PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

As previously announced on August 2, 2005, Phoenix Technologies Ltd. (the Company) discovered that revenue relating to one software license transaction that was reported in the Company's Tokyo, Japan office in the third quarter of fiscal 2005 could not be recognized due to irregularities associated with the execution of the contract. Upon discovery of the irregularities associated with this transaction, the Company, at the direction of the audit committee of the board of directors, immediately launched an investigation conducted by the Company's general counsel and its outside counsel. Based on the investigation, the Company believes that the transaction in question was an isolated event; however, the Company is continuing the investigation with the assistance of its outside counsel to confirm that others were not involved in the matter. In light of the ongoing investigation, the Company will not be in position to file its Form 10-Q timely for the quarter ended June 30, 2005 without unreasonable effort or expense.
