Dear Sirs:

As you may be aware, Brandes Investment Partners, L.P. (“Brandes”), on behalf of its investment advisory clients, is a significant investor in shares of AsiaInfo-Linkage (“AsiaInfo”). Our clients, in aggregate, currently hold in excess of 5% of the AsiaInfo common shares. As long-term oriented investors, we have a keen interest to realize the value of companies that we invest in, and we believe that board members of AsiaInfo have a similar duty to public shareholders. Hence, we want to convey our opposition to both the voting structure and the price of the proposed privatization transaction.

First, we are deeply disappointed that the Special Committee agreed to CITIC’s request to remove the condition that the transaction would need approval of a majority of the shares held by disinterested shareholders (the “majority of the minority rule”). Because the purchasing consortium has strong presence inside the company via board membership, affiliated relationships and company executive ranks, and because they have a financial interest in establishing a low price, their interests are not aligned with other shareholders. Therefore, we believe that a fair voting process must exclude shares that are held by the purchasing consortium, and that the fiduciary responsibilities of the Special Committee should dictate adherence to the majority of the minority rule. The proposed voting structure is poor governance and we do not believe the rights of minority shareholders can or should be bargained away in the negotiation process. We hereby request that the Special Committee reinstate the majority of the minority rule so that the interests, and views, of minority shareholders can be fairly and fully reflected in a vote on the proposed transaction.

Secondly, we think the proposed transaction price is too low and we disagree with many of the assumptions set forth in the financial analysis provided by Goldman Sachs (many of which changed significantly from March 2012 to May 2013). It is our view that the company is worth considerably more than the amount being offered, and that the combination of a high discount rate, a low growth assumption and use of precedent transactions that are based on cyclically depressed cash flows is undervaluing the long-term prospects of AsiaInfo. As a result, unless the transaction price is revised to something materially above $12, we intend to vote against the proposed transaction and would support the company continuing to operate as a public company. We would also support actions by AsiaInfo to optimize its operations for purposes of creating long-term value for all shareholders, including re-organization and/or thoughtful equity incentive programs that will align management and shareholder interests.

We would welcome the opportunity to discuss these matters with the Special Committee or other representatives of AsiaInfo.

Regards,
