PROXY STATEMENT

The Annual Meeting and Voting

Our Board of Directors is soliciting proxies to be used at the annual meeting of stockholders to be held on May 13, 2003, or at any adjournment of the meeting. This proxy statement contains information about the items being voted on at the annual meeting.

Who is entitled to vote?

Record stockholders of Imagistics common stock at the close of business on March 14, 2003 (the record date) can vote at the meeting. As of the record date, 17,451,117 shares of Imagistics common stock were issued and outstanding. Each stockholder has one vote for each share of common stock owned as of the record date.

How do I vote?

You may choose one of three methods. You may vote on-line via the internet. If you have access to the internet, we encourage you to vote at the following Web address: www.eproxyvote.com/IGI. You may instead vote by telephone (1-877-779-8683) or by completing and mailing the enclosed proxy card.

May I change my vote?

You may revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted at the meeting in several ways. You may send in a revised proxy dated later than the first; or you may vote in person at the meeting; or you may notify our Secretary in writing prior to the meeting that you have revoked your proxy.

What constitutes a quorum?

The holders of a majority in voting power of the outstanding shares entitled to vote at the meeting, present in person or represented by proxy, constitute a quorum. If you vote by computer, telephone or proxy card, you will be considered part of the quorum. Abstentions and votes withheld from director nominees are included in the count to determine a quorum. If a quorum is present, director candidates receiving the affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the total voting power of all outstanding voting stock which is present in person or represented by proxy will be elected. Proposal 2 will be approved if a quorum is present and the vote of holders of a majority of the total voting power of all outstanding voting stock which is present in person or represented by proxy is cast in favor of the proposal.

What is the effect of broker non-votes?

Under New York Stock Exchange rules, if your broker holds your shares in its street name, the broker may under certain circumstances vote your shares on the agenda items even if it does not receive instructions from you. If your broker does not vote on one or more agenda items, the broker non-votes would have the effect of a vote cast against these items.

How do employees with shares in the 401(k) plan vote by proxy?

If you are a stockholder of record and participate in the company's employee 401(k) plan, you will receive a proxy card with instructions on the different ways available to you to vote your shares. Shares held in the company's 401(k) plan are voted by the plan trustee in accordance with voting instructions received from plan participants using the enclosed proxy card. The plan authorizes our employee benefits committee to direct the trustee to vote shares for which no instructions are received.

Who will count the votes?

EquiServe Trust Company, N.A. will tabulate the votes and act as inspector of election.

Stockholder proposals for 2004 annual meeting

If a stockholder wants to submit a proposal for inclusion in the company's proxy material for the 2004 annual meeting, it must be received by our Secretary by December 16, 2003. Also, under our Bylaws, a stockholder can present other business at the 2004 annual meeting, including the nomination of candidates for director, only if written notice of the business or candidates is received by our Secretary between February 13, 2004 and March 14, 2004. - (a) Options to purchase a total of 1,086,400 shares of Imagistics common stock were granted to employees in 2002.
- (b) The exercise price for each option equals the market price of a share of Imagistics common stock on the date of grant. The options vest over a three-year period, with one-third vesting on the first anniversary of the date of grant, one-third vesting on the second anniversary of the date of grant and the remaining one-third vesting on the third anniversary of the date of grant.
- (c) The 5 and 10 percent growth rates, which are specified by the Securities and Exchange Commission, illustrate that the potential future value of the options to the named executive officers is linked directly to the future growth of the price of the company's common stock. The 5 and 10 percent growth rates are intended for illustration only and are not intended to be predictive of future growth; the actual value, if any, that may be realized by any named executive officer will depend on the market price of the common stock on the date of exercise.

Shown in Table III below is information regarding the exercise of options in 2002 by the named executive officers and information regarding their total outstanding options as of December 31, 2002.

TABLE IIIOPTIONS EXERCISED IN 2002 AND 2002 YEAR-END OPTION VALUES

(a) These values are based on $20.00 per share, the market price of a share of common stock as of December 31, 2002, net of exercise prices, which range from $4.5146 to $18.6162 per share. In all cases, the exercise price equaled the fair market value of a share at the date of grant or the options were derived from a Pitney Bowes stock option which had an exercise price equal to the market price of a share at the original date of grant.

Long-Term Incentive Grants. Table IV, which follows, shows detailed information regarding long-term incentives (other than options) granted under the Key Employees Incentive Plan in 2002. Long-term incentives are contingent upon the attainment of one or more specified performance objectives. Specified payments, if any, under the terms of these incentives are paid only to the extent that the stated performance objectives are achieved. In 2002, a committee of the board of directors, consisting solely of non-employee directors, granted Cash Incentive Units (CIUs), as long-term incentives. CIUs represent a defeasible right to receive cash, the receipt and amount of which are contingent upon the extent to which specified performance objectives are attained during the related three-year period.

