FORD MOTOR COMPANY AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1. PRESENTATION

Our financial statements are presented in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) for interim financial information and instructions to the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. We show certain of our financial statements on both a consolidated and a sector basis for our Automotive and Financial Services sectors. Intercompany items have been eliminated in both the consolidated and sector balance sheets. Where the presentation of these intercompany eliminations or consolidated adjustments differs between the consolidated and sector financial statements, reconciliations of certain line items are explained below in this Note or in the related financial statements and footnotes.

In the opinion of management, these unaudited financial statements reflect a fair statement of the results of operations and financial condition of Ford Motor Company, its consolidated subsidiaries, and consolidated VIEs of which we are the primary beneficiary for the periods and at the dates presented. The results for interim periods are not necessarily indicative of results that may be expected for any other interim period or for the full year. Reference should be made to the financial statements contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014 (“2014 Form 10-K Report”). For purposes of this report, “Ford,” the “Company,” “we,” “our,” “us” or similar references mean Ford Motor Company, our consolidated subsidiaries, and our consolidated VIEs of which we are the primary beneficiary, unless the context requires otherwise.

We reclassified certain prior year amounts in our consolidated financial statements to conform to current year presentation.

Adoption of New Accounting Standards

Transfers and Servicing - Repurchase-to-Maturity Transactions, Repurchase Financings and Disclosures. On January 1, 2015, we adopted the new accounting standard that changes the accounting for repurchase-to-maturity transactions and repurchase financing arrangements. The new standard also requires additional disclosures for certain transfers of financial assets with agreements that both entitle and obligate the transferor to repurchase the transferred assets from the transferee. The adoption of this accounting standard did not impact our financial statements or financial statement disclosures.

Reconciliations between Consolidated and Sector Financial Statements

Sector to Consolidated Deferred Tax Assets and Liabilities. The difference between the total assets and total liabilities as presented on our sector balance sheet and consolidated balance sheet is the result of netting deferred income tax assets and liabilities. The reconciliation between the totals for the sector and consolidated balance sheets was as follows (in millions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014
Sector balance sheet presentation of deferred income tax assets
Automotive sector current deferred income tax assets	$2,167	$2,039
Automotive sector non-current deferred income tax assets	12,845	13,331
Financial Services sector deferred income tax assets (a)	170	185
Total	15,182	15,555
Reclassification for netting of deferred income taxes	(2,243) (1,916
Consolidated balance sheet presentation of deferred income tax assets	$ 12,939	$ 13,639

Total	2,768		2,486

(a) Financial Services deferred income tax assets are included in Financial Services Other assets on our sector balance sheet.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 2. ACCOUNTING STANDARDS ISSUED BUT NOT YET ADOPTED

Internal-Use Software - Customer's Accounting for Fees Paid in a Cloud Computing Arrangement. In April 2015, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued a new accounting standard that provides guidance regarding whether a cloud computing arrangement includes a software license, which would impact the accounting for such an arrangement. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2016 and we are assessing the potential impact to our financial statements and financial statement disclosures.

Imputation of Interest - Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs. In April 2015, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that requires debt issuance costs related to a recognized debt liability to be presented in the balance sheet as a direct deduction from the carrying amount of that debt liability, consistent with debt discounts or premiums. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2016, and early adoption is permitted. We are currently assessing the potential impact to our financial statements and financial statement disclosures.

Consolidation - Amendments to the Consolidation Analysis. In February 2015, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that makes targeted amendments to the present guidance. One of the amendments in the new standard affects the consolidation analysis performed by reporting entities that are involved with VIEs, particularly those that have decision maker or service provider fee arrangements and related-party relationships. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2016 and we are assessing the potential impact to our financial statements and financial statement disclosures.

Extraordinary and Unusual Items - Simplifying Income Statement Presentation by Eliminating the Concept of Extraordinary Items. In January 2015, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that eliminates the concept of extraordinary items and their segregation from the results of ordinary operations and expands presentation and disclosure guidance to include items that are both unusual in nature and occur infrequently. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2016 and we are assessing the potential impact to our financial statements and financial statement disclosures.

Derivatives and Hedging - Determining Whether the Host Contract in a Hybrid Financial Instrument Issued in the Form of a Share Is More Akin to Debt or to Equity. In November 2014, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that requires an entity to determine the nature of the host contract by considering all stated and implied substantive terms and features of the hybrid financial instrument issued in the form of a share, including any embedded derivative features being evaluated for bifurcation. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2016 and we are assessing the potential impact to our financial statements and financial statement disclosures.

Going Concern - Disclosure of Uncertainties about an Entity's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern. In August 2014, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that requires management to assess if there is substantial doubt about an entity's ability to continue as a going concern for each annual and interim period. If conditions or events give rise to substantial doubt, disclosures are required. The new accounting standard is effective as of December 31, 2016 and we do not expect it to have an impact on our financial statement disclosures.

Consolidation - Measuring the Financial Assets and the Financial Liabilities of a Consolidated Collateralized Financing Entity. In August 2014, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that provides an entity the option to elect to measure the financial assets and financial liabilities of a consolidated collateralized financing entity ("CFE") at a value that is reflective of its economic interest in the CFE. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2016 and we do not expect it to have an impact on our financial statements or financial statement disclosures.

Stock Compensation - Accounting for Share-Based Payments When the Terms of an Award Provide That a Performance Target Could Be Achieved after the Requisite Service Period. In June 2014, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that requires performance targets that could be achieved after the requisite service period be treated as performance conditions that affect the vesting of the award. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2016 and we do not expect it to have an impact on our financial statements or financial statement disclosures.

Revenue - Revenue from Contracts with Customers. In May 2014, the FASB issued a new accounting standard that requires recognition of revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which we expect to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The new standard supersedes virtually all present U.S. GAAP guidance on revenue recognition and requires the use of more estimates and judgments than the present standards as well as additional disclosures. The new accounting standard is effective as of January 1, 2017 and we are assessing the potential impact to our financial statements and financial statement disclosures.

NOTE 3. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

Cash equivalents, marketable securities, and derivative financial instruments are remeasured and presented on our financial statements on a recurring basis at fair value, while other assets and liabilities are measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. At March 31, 2015, we consolidated the assets and liabilities of our Ford Sollers Netherlands B.V. (“Ford Sollers”) joint venture (see Note 17 for additional information).

There have been no changes to the types of inputs used or the valuation techniques since year end.

NOTE 4. FINANCIAL SERVICES SECTOR FINANCE RECEIVABLES

Finance receivables, primarily Ford Credit, are recorded at the time of origination or purchase at fair value and are subsequently reported at amortized cost, net of any allowance for credit losses.

Our Financial Services sector segments our finance receivables into “consumer” and “non-consumer” portfolios. The receivables are generally secured by the vehicles, inventory, or other property being financed.

Consumer Portfolio. Receivables in this portfolio include products offered to individuals and businesses that finance the acquisition of Ford and Lincoln vehicles from dealers for personal or commercial use. Retail financing includes retail installment contracts for new and used vehicles and direct financing leases with retail customers, government entities, daily rental companies, and fleet customers.

Non-Consumer Portfolio. Receivables in this portfolio include products offered to automotive dealers. The products include:

Dealer financing – includes wholesale loans to dealers to finance the purchase of vehicle inventory, also known as floorplan financing, as well as loans to dealers to finance working capital and improvements to dealership facilities, finance the purchase of dealership real estate, and finance other dealer programs. Wholesale financing is approximately 95% of our dealer financing

Other financing – primarily related to the sale of parts and accessories to dealers

Finance receivables, net were as follows (in millions):

(a) At March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, Finance receivables, net on the consolidated balance sheet were $79.2 billion and $81.1 billion, respectively. The balance is comprised of Financial Services sector finance receivables of $85.7 billion and $86.1 billion, respectively, net of $6.5 billion and $5 billion, respectively, of receivables purchased by Financial Services sector from Automotive sector, which are reclassified to Other receivables, net.

- (b) At March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, excludes $1.7 billion and $1.7 billion, respectively, of certain receivables (primarily direct financing leases) that are not subject to fair value disclosure requirements.

Excluded from finance receivables at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, was $179 million and $191 million, respectively, of accrued uncollected interest, which we report in Other assets on the balance sheet.

NOTE 4. FINANCIAL SERVICES SECTOR FINANCE RECEIVABLES (Continued)

Included in the recorded investment in finance receivables at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014 were consumer receivables of $25.9 billion and $24.4 billion and non-consumer receivables of $21.3 billion and $21.8 billion, respectively, that have been sold for legal purposes in securitization transactions but continue to be reported in our consolidated financial statements. The receivables are available only for payment of the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions; they are not available to pay the other obligations or the claims of Ford Credit's other creditors. Ford Credit holds the right to receive the excess cash flows not needed to pay the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions (see Note 11).

Aging

For all finance receivables, we define "past due" as any payment, including principal and interest, that is at least 31 days past the contractual due date. The recorded investment of consumer receivables greater than 90 days past due and still accruing interest was $11 million and $17 million at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively. The recorded investment of non-consumer receivables greater than 90 days past due and still accruing interest was de minimis and $3 million at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.

The aging analysis of our finance receivables balances were as follows (in millions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014

31-60 days past due	$552	$718
61-90 days past due	64	97

Credit Quality

Consumer Portfolio. When originating all classes of consumer receivables, we use a proprietary scoring system that measures the credit quality of the receivables using several factors, such as credit bureau information, consumer credit risk scores (e.g., FICO score), and contract characteristics. In addition to our proprietary scoring system, we consider other individual consumer factors, such as employment history, financial stability, and capacity to pay.

