Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Central Pacific Financial Corp. (the “Company”) previously reported that it entered into separate investment agreements (the “Investment Agreements”) with an affiliate of The Carlyle Group (“Carlyle”) and an affiliate of Anchorage Capital Group, L.L.C. (“Anchorage” and collectively with Carlyle, the “Investors”), pursuant to which each Investor agreed, subject to certain conditions, to invest approximately $98 million in common stock, no par value, of the Company (the “Common Stock”) (each an “Investment” and, collectively, the “Investments”). As previously reported, one of the conditions to the completion of each Investment is the exchange of the Company’s preferred stock (the “TARP Preferred Stock”) issued to the U.S. Treasury (“Treasury”) for Common Stock having a value of the sum of 25% of the aggregate liquidation preference of the TARP Preferred Stock (valuing the Common Stock at $0.75 per share) and 100% of the amount of accrued and unpaid dividends on the TARP Preferred Stock as of the closing date.

On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in a letter dated December 16, 2010 from the Treasury to the Company, the Treasury agreed to consent to an exchange of the TARP Preferred Stock, together with the accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, into Common Stock having an aggregate value of approximately 37.5% of the sum of the original par amount of the TARP Preferred Stock plus accrued and unpaid dividends on the TARP Preferred Stock. The price at which the TARP Preferred Stock would exchange into Common Stock is the lesser of $0.50 per share and the lowest price at which capital is raised in connection with the Company’s recapitalization plan. The warrant issued to the Treasury in connection with the Treasury’s investment in the TARP Preferred Stock will be amended to reflect an exercise price equal to such price. The Treasury’s consent to an exchange on the terms described above is subject to the execution of a definitive exchange agreement and certain other terms and conditions.

As a result of the revised terms of the TARP exchange described above, the Company and each Investor agreed to amend the terms of their respective Investment Agreements on December 20, 2010 to reduce the purchase price of common stock from $0.75 to $0.50 per share, resulting in an investment amount of approximately $98.6 million by each Investor, and to revise the TARP exchange condition to require the TARP exchange to occur on the terms described above.

The closing of each Investment remains subject to the following conditions, among others: the remaining $127.8 million being raised from other investors; the exchange of the TARP Preferred Stock on the terms described above; amendment of the warrant issued to the Treasury to reduce the exercise price to $0.50 per share; the receipt of approvals from banking regulators; the absence of burdensome regulatory conditions; maintenance of minimum liquidity levels; satisfaction of the capital ratios required by the consent order imposed on the Company’s subsidiary bank at the closing; no material change in tax laws relating to deferred tax assets; receipt of a tax opinion; and absence of a material adverse effect on the Company and its subsidiaries.
