PROPOSAL #1

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Company's By-Laws provide that the directors of the Company shall be divided into three classes and that, at each annual meeting of stockholders of the Company, successors to the class of directors whose term expires at the annual meeting will be elected for a three-year term. The classes are staggered so that the term of one class expires each year. Mr. Rettinger and Mr. Swoveland are members of the class whose term expires in 2002; Mr. Morgan, Mr. Nestor and Mr. Williams are members of the class whose term expires in 2003; and Mr. D'Annunzio and Mr. Ryan are members of class whose term expires in 2004. There is no family relationship between any director or executive officer and any other director or executive officer of the Company. There are no arrangements or understandings between any director or officer and any other person pursuant to which such person was selected as an officer. Votes pursuant to the enclosed proxy will be cast, unless authority is withheld, for the election of the two persons named under "Nominees for Terms Expiring 2005" below, each of whom are members of the present Board and each of whom are expected to be able to serve on the Board to be elected at this meeting. If any of such persons is unwilling or unable to act in such capacity, an event which is not now anticipated, the enclosed proxy will be voted for such person or persons as the Board of Directors may designate. During 2001, the Board of Directors held six meetings. No director attended fewer than 75% of the aggregate of all meetings of the Board and the committees, if any, upon which such director served.

Vote Required

A plurality of the votes cast at the Annual Meeting in person or by proxy, is required for the election of directors. Abstentions and broker non-votes will not be considered as votes cast with respect to the election of directors, and therefore any abstentions or broker non-votes will not affect the election of the candidates receiving a majority of the votes cast.

Committees of the Board of Directors

The Company has three standing committees of the Board of Directors: the Executive Committee; the Audit Committee; and the Stock Option and Executive Compensation Committee. The Executive Committee is comprised of Messrs. Ryan, Williams, and Rettinger. The Audit Committee is comprised of Messrs. D'Annunzio, Nestor, and Swoveland. The Stock Option and Executive Compensation Committee is comprised of Messrs. D'Annunzio, Nestor and Swoveland. The Company does not have a formal Nominating Committee, the full Board of Directors handles these responsibilities.

The functions performed by the Executive Committee include handling important Board of Directors matters that arise between Board of Directors meetings, serving as a liaison between the Board of Directors and senior management on important matters requiring Board of Directors attention and recommending to the Board of Directors nominations for election of new and existing members of the Board of Directors.

The Audit Committee is comprised entirely of outside Directors of the Company. The functions performed by the Audit Committee include recommending the selection of independent accountants, reviewing with the Company's independent accountants the results of audits performed by them and overseeing and reviewing monthly and quarterly unaudited financial statements. These reviews include the adequacy of cash flow and the status of credit arrangements of the Company. The Board of Directors has adopted the Charter of the Audit Committee attached to this Proxy as Exhibit A.

The Stock Option and Executive Compensation Committee is comprised entirely of outside Directors of the Company. The functions performed by this committee include recommending to the Board of Directors compensation levels of senior management and directing and recommending levels of corporate stock options and other benefit plans of the Company. In this regard, the committee monitors trends to ensure the Company's compensation levels are competitive in the oil and natural gas industry.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

The members of the Stock Option and Executive Compensation Committee are Messrs. D'Annunzio, Nestor and Swoveland. There are no Stock Option and Executive Compensation Committee interlocks.

Indemnification of Directors and Officers

The Company's By-Laws provide that the Company shall indemnify any director, officer, employee, or other agent of the Company who is or was a party, or is threatened to be made a party, to any proceeding (other than an action by or in the right of the Company to procure a judgment in its favor) by reason of the fact that such person is or was an agent of the Company against expenses, judgments, fines, settlements, and other amounts actually and reasonably incurred in connection with such proceeding, if that person acted in good faith and in a manner that person reasonably believed to be in the best interest of the Company, and in the case of a criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the conduct of that person was unlawful.

The Company has entered into separate indemnification agreements with each of its directors and officers whereby the Company has agreed to indemnify the director or officer against all expenses, including attorneys' fees, and other amounts reasonably incurred by the officer or director in connection with any threatened, pending or completed civil, criminal, administrative or investigative action or proceeding to which such person is party by reason of the fact that he is or was a director or officer, as the case may be, of the Company, if the person acted in good faith and in a manner reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, the person had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct to be unlawful. The agreements provide for the advancement of expenses and that the Company has the right to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of the director or officer against any liability or liabilities asserted against him, whether or not the Company would have the power to indemnify the person against such liability under any provision of the agreement. The Company has agreed to indemnify such person against expenses actually and reasonably incurred in connection with any action in which the person has been successful on the merits or otherwise. Indemnification must also be provided by the Company (unless ordered otherwise by a court) only as authorized in the specific case upon a determination that the indemnification of the person is appropriate because he has met the applicable standard of conduct described in the agreement made by (i) the Board of Directors, by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who are not parties to such action or proceeding, (ii) by independent legal counsel in a written opinion or (iii) the shareholders of the Company.

