SkyePharma Announces Appointment of New Non-Executive Director

LONDON & NEW YORK, 30 September 2004 -- SkyePharma PLC (LSE: SKP; Nasdaq: SKYE) is pleased to announce that the Company has appointed Alan Bray as a non-executive Director.

Ian Gowrie-Smith, SkyePharma's non-executive Chairman, said: "We welcome Alan's decision to accept our invitation to join the Board. His financial skills and long experience of advising companies will be a valuable asset to us, especially as chairman of the Company's Audit Committee."

Alan Bray, a chartered accountant, has recently retired from Deloitte & Touche LLP, where he was latterly a senior partner in the Financial Services Practice providing a wide range of professional services to retail and investment banks, insurance companies and asset management firms. He was closely involved with leading companies such as Merrill Lynch and Abbey National. He was also responsible for the Practice's risk management policies and procedures, a topic on which he has been a regular speaker at seminars for financial institutions. After becoming a partner in 1978, he was seconded to the Department of Trade & Industry between 1986 and 1988, where he advised Ministers on financial matters relating to nationalised industries and private sector companies seeking government assistance. He has also served as a member of one of the DTI's Supervisory Boards and one of its Audit Committees. Alan has extensive experience in advising medium to large businesses and also in litigation support, including acting as expert witness in several prominent cases of professional negligence. He is married with two sons.
