Readers should consider all of these risk factors, other factors that are described in "Forward-Looking Statements," as well as other information contained in Tidewater's and GulfMark's form 10-K's and 10-Q's. Although Tidewater and GulfMark believe the assumptions upon which these forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, any of these assumptions could prove to be inaccurate and the forward-looking statements based on these assumptions could be incorrect. These statements are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such statements, including but not limited to: the ability of the parties to consummate the Transaction in a timely manner or at all; satisfaction of the conditions precedent to consummation of the Transaction, including the ability to secure regulatory approvals in a timely manner or at all, and approval by either company's stockholders; the possibility of litigation (including related to the transaction itself); Tidewater's and GulfMark's ability to successfully integrate their operations, technology and employees and realize synergies from the Transaction; unknown, underestimated or undisclosed commitments or liabilities; the conditions in the oil and natural gas industry, including a decline in, or the substantial volatility of, oil or natural gas prices, and changes in the combined companies' customer requirements; the level of demand for the combined companies' products and services.