(1) In 1994, the Board of Directors approved a deferred compensation arrangement for the Named Executives. See "Employment and Other Agreements and Arrangements." Under the arrangements, each Named Executive may choose to defer any portion of his bonus compensation until retirement or separation from the Company. Included are deferred bonuses the Named Executives voluntarily deferred of $50,000 for Mr. Ryan and $150,000 each for Messrs. Williams and Rettinger in 2001, $150,000 each in 2000 and $130,000 each in 1999. In 2001, 2000 and 1999, $30,000 of the deferred bonus compensation of Messrs. Williams and Rettinger was utilized to pay the premiums of split-dollar life insurance policies for Messrs. Williams and Rettinger. Also included in the bonus for each of the three named executives is a tax reimbursement authorized by the Board of Directors in January of 2000 to offset taxes generated by the exercise of stock options. The bonus was paid at the time the taxes became due in 2001.

(2) The respective Named Executives receive fees as directors of the Company in the amount of $10,000 per year.

(3) This amount includes contributions made by the Company under the Company's Employee Profit Sharing Plan and 401(k) plan. In 2001 and 1999 the Company contributed $200,000 and $47,000, respectively, to the Employee Profit Sharing Plan. Of these contributions, each of the Named Executives was credited $7,846 in 2001 and $2,157 in 1999. The Company provided a matching of 401(k) contribution based upon all employees respective contributions. Of the total Company matching contribution of $260,800, $252,600 and $217,400 in 2001, 2000 and 1999 each of the Named Executives were credited with matching contributions of $10,500 in 2001 and 2000 and $10,000 in 1999.

Compensation Committee Report

The Compensation Committee is composed of three outside directors. The committee's primary responsibility is to develop the Company's compensation policy to enable the Company to hire, retain and motivate high performing employees. The committee also administers the Company's Savings and Protection Plan (the "401(k) Plan"), various Employee Stock Option Plans, and the Company's Profit Sharing Plan. The committee reviews the performance and compensation of the Chief Executive Officer, and the two executive officers of the Company. Final approval of all contracts with company executives is reserved to the full Board of Directors.

During 2001, and over the past five years, the company has posted excellent operating reports. During 2001 the company posted records for revenue, net income, cash flow, production and reserves, among other accomplishments. Over the past five years, the company's stock has significantly out-performed the oil and gas industry as a whole. The compensation committee also believes that the management has positioned the company to continue its exemplary performance in the future with a strong balance sheet, strong cash flow, and diverse development opportunities. It is the opinion of this committee that the management team of the company merits compensation at the very top of its peer group.

Compensation paid to the CEO, Mr. Ryan, and to the executive officers of the Company is based on several factors, including the terms of their employment contracts, the earnings of the Company, the evaluation of the Board of the performance of the employees, as well as compensation paid to similarly situated employees with other similar firms.

As CEO, Mr. Ryan received a salary of $192,439 in 2001, which reflected cost of living increases from his salary in 2000. Also during 2001 Mr. Ryan earned a cash bonus of $712,332 based on Company earnings, including $147,000 to partially offset the taxes associated with an exercise of stock options during 2000. This tax reimbursement was approved by the Board prior to the exercise of the options in January of 2000, and paid when the taxes became due in 2001. The Board, at the recommendation of the Compensation Committee, has subsequently adopted a policy prohibiting future tax reimbursement bonuses. Under the terms of his employment contract, Mr. Ryan's bonus is based on the company's cash flow (pre-tax earnings plus depreciation, depletion and amortization). The compensation committee believe that the long term valuation of the company is closely related to the company's cash flow.

As a condition of the tax reimbursement Mr. Ryan agreed not to sell the shares received in the exercise for a period of two years. The company's income tax savings associated the stock exercise were greater than the reimbursement made to Mr. Ryan. Limiting the need for an executive to sell stock to meet tax obligations can prevent the negative impact on the stock price of stock sales by executive managers, to the benefit of all shareholders.

