Preliminary Proxy Statement is Filed

Today First Data filed a preliminary proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) containing information related to the proposed Merger Agreement with KKR. You can view the Proxy Statement by going to firstdata.com, click on the Invest section and then SEC Filings.

What This Means

A proxy statement is a document that is distributed to shareholders in connection with a request for authorization to vote their shares in the manner they direct. This proxy statement provides First Data shareholders with information to consider so they can make a decision about whether to vote for the proposed Merger Agreement with KKR.

What's Next

The definitive proxy statement and a proxy will be distributed to First Data shareholders. (A proxy is a written authorization by a shareholder allowing a representative to vote on business matters as directed by the shareholder.) Also included will be a notice to shareholders about a special shareholders meeting.

We will alert you when the definitive proxy is filed with the SEC by posting another news brief.

You can ask Ric Duques a question or send a comment about the First Data/KKR partnership through the ASK RIC portal on FirstWeb.

Please remember that First Data is still a public company and it's business as usual up until the time that the proposed Merger Agreement with KKR actually closes. It is imperative that all First Data employees continue to function and act in accordance with the governance of a public company as we have in the past.