- (a) CIUs granted under the Key Employees Incentive Plan (KEIP) represent a defeasible right to receive cash payments if certain earnings per share performance criteria are achieved over the three-year period ending December 31, 2004. CIUs that will mature on December 31, 2004 will pay $0/CIU if the threshold performance levels are not met. The CIUs will have a value of $0.50 to $2.00 per unit if the threshold earnings per share performance criteria are met or exceeded, depending on the actual magnitude of achievement.

Executive Contracts and Severance and Change of Control Arrangements

In January 2002, we entered into a three-year employment agreement with Marc C. Breslawsky pursuant to which Mr. Breslawsky serves as our Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Breslawsky's agreement provides for an annual base salary of $825,000, and an annual incentive award target of 70% of his base salary and a maximum opportunity of 130% of base salary based upon the achievement of certain performance targets. Mr. Breslawsky's agreement also provides for a target award of $625,000 and a maximum incentive award opportunity of $1,250,000 under the Imagistics Key Employee Incentive Plan (KEIP) if Imagistics meets certain performance targets for multi-year cycles.

In January 2002, we entered into a three-year employment agreement with Joseph D. Skrzypczak pursuant to which Mr. Skrzypczak serves as our Chief Financial Officer. Mr. Skrzypczak's agreement provides for an annual base salary of $371,000 and an incentive award target opportunity of 55% of his annual base salary and a maximum annual incentive award opportunity of 110% of his annual base salary, subject to achievement of certain annual performance targets. Mr. Skrzypczak's agreement also provides for a target award opportunity of $260,000 and a maximum award opportunity of $520,000 under the Imagistics KEIP, subject to achievement of certain performance targets for multi-year cycles.

In January 2002, we also entered into three-year employment agreements with Nathaniel M. Gifford, Mark S. Flynn, and Christine B. Allen. These agreements provide for an annual base salary of $225,000, $225,000, and $200,000 respectively, and an incentive award target opportunity of 35% of annual base salary and a maximum annual incentive award opportunity of 70% of annual base salary, subject to individual performance and achievement of certain annual performance targets. These agreements also provide for grants at the discretion of our board of directors under the Imagistics KEIP, subject to achievement of certain performance targets for multi-year cycles.

Messrs. Breslawsky, Skrzypczak and Flynn's employment agreements replaced letter agreements that were entered into with Pitney Bowes prior to the spin-off. The employment agreements contain substantially identical economic terms to the letter agreements, except that Mr. Breslawsky's employment agreement provides for target annual incentive and KEIP awards at levels that constituted minimum awards under his original letter agreement.

Each of the employment agreements described above also provide for severance benefits if the executive is terminated without cause or terminates his or her employment for good reason (as defined in the agreements). These benefits consist of: (i) continuation of base salary for a 12-month period (24 months in the case of Mr. Breslawsky), plus payment of the target annual bonus pro-rated for the portion of the current year during which he was actively employed (or a 24 month-period in the case of Mr. Breslawsky); (ii) the right to exercise each outstanding stock option for the ninety day period following the date of termination to the extent that the options would be, or become, vested and exercisable during the period; (iii) payment of certain restricted stock that would have vested within the ninety (90) day period following the date of termination; and (iv) the continuation for the 12-month period (24 months in the case of Mr. Breslawsky) of his or her savings, welfare and fringe benefit programs. In the event that termination takes place without cause or for good reason within two years following a change in control, the executive would instead be entitled to: (i) a lump sum amount equal to two times his or her annualized base salary (2.99 times in the case of Mr. Breslawsky), plus two times his or her full maximum annual bonus for the year in which the date of termination occurs (2.99 times in the case of Mr. Breslawsky); (ii) immediate vesting in, and the right to exercise, each outstanding stock option for the two-year period following the date of termination (2.99 years in the case of Mr. Breslawsky); (iii) immediate vesting and payment of certain restricted stock as of the date of termination; (iv) the continuation for a two-year period of his or her savings, welfare and fringe benefit programs (2.99 years in the case of Mr. Breslawsky); and (v) immediate vesting in any deferred compensation plans.

Report on Executive Compensation

Introduction

The Executive Compensation and Development Committee (the Committee), consisting of three independent directors, is responsible for the company's executive compensation policies and programs. The Committee approves the total compensation opportunities for the chief executive officer and other key executives, including each of the named executive officers. For each of these key executives, the Committee approves annual base salary and the annual and long-term incentive award opportunities, including the applicable measures, goals, payout matrices and actual payouts under the Incentive Plan. Awards under the Incentive Plan may also be made to other employees determined by the Committee to be key employees. The Committee also awards restricted stock and stock option grants.