The Company also contributed $10,500 in 2001 to Mr. Ryan's 401(k) account in accordance with the plan's matching provisions to all participating employees.

The compensation of the two executive officers of the Company is also comprised of a salary, a performance based bonus, and a tax reimbursement associated with the exercise of stock options. Like Mr. Ryan, the executive's performance bonuses are based on the cash flow of the company. The executives also received a tax reimbursement estimated to partially offset the tax liability associated with the option exercise, and agreed to a two year sale restriction on stock obtained in the option exercise associated with the tax reimbursement. Salaries of both were increased by a cost of living adjustment and performance bonuses were paid based on the Company's earnings, both as provided in the executive's employment agreements. Both executives also received a share of Company matching contributions to the Company 401(k) plan.

During 2001 the Company reviewed the employment contracts of the CEO and the executive officers of the Company, and determined that no changes were required. The Compensation Committee believes the Company has made substantial progress over the past several years through varying industry and economic conditions, and that the progress is attributable in large measure to the efforts of the CEO and the executive officers.

The Company has retained a nationally recognized compensation consulting firm to help identify an appropriate peer group, determine competitive compensation, to review the current employment contracts and to assist the committee in developing compensation guidelines for the executive officers of the company. The committee will use this information to recommend contract changes and compensation levels and structures when the current employment contracts of the executive employees expire at the end of 2003.

Employment and Other Agreements and Arrangements

The Company has entered into employment agreements with each of the Named Executives, each of which has a term ending December 31, 2003. Pursuant to the respective terms of the employment agreements, each of the Named Executives is entitled to receive the basic annual salary set forth therein that is subject to increase, but not decrease (unless dire economic circumstances as declared by the Board of Directors requires a reduction for all senior executive employees of the Company), as the Board of Directors may determine to reflect changes in the cost of living, the financial success of the Company and the performance of such Named Executive. For 2001, the basic salary has been set by the Board of Directors under the respective agreements as $192,435 for Mr. Ryan, $154,035 for Mr. Williams and $154,035 for Mr. Rettinger. Each Named Executive is also entitled to be paid an annual bonus equal to 2.5% of the Company's annual earnings in excess of $300,000 without deduction for Depreciation, depletion, and amortization and income taxes. In January of 2000, the Compensation Committee also awarded a bonus of $147,000 to each named executive officer to defray the income tax effect of the exercise of stock options. This bonus was payable at the time the tax became due in 2001. In exchange, the exercised shares cannot be sold in the open market for a period of two years from date of exercise. The bonus is tax deductible for the company. The Company has been required to establish a deferred compensation plan, described below, for the Named Executives and to fund such plan with an annual contribution of $30,000 commencing in 1994. Commencing January 1, 2004, each of the three executive officers will vest and be entitled to receive an annual payment equal to $60,000 for Mr. Ryan and $40,000 for Mr. Rettinger and Mr. Williams per year upon retirement from the company and continuing for 10 years payable on July 1st of each year.

In the event of a change in control of the Company, each Named Executive has the right within six months after such change of control to elect to terminate his employment under his employment agreement and receive severance compensation equal to the sum of his basic salary plus an amount equal to the average bonus paid to him over the preceding three years as provided in the agreement multiplied by the remaining years of the employment agreement, provided, however, that the minimum severance compensation must not be less than the amount equal to three years of basic compensation plus an amount equal to three times the average bonus paid to such person over the preceding three-year period.

Each employment agreement also provides that if the Company obtains the right to sell working interests in any drilling program, the Named Executive is entitled to participate as an investor in such oil and gas drilling project subject to the prior approval by the Board of Directors of the terms of any such participation.

Each employment agreement contains a standard non-disclosure covenant. Each employment agreement also provides that the Named Executive is prohibited during the term of his employment and for a period of one year following his termination from engaging in any business that is competitive with the Company's oil and gas drilling business, unless his termination results from a change of control of the Company. During any period for which the non-competition provision prohibits the officer from pursuing activities that would compete with the Company's business as provided in the agreement following termination of the agreement, the Company is required to pay the officer his basic salary and bonus as provided in the agreement.

In the event of termination under the terms of the agreement, the Company will be required to loan to the officer funds equal to the exercise price of all options held by the Named Executive under the Company's stock option plans, which loan, if made, must be repaid within nine months and will bear interest at the prime rate then in effect.