Subsequent to origination, we review the credit quality of retail financing based on customer payment activity. As each customer develops a payment history, we use an internally-developed behavioral scoring model to assist in determining the best collection strategies which allows us to focus collection activity on higher-risk accounts. These models are used to refine our risk-based staffing model to ensure collection resources are aligned with portfolio risk. Based on data from this scoring model, contracts are categorized by collection risk. Our collection models evaluate several factors, including origination characteristics, updated credit bureau data, and payment patterns.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 4. FINANCIAL SERVICES SECTOR FINANCE RECEIVABLES (Continued)

Credit quality ratings for consumer receivables are based on aging. Refer to the aging table above.

Consumer receivables credit quality ratings are as follows:

Pass – current to 60 days past due

- Special Mention – 61 to 120 days past due and in intensified collection status
- Substandard – greater than 120 days past due and for which the uncollectible portion of the receivables has already been charged off, as measured using the fair value of collateral

Non-Consumer Portfolio. We extend credit to dealers primarily in the form of lines of credit to purchase new Ford and Lincoln vehicles as well as used vehicles. Payment is required when the dealer has sold the vehicle. Each non consumer lending request is evaluated by taking into consideration the borrower’s financial condition and the underlying collateral securing the loan. We use a proprietary model to assign each dealer a risk rating. This model uses historical dealer performance data to identify key factors about a dealer that we consider most significant in predicting a dealer’s ability to meet its financial obligations. We also consider numerous other financial and qualitative factors of the dealer’s operations including capitalization and leverage, liquidity and cash flow, profitability, and credit history with ourselves and other creditors.

Dealers are assigned to one of four groups according to risk ratings as follows:

- Group I – strong to superior financial metrics
- Group II – fair to favorable financial metrics
- Group III – marginal to weak financial metrics
- Group IV – poor financial metrics, including dealers classified as uncollectible

We generally suspend credit lines and extend no further funding to dealers classified in Group IV.

We regularly review our model to confirm the continued business significance and statistical predictability of the factors and update the model to incorporate new factors or other information that improves its statistical predictability. In addition, we regularly audit dealer inventory and dealer sales records to verify that the dealer is in possession of the financed vehicles and is promptly paying each receivable following the sale of the financed vehicle. The frequency of on site vehicle inventory audits depends on factors such as the dealer’s risk rating and our security position. Under our policies, on-site vehicle inventory audits of low-risk dealers are conducted only as circumstances warrant. Audits of higher-risk dealers are conducted with increased frequency based on risk ratings and our security position. We perform a credit review of each dealer at least annually and adjust the dealer’s risk rating, if necessary.

The credit quality of dealer financing receivables is evaluated based on our internal dealer risk rating analysis. A dealer has the same risk rating for its entire dealer financing regardless of the type of financing.

The credit quality analysis of our dealer financing receivables was as follows (in millions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014
Dealer Financing Group I	$23,906	$23,125

Group II	6,065	6,350

NOTE 4. FINANCIAL SERVICES SECTOR FINANCE RECEIVABLES (Continued)

Impaired Receivables. Impaired consumer receivables include accounts that have been rewritten or modified in reorganization proceedings pursuant to the U.S. Bankruptcy Code that are considered to be troubled debt restructurings (“TDRs”), as well as all accounts greater than 120 days past due. Impaired non-consumer receivables represent accounts with dealers that have weak or poor financial metrics or dealer financing that has been modified in TDRs. The recorded investment of consumer receivables that were impaired at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014 was $396 million, or 0.7% of consumer receivables, and $415 million, or 0.8% of consumer receivables, respectively. The recorded investment of non-consumer receivables that were impaired at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014 was $126 million, or 0.4% of non-consumer receivables, and $105 million, or 0.3% of non-consumer receivables, respectively. Impaired finance receivables are evaluated both collectively and specifically. See Note 5 for additional information related to the development of our allowance for credit losses.

The accrual of revenue is discontinued at the time a receivable is determined to be uncollectible. Accounts may be restored to accrual status only when a customer settles all past-due deficiency balances and future payments are reasonably assured. For receivables in non-accrual status, subsequent financing revenue is recognized only to the extent a payment is received. Payments are generally applied first to outstanding interest and then to the unpaid principal balance.

A restructuring of debt constitutes a TDR if we grant a concession to a debtor for economic or legal reasons related to the debtor’s financial difficulties that we otherwise would not consider. Consumer and non-consumer receivables that have a modified interest rate below market rate or that were modified in reorganization proceedings pursuant to the U.S. Bankruptcy Code, except non-consumer receivables that are current with minimal risk of loss, are considered to be TDRs. We do not grant concessions on the principal balance of our receivables. If a receivable is modified in a reorganization proceeding, all payment requirements of the reorganization plan need to be met before remaining balances are forgiven. Finance receivables involved in TDRs are specifically assessed for impairment.

NOTE 8. RETIREMENT BENEFITS

In the first quarter of 2015, we recorded a $782 million adjustment to correct for an understatement in the year-end 2014 valuation of our U.S. pension benefit obligation. The adjustment reduced Other assets by $301 million and increased Other liabilities and deferred revenue by $481 million. The resulting after-tax adjustment to Other comprehensive income was a loss of $508 million. The adjustments were not material to current or prior period financial statements.

In the first three months of 2015, we contributed about $800 million to our worldwide funded pension plans and made about $100 million of benefit payments to participants in unfunded plans.

NOTE 10. REDEEMABLE NONCONTROLLING INTEREST

The redeemable noncontrolling interest in our Ford Sollers joint venture is discussed in Note 17.

AutoAlliance International, Inc. (“AAI”) was a 50/50 joint venture between Ford and Mazda Motor Corporation (“Mazda”) that owned an automobile assembly plant in Flat Rock, Michigan. In January 2015, Mazda exercised its put option and Ford purchased Mazda's 50% equity interest at the exercise price plus accrued interest of $342 million (included in Cash flows from financing activities in our statement of cash flows) and dissolved AAI.

NOTE 11. VARIABLE INTEREST ENTITIES

VIEs of Which We are Not the Primary Beneficiary

Certain of our joint ventures are VIEs, in which the power to direct economically significant activities is shared with the joint venture partner. Our investments in these joint ventures are accounted for as equity method investments. Our maximum exposure to any potential losses associated with these joint ventures is limited to our investment, including loans, and was $252 million and $307 million at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.

VIEs of Which We are the Primary Beneficiary

Securitization Entities Through Ford Credit, we securitize, transfer, and service financial assets associated with consumer finance receivables, operating leases, and wholesale loans. Our securitization transactions typically involve the legal transfer of financial assets to bankruptcy remote special purpose entities (“SPE’s”). The third-party investors in these securitization entities have legal recourse only to the assets securing the debt and do not have recourse to us, except for the customary representation and warranty provisions. In addition, the cash flows generated by the assets are restricted only to pay such liabilities. We generally retain economic interests in the asset-backed securitization transactions, which are retained in the form of senior or subordinated interests, cash reserve accounts, residual interests, and servicing rights. For accounting purposes, we are precluded from recording the transfers of assets in securitization transactions as sales.

In most cases, the bankruptcy remote SPEs meet the definition of VIEs for which we have determined we have both the power to direct the activities of the entity that most significantly impact the entity’s performance and the obligation to absorb losses or the right to receive benefits of the entity that could be significant, and would therefore also be consolidated. We account for all securitization transactions as if they were secured financing and therefore the assets, liabilities and related activity of these transactions are consolidated in our financial results and are included in amounts presented on the face of our consolidated balance sheet (see Note 4 for additional information).

NOTE 12. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND HEDGING ACTIVITIES

In the normal course of business, our operations are exposed to global market risks, including the effect of changes in foreign currency exchange rates, certain commodity prices, and interest rates. To manage these risks, we enter into highly effective derivatives contracts. We have elected to apply hedge accounting to certain derivatives. Derivatives that are designated in hedging relationships are evaluated for effectiveness using regression analysis at the time they are designated and throughout the hedge period. Some derivatives do not qualify for hedge accounting; for others, we elect not to apply hedge accounting.

Balance Sheet Effect of Derivative Financial Instruments

Derivative financial instruments are recorded on the balance sheet at fair value, presented on a gross basis, and include an adjustment for non-performance risk. Notional amounts are presented on a gross basis. The notional amounts of the derivative financial instruments do not necessarily represent amounts exchanged by the parties and, therefore, are not a direct measure of our financial risk exposure. We enter into master agreements with counterparties that may allow for netting of exposure in the event of default or termination of the counterparty agreement due to breach of contract.

The notional amount and estimated fair value of our derivative financial instruments were as follows (in millions):

NOTE 15. EMPLOYEE SEPARATION ACTIONS AND EXIT AND DISPOSAL ACTIVITIES

We record costs associated with voluntary separations at the time of employee acceptance, unless the acceptance requires explicit approval by the Company. We record costs associated with involuntary separation programs when management has approved the plan for separation, the affected employees are identified, and it is unlikely that actions required to complete the separation plan will change significantly. When a plan of separation requires approval by or consultation with the relevant labor organization or government, the costs are recorded after the required approval or consultation process is complete. Costs associated with benefits that are contingent on the employee continuing to provide service are accrued over the required service period.

