of the Company's operating performance and its ability to generate cash from operations in excess of its cash expenses;
- Ensure that this measure is fully understood in light of how the Company evaluates its operating results;
- Properly define the metrics used and confirm their calculation; and
- Share this measure with all investors at the same time.

Free cash flow is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Rather, this non-IFRS measure should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company. The Company cautions that this measure is not a defined term under IFRS and its definition should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors. Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculation of free cash flow may differ from methods used by other companies. The Company recognizes that the usefulness of free cash flow as an evaluative tool may have certain limitations, including:

- The manner in which the Company calculates free cash flow may differ from that of other companies, which limits its usefulness as a comparative measure;

- Free cash flow does not represent the total increase or decrease in the net debt balance for the period since it excludes, among other things, cash used for funding discretionary investments and to pursue strategic opportunities during the period and any impact of the exchange rate changes; and
- Free cash flow can be subject to adjustment at the Company's discretion if the Company takes steps or adopts policies that increase or diminish its current liabilities and/or changes to working capital.

Because we may not be able to use our cash to reduce our debt on a dollar-for-dollar basis, this measure may have material limitations. We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using EBITDA and the ratio of net debt to EBITDA as two of several comparative tools, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance and leverage.

See the table on the following page for a reconciliation of net debt to long-term debt, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure, as well as the calculation of the ratio of net debt to EBITDA. For a reconciliation of EBITDA to net income, which is the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure, see the table on the preceding pages.