Each employment agreement may be terminated for cause for willful misfeasance or malfeasance, disregard of the Named Executive's duties or negligence related to the performance of his duties, if so determined by a court of competent jurisdiction. Also, the Company may terminate the employment agreement without cause, in which case the Company must either (i) reassign the Named Executive to a comparable executive position or designate him as a consultant for the remaining term of his agreement (ii) pay him liquidated damages in an amount equal to his then basic salary for the remaining term of the employment agreement, with a minimum payment equal to twelve months of basic salary.

The Company has entered into stock redemption agreements with each of the Named Executives. The agreements require the Company to maintain life insurance policies on each of them in the amount of $1 million. At the election of the Named Executive's estate or heirs made within one year of such person's death, the Company must utilize the proceeds from such insurance policies to purchase from his estate or heirs all or a portion of his shares of the Company's Common Stock owned by him, including shares subject to outstanding stock options or warrants owned by such Named Executive at the time of his death, up to an aggregate sale price of $1 million. The purchase price for such shares of Common Stock will be based upon the average closing asked price for the Company's Common Stock as quoted by Nasdaq during a specified period. The Company is not required to purchase any shares in excess of the amount provided by such insurance policies. If the Named Executive's estate or heirs elect not to sell any or all of the shares to the Company, the estate or heirs will be precluded from selling the shares to anyone for a period of two years after the date of the person's death, except that the shares may be transferred into the names of the decedent's heirs and beneficiaries and the stock sold pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act. If the Named Executive terminates his employment with the Company or disposes of all or substantially all of his shares of Common Stock in the Company, the Named Executive has the right to purchase his respective insurance policy for a price equal to the cash surrender value of the policy as of the date of such event. If the Named Executive fails to purchase the policy within ninety days after such event, the Company may cancel all policies covering the life of the Name Executive. The stock redemption agreements will terminate upon bankruptcy or cessation of business by the Company.

Mr. Ryan, Mr. Williams and Mr. Rettinger are also the participants in the Company's deferred bonus compensation plan. Under this plan, the Company's Board of Directors must declare a year-end bonus for each participant, the receipt of which is automatically deferred pursuant to the plan, unless prior to the beginning of a particular year, the participant enters into a voluntary bonus compensation agreement under which he irrevocably elects to receive his year-end bonus as cash compensation, payable as soon as practicable following the end of the year. The amount of the participant's year-end bonus is a minimum of $30,000 or such greater amount as may be declared by the Board of Directors. The participant also has the right to elect to defer receipt of his other bonus compensation under this plan. Any bonus compensation deferred under this plan will not be paid until such participant's retirement, or upon termination of employment, disability or death or upon hardship, as provided in the plan. A trustee selected by the Board of Directors maintains accounts for each participant under the plan. The Company has reserved the right to terminate the deferred bonus compensation plan, in whole or in part, at any time and without liability for such termination or discontinuance.

Stock Option Plans

Under the Company's incentive stock option plans, options to purchase shares of Common Stock of the Company may be granted to certain officers and key employees of the Company, which options are intended to qualify as incentive stock options under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. Under the plan adopted in 1999, the Company granted options during 2001 for an aggregate of 150,000 shares of Common Stock at an exercise price of 100% of the fair market value per share of the Company's Common Stock on the date of grant. None of the 150,000 options were granted to the three executive officers of the Company. The options may be exercised six months after the date of grant. Options will expire ten years from the date of grant if not exercised. A dissolution or liquidation of the Company or a merger or consolidation in which the Company is not the surviving corporation will cause each outstanding option to terminate, provided that each optionee, in such event, will have the right immediately prior to said dissolution or liquidation or merger or consolidation to exercise his option in whole or in part without regard to any installment vesting provisions with respect to such options.

The following table shows the number of outstanding options and the weighted average exercise price of those options.

Key-Man Life Insurance

The Company maintains key-man life insurance policies on the lives of Messrs. Ryan, Williams and Rettinger in the amounts of $5.0 million, $1.0 million, and $1.0 million, respectively. The Company is the beneficiary of each policy.

Employee 401k and Profit Sharing Plan

In 1987, the Company established a retirement plan qualified under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. The plan is funded by employee contributions and a company matching contribution. Administrative costs of the plan are borne by the Company. The employees choose from eight investment programs and, therefore, the amount of an individual's plan assets depends on the amount of their contributions and the performance by their chosen investments.

In 1992, the Company began a Profit Sharing Retirement plan to supplement the 401(k) Plan. Contributions are dependent on corporate profitability and are at the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Company. The Company filed and qualified the plan with the Internal Revenue Service.