The four main objectives of the executive compensation program are:

- (1) To align compensation opportunities with stockholder interests;
- (2) To provide compensation that is competitive when compared to various markets in which the company competes for executive talent;
- (3) To divide total compensation between annual and long-term components with a significant long-term performance related component; and
- (4) To place a significant portion of compensation at risk subject to performance against objectives.

The Committee will recognize: individual performance and the performance of the company in addressing immediate financial and operational challenges; the company's performance relative to the performance of other companies of comparable size, complexity and quality; and performance that supports both the short-term and long-term goals of the company. The Committee believes that the executive compensation program includes elements that, taken together, constitute an appropriate method of establishing total compensation for senior management given the circumstances applicable to the company.

Annual Compensation

Base Salary. In general, the company aligns base pay for executives with the competitive market median for base pay. The pay review considers level of experience, individual performance compared with annually established financial and non-financial unit and individual objectives, and competitive market salary rates for similar positions.

Annual Incentive Compensation (Annual Incentives). All key executives and other key employees are eligible for Annual Incentives for achieving challenging financial, leadership and operational objectives that are established at the beginning of each year. Annual Incentives are expressed as a percentage of base salary ranging from 0% to a pre-established maximum target award. Less than the target award is paid for performance falling between a threshold performance level and the target. The target award is paid for meeting the pre-established objectives and the maximum award is paid for exceptional performance. No amount is paid for performance that falls below threshold expectations. To determine Annual Incentive awards, the Committee performs a detailed review of the company's, business unit's and the individual executive's performance for the year against objectives established at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Long-Term Incentives

The company utilizes two principal types of long-term incentives: Cash Incentive Units (CIUs) and stock awards. Stock awards may be in the form of stock options or restricted stock. The Committee uses these performance-driven components to link executive compensation to longer term internal company performance and to external market performance of the company's stock price.

Cash Incentive Units. CIUs are granted only to key executives selected for grants by the Committee. Their value is based on the achievement of pre-established financial objectives over a three-year period. Amounts are paid only to the extent that the pre-established performance objectives are achieved.

Stock Options. Stock options are granted to key executives and other key employees with an exercise price equal to the market price of the stock on the date of grant. The potential future value of stock options is dependent solely upon the future increase in the price of the company's stock. Stock option award levels are based on each executive's position level and performance as well as the competitive level of option grants for comparably situated executives. Options have up to a ten-year exercise period, and typically become exercisable in installments during the first three years following their grant. In 2002, stock option and restricted stock grants to key executives, including the named executives, included grants advanced from 2003 and 2004 into 2002, and in 2003 a two-year option and restricted stock grant was made to an employee concurrently promoted to a key executive position. This provided senior management with a significant stake in the success of the company, success that it will be held accountable to drive. These executives will not be generally eligible to receive additional grants in 2003 and 2004. Beginning in 2005 they will be eligible to receive annual option grants.

Restricted Stock. Annual grants of restricted stock are not presently expected to be part of the company's executive compensation program. However, additional grants of restricted stock may occur in the future as warranted by changing competitive conditions.

The overall compensation packages are designed to set total compensation at levels comparable to total compensation paid to similarly positioned executives at peer companies selected and reviewed by the Committee. A key executive's total compensation relative to the range paid by the peer companies depends upon the key executive's experience, level and scope of responsibility within the company and individual performance. The chief executive officer and the officers reporting directly to the chief executive officer have employment agreements that establish base salary and bonus opportunities and that were entered into following arm's length negotiations with the respective executive officers.

Compensation of the Chief Executive Officer

The chief executive officer's compensation is based on the same compensation objectives and policies applicable to all key executives, and includes base salary, annual incentives, CIUs and stock option and restricted stock grants. In February 2001, Mr. Breslawsky joined Imagistics from Pitney Bowes, where he was President and Chief Operating Officer, to prepare the former Office Services division for its spin-off from Pitney Bowes. Mr. Breslawsky entered into an agreement with Pitney Bowes to become Chairman and CEO of the new entity, Imagistics. A new employment agreement, incorporating the terms of the agreement with Pitney Bowes, was entered into between Mr. Breslawsky and the company in January 2002. Mr. Breslawsky's total compensation was reviewed by an outside consulting firm and found to be reasonable given his background and experience. Mr. Breslawsky's employment agreement provides for salary of $825,000 and an annual bonus with a target amount of $577,500 and a maximum of $1,072,500 upon the achievement of certain targets along with a long-term incentive award with a target opportunity of $625,000 to a maximum of $1,250,000 if certain other targets are met. Mr. Breslawsky's annual incentive payout for 2002 performance was $825,000. The payout was based on the company's results from operations and for exceeding established financial and other performance goals. Mr. Breslawsky was also granted stock options in January 2002 to purchase 426,000 shares of company common stock and was granted 213,000 shares of restricted stock. These grants were made in accordance with the Committee's decision to include grants advanced from 2003 and 2004 into 2002. This provided management with a significant immediate stake in the success of the company. No additional stock option or restricted stock grants are currently contemplated for 2003 or 2004. Mr. Breslawsky also received a grant of 625,000 units under the Imagistics Key Employee Incentive Plan (KEIP) with a target value of $625,000 and a maximum value of $1,250,000 if Imagistics meets certain performance targets for the three year period ending December 31, 2004.

