ITEM 9. REGULATION FD DISCLOSURE

DIRECTV Latin America, LLC, a subsidiary of Hughes Electronics Corporation (Hughes - GMH), announced that it has initiated actions to address its financial and operational challenges. The release is as follows:

DIRECTV LATIN AMERICA INITIATES ACTIONS TO ADDRESS FINANCIAL AND OPERATIONAL CHALLENGES

Company Retains AlixPartners To Assist With Restructuring

FORT LAUDERDALE, FL, January 8, 2003 - DIRECTV Latin America, LLC, the leading direct-to-home satellite television service in Latin America and the Caribbean, today announced that it has initiated discussions with certain programmers, suppliers, lenders and business associates to address the Company's current financial and operational challenges. The Company also announced that it has retained AlixPartners, LLC, a leading turnaround and management services firm, to assist with its restructuring initiative. Michael A. Feder, a principal at AlixPartners, has been named Chief Restructuring Officer of DIRECTV Latin America, reporting to Kevin N. McGrath, Chairman of DIRECTV Latin America.

DIRECTV Latin America is a Delaware limited liability company owned by DIRECTV Latin America Holdings, a subsidiary of Hughes Electronics Corporation; Darlene Investments, LLC, an affiliate of the Cisneros Group of Companies; and Grupo Clarin.

"We are moving aggressively to implement a plan for DIRECTV Latin America that is consistent with our overall objectives of enhanced competitiveness and profitable growth," McGrath said.

"We have started discussions with certain programmers, suppliers, lenders and business associates in an effort to resolve issues that have affected the financial performance of DIRECTV Latin America in recent years, including excessive fixed costs and a substantial debt burden during a time of economic deterioration throughout Latin America," McGrath said. "There are some significant contracts that need to be realigned with the realities of the marketplace. We will also continue to encourage programmers and suppliers to share directly and appropriately the risks of exchange rate fluctuation and currency devaluation."

McGrath continued, "Our Company's current financial condition is unacceptable and an effective solution must be executed urgently. Accordingly, if our discussions do not result in a reasonable agreement in the near future, we would consider other options available to the Company, including restructuring the Company under Chapter 11 of the U.S. bankruptcy law."

The Company does not expect any of the actions it is currently taking or considering to negatively impact its business operations in Latin America and the Caribbean. There are no plans for any of the local operating companies to seek court protection. Even if the U.S. parent (DIRECTV Latin America, LLC) does seek court protection, the Company expects that the local operating companies will continue normal operations.

Over the past 18 months, in response to difficult conditions in the markets where it operates, DIRECTV Latin America has concentrated on improving business efficiencies and reducing its operating costs and cash requirements. Among other actions, the Company has significantly reduced general and administrative expenses and headcount, and eliminated all non-essential business activities and capital expenditures.

"We remain firmly committed to continuing normal business operations in all of our markets across Latin America and providing our customers with the best service and widest array of entertainment options," McGrath said.
