Exhibit 99.1

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BROWN-FORMAN REPORTS STRONG RESULTS FOR THE THIRD QUARTER
OF FISCAL 2006; INCREASES FULL YEAR GUIDANCE

Louisville, KY, March 1, 2006 - Brown-Forman Corporation reported adjusted earnings from continuing operations of $0.80 per share(1) for the third quarter ended January 31, 2006, up 12% from adjusted earnings of $0.72 per share in the same period last year. This earnings increase was fueled by continued strong growth in sales and profits for the company's Premium Global brands, most notably Jack Daniel's Tennessee Whiskey. Adjusted results included in this release represent management's view of the company's underlying business.

Excluding adjustments, reported third quarter earnings from continuing operations declined 4%, to $0.98 per share, from $1.02 per share in the prior year, reflecting the absence of a $0.39 per share gain recorded in the prior year related to the company's sale of its shares in Glenmorangie plc. Additionally, in the third quarter of this fiscal year the company recorded a $0.14 per share net benefit related to changes in its Australian distribution joint venture and a $0.04 per share gain on the sale of winery property. Attached on page 4 of this earnings release is a supplemental schedule that reconciles reported results to adjusted results.

Adjusted net sales and gross profit improved 10% and 13%, respectively, in the quarter. Reported net sales and gross profit grew at lower rates (5% and 10%, respectively), primarily due to unfavorable foreign exchange rates.

(1) All per share amounts are calculated on a diluted basis unless otherwise indicated.

Continued global volume and profit growth for Jack Daniel's, Fetzer Wines' profit growth in the United States, and positive trends for Finlandia Vodka (particularly in central Europe) were the primary factors contributing to the quarter's growth. The increase in gross profit was accompanied by incremental advertising investments behind the company's Premium Global portfolio and higher investments in SG&A expenses, due in part to the impact of international distribution changes.

Global depletions(2) for the company's total portfolio of brands were up in the mid-single digits in the quarter with balanced growth across all geographies, led by strength in many international markets. Depletions for the company's Premium Global brands, consisting of Jack Daniel's, Southern Comfort, and Finlandia, grew in the high single digits and represent approximately 60% of total volumes. Depletions for the company's Mid-Priced Regional brands, which include Canadian Mist, Early Times, Fetzer and Bolla, were flat, while depletions of Super-Premium Developing brands continued to grow at a double-digit rate in the quarter.

For the first nine months of the fiscal year, both reported and adjusted earnings from continuing operations were up 14% over the prior year. Growth was driven by positive volume trends and continued margin improvement for the company's Premium Global brands. These improvements, combined with higher profits from some of the company's Mid-Priced Regional brands (most notably Fetzer) and volume and profit growth from its Super-Premium Developing brand portfolio, more than offset increased advertising investments (primarily behind the company's Premium Global brands) and higher SG&A spending.

(2) Depletions are shipments from wholesale distributors to retail customers, and are commonly regarded in the industry as an approximate measure of consumer demand.

In the first nine months of fiscal 2006, Jack Daniel's worldwide depletions grew in the high single digits. While this growth rate was slightly below that of the prior year, the brand grew by more than 500,000 cases in the period. Substantial volume gains were registered in the U.S., Asia, South Africa and nearly all markets in Europe. Year-to-date depletions for Southern Comfort grew in the mid-single digits, driven by the brand's continued progress in the U.S., while Finlandia depletions grew at a double-digit rate, propelled by continued strong growth in Poland and Russia.

Paul Varga, the company's chief executive officer stated, "We are pleased with yet another quarter of strong organic growth. Our gross profit growth is solid across both brands and geographies. This performance is due to consistent long-term investments, our diligent resource allocation process, an environment conducive to our brand building, and the focused effort of our employees worldwide. We continue to see growth opportunities ahead."

Earnings Outlook from Continuing Operations

Based on strong third quarter results, the company is increasing its fiscal 2006 full year outlook from continuing operations. The company now expects earnings in the range of $2.79 to $2.85 per share compared to the previously communicated projected range of $2.73 to $2.79 per share. Consistent with the previous guidance, this outlook excludes the net benefit from the early termination of the company's distribution rights to the Glenmorangie family of brands, the net effect of changes in the company's Australian distribution joint venture, and the sale of winery property in California. Prior year adjusted earnings were $2.42 per share, which excluded the gain on the sale of Glenmorangie shares and trade inventory reductions related to distribution changes in Europe.

This revised full year guidance implies a range of earnings from continuing operations for the fourth quarter of $0.48 to $0.54 per share, versus last year's adjusted earnings of $0.54 per share, reflecting the expectation of reductions in global trade inventory levels, incremental brand and SG&A investments, and unfavorable foreign exchange effects.

