Acquired Sales Corp.

(a development stage enterprise)
Notes to Unaudited Financial Statements

Note 1: Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited financial statements of Acquired Sales Corp. (the "Company") were prepared pursuant to the rules and regulations of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America have been condensed or omitted pursuant to such rules and regulations. Management of the Company ("Management") believes that the following disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements and the notes thereto for the year ended September 30, 2007 included in the Company's Form 10-KSBreport.

These unaudited financial statements reflect all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments that, in the opinion of Management, are necessary to present fairly the financial position and results of operations of the Company for the periods presented. Operating results for the three monthsended December 31, 2007, are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending September 30, 2008.

Note 2: Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Acquired Sales Corp. (the "Company") was incorporated under the laws of the State of Nevada on January 2, 1986. In August 2001, the Company ceased all of its prior operations and remained dormant from then until May 27, 2004 when it began new development stage activities.

Development stage enterprise– The Company is a development stage enterprise and has not engaged in any operations that have generated any revenue. The Company's efforts have been devoted primarily to raising capital, borrowing funds and attempting to enter into a reverse acquisition with an operating entity.

Use of estimates– These financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and require that management make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. The use of estimates and assumptions may also affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates or assumptions.

Basic and diluted loss per share of common stock– Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding and dilutive potential common shares, if the exercise of outstanding warrants had occurred. There were 175,000 warrants outstanding at December 31, 2007 that were excluded from the calculation of diluted loss per share.

Business condition– The Company's financial statements have been prepared using accounting principles generally accepted n the United States of America applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. During the year ended September 30, 2007, the Company realized a gain as a result of the forgiveness of an accrued liability and received proceeds from the issuance of a note payable to a related party that was converted into common stock in the amount of $100,000; however, no revenue was generated from operations. During this same period the Company used $82,559 of cash in its operating activities. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty. The Company's ability to meet its ongoing financial requirements is dependent on management being able to obtain additional equity and/or debt financing, the realization of which is not assured. In addition, the Company is dependent on management being willing to continue to serve without monetary remunerations.

Note 2 – Letter agreement and warrants

Effective as of August 2007, the Company entered into a Letter Agreement with a private merchant bank to provide certain services related to the identification, evaluation and financing of potential acquisitions by the Company. Pursuant to the Letter Agreement, which terminated on December 31, 2007, the Company paid on August 2, 2007, a one-time $20,000 fee and prepaid accountable expenses of $10,000. During the three months ended December 31, 2007, the remaining $12,000 one-time fee and $2,374 of the accountable expenses were charged to expense. In addition, the Company issued warrants exercisable for 175,000 shares of common stock at $0.10 per share. The Company valued these warrants at $11,970 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model and charged this amount to expense during the year ended September 31, 2007. Under certain conditions and events, the Company may become obligated to make additional cash payments of six percent of the gross proceeds of an equity investment and three percent of the gross proceeds of a debt investment received by the Company and two percent of the consideration received by the Company as a transactional fee. The Company may also be required to issue additional warrants exercisable at the same price as shares being issued in an equity investment.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation.

Results of Operations

Three months Ended December 31, 2007 compared with Three months Ended December 31, 2006

No operating revenues were generated during the three months ended December 31, 2007 and December 31, 2006. Operating expenses increased by $19,188 to $20,460 for the three months ended December 31, 2007. The increased operating expenses resulted principally from increased professional fees paid in 2007 as compared with 2006. The Company's net loss increased by $17,992 to $20,460 for the three months ended December 31, 2007 compared to $2,468 for the three months ended December 31, 2006.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

At December 31, 2007, we had cash and cash equivalents of $18,829, compared to $6,492 at December 31, 2006. Our decreased cash balance as of December 31, 2007 is largely attributable to the lack of revenues while facing capital demands to meet general and administrative expenses, including accounting, legal and audit fees in connection with maintaining our public status as we search for business opportunities. During the period, we also paid $14,374 in fees and expenses to a merchant bank that we hired to identify and evaluate potential acquisitions by us.

Proceeds from private offerings, loans and/or revenues will be needed for us to survive as a going concern for the next 12 months. However, there can be no assurance whatsoever that any such proceeds from private offerings, loans and/or revenues will be available to us, and at the present time we have no commitments from any person or entity to fund our ongoing operations which are unprofitable.

Prospective shareholders should understand that several factors govern whether any forward-looking statement contained herein will be or can be achieved. Any one of those factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected herein. These forward-looking statements include plans and objectives of management for future operations, including plans and objectives relating to the products and the future economic performance of the Company. Assumptions relating to the foregoing involve judgments with respect to, among other things, future economic, competitive and market conditions, future business decisions, and the time and money required to successfully complete development projects, all of which are difficult or impossible to predict accurately and many of which are beyond the control of the Company. Although the Company believes that the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements contained herein are reasonable, any of those assumptions could prove inaccurate and, therefore, there can be no assurance that the results contemplated in any of the forward-looking statements contained herein will be realized. Based on actual experience and business development, the company may alter its marketing, capital expenditure plans or other budgets, which may in turn affect the company’s results of operations. In light of the significant uncertainties inherent in the forward-looking statements included therein, the inclusion of any such statement should not be regarded as a representation by the Company or any other person that the objectives or plans of the company will be achieved.

Item 3. Controls and Procedures

Within 90 days prior to the date of filing of this report, we carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our officer serving as both our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer, of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures. Based on this evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective for the gathering, analyzing and disclosing the information we are required to disclose in the reports we file under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. There have been no significant changes in our internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect internal controls subsequent to the date of this evaluation.

Our management does not expect that our disclosure controls or internal controls over financial reporting will prevent all errors or all instances of fraud. A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the control system's objectives will be met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within our company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Because of the inherent limitation of a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION
