If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

Due to the Company changing its fiscal year to October 31 in conjunction with the below-described merger, the current Annual Report on Form 10-K is a transition report covering May 1, 2006 through October 31, 2006. The Company anticipates this 10-K will contain significant changes in results of operations from both the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2006 (its previous fiscal year end), and the six months between May 1, 2005 through October 31, 2005 (the year to year comparison for this transitional report), due to the fact that the Company has gone through the following stages: through March 3, 2006 the Company was a company that provided home financing through the brokering of residential home loans, from March 3, 2006 through September 6, 2006 the Company was a shell company, and from September 7, 2006 to current the