Business Restructuring - Europe

In October 2012, we committed to commence a transformation plan for our Europe operations. As part of this plan, we closed two manufacturing facilities in the United Kingdom in 2013 and closed our assembly plant in Genk,

Belgium at the end of 2014. The Genk closure was subject to an information and consultation process with employee representatives, which was completed in June 2013. The costs related to these closures were recorded beginning in the second quarter of 2013.

NOTE 15. EMPLOYEE SEPARATION ACTIONS AND EXIT AND DISPOSAL ACTIVITIES (Continued)

Separation-related costs (excluding pension costs), totaled $1.1 billion and were recorded in Automotive cost of sales and Selling, administrative and other expenses. These costs include both the costs associated with voluntary separation programs in the United Kingdom and involuntary employee actions at Genk, as well as payments to suppliers. The separation-related activity recorded in Other liabilities and deferred revenue, for the periods ended March 31 was as follows (in millions):

Business Restructuring - Australia

In May 2013, we committed to commence a transformation plan for our Australia operations. As part of this plan, we will be closing manufacturing operations in Australia in October 2016. In August 2013, a two-phase separation plan was approved, which included a line-speed reduction in June 2014, ahead of the final closure. The costs related to the line-speed reduction were recorded throughout 2014. The costs related to the second phase of the transformation plan were recorded beginning in the fourth quarter of 2014 after the Enterprise bargaining agreement was agreed and ratified by the local government and we determined these payments were probable.

Separation-related costs recorded in Automotive cost of sales and Selling, administrative and other expenses, include both the costs associated with voluntary separation programs, and involuntary employee actions in Australia. The separation-related activity recorded in Other liabilities and deferred revenue, for the period ended March 31, was as follows (in millions):

	2015
Beginning balance	$111
Changes in accruals	14
Payments	(1
Foreign currency translation	(8
Ending balance	$116

Our current estimate of total separation-related costs for the Australian transformation plan is approximately $200 million. The separation-related costs not yet recorded will be expensed as the employees continue to support Australia plant operations.

NOTE 16. INCOME TAXES

For interim tax reporting we estimate one single effective tax rate for tax jurisdictions not subject to a valuation allowance, which is applied to the year-to-date ordinary income/(loss). Tax effects of significant unusual or extraordinary items are excluded from the estimated annual effective tax rate calculation and recognized in the interim period in which they occur.

NOTE 17. CHANGES IN INVESTMENTS IN AFFILIATES

Automotive Sector

Ford Sollers. We formed the Ford Sollers joint venture with Sollers OJSC (“Sollers”) in October 2011 to operate in Russia. Upon contribution of our then wholly-owned operations in Russia to the joint venture in exchange for cash, notes receivable and a 50% equity interest in the new joint venture, we deconsolidated the related assets and liabilities and recorded an equity method investment in Ford Sollers at its fair value. The fair value was calculated using a discounted cash flow analysis with our best assumptions of relevant factors at that time.

During the second quarter of 2014, we recorded a $329 million pre-tax impairment as a result of factors in the Russian market, including a weaker ruble, lower industry volume, and industry segmentation changes that negatively impacted the sales of Focus. These factors reduced our expected cash flows for Ford Sollers in the near-term, thereby reducing the investment’s fair value recoverability. The non-cash charge was reported in Equity in net income of affiliated companies.

On March 31, 2015, we and Sollers agreed to certain changes to the structure of the joint venture and the related shareholders’ agreement to support the business in the near-term and provide a platform for future growth in this important market. The changes include Ford providing additional funding to the joint venture and gaining a controlling interest in the joint venture through the acquisition of preferred shares. As a result, effective March 31, 2015, we have consolidated the joint venture for financial reporting purposes. In addition, the partners will have future rights to purchase, or have purchased, Sollers’ 50% interest in the ordinary shares of the joint venture at a value established using a pre-determined framework. Both partners will continue to work jointly to improve the business outlook for the Ford Sollers joint venture by expanding its vehicle lineup to better meet the needs of Russian customers and further investing in the localization of component manufacturing. Due to the timing of the transaction, we provisionally have measured the fair value and recognized $977 million in assets (primarily inventory and fixed assets) and $888 million in liabilities (primarily payables and debt) on our balance sheet. In addition, we recorded $89 million in a redeemable noncontrolling interest in the mezzanine section of our balance sheet, reflecting the redemption features embedded in the 50% equity interest in the joint venture that is held by Sollers. During the second quarter of 2015, we will finalize purchase accounting, using generally acceptable valuation techniques that incorporate Ford Sollers’ present business plan, adjusted for market participant assumptions.

NOTE 18. CAPITAL STOCK AND EARNINGS PER SHARE

We present both basic and diluted earnings per share (“EPS”) amounts in our financial reporting. Basic EPS excludes dilution and is computed by dividing income available to Common and Class B Stock holders by the weighted-average number of Common and Class B Stock outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS reflects the maximum potential dilution that could occur from our share-based compensation, including “in-the-money” stock options and unvested restricted stock units (“RSUs”). Potential dilutive shares are excluded from the calculation if they have an anti-dilutive effect in the period.

Earnings Per Share Attributable to Ford Motor Company Common and Class B Stock

Basic and diluted income per share were calculated using the following (in millions):

Basic income	$924	$989

(a) As applicable, includes interest expense, amortization of discount, amortization of fees, and other changes in income or loss that would result from the assumed conversion.

In October 2014, we elected to terminate the conversion rights of holders under the 2016 Convertible Notes in accordance with their terms effective as of the close of business on November 20, 2014. On November 21, 2014, we redeemed for cash the remaining outstanding 2016 Convertible Notes.

NOTE 19. SEGMENT INFORMATION

Our operating activity consists of two operating sectors, Automotive and Financial Services. Our Automotive sector includes the sale of Ford and Lincoln brand vehicles and related service parts and accessories. The Financial Services sector primarily includes our vehicle-related financing and leasing activities at Ford Credit.

Prior to January 1, 2015, we had an Other Financial Services segment, which included holding companies, real estate, and financing of some Volvo vehicles in Europe. Effective January 1, 2015, we have realigned the business operations of this segment to our Automotive sector on a prospective basis. The impact of this change on prior periods presented would have been immaterial.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 20. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Commitments and contingencies primarily consist of guarantees and indemnifications, litigation and claims, and warranty.

Guarantees and Indemnifications

Guarantees and indemnifications are recorded at fair value at their inception. We regularly review our performance risk under these arrangements, and in the event it becomes probable we will be required to perform under guarantee or indemnity, the amount of probable payment is recorded.

We guarantee debt and lease obligations of certain joint ventures, as well as certain financial obligations of outside third parties, including suppliers, to support our business and economic growth. Expiration dates vary through 2033, and guarantees will terminate on payment and/or cancellation of the underlying obligation. A payment by us would be triggered by failure of the joint venture or other third party to fulfill its obligation covered by the guarantee. In some circumstances, we are entitled to recover from a third party amounts paid by us under the guarantee. However, our ability to enforce these rights is sometimes stayed until the guaranteed party is paid in full, and may be limited in the event of insolvency of the third party or other circumstances.

In the ordinary course of business, we execute contracts involving indemnifications standard in the industry and indemnifications specific to a transaction, such as the sale of a business. These indemnifications might include and are not limited to claims relating to any of the following: environmental, tax, and shareholder matters; intellectual property rights; power generation contracts; governmental regulations and employment-related matters; dealer, supplier, and other commercial contractual relationships; and financial matters, such as securitizations. Performance under these indemnities generally would be triggered by a breach of terms of the contract or by a third-party claim. While some of these indemnifications are limited in nature, many of them do not limit potential payment. Therefore, we are unable to estimate a maximum amount of future payments that could result from claims made under these unlimited indemnities.

The maximum potential payments and the carrying value of recorded liabilities related to guarantees and limited indemnities were as follows (in millions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014
Maximum potential payments	$595	$592
Carrying value of recorded liabilities related to guarantees and limited indemnities	17	17

Litigation and Claims

Various legal actions, proceedings, and claims (generally, “matters”) are pending or may be instituted or asserted against us. These include but are not limited to matters arising out of alleged defects in our products; product warranties; governmental regulations relating to safety, emissions, and fuel economy or other matters; government incentives; tax matters; alleged illegal acts resulting in fines or penalties; financial services; employment-related matters; dealer, supplier, and other contractual relationships; intellectual property rights; environmental matters; shareholder or investor matters; and financial reporting matters. Certain of the pending legal actions are, or purport to be, class actions. Some of the matters involve or may involve claims for compensatory, punitive, or antitrust or other treble damages in very large amounts, or demands for field service actions, environmental remediation programs, sanctions, loss of government incentives, assessments, or other relief, which, if granted, would require very large expenditures.

The extent of our financial exposure to these matters is difficult to estimate. Many matters do not specify a dollar amount for damages, and many others specify only a jurisdictional minimum. To the extent an amount is asserted, our historical experience suggests that in most instances the amount asserted is not a reliable indicator of the ultimate outcome.

We accrue for matters when losses are deemed probable and reasonably estimable. In evaluating matters for accrual and disclosure purposes, we take into consideration factors such as our historical experience with matters of a similar nature, the specific facts and circumstances asserted, the likelihood that we will prevail, and the severity of any potential loss. We reevaluate and update our accruals as matters progress over time.

For the majority of matters, which generally arise out of alleged defects in our products, we establish an accrual based on our extensive historical experience with similar matters. We do not believe there is a reasonably possible outcome materially in excess of our accrual for these matters.

