PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT SUMMARY

This summary highlights certain information about us, this offering and selected information contained elsewhere in or incorporated by reference into this prospectus supplement. This summary is not complete and does not contain all of the information that you should consider before deciding whether to invest in our common stock. For a more complete understanding of our company and this offering, you should read and consider carefully the more detailed information included or incorporated by reference in this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, including the risks described under the heading Risk Factors, as well as the information included in any free writing prospectus that we have authorized for use in connection with this offering.

Overview

We are a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company focused on discovering and developing novel cellular immunotherapies for various forms of cancer, including both hematological cancers and solid tumors, as well as orphan inherited blood disorders. We are using our proprietary Chemical Induction of Dimerization, or CID, technology platform to engineer our product candidates with switch technologies that are designed to control components of the immune system in real time. By incorporating our CID platform, our product candidates may offer better safety and efficacy outcomes than are seen with current cellular immunotherapies.

We are developing next-generation product candidates in some of the most important areas of cellular immunotherapy, including chimeric antigen receptor T cell therapy, or CAR T, T cell receptors, or TCRs and hematopoietic stem cell transplantation, or HSCT. CAR T and TCR cell therapies are an innovative approach in which a patient's T cells are genetically modified to carry chimeric antigen receptors, or CARs, or TCRs which redirect the T cells against cancer cells. While high objective response rates have been reported in some hematological malignancies, serious and sometimes fatal toxicities have arisen in patients treated with CAR T cell therapies. These toxicities include instances in which the CAR T cells have caused high levels of cytokines due to over-activation, referred to as cytokine release syndrome, or CRS, neurologic toxicities and cases in which CAR T cells have attacked healthy organs. In each case, these toxicities have sometimes resulted in death. In solid tumors, where the behavior of CAR T cells is particularly unpredictable and results have been inconsistent, researchers are developing enhanced CAR T cell approaches that raise even greater safety concerns. HSCT, also known as bone marrow transplantation, has for decades been curative for many patients with hematological cancers or orphan inherited blood disorders. However, adoption of HSCT to date has been limited by the risks of transplant-related morbidity and mortality from graft-versus-host-disease, or GvHD, and the potential for serious infections or cancer recurrence due to the lack of an effective immune system following a transplant.

Our proprietary CID platform is designed to address these challenges. Events inside a cell are controlled by cascades of specialized signaling proteins. CID consists of molecular switches, modified forms of these signaling proteins, which are triggered inside the patient by infusion of a small molecule, rimiducid, instead of by natural upstream signals. We include these molecular switches in the appropriate immune cells and deliver the cells to the patient in the manner of conventional cellular immunotherapy. We have developed two such switches: a safety switch, designed to initiate programmed cell death, or apoptosis, of the immunotherapy cells, and an activation switch, designed to stimulate activation and in some cases proliferation and/or persistence of the immunotherapy cells. Each of our product candidates incorporates one of these switches, for enhanced, real time control of safety and efficacy:

CaspaCIDE (also known as inducible Caspase-9, or iC9) is our safety switch, incorporated into our HSCT and TCR product candidates, and into academic CAR T collaborations, where it is inactive unless the patient experiences a serious side effect. In that event, rimiducid is administered to induce Caspase-9 and eliminate a majority of the cells, with the goal of attenuating the therapy and resolving the serious side effect.

Table of Contents

Our activation switch (also known as inducible MyD88/CD40, or iMC) incorporated into our GoCAR-T product candidates is designed to enable control of the activation and proliferation of the T cells through the scheduled administration of a course of rimiducid infusions that may continue until the desired patient outcome is achieved. In the event of emergence of side effects, the level of activation of the GoCAR-T cells is designed to be attenuated by extending the interval between rimiducid doses, reducing the dosage per infusion, or suspending further rimiducid administration.

In addition, we have an active research effort to develop other advanced molecular switch approaches, including a dual-switch GoCAR-T that is designed to provide a user-controlled system for managing proliferation and/or persistence and safety of tumor antigen-specific CAR T cells.