USE OF NON-GAAP FINANCIAL INFORMATION

This press release includes financial measures that were not derived in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). These measures should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for any measure derived in accordance with GAAP, and may be inconsistent with similar measures presented by other companies. Reconciliation of these measures to GAAP measures, and reasons for the company's uses of these measures, are presented here.

(a) Adjusted Net Sales is net sales derived in accordance with GAAP, excluding the impact of both changes in foreign exchange rates and global trade inventories, and net revenues from Glenmorangie and its family of brands which the company formerly distributed in the U.S. and several international markets. Management believes that disclosing this measure is important because it more accurately reflects the underlying or organic net sales of the company.

- (b) Adjusted Gross Profit is gross profit derived in accordance with GAAP, excluding the impact of both changes in foreign exchange rates and global trade inventories, and gross profits from Glenmorangie and its family of brands which the company formerly distributed in the U.S. and several international markets. Management believes that disclosing this measure is important because it more accurately reflects the underlying or organic gross profit of the company.
- (c) Adjusted Operating Income is operating income derived in accordance with GAAP, excluding the impact of both changes in foreign exchange rates and global trade inventories, the favorable impact of changes in the company's Australian distribution operation, the sale of winery property located in California, and the impact of items associated with the company's interest in and representation of the Glenmorangie family of brands and other items (e.g., higher incentive compensation in the prior year; asset impairment associated with the company's minority interest in a small Mexican tequila company). Management believes that disclosing this measure is important because it more accurately reflects the underlying or organic operating income of the company.
- (d) Adjusted Earnings Per Share is Earnings Per Share derived in accordance with GAAP, adjusted for the impact of both changes in foreign exchange rates and global trade inventories, period-to-period changes in the company's effective tax rate and interest expense, the favorable impact of changes in the company's Australian distribution operation, the sale of winery property located in California, and the impact of items associated with the company's interest in and representation of the Glenmorangie family of brands, as well as several other miscellaneous items. Management believes that disclosing this measure is important because it more accurately reflects the underlying or organic earnings per share growth of the company.

Brown-Forman will host a conference call to discuss third quarter results today at 10:00 a.m. EST. All interested parties in the U.S. are invited to join the conference by dialing 888-624-9285 and asking for the Brown-Forman call. International callers should dial 706-679-3410 and ask for the Brown-Forman call. No password is required. The company suggests that participants dial in approximately ten minutes in advance of the 10:00 a.m. start of the conference call.

For those unable to participate in the live call, a replay will be available by calling 800-642-1687 (U.S.) or 706-645-9291 (international). The identification code is 5719061. A digital audio recording of the conference call will also be available on the Brown-Forman website approximately one hour after the conclusion of the conference call. The replay will be available for at least 30 days following the conference call.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS:

This report contains statements, estimates, or projections that constitute "forward-looking statements" as defined under U.S. federal securities laws.

Edgar Filing: BROWN FORMAN CORP - Form 8-K

Generally, the words "expect," "believe," "intend," "estimate," "will," "anticipate," and "project," and similar expressions identify a forward-looking statement, which speaks only as of the date the statement is made. Except as required by law, we do not intend to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. We believe that the expectations and assumptions with respect to our forward-looking statements are reasonable. But by their nature, forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that in some cases are out of our control. These factors could cause our actual results to differ materially from Brown-Forman's historical experience or our present expectations or projections. Here is a non-exclusive list of such risks and uncertainties:

- changes in general economic conditions, particularly in the United States where we earn the majority of our profits;
- lower consumer confidence or purchasing in the wake of catastrophic events;
- tax increases, whether at the federal or state level or in major international markets and/or tariff barriers or other restrictions affecting beverage alcohol;
- restrictions on alcohol marketing, including advertising and promotion, as a result of stricter governmental policies adopted either in the United States or globally;
- adverse developments in the class action lawsuits filed against Brown-Forman and other spirits, beer and wine manufacturers alleging that our industry conspired to promote the consumption of alcohol by those under the legal drinking age;
- a strengthening U.S. dollar against foreign currencies, especially the British Pound;
- reduced bar, restaurant, hotel and travel business in wake of terrorist attacks or threats, such as occurred in September, 2001 in the U.S. and in July, 2005 in London;
- lower consumer confidence or purchasing associated with rising energy prices;
- a decline in U.S. spirits consumption as might be indicated by recent published trends suggesting a slight reduction in the growth rate of distilled spirits consumption;
- longer-term, a change in consumer preferences, social trends or cultural trends that results in the reduced consumption of our premium spirits brands;
- changes in distribution arrangements in major markets that limit our ability to market our products;
- increases in the price of energy or raw materials, including grapes, grain, wood, glass, and plastic;
- excess wine inventories or a further world-wide oversupply of grapes.
- adverse developments as a result of state investigations of beverage alcohol industry trade practices of suppliers, distributors and retailers.