For the remaining matters, where our historical experience with similar matters is of more limited value (i.e., “non pattern matters”), we evaluate the matters primarily based on the individual facts and circumstances. For non pattern matters, we evaluate whether there is a reasonable possibility of a material loss in excess of any accrual that can be estimated. Our estimate of reasonably possible loss in excess of our accruals for all material matters currently reflects indirect tax and customs matters, for which we estimate the aggregate risk to be a range of up to about $2.5 billion.

As noted, the litigation process is subject to many uncertainties, and the outcome of individual matters is not predictable with assurance. Our assessments are based on our knowledge and experience, but the ultimate outcome of any matter could require payment substantially in excess of the amount that we have accrued and/or disclosed.

Warranty and Field Service Actions

We accrue obligations for warranty costs and field service actions (i.e., safety recalls, emission recalls, and other product campaigns) at the time of sale. We establish estimates for warranty and field service action obligations using a patterned estimation model using historical information regarding the nature, frequency, and average cost of claims for each vehicle line by model year. We reevaluate the adequacy of our accruals on a regular basis and any revisions to our estimated obligation for warranties and field service actions are reported as Changes in accrual related to pre-existing warranties in the table below.

Warranty and field service actions obligations accounted for in Other liabilities and deferred revenue for the periods ended March 31 were as follows (in millions):

	First Quarter
	2015	2014
Beginning balance	$4,785	$3,927
Payments made during the period	(576) (578
Changes in accrual related to warranties issued during the period	463	502

Excluded from the table above are costs accrued for customer satisfaction actions.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Ford Motor Company:

We have reviewed the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of Ford Motor Company and its subsidiaries as of March 31, 2015, and the related consolidated statements of income and comprehensive income for the three-month periods ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 and the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows and the consolidated statement of equity for the three-month periods ended March 31, 2015 and 2014. These interim financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management.

The accompanying sector balance sheets and the related sector statements of income and of cash flows are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the review procedures applied in the review of the basic financial statements.

We conducted our review in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying consolidated interim financial statements for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We previously audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2014, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, equity, and cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein), and in our report dated February 13, 2015, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2014, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated balance sheet from which it has been derived.

ITEM 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Our first quarter 2015 pre-tax results and net income were as follows:

	First Quarter 2015 (Mils.)	Better/(Worse) 2014 (Mils.)	Memo: Full Year 2014 (Mils.)
Income
Pre-tax results (excl. special items)	$1,405	$ 24	$6,282

Net income attributable to Ford	$924	$(65)	$3,187

Net income includes certain items (“special items”) that we have grouped into “Personnel and Dealer-Related Items” and “Other Items” to provide useful information to investors about the nature of the special items. The first category includes items related to our efforts to match production capacity and cost structure to market demand and changing model mix and therefore helps investors track amounts related to those activities. The second category includes items that we do not generally consider to be indicative of our ongoing operating activities, and therefore allows investors analyzing our pre-tax results to identify certain infrequent significant items that they may wish to exclude when considering the trend of ongoing operating results.

As detailed in Note 19 of the Notes to the Financial Statements, we allocate special items to a separate reconciling item, as opposed to allocating them among the operating segments and Other Automotive, reflecting the fact that management excludes these items from its review of operating segment results for purposes of measuring segment profitability and allocating resources among the segments.

For the first quarter of 2015, we had no special items. The following table details Automotive sector pre-tax special items in each category for the first quarter of 2014 and full year 2014:

	First Quarter 2014 (Mils.)	Memo: Full Year 2014 (Mils.)

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Discussion of Automotive sector, Financial Services sector, and Company results of operations below is on a pre-tax basis and excludes special items unless otherwise specifically noted. References to records by Automotive segments—North America, South America, Europe, Middle East & Africa, and Asia Pacific—are since at least 2000 when we began reporting specific business unit results.

The chart below shows first quarter 2015 pre-tax results by sector:

Both of our sectors -- Automotive and Financial Services -- contributed to the Company's first quarter 2015 pre-tax profit and both improved compared with the first quarter and fourth quarter of 2014.

AUTOMOTIVE SECTOR

Definitions and calculations used in this report include:

Wholesales and Revenue - Wholesale unit volumes include all Ford and Lincoln badged units (whether produced by Ford or by an unconsolidated affiliate) that are sold to dealerships, units manufactured by Ford that are sold to other manufacturers, units distributed by Ford for other manufacturers, and local brand units produced by our China joint venture, Jiangling Motors Corporation, Ltd. ("JMC"), that are sold to dealerships. Vehicles sold to daily rental car companies that are subject to a guaranteed repurchase option (i.e., rental repurchase), as well as other sales of finished vehicles for which the recognition of revenue is deferred (e.g., consignments), also are included in wholesale unit volumes. Revenue from certain vehicles in wholesale unit volumes (specifically, Ford badged vehicles produced and distributed by our unconsolidated affiliates, as well as JMC brand vehicles) are not included in our revenue

Automotive Operating Margin - defined as Automotive pre-tax results, excluding special items and Other Automotive, divided by Automotive revenue

Industry Volume and Market Share - based, in part, on estimated vehicle registrations; includes medium and heavy duty trucks

SAAR - seasonally adjusted annual rate

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

In general, we measure year-over-year change in Automotive pre-tax operating profit for our total Automotive sector and reportable segments using the causal factors listed below, with net pricing and cost variances calculated at present-year volume and mix and exchange:

Market Factors:

Volume and Mix - primarily measures profit variance from changes in wholesale volumes (at prior-year average margin per unit) driven by changes in industry volume, market share, and dealer stocks, as well as the profit variance resulting from changes in product mix, including mix among vehicle lines and mix of trim levels and options within a vehicle line

Net Pricing - primarily measures profit variance driven by changes in wholesale prices to dealers and marketing incentive programs such as rebate programs, low-rate financing offers, and special lease offers

Contribution Costs - primarily measures profit variance driven by per-unit changes in cost categories that typically vary with volume, such as material costs (including commodity and component costs), warranty expense, and freight and duty costs

Structural Costs - primarily measures profit variance driven by absolute change in cost categories that typically do not have a directly proportionate relationship to production volume. Structural costs include the following cost categories:

Manufacturing and Engineering - consists primarily of costs for hourly and salaried manufacturing- and engineering-related personnel, plant overhead (such as utilities and taxes), new product launch expense, prototype materials, and outside engineering services

Spending-Related - consists primarily of depreciation and amortization of our manufacturing and engineering assets, but also includes asset retirements and operating leases

Advertising and Sales Promotions - includes costs for advertising, marketing programs, brand promotions, customer mailings and promotional events, and auto shows

Administrative and Selling - includes primarily costs for salaried personnel and purchased services related to our staff activities and selling functions, as well as associated information technology costs

Pension and OPEB - consists primarily of past service pension costs and other postretirement employee benefit costs

Exchange - primarily measures profit variance driven by one or more of the following: (i) transactions denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies of the relevant entities, (ii) effects of converting functional currency income to U.S. dollars, (iii) effects of remeasuring monetary assets and liabilities of the relevant entities in currencies other than their functional currency, or (iv) results of our foreign currency hedging

Net Interest and Other

Net Interest - primarily measures profit variance driven by changes in our Automotive sector's centrally-managed net interest, which consists of interest expense, interest income, fair market value adjustments on our cash equivalents and marketable securities portfolio (excluding our investment in Mazda), and other adjustments

Other - items not included in the causal factors defined above

Total Automotive. The following two charts detail first quarter key metrics and the change in first quarter 2015 pre-tax results compared with first quarter 2014 by causal factor.

For the full year, we expect to achieve strong top-line growth in the Automotive sector as we leverage a growing global industry, as well as improve our global market share on the strength of our 24 product launches last year and the 15 we have planned for 2015. We also have more capacity coming on line in Asia Pacific in the second half that will drive incremental volume and revenue.

We also expect improvements to the bottom line, specifically higher Automotive operating margin and strong growth in Automotive pre-tax profit, driven by North America and Asia Pacific, with improved results in Europe and South America as well. We continue to expect most of the Company's improvement to occur in the second half.

For the first quarter, we estimate that global industry SAAR, shown on the lower left, was 87.5 million units, up 1% from a year ago, and we grew our global market share to 7%. Wholesale volume was down slightly from a year ago due to the effects of major product launches which contributed to lower dealer stock increases and constrained our share growth.

Our revenue was down 6% due to the unfavorable exchange effects of the strong U.S. dollar on international operations, as well as the lower volume.

We are pleased that our operating margin improved – which, at 3.6%, was up two-tenths of a percentage point, and that our Automotive pre-tax profit of $936 million was essentially unchanged from a year ago.

Item 2. Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

As shown above, our unchanged Automotive pre-tax profit was the result of higher net pricing, favorable exchange, and favorable mix; higher costs and lower volume were offsets. The strong net pricing mainly reflects new products in North and South America, as well as partial recovery in South America of the adverse operating effects of the region’s weaker currencies and high local inflation.

The non-repeat of unfavorable balance sheet exchange effects last year, primarily in Venezuela and Argentina, explains most of the favorable exchange.

The good news on mix came from North America, primarily Super Duty, and Europe, primarily Transit and Mondeo.

The higher costs are driven principally by three factors: the effects of new products launched since the first quarter of 2014; new plants in Asia Pacific launched over the past year or to be launched later this year; and investments for future new products and capacity to support our growth beyond 2015.

North America was the major driver of the lower volume due to product launch effects.

As shown below the chart, Automotive pre-tax profit improved over the fourth quarter of 2014 because of lower costs and favorable exchange.