Deductibility of Compensation Under Internal Revenue Code Section 162(m)

Publicly traded corporations generally are not permitted to deduct compensation in excess of $1 million paid to certain top executives unless the compensation qualifies for an exception as performance-based compensation. The company believes it has complied, and in the future generally intends to comply with the requirements for full deductibility wherever possible. The company will, however, weigh the benefits of compliance with Section 162(m) against the potential burdens of such compliance, and reserves the right to pay compensation that may not be fully deductible if it determines that it is in the company's best interest to do so. In this regard, it is the company's expectation that compensation under applicable incentive programs described herein will normally be performance-based compensation and thus qualify for deductibility under Section 162(m).

Report of the Audit Committee

The Audit Committee functions pursuant to a charter that was approved by the Board of Directors on November 30, 2001 and amended by the Board of Directors on January 8, 2002. As set forth in the charter, the role of the Audit Committee is to oversee the company's financial reporting process. The board of directors, in its business judgment, has determined that all members of the Audit Committee are independent, as required by applicable listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange.

Management of the company is responsible for the preparation, presentation and integrity of the company's financial statements, the company's accounting and financial reporting principles and internal controls and procedures designed to assure compliance with accounting standards and applicable laws and regulations. The independent auditors are responsible for auditing the company's financial statements and expressing an opinion as to their conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In the performance of its oversight function, the Audit Committee has considered and discussed the audited financial statements with management and the independent auditors. The Audit Committee has also discussed with the independent auditors the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, Communication with Audit Committees, as currently in effect. Finally, the Audit Committee has received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent auditors required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, Independence Discussions with Audit Committees, as currently in effect, and written confirmations from management with respect to information technology consulting services relating to financial information systems design and implementation services provided by the auditors, has considered whether the provision of information technology consulting services relating to financial information systems design and implementation by the now-divested consulting division of the independent auditors, and other non-audit services by the independent auditors to the company is compatible with maintaining the auditor's independence and has discussed with the auditors the auditors independence. In December 2002, the Audit Committee adopted procedures requiring the pre-approval by the Audit Committee of all audit and permissible non-audit services to be performed by the independent auditor.

Edgar Filing: IMAGISTICS INTERNATIONAL INC - Form DEF 14A

Based upon the review of information received and discussions as described in this report, the Audit Committee recommended to the board that the audited financial statements be included in the company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002 to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Proposal 2:

Approval of Appointment of Imagistics Independent Accountants

The board of directors, in accordance with the recommendation of the Audit Committee, has selected PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as our independent accountants for 2003, and directed that management submit the selection of independent accountants for ratification by stockholders at the annual meeting. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP has audited our financial statements since we were spun-off from Pitney Bowes in 2001. A representative of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP is expected to be present at the annual meeting and will have an opportunity to make a statement if he or she desires and will be available to respond to appropriate questions.

Stockholder ratification of the selection of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as our independent accountants is not required by our Bylaws or otherwise. However, the board is submitting the selection of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP to the stockholders for ratification as a matter of good corporate practice. If the stockholders fail to ratify the selection, the board will reconsider whether or not to retain that firm. Even if the selection were ratified, the board in its discretion may direct the appointment of a different independent accounting firm at any time during the year if the board determines that such a change would be in the best interests of the company and its stockholders.

Audit Fees

The aggregate fees billed by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP for professional services rendered for the audit of the company's annual financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002 and for the reviews of the financial statements included in the company's SEC filings for that fiscal year were $326,000.

Financial Information Systems Design and Implementation Fees

The aggregate fees billed by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP for professional services rendered for information technology services relating to financial information systems design and implementation for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002 were $8,301,000. These systems are components of the Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) initiative. Effective as of October 1, 2002, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP sold its PricewaterhouseCoopers Consulting division, including the engagement relating to the ERP initiative for which the above fees were paid, and no fees for ongoing information technology services relating to financial information systems design and implementation performed on or after that date are payable to PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP.

All Other Fees

Edgar Filing: IMAGISTICS INTERNATIONAL INC - Form DEF 14A

The aggregate fees billed by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP for services rendered to the company, other than the services described above, for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002, were $431,000. These services consisted of general information technology consulting and tax-related services. Of this amount, $349,000 was for general information technology consulting services performed by the PricewaterhouseCoopers Consulting division that was sold by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP effective as of October 1, 2002.

The board of directors recommends that stockholders vote FOR the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the company's independent accountants for 2003.