By incorporating our novel switch technologies, we are developing product candidates with the potential to elicit positive clinical outcomes and ultimately change the treatment paradigm in various areas of cellular immunotherapy. Our clinical product candidates are described below.

BPX-501 is a CaspaCIDE product candidate designed as an adjunct polyclonal T cell therapy administered after allogeneic HSCT. BPX-501 is designed to improve transplant outcomes by enhancing the recovery of the immune system following an HSCT procedure, thereby preventing serious infections and leukemic relapse, two leading causes of morbidity and mortality in these patients. BPX-501 addresses the risk of infusing donor T cells by enabling the elimination of donor T cells through the activation of the CaspaCIDE safety switch if there is an emergence of uncontrolled GvHD.

The European Commission has granted orphan drug designations to BPX-501 for treatment in HSCT, and for activator agent rimiducid for the treatment of GvHD. Additionally, BPX-501 and rimiducid have received orphan drug status from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, or the FDA, as a combination replacement T-cell therapy for the treatment of immunodeficiency and GvHD after allogeneic HSCT.

Based on interactions with the European Medicines Agency, or the EMA, we believe that data from the European arm of our BP-004 trial could form the basis of marketing authorization applications, or MAAs, for BPX-501 and rimiducid for pediatric patients with certain orphan inherited blood disorders or treatment-refractory hematological cancers. In addition, the EMA's Committee for Medicinal Products for Human Use, or the CHMP, has agreed that review and approval under exceptional circumstances may be suitable, recognizing that a randomized trial may not be feasible in the pediatric haploidentical hematopoietic stem cell transplant setting. In place of a randomized trial, we are collecting data from the C-004 study, a concurrent observational study in the pediatric matched unrelated donor hematopoietic stem cell transplant setting, which includes both retrospective patients and prospective patients. We expect to report updated interim results from the European BP-004 clinical trial in the fourth quarter of 2018 and to file MAAs for European marketing approvals in 2019.

We are currently planning an additional clinical trial for BPX-501. We are designing a randomized, controlled trial in adults with acute myeloid leukemia or myelodysplastic syndromes to compare outcomes in patients receiving a haplo-transplant with and without BPX-501. We expect to initiate this clinical trial by the end of 2018.

BPX-601 is a GoCAR-T product candidate containing our proprietary inducible MyD88/CD40, or iMC, activation switch, designed to treat solid tumors expressing prostate stem cell antigen, or PSCA. Preclinical data shows enhanced T cell proliferation, persistence and in vivo anti-tumor activity compared to traditional CAR T therapies. A Phase 1 clinical trial in patients with non-resectable pancreatic cancer is ongoing and we expect to report initial data from this clinical trial in the fourth quarter of 2018. In addition to pancreatic cancer, PSCA is expressed in several other solid tumor indications. We modified the ongoing Phase 1 protocol to include prostate and gastric cancer patients in the third quarter of 2018, and expect to add additional clinical trial sites in the second half of 2018.

BPX-701 is a CaspaCIDE-enabled natural high affinity TCR product candidate designed to target malignant cells expressing the preferentially-expressed antigen in melanoma, or PRAME. The ongoing Phase 1 clinical trial for BPX-701 is in adult patients with refractory or relapsed acute myeloid leukemia, or AML, and myelodysplastic syndromes, or MDS. Recruitment in this clinical trial has been slower than projected and we are working to address this by adding clinical trial sites. We expect to report initial data from this clinical trial in 2019.

CD19 CAR T Program We are working with academic collaborators to establish clinical proof of concept for CaspaCIDE® in the CD19-expressing B cell malignancies setting. We believe that this strategy allows a cost-effective approach for clinical evaluation of CaspaCIDE in attenuating the acute toxicities of CD19-targeted therapies. In November 2016 we announced an expanded collaboration with Ospedale Pediatrico Bambino Gesù, or OPBG, a leading European pediatric research center and hospital, where clinical development of a CaspaCIDE-enabled CD19 CAR T cell therapy is ongoing. As of June 15, 2018, six patients had been dosed in the CD19 clinical trial at OPBG without yet an incident of toxicities for which the CaspaCIDE® safety switch has been used.