Total costs and expenses for our Automotive sector in the first quarter of 2015 and 2014 were $31.3 billion and $33.5 billion, respectively, a difference of $2.2 billion. An explanation of these changes is shown below (in billions):

Explanation of change:	First Quarter 2015 Lower/(Higher) 2014
Volume and mix, exchange, and other	$ 3.0
Contribution costs
Material excluding commodities	(0.6)
Commodities	—
Warranty/Freight/Other	0.3
Structural costs	(0.6)
Special items	0.1

Results by Automotive Segment. Details by segment of Income before income taxes are shown below for the first quarter of 2015.

Shown above is Automotive pre-tax results by business unit, along with Other Automotive which is mainly net interest expense.

Previously, we had guided that we expected Automotive net interest expense to be equal to or higher than last year's expense of $583 million. We now expect full year expense to be about $650 million, including the impact of the external debt of our Russia operation, Ford Sollers, which was fully consolidated as of March 31, 2015, along with incremental funding in Brazil.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

North America Segment. The following two charts detail first quarter key metrics and the change in first quarter 2015 pre-tax results compared with first quarter 2014 by causal factor.

We expect North America to have a very strong year in 2015, with substantial top-line growth, higher pre-tax profit, and an improved operating margin. This is based on continued robust industry sales, our strong product line-up including products launched last year and planned for 2015, our continued discipline in matching production with demand, and a lean cost structure.

In the quarter, wholesale volume and revenue were down 5% and 2% from a year ago, respectively. The lower wholesale volume reflects launch-related declines of about 40% for F-150 and over 50% for Edge; all other vehicles were up 7%. The declines for F-150 and Edge resulted in lower U.S. market share, which was down six-tenths of a percentage point, to 14.7%, as well as lower stock increases this year than in 2014. Higher industry sales, reflecting a U.S. SAAR of 17.1 million units, were a partial offset.

Our lower revenue was driven by the lower wholesale volume, as well as the adverse effect on our revenue in Canada and Mexico of the strong U.S. dollar; this was offset largely by higher net pricing and favorable mix.

North America operating margin was 6.7%, down six-tenths of a percentage point from last year, and pre-tax profit was $1.3 billion, down $160 million.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Lower volume for F-150 and Edge due to their launches explains North America's lower pre-tax profit in the first quarter. All other factors essentially offset one another.

We expect results in North America to improve substantially over the balance of the year as we benefit from a full supply of F-150 and Edge, as well as other new products we have yet to launch, including Explorer and MKX. As shown below the chart, North America pre-tax profit declined compared with fourth quarter due to higher costs and lower volume.

We continue to expect North America to be strongly profitable this year, at a level that will exceed last year's result. We are increasing our operating margin guidance from 8% to 9% to 8.5% to 9.5%. This reflects our strong confidence in the F-150 and our positive view of the product's impact on our business now that the launch is successfully behind us. We also expect the recently launched Mustang, Transit, and Edge to continue to perform strongly, and we are excited about the upcoming launches of Explorer and MKX.

South America Segment. The following two charts detail first quarter key metrics and the change in first quarter 2015 pre-tax results compared with first quarter 2014 by causal factor.

The business environment in South America has deteriorated beyond our expectations, with negative GDP growth, continued high inflation, and further currency weakness across the region. The industry pricing environment is also difficult, particularly in Brazil, with actions taken to date generally lagging the combined adverse effects of the weaker currencies and high local inflation. Our strategy of replacing legacy products with One Ford products is bearing fruit. The new Ka is improving our market share in the region, which, at 9.7%, was up a strong 1.1 percentage points. In Brazil, EcoSport and Fusion continue to lead their segments and, as a result of the success of the F-Series and Cargo, Ford led the light and semi-light truck segments in the first quarter of 2015.

As we continue to sustain a strong product line-up, our team in South America also is focused on finding other revenue opportunities, reducing costs, matching production to real demand, and increasing local content to mitigate further the adverse effects of the weak local currencies.

In the first quarter of 2015, our wholesale volume and revenue decreased from a year ago by 3% and 20%, respectively. Our lower volume resulted from a 1.1 million unit decline in industry SAAR, reflecting the impact of Brazil's weaker economy and Argentina import restrictions. Our revenue decline resulted from the weaker currencies and unfavorable volume and mix.

Operating margin was negative 12.5%, a significant improvement from a year ago, while pre-tax loss was $189 million, an improvement of $321 million.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

South America's profit improvement was due to favorable exchange, most of which reflects the non-repeat of last year's unfavorable balance sheet exchange effects of $310 million in Venezuela.

Although volume was effectively unchanged, we were able to offset the effect of lower industry volume by growing our market share.

As shown below the chart, the first quarter 2015 loss was about the same as fourth quarter 2014.

For the full year, we continue to expect our pre-tax loss to improve from 2014, but the loss now will be greater than we had expected due to the more difficult external environment.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Europe Segment. The following two charts detail first quarter key metrics and the change in first quarter 2015 pre-tax results compared with first quarter 2014 by causal factor.

In Europe, we are continuing to implement our transformation plan focused on product, brand, and cost. We confirmed earlier this month our commitment to the Russian market, where we agreed to certain changes with our partner Sollers that will allow both parties to continue to support the Ford Sollers joint venture in the near term while providing a platform for future growth in this important market. As a result of these changes, we consolidated our Russian operations as of March 31, 2015. This had no effect on first quarter earnings.

In the first quarter, our Europe 20 market share improved two-tenths of a percentage point, to 8.2%. The success of our full line of Transit vehicles and continued strong performance of our Ranger compact pick-up contributed to a 2.8 percentage point improvement in our commercial vehicle share, to 13.3%. In the first quarter of 2015, Ford was the leading commercial brand in Europe 20.

In the first quarter of 2015, Europe wholesale volume improved 2% from a year ago, while revenue declined 11%. The higher volume resulted from a 1.2 million unit increase in the Europe 20 SAAR, which was 15.7 million units, as well as from Ford's higher market share. This was offset largely by the non-repeat of last year's dealer stock increase.

The strong U.S. dollar explains our lower revenue. Europe's operating margin was negative 2.7%, down two-tenths of a percentage point from a year ago, and the pre-tax loss was $185 million, about unchanged.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Europe's first quarter 2015 pre-tax results were about the same as last year, but there was variability among the factors.

Higher industry, share, and favorable mix were offset partially by the non-repeat of last year's stock increase.

The lower net pricing was driven, in part, by the aging of selected vehicle lines, but a portion also resulted from higher incentive activity in the United Kingdom and Switzerland. This was driven, in part, by more competitive activity triggered by a stronger pound sterling and Swiss franc versus the euro that made sales in the these two markets more attractive.

In total, costs were about flat, including the impact of lower discount rates on pension expense.

As shown below the chart, first quarter 2015 pre-tax results improved from the fourth quarter of 2014 due to favorable market factors, lower costs, and favorable exchange.

For the full year, we continue to expect Europe's pre-tax loss to improve from 2014, including the consolidation of Ford Sollers.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Middle East & Africa Segment. The following chart details first quarter key metrics.

In Middle East & Africa we are focused on building our distribution capability, expanding our One Ford product offering tailored to the needs of markets in the region, and leveraging our global low-cost sourcing hubs.

In the first quarter of 2015, wholesale volume and revenue declined 8% compared with the first quarter of 2014. Lower volume is a result of unfavorable changes in dealer stocks, while the lower revenue reflects the lower volume as well as the impact of the stronger U.S. dollar.

Operating margin for the first quarter of 2015 was 7.5%, 2.8 percentage points higher than a year ago, and pre-tax profit was $79 million, an improvement of $25 million. This was driven by favorable exchange.

For the full year, we now expect Middle East & Africa to deliver about breakeven results, an improvement from our prior guidance of a loss somewhat larger than 2014.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Asia Pacific Segment. The following two charts detail first quarter key metrics and the change in first quarter 2015 pre-tax results compared with first quarter 2014 by causal factor.

We are continuing our strategy in Asia Pacific to invest for growth in incremental capacity, new products, and Lincoln in China.

We expect Asia Pacific to have a strong year, with top- and bottom-line results improving substantially in the second half versus the first half due to added capacity and new products to be launched from the middle of the year, notably the three-row Edge, the all-new Taurus, Figo, the all-new Everest, refreshed Ranger, and the all-new MKX.

As shown on the left, our first quarter wholesale volume was up 5% compared with a year ago, while our net revenue, which excludes our China joint ventures, declined 14%. Our China wholesale volume, which is not shown, was up 10% in the quarter. This reflects, in part, strong market reception to the all-new Escort, as well as Lincoln, which is off to an encouraging start, with several of our China dealers already among the brand's highest-volume dealers globally.

Our higher volume in the region was driven by a favorable change in dealer stocks, including recovery of stocks to targeted levels. We estimate first quarter SAAR for the region at 38.9 million units, unchanged from a year ago, although we did see signs of slowing growth in China during the quarter.

Our first quarter market share for the region, at 3.4%, and our China market share, at 4.5%, were both equal to first quarter records set last year. Our lower revenue was a result of the lower volume from our consolidated operations, as well as weaker currencies. Operating margin was 4.5%, down 6.6 percentage points from a year ago, and pre-tax profit was $103 million, down $188 million.

