Comments of Management

Commenting on the results, Arnon Toussia-Cohen, President and CEO of RADCOM, said, "We are pleased to report another quarter of revenue growth, mainly through increased sales of our Cellular Performer. The product's GEAR-chip-based hardware platform is proving to be unique in the marketplace, giving it versatility and a significant technological barrier-of-entry. We are working to take full advantage of the product's value for both cellular equipment vendors and service providers with the goal of increasing its market penetration and transforming initial sales into long-term global sales agreements.

RADCOM REPORTS/2

"In parallel, sales of the VoIP Performer and Omni-Q remained steady during the quarter. Taken as a whole, converged network solutions now account for more than 60% of our revenues, confirming our strategic course. Though the market remains cautious and volatile, investment in converged and wireless services has begun to rise, a development that is playing to our strengths."

A teleconference to discuss the quarter will be held today, October 20, 2003, at 9:00 a.m. Eastern Time. To participate, please call 1-800-450-0785 from the U.S., or +1-612-332-0819 from international locations, approximately five minutes before the call is scheduled to begin.