We have developed efficient and scalable processes to manufacture genetically modified T cells of high quality, which are currently being used to produce BPX-501, BPX-601 and BPX-701 for our clinical trials. We are leveraging this know how in combination with our proprietary cellular control technologies, resources, capabilities and expertise for the manufacture of CAR T and TCR product candidates to create and develop first and best-in-class product candidates.

We have established in-house cell manufacturing and vector production capabilities at our headquarters facility in Houston, Texas. In the first quarter of 2017, the initial phase of the build-out was completed and we began manufacturing clinical trial material from this site. We completed the facility build-out in early 2018, and we expect that our facilities will meet our U.S. clinical trial and early commercialization requirements. For the European market, we plan to continue working with established contract manufacturers, with our U.S. manufacturing facility as a potential backup supply source.

RISK FACTORS

Investing in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the risks described below, those contained in the section entitled Risk Factors in our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ended June 30, 2018, which are incorporated herein by reference in their entirety, as well as any amendment or update to our risk factors reflected in subsequent filings with the SEC, all other information in this prospectus supplement, the accompanying prospectus, and the other documents incorporated by reference, and in any free writing prospectus that we have authorized for use in connection with this offering. The risks described in these documents are not the only ones we face, but those that we consider to be material. The occurrence of any of these risks could harm our business, financial condition, results of operations and growth prospects. In such an event, the market price of our common stock could decline and you may lose all or part of your investment. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial also may impair our business operations.

Risks Relating to this Offering

If you purchase shares of common stock in this offering, you will experience immediate and substantial dilution in your investment. You will experience further dilution if we issue additional equity or equity-linked securities in the future.

Since the price per share of our common stock being offered may be substantially higher than the net tangible book value per share of our common stock, you may suffer immediate and substantial dilution with respect to the net tangible book value of the common stock you purchase in this offering. The shares sold in this offering, if any, will be sold from time to time at various prices. After giving effect to the sale of our common stock in the maximum aggregate offering amount of $60.0 million at an assumed offering price of $6.35 per share, and our net tangible book value as of June 30, 2018, if you purchase shares of common stock in this offering, you will suffer immediate and substantial dilution of $3.11 per share with respect to the net tangible book value of the common stock. See the section entitled Dilution for a more detailed discussion of the dilution you will incur if you purchase common stock in this offering.

If we issue additional shares of common stock, or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for shares of common stock, our stockholders, including investors who purchase shares of common stock in this offering, will experience additional dilution, and any such issuances may result in downward pressure on the price of our common stock. We also cannot assure you that we will be able to sell shares or other securities in any other offering at a price per share that is equal to or greater than the price per share paid by investors in this offering, and investors purchasing shares or other securities in the future could have rights superior to existing stockholders.

We will have broad discretion in the use of the net proceeds from this offering and may not use them effectively.

We will have broad discretion in the use of the net proceeds from this offering and could spend the proceeds in ways that do not improve our results of operations or enhance the value of our common stock. Our failure to apply these funds effectively could have a material adverse effect on our business, impair or delay our ability to develop our product candidates and cause the price of our common stock to decline. See the section entitled Use of Proceeds.

The actual number of shares we will issue under the sales agreement, at any one time or in total, is uncertain.

Subject to certain limitations in the sales agreement and compliance with applicable law, we have the discretion to deliver a placement notice to Jefferies at any time throughout the term of the sales agreement. The number of shares that are sold by Jefferies after delivering a placement notice will fluctuate based on the market price of our common stock during the sales period and limits we set with Jefferies. Because the price per share of each share sold will fluctuate based on the market price of our common stock during the sales period, it is not possible at this time to predict the number of shares that will ultimately be issued.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The amount of the net proceeds to us from this offering will depend upon the number of shares of our common stock sold and the price at which they are sold. There can be no assurance that we will be able to sell any shares under or fully utilize the sales agreement with Jefferies.

We currently intend to use the net proceeds, if any, from this offering to fund clinical development and other research and development activities and for working capital and general corporate purposes. Amounts and timing of our actual expenditures will depend on numerous factors, including the timing and progress of our clinical trial and research and development efforts. We therefore cannot estimate with certainty the amount of net proceeds to be used for the purposes described above. We may find it necessary or advisable to use the net proceeds for other purposes, and we will have broad discretion in the application of the net proceeds.

Pending their use as described above, we plan to invest the net proceeds from this offering in short-and intermediate-term, interest-bearing obligations, investment-grade instruments, certificates of deposit or direct or guaranteed obligations of the U.S. government.

Table of ContentsDILUTION

Our net tangible book value as of June 30, 2018 was approximately $112.5 million, or $2.60 per share. Net tangible book value per share is determined by dividing our total tangible assets, less total liabilities, by the number of shares of our common stock outstanding as of June 30, 2018. Dilution with respect to net tangible book value per share represents the difference between the amount per share paid by purchasers of shares of common stock in this offering and the net tangible book value per share of our common stock immediately after this offering.

After giving effect to the sale of $60.0 million of our common stock in this offering at the assumed public offering price of $6.35 per share, which is the last reported sale price of our common stock on The Nasdaq Global Market on October 3, 2018, and after deducting offering commissions and estimated expenses payable by us, our as adjusted net tangible book value as of June 30, 2018 would have been approximately $170.9 million, or $3.24 per share. This represents an immediate increase in net tangible book value of $0.64 per share to existing stockholders and immediate dilution in net tangible book value of $3.11 per share to new investors purchasing our common stock in this offering. The following table illustrates this dilution on a per share basis:

Assumed public offering price per share	$ 6.35
Net tangible book value per share as of June 30, 2018	$ 2.60
Increase in net tangible book value per share attributable to investors purchasing our common stock in this offering	$ 0.64
As adjusted net tangible book value per share as of June 30, 2018 after this offering	$ 3.24
Dilution per share to investors purchasing our common stock in this offering	$ 3.11

The table above assumes for illustrative purposes that an aggregate 9,448,818 shares of our common stock are sold at a price of $6.35 per share, which is the last reported sale price of our common stock on The Nasdaq Global Market on October 3, 2018, for aggregate gross proceeds of $60.0 million. The shares sold in this offering, if any, will be sold from time to time at various prices. An increase of $1.00 per share in the price at which the shares are sold from the assumed public offering price of $6.35 per share shown in the table above, assuming all of our common stock in the aggregate amount of $60.0 million is sold at that price, would increase our as adjusted net tangible book value per share after the offering to approximately $3.32 per share and would increase the dilution in net tangible book value per share to new investors in this offering to approximately $4.03 per share, after deducting commissions and estimated aggregate offering expenses payable by us. A decrease of $1.00 per share in the price at which the shares are sold from the assumed public offering price of $6.35 per share shown in the table above, assuming all of our common stock in the aggregate amount of $60.0 million is sold at that price, would decrease our as adjusted net tangible book value per share after the offering to $3.13 per share and would decrease the dilution in net tangible book value per share to new investors in this offering to $2.22 per share, after deducting commissions and estimated aggregate offering expenses payable by us.

The number of shares of common stock to be outstanding after this offering will adjust based on the actual number of shares that we sell in this offering. In addition, the number of shares of our common stock outstanding as of June 30, 2018 excludes the following:

5,265,521 shares of common stock issuable upon the exercise of outstanding stock options as of June 30, 2018, at a weighted-average exercise price of $12.67 per share of common stock;

217,186 shares of common stock issuable upon the vesting of outstanding restricted stock units as of June 30, 2018;

14,707 shares of common stock subject to repurchase by us as of June 30, 2018;

2,498,102 shares of common stock reserved for future issuance under our 2014 Equity Incentive Plan, as of June 30, 2018; and 446,248 shares of common stock reserved for future issuance under our 2014 Employee Stock Purchase Plan, as of June 30, 2018.