Our China joint ventures contributed $360 million to pre-tax profit this quarter, reflecting our equity share of their after-tax earnings.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

The decline in first quarter 2015 pre-tax profit compared with the first quarter of 2014, is primarily explained by higher structural costs. This reflects costs related to our plans to introduce 18 new vehicles in 2015 and to bring online new capacity with four new plants. We'll see volume and revenue benefits of these investments in the second half of the year.

For the full year, we continue to expect Asia Pacific pre-tax profit to be higher than 2014, with most of the improvements occurring in the second half consistent with the launch timing of new capacity and products.

FINANCIAL SERVICES SECTOR

In general, we measure period-to-period changes in Ford Credit's pre-tax results using the causal factors listed below:

•Volume and Mix:

Volume primarily measures changes in net financing margin driven by changes in average finance receivables and net investment in operating leases at prior period financing margin yield (defined below in financing margin) at prior period exchange rates. Volume changes are primarily driven by the volume of new and used vehicle sales and leases, the extent to which Ford Credit purchases retail installment sale and lease contracts, the extent to which Ford Credit provides wholesale financing, the sales price of the vehicles financed, the level of dealer inventories, Ford-sponsored special financing programs available exclusively through Ford Credit, and the availability of cost-effective funding for the purchase of retail installment sale and lease contracts and to provide wholesale financing.

Mix primarily measures changes in net financing margin driven by period over period changes in the composition of Ford Credit's average managed receivables by product and by country or region.

•Financing Margin:

Financing margin variance is the period-to-period change in financing margin yield multiplied by the present period average receivables at prior period exchange rates. This calculation is performed at the product and country level and then aggregated. Financing margin yield equals revenue, less interest expense and scheduled depreciation for the period, divided by average receivables for the same period.

Financing margin changes are driven by changes in revenue and interest expense. Changes in revenue are primarily driven by the level of market interest rates, cost assumptions in pricing, mix of business, and competitive environment. Changes in interest expense are primarily driven by the level of market interest rates, borrowing spreads, and asset-liability management.

•Credit Loss:

Credit loss measures changes in the provision for credit losses at prior period exchange rates. For analysis purposes, management splits the provision for credit losses primarily into net charge-offs and the change in the allowance for credit losses.

Net charge-off changes are primarily driven by the number of repossessions, severity per repossession, and recoveries. Changes in the allowance for credit losses are primarily driven by changes in historical trends in credit losses and recoveries, changes in the composition and size of Ford Credit's present portfolio, changes in trends in historical used vehicle values, and changes in economic conditions. For additional information on the allowance for credit losses, refer to the "Critical Accounting Estimates - Allowance for Credit Losses" section of Item 7 of Part II of our 2014 Form 10-K Report.

•Lease Residual:

Lease residual measures changes to residual performance at prior period exchange rates. For analysis purposes, management splits residual performance primarily into residual gains and losses, and the change in accumulated supplemental depreciation.

Residual gain and loss changes are primarily driven by the number of vehicles returned to Ford Credit and sold, and the difference between the auction value and the depreciated value of the vehicles sold. Changes in accumulated supplemental depreciation are primarily driven by changes in Ford Credit's estimate of the number of vehicles that will be returned to it and sold, and changes in the estimate of the expected auction value at the end of the lease term. For additional information on accumulated supplemental depreciation, refer to the "Critical Accounting Estimates - Accumulated Depreciation on Vehicles Subject to Operating Leases" section of Item 7 of Part II of our 2014 Form 10-K Report.

•Exchange:

Reflects changes in pre-tax results driven by the effects of converting functional currency income to U.S. dollars.

Other:

Primarily includes operating expenses, other revenue, and insurance expenses at prior period exchange rates.

Changes in operating expenses are primarily driven by salaried personnel costs, facilities costs, and costs associated with the origination and servicing of customer contracts.

In general, other revenue changes are primarily driven by changes in earnings related to market valuation adjustments to derivatives (primarily related to movements in interest rates), and other miscellaneous items.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Ford Credit. The chart below details the change in first quarter 2015 pre-tax results compared with first quarter 2014 by causal factor.

Ford Credit is a strategic asset that provides world-class financial services to our dealers and customers and is an integral part of our global growth and value creation strategy. It maintains a strong balance sheet that provides solid profits and distributions to Ford.

In the first quarter, Ford Credit continued to demonstrate solid growth supporting Ford, including the launch of operations in India. Origination practices continue to be consistent, and costs remain well controlled and in line with expectations.

In the first quarter, Ford Credit's pre-tax profit was largely unchanged from a year ago. Favorable volume and mix primarily reflects higher consumer finance receivables globally and an increase in leasing in North America. Lower portfolio pricing drove the lower financing margin. And the higher credit losses in the first quarter of 2015 primarily reflect the non-repeat of reserve releases that occurred in the first quarter of 2014.

As shown below the chart, favorable lease residual performance due to higher auction values in North America contributed to the higher pre-tax profit compared with the fourth quarter of 2014.

For the full year, we continue to expect Ford Credit pre-tax profit to be equal to or higher than 2014, year-end managed receivables of $123 billion to $128 billion, and distributions of about $250 million. We now expect managed leverage at the upper end of our range of 8 to 9 to 1 in the near term because of the translation impact of the strong U.S. dollar.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

$24.4 billion, respectively, and non-consumer receivables before allowance for credit losses of $21.3 billion and $21.8 billion, respectively, that have been sold for legal purposes in securitization transactions but continue to be reported in Ford Credit's financial statements. In addition, at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, includes net investment in operating leases before allowance for credit losses of $10.1 billion and $9.6 billion, respectively, that have been included in securitization transactions but continue to be reported in Ford Credit's financial statements. The receivables and net investment in operating leases are available only for payment of the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions; they are not available to pay Ford Credit's other obligations or the claims of its other creditors. Ford Credit holds the right to receive the excess cash flows not needed to pay the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions.

Managed receivables at March 31, 2015 were unchanged from year end 2014. Ford Credit had growth in all products in all geographic segments, which was offset by the exchange rate impact of a strong U.S. dollar.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Automotive Sector

Our Automotive liquidity strategy includes ensuring that we have sufficient liquidity available with a high degree of certainty throughout the business cycle by generating cash from operations and maintaining access to other sources of funding. We target to have an average ongoing Automotive gross cash balance of about $20 billion. We expect to have periods when we will be above or below this amount due to (i) future cash flow expectations such as for pension contributions, debt maturities, capital investments, or restructuring requirements, (ii) short-term timing differences, and (iii) changes in the global economic environment. In addition, we also target to maintain a revolving credit facility for our Automotive business of about $10 billion to protect against exogenous shocks. Our revolving credit facility is discussed below.

We assess the appropriate long-term target for total Automotive liquidity, comprised of Automotive gross cash and the revolving credit facility, to be about $30 billion, which is an amount we believe is sufficient to support our business priorities and to protect our business. Our Automotive gross cash and Automotive liquidity targets could be reduced over time based on improved operating performance and changes in our risk profile.

For a discussion of risks to our liquidity, see "Item 1A. Risk Factors," in our 2014 Form 10-K Report, as well as Note 20 of the Notes to the Financial Statements, regarding commitments and contingencies that could impact our liquidity.

Our key liquidity metrics are Automotive gross cash, Automotive liquidity, and operating-related cash flow (which best represents the ability of our Automotive operations to generate cash).

Automotive gross cash includes cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities, net of any securities-in-transit. Automotive gross cash is detailed below as of the dates shown (in billions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014	March 31, 2014
Cash and cash equivalents	$5.1	$4.6	$4.5
Marketable securities	14.4	17.1	20.7
Total cash and marketable securities	19.5	21.7	25.2
Securities-in-transit (a)	—	—	—
Automotive gross cash	$19.5	$21.7	$25.2

(a) The purchase or sale of marketable securities for which the cash settlement was not made by period-end and a payable or receivable was recorded on the balance sheet.

Our cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities are held primarily in highly liquid investments, which provide for anticipated and unanticipated cash needs. Our cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities primarily include U.S. Department of Treasury obligations, federal agency securities, bank time deposits with investment-grade institutions, corporate investment-grade securities, commercial paper rated A-1/P-1 or higher, and debt obligations of a select group of non-U.S. governments, non-U.S. governmental agencies, and supranational institutions. The average maturity of these investments ranges from about 90 days to up to about one year, and is adjusted based on market conditions and liquidity needs. We monitor our cash levels and average maturity on a daily basis. Of our total Automotive gross cash at March 31, 2015, 86% was held by consolidated entities domiciled in the United States.

Automotive gross cash and liquidity as of the dates shown were as follows (in billions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014	March 31, 2014
Automotive gross cash	$19.5	$21.7	$25.2

Available credit lines
Revolving credit facility, unutilized portion	10.1	10.1	10.7
Local lines available to foreign affiliates, unutilized portion	0.6	0.6	0.7
Automotive liquidity	$30.2	$32.4	$36.6

In managing our business, we classify changes in Automotive gross cash into operating-related and other items (which includes the impact of certain special items, contributions to funded pension plans, certain tax-related transactions, acquisitions and divestitures, capital transactions with the Financial Services sector, dividends paid to shareholders, and other—primarily financing-related).

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

We believe the cash flow analysis reflected in the table below is useful to investors because it includes in operating-related cash flow elements that we consider to be related to our Automotive operating activities (e.g., capital spending) and excludes cash flow elements that we do not consider to be related to the ability of our operations to generate cash. This differs from a cash flow statement prepared in accordance with GAAP and differs from Net cash provided by/(used in) operating activities, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure.

Changes in Automotive gross cash are summarized below (in billions):

	First Quarter
	2015	2014
Automotive gross cash at end of period	$19.5	$25.2
Automotive gross cash at beginning of period	21.7	24.8
Change in Automotive gross cash	$(2.2)) $0.4
Automotive pre-tax profits (excluding special items)	$0.9	$0.9
Capital spending	(1.8)) (1.5)
Depreciation and tooling amortization	1.1	1.0
Changes in working capital (a)	0.8	1.7
Other/Timing differences (b)	(0.5)) (0.9)
Automotive operating-related cash flows	0.5	1.2
Separation payments	(0.4)) —
Net receipts from Financial Services sector (c)	—	0.2
Other (mainly purchase of Mazda's interest in AAI)	(0.3)) —
Cash flow before other actions	(0.2)) 1.4
Changes in debt	(0.6)) —
Funded pension contributions	(0.8)) (0.5)
Dividends/Other items	(0.6)) (0.5)
Change in Automotive gross cash	$(2.2)) $0.4

(a) Working capital comprised of changes in receivables, inventory, and trade payables.

Primarily expense and payment timing differences for items such as pension and OPEB, compensation, marketing, warranty, and timing differences between unconsolidated affiliate profits and dividends received. Also includes other factors, such as the impact of tax payments and vehicle financing activities between Automotive and FSG sectors.

(c) Primarily distributions from Ford Holdings (Ford Credit's parent) and tax payments received from Ford Credit.

With respect to "Changes in working capital," in general we carry relatively low Automotive sector trade receivables compared with our trade payables because the majority of our Automotive wholesales are financed (primarily by Ford Credit) immediately upon sale of vehicles to dealers, which generally occurs at the time the vehicles are gate-released shortly after being produced. In addition, our inventories are lean because we build to order, not for inventory. In contrast, our Automotive trade payables are based primarily on industry-standard production supplier payment terms generally ranging between 30 days to 45 days. As a result, our cash flow tends to improve as wholesale volumes increase, but can deteriorate significantly when wholesale volumes drop sharply. In addition, these working capital balances generally are subject to seasonal changes that can impact cash flow. For example, we typically experience cash flow timing differences associated with inventories and payables due to our annual summer and December shutdown periods, when production, and therefore inventories and wholesale volumes, are usually at their lowest levels, while payables continue to come due and be paid. The net impact of this typically results in cash outflows from changes in our working capital balances during these shutdown periods.

In the first quarter of 2015, we had a higher than normal level of non-operating related cash outflows associated with separation payments, the one-time payment for Mazda's interest in AAI (our former joint venture vehicle assembly plant in Michigan), debt repayments, and pension contributions. For the balance of the year, AAI will not repeat and quarterly cash outflows related to separation and debt payments and pension contributions will be, on average, much lower.

Shown below is a reconciliation between financial statement Net cash provided by/(used in) operating activities and operating-related cash flows (calculated as shown in the table above), as of the dates shown (in billions):

Credit Agreement. Lenders under our Second Amended and Restated Credit Agreement dated as of April 30, 2014 (the "revolving credit facility") have commitments to us totaling $12.2 billion, with about $9 billion maturing on April 30, 2019 and about $3 billion maturing on April 30, 2017. We have allocated $2 billion of commitments to Ford Credit on an irrevocable and exclusive basis to support its liquidity. Any borrowings by Ford Credit under the revolving credit facility would be guaranteed by us.

The revolving credit facility is unsecured and free of material adverse change conditions to borrowing, restrictive financial covenants (for example, interest or fixed charge coverage ratio, debt-to-equity ratio, and minimum net worth requirements), and credit rating triggers that could limit our ability to obtain funding. The revolving credit facility contains a liquidity covenant that requires us to maintain a minimum of $4 billion in aggregate of domestic cash, cash equivalents, and loaned and marketable securities and/or availability under the revolving credit facility. If our senior, unsecured, long-term debt does not maintain at least two investment grade ratings from Fitch, Moody's, and S&P (each as defined under "Total Company" below), the guarantees of certain subsidiaries will be required.

At March 31, 2015, the utilized portion of the revolving credit facility was $57 million, representing amounts utilized as letters of credit.

Although not yet complete, we are in the process of amending our revolving credit facility. When complete, we would expect the total facility to increase to $13.4 billion and the respective maturity dates to be extended by one year. The amendment would also provide for two new sub-facilities denominated in Brazilian real and Chinese renminbi, respectively. When completed, we intend to allocate the commitments under the renminbi sub-facility (initially the equivalent of $1 billion) to Ford Credit, in addition to the $2 billion of commitments we previously allocated to Ford Credit, on an irrevocable and exclusive basis. The closing will occur during the second quarter of 2015.

Other Automotive Credit Facilities. At March 31, 2015, we had $756 million of local credit facilities available to non-U.S. Automotive affiliates, of which $165 million had been utilized.

Net Cash. Our Automotive sector net cash calculation as of the dates shown was as follows (in billions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014
Automotive gross cash	$ 19.5	$ 21.7

Less:
Long-term debt	11.4	11.3
Debt payable within one year	2.0	2.5
Total debt	13.4	13.8
Net cash	$6.1	$7.9

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Total Automotive debt at March 31, 2015 was $400 million lower than it was at December 31, 2014. The reduction primarily reflects debt repayments, offset partially by the addition of the external debt of our Ford Sollers joint venture as a result of the consolidation of the joint venture on March 31, 2015. See Note 17 of the Notes to Financial Statements for further information about the consolidation of Ford Sollers.

We continue to work toward achieving our Automotive debt target of about $10 billion by 2018. We plan to reduce Automotive debt from current levels by using cash from operations to make scheduled debt repayments.

Liquidity Sufficiency. One of the four key priorities of our One Ford plan is to finance our plan and improve our balance sheet, while at the same time having resources available to grow our business. Based on our planning assumptions, we believe that we have sufficient liquidity and capital resources to continue to invest in new products that customers want and value, transform and grow our business, pay our debts and obligations as and when they come due, pay a sustainable dividend, and provide protection within an uncertain global economic environment.

Based on expected cash flows and the identification of additional opportunities for profitable growth, the ongoing amount of capital spending to support product development, growth, restructuring, and infrastructure is expected to increase to about $9 billion annually by 2020. Our capital spending was $7.4 billion and $6.6 billion in 2014 and 2013, respectively, and is expected to be about $7.5 billion in 2015.

We will continue to work to strengthen further our balance sheet and improve our investment grade ratings; the amount of incremental capital required to do this will diminish over time as we work toward achieving our Automotive debt target and fully fund and de-risk our global funded pension plans.

Financial Services Sector

Ford Credit

Funding Overview. Ford Credit's funding strategy remains focused on diversification, and it plans to continue accessing a variety of markets, channels, and investors.

Ford Credit's liquidity profile continues to be diverse, robust, and focused on maintaining liquidity levels that meet its business and funding requirements. Ford Credit regularly stress tests its balance sheet and liquidity to ensure that it continues to meet its financial obligations through economic cycles.

Public Term Funding Plan. The following table shows Ford Credit's planned issuances for full year 2015, its global public term funding issuances through April 27, 2015, and for full year 2014 and 2013 (in billions), excluding short-term funding programs:

	Public Term Funding Plan
	2015		Full-Year 2014	Full-Year 2013
	Full-Year Forecast	Through April 27
Unsecured	$ 12-15	$ 5	$ 13	$ 11
Securitized (a)	13-16	5	15	14
Total	$ 25-31	$ 10	$ 28	$ 25

(a) Includes Rule 144A offerings.

Through April 27, 2015, Ford Credit completed about $10 billion of funding in the public term markets, split about equally between unsecured debt and asset-backed security ("ABS") transactions. Ford Credit completed its second ABS transaction in China of 3 billion renminbi. This transaction is a significant step in Ford Credit's continued progress of implementing its funding strategy to be more capital markets focused.

For 2015, the forecasted ranges are unchanged from prior guidance.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

The following chart shows the trends in funding for Ford Credit's managed receivables:

At the end of the first quarter of 2015, managed receivables were $113 billion, and Ford Credit ended the quarter with about $13 billion in cash. Securitized funding was 40% of managed receivables.

Ford Credit is projecting 2015 year-end managed receivables of $123 billion to $128 billion and securitized funding as a percentage of managed receivables in the range of 37% to 39%. Ford Credit continues to expect this percentage to decline over time.

Liquidity. The following table illustrates Ford Credit's liquidity programs and utilization (in billions):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014
Liquidity Sources
Cash (a)	$13.0	$8.9

(b) Committed ABS lines are subject to availability of sufficient assets and ability to obtain derivatives to manage interest rate risk.

(c) Used only to support on-balance sheet securitization transactions.

(d) Adjustments include other committed ABS lines in excess of eligible receivables and certain cash within FordREV available through future sales of receivables.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

As of March 31, 2015, Ford Credit's liquidity remains strong at $27.9 billion, an increase of $1.4 billion from year end 2014. Ford Credit's sources of liquidity include cash, committed asset-backed lines, unsecured credit facilities, and the corporate revolver allocation.

As of March 31, 2015, Ford Credit's liquidity sources including cash totaled $48.5 billion, up $2.3 billion from year end, reflecting higher cash balances to meet Ford Credit's near-term debt maturities. Ford Credit is focused on maintaining a strong liquidity position to meet its business and funding requirements through economic cycles.

Leverage. Ford Credit uses leverage, or the debt-to-equity ratio, to make various business decisions, including evaluating and establishing pricing for finance receivable and operating lease financing, and assessing its capital structure. Ford Credit refers to its shareholder's interest as equity.