To the extent that outstanding options are exercised, investors purchasing our common stock in this offering will experience further dilution. In addition, we may choose to raise additional capital due to market conditions or strategic considerations even if we believe we have sufficient funds for our current or future operating plans. To the extent that additional capital is raised through the sale of equity or convertible debt securities, the issuance of these securities could result in further dilution to our stockholders.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

We have entered into an Open Market Sale AgreementSM, or sales agreement, with Jefferies, under which we may issue and sell from time to time up to $60.0 million of our shares of common stock through the sales agent. The sales agreement has been filed as an exhibit to a Current Report on Form 8-K filed under the Exchange Act and is incorporated by reference in this prospectus supplement. Sales of our shares, if any, under this prospectus supplement may be made in sales deemed to be at the market offerings as defined in Rule 415 under the Securities Act, including by means of ordinary brokers transactions on The Nasdaq Global Market at market prices, in privately negotiated transactions, block transactions, or as otherwise agreed upon by the sales agent and us. The sales agent will use commercially reasonable efforts to sell on our behalf all of the shares requested to be sold by us, consistent with its normal trading and sales practices, on mutually agreed terms between the sales agent and us. There is no arrangement for funds to be received in any escrow, trust or similar arrangement.

The sales agent will offer the shares subject to the terms and conditions of the sales agreement on any trading day or as otherwise agreed upon by us and the sales agent. We will designate the maximum amount and minimum price of shares to be sold through the sales agent, which may be on a daily basis or otherwise determine such amounts together with the sales agent. Subject to the terms and conditions of the sales agreement, the sales agent will use its commercially reasonable efforts to sell on our behalf the shares. We may instruct the sales agent not to sell shares if the sales cannot be effected at or above the price designated by us in any such instruction. We or the sales agent may suspend the offering of shares being made through the sales agent under the sales agreement upon proper notice to the other party.

Under the terms of the sales agreement, the sales agent will receive from us a commission of up to 3.0% of the gross proceeds of any shares sold through it pursuant to the sales agreement. The remaining sales proceeds, after deducting any expenses payable by us and any transaction fees imposed by any governmental, regulatory, or self-regulatory organization in connection with the sales, will equal our net proceeds for the sale of such shares.

The sales agent will provide written confirmation to us before the open of trading on The Nasdaq Global Market on the day following each day in which shares are sold by the sales agent for us under the sales agreement. Each confirmation will include the number of shares sold on that day, the gross sales price per share, and the net proceeds to us.

Settlement for sales of shares will occur, unless the parties agree otherwise, on the second business day following the date on which any sales were made in return for payment of the net proceeds to us.

If we and Jefferies so agree, Jefferies may act as principal in connection with the placement of the securities offered hereby. In connection with the sale of the shares on our behalf, the sales agent will be deemed to be an underwriter within the meaning of the Securities Act and the compensation paid to the sales agent will be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts. We have agreed in the sales agreement to provide indemnification and contribution to the sales agent against certain civil liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

We estimate that the total expenses of the offering payable by us, excluding discounts and commissions payable to the sales agent under the sales agreement, will be approximately $100,000, which amount includes up to $50,000 that we have agreed to reimburse Jefferies for the fees and expenses of their counsel. In accordance with FINRA Rule 5110 these reimbursed fees and expenses are deemed sales compensation to Jefferies in connection with this offering.

The offering of shares pursuant to the sales agreement will terminate upon the earlier of (1) the sale of all of the shares subject to the sales agreement and (2) the termination of the sales agreement by the sales agent or us.

The sales agent has from time to time provided, and in the future may provide, certain commercial banking, investment banking and financial advisory services to us and our affiliates, for which it has received, and in the future will receive, customary fees. In the course of its business, Jefferies may actively trade our securities for its own account or for the accounts of customers, and, accordingly, Jefferies may at any time hold long or short positions in such securities.