The following table shows the calculation of Ford Credit's financial statement leverage (in billions, except for ratios):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014
Total debt (a)	$109.1	$105.0
Equity	11.2	11.4
Financial statement leverage (to 1)	9.8	9.2

(a) Includes debt issued in securitization transactions and payable only out of collections on the underlying securitized assets and related enhancements. Ford Credit holds the right to receive the excess cash flows not needed to pay the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions.

The following table shows the calculation of Ford Credit's managed leverage (in billions, except for ratios):

	March 31, 2015	December 31, 2014
Total debt (a)	$109.1	$105.0
Adjustments for cash (b)	(13.0)	(8.9)
Adjustments for derivative accounting (c)	(0.7)	(0.4)
Total adjusted debt	$95.4	$95.7
Equity	$11.2	$11.4
Adjustments for derivative accounting (c)	(0.4)	(0.4)
Total adjusted equity	$10.8	$11.0
Managed leverage (to 1) (d)	8.8	8.7

(a) Includes debt issued in securitization transactions and payable only out of collections on the underlying securitized assets and related enhancements. Ford Credit holds the right to receive the excess cash flows not needed to pay the debt issued by, and other obligations of, the securitization entities that are parties to those securitization transactions.

(b) Cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities (excludes marketable securities related to insurance activities).

(c) Primarily related to market valuation adjustments to derivatives due to movements in interest rates. Adjustments to debt are related to designated fair value hedges and adjustments to equity are related to retained earnings.

(d) Equals total adjusted debt over total adjusted equity.

Ford Credit plans its managed leverage by considering prevailing market conditions and the risk characteristics of its business. At March 31, 2015, Ford Credit's managed leverage was 8.8:1, compared with 8.7:1 at December 31, 2014.

Item 2. Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (Continued)

Total Company

Equity. At March 31, 2015, Total equity attributable to Ford Motor Company was $24.9 billion, an increase of $142 million compared with December 31, 2014. The increase primarily reflects favorable changes in Retained earnings of $331 million related to first quarter 2015 Net income attributable to Ford Motor Company of $924 million, net of cash dividends declared of $593 million; favorable changes in Capital in excess of par value of stock of $184 million related to compensation-related equity issuances; offset by unfavorable changes in Accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss) of $374 million.

Credit Ratings. Our short-term and long-term debt is rated by four credit rating agencies designated as nationally recognized statistical rating organizations (“NRSROs”) by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission:

- DBRS Limited (“DBRS”);
- Fitch, Inc. (“Fitch”);
- Moody’s Investors Service, Inc. (“Moody’s”); and
- Standard & Poor’s Ratings Services, a division of McGraw Hill Financial (“S&P”).

In several markets, locally-recognized rating agencies also rate us. A credit rating reflects an assessment by the rating agency of the credit risk associated with a corporate entity or particular securities issued by that entity. Rating agencies’ ratings of us are based on information provided by us and other sources. Credit ratings assigned to us from all of the NRSROs are closely associated with their opinions on Ford. Credit ratings are not recommendations to buy, sell, or hold securities, and are subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency. Each rating agency may have different criteria for evaluating company risk and, therefore, ratings should be evaluated independently for each rating agency.

There have been no rating actions taken by these NRSROs since the filing of our 2014 Form 10-K.

The following chart summarizes certain of the credit ratings and outlook presently assigned by these four NRSROs:

NRSRO RATINGS
NRSRO	Ford			Ford Credit			NRSROs Minimum Long-Term Investment Grade Rating
	Default / Corporate / Issuer Rating	Long-Term Senior Unsecured	Outlook / Trend	Long-Term Senior Unsecured	Short-Term Unsecured	Outlook / Trend
DBRS	BBB (low)	BBB (low)	Stable	BBB (low)	R-3	Stable	BBB (low)
Fitch	BBB-	BBB-	Positive	BBB-	F3	Positive	BBB-
Moody’s	N/A	Baa3	Stable	Baa3	P-3	Stable	Baa3
S&P *	BBB-	BBB-	Stable	BBB-	A-3	Stable	BBB-

* S&P assigns FCE Bank plc (“FCE”) a long-term senior unsecured credit rating of BBB, a one-notch higher rating than Ford and Ford Credit, with a stable outlook.

OUTLOOK

Business Environment

We expect this year to be a year of growth globally with GDP growth in the 3% range. This will be driven by the United States, China, although at levels lower than in years past, and improved growth in the Euro Area with the United Kingdom continuing to perform at a higher level. The principal areas of concern are South America, which continues to face difficulties, and Russia. We also expect the strong U.S. dollar and weak commodity prices, including oil, to continue throughout the year. All in all, we see conditions as still being supportive of modest growth in global automotive industry sales in 2015.

2015 Planning Assumptions and Key Metrics

Based on the current economic environment, our planning assumptions and key metrics for 2015 include the following:

	2014 Full Year Results	2015 Full Year Plan	Outlook	Memo: 2015 First Quarter Results
Planning Assumptions (Mils.)
Industry Volume -- U.S.	16.8	17.0 - 17.5	On Track	17.1
-- Europe 20	14.6	14.8 - 15.3	15.2 - 15.7	15.7
-- China	24.0	24.5 - 26.5	24.0 - 26.0	24.0
Key Metrics
Automotive (Compared with 2014):
- Revenue (Bils.)	$135.8	Higher	On Track	$31.8
- Operating Margin	3.9	% Higher	On Track	3.6 %
- Operating-Related Cash Flow (Bils.) (a)	$3.6	Higher	On Track	$0.5
Ford Credit (Compared with 2014):
- Pre-Tax Profit (Bils.)	$1.9	Equal To Or Higher	On Track	$0.5
Total Company:
- Pre-Tax Profit (Bils.) (a)	$6.3	$8.5 - $9.5	On Track	$1.4

(a) Excludes special items; reconciliation to GAAP provided in "Results of Operations" and "Liquidity and Capital Resources" above

We expect this year to be a very strong one for Ford Motor Company.

In terms of industry sales outlook, we are raising our guidance for Europe 20, while trimming it back a bit in China. Industry sales in the United States still look to be on track for 17 million to 17.5 million units.

All of our other financial guidance at the Company level remains on track. We expect growth in Automotive revenue compared with 2014, higher Automotive operating margin, higher positive operating cash flow, equal or higher results at Ford Credit, and a total Company pre-tax profit, excluding special items, of $8.5 billion to $9.5 billion.

We continue to expect the second half of 2015 will be more profitable than the first half of the year due to the timing of our product and capacity launches.

We now expect our operating effective tax rate, which we have changed to include the profits of our unconsolidated subsidiaries, to be about equal to or higher than our 2014 rate of 26% calculated under this same method. This outlook continues to assume extension of U.S. research credit legislation in the fourth quarter of 2015.

We believe our first quarter 2015 results have us on track for the breakthrough year we expect 2015 to be.

ITEM 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

Automotive Sector

Foreign Currency Risk. The net fair value of foreign exchange forward contracts (including adjustments for credit risk), as of March 31, 2015, was a liability of $118 million compared with a liability of $130 million as of December 31, 2014. The potential decrease in fair value from a 10% adverse change in the underlying exchange rates, in U.S. dollar terms, would be $2.1 billion at March 31, 2015, unchanged from December 31, 2014.

Commodity Price Risk. The net fair value of commodity forward contracts (including adjustments for credit risk) as of March 31, 2015 was a liability of $46 million, compared with a liability of $66 million as of December 31, 2014. The potential decrease in fair value from a 10% adverse change in the underlying commodity prices, in U.S. dollar terms, would be $61 million at March 31, 2015, compared with $63 million at December 31, 2014.

Financial Services Sector

Interest Rate Risk. To provide a quantitative measure of the sensitivity of its pre-tax cash flow to changes in interest rates, Ford Credit uses interest rate scenarios that assume a hypothetical, instantaneous increase or decrease of one percentage point in all interest rates across all maturities (a "parallel shift"), as well as a base case that assumes that all interest rates remain constant at existing levels. The differences in pre-tax cash flow between these scenarios and the base case over a twelve-month period represent an estimate of the sensitivity of Ford Credit's pre-tax cash flow. Under this model, Ford Credit estimates that at March 31, 2015, all else constant, such an increase in interest rates would decrease its pre-tax cash flow by $11 million over the next 12 months, compared with a decrease of $46 million at December 31, 2014. In reality, interest rate changes are rarely instantaneous or parallel and rates could move more or less than the one percentage point assumed in Ford Credit's analysis. As a result, the actual impact to pre-tax cash flow could be higher or lower than the results detailed above.

ITEM 4. Controls and Procedures.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures. Mark Fields, our Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"), and Bob Shanks, our Chief Financial Officer ("CFO"), have performed an evaluation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures, as that term is defined in Rule 13a-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act"), as of March 31, 2015, and each has concluded that such disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our periodic reports filed under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified by SEC rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to the CEO and CFO to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting. In October 2011, we and Sollers formed the Ford Sollers joint venture to operate in Russia, which was accounted for using the equity method. On March 31, 2015, we and Sollers agreed to certain changes to the structure of the Ford Sollers joint venture and the related shareholders' agreement. The changes include Ford providing additional funding to the joint venture and gaining a controlling interest in the joint venture through the acquisition of preferred shares. As a result, effective March 31, 2015, we have consolidated the joint venture for financial reporting purposes.
