EXHIBIT 3

February 4, 2008

Ms. Linda Simmons
 Chief Financial Officer
 Bancorp Rhode Island, Inc.
 Providence, RI 02903

Dear Linda:

Edgar Filing: BANCORP RHODE ISLAND INC - Form SC 13D/A

While working on PL Capital's amended Schedule 13D filing I noted an error in Bancorp RI's latest press release dated January 24, 2008, in both the press release dated January 24, 2008 and in the related January 24, 2008 Form 8-K filed with the SEC. The error relates to the disclosure of the number of issued and outstanding shares, which was overstated. If I was not intimately familiar with Bancorp RI's financial situation I would have not known the disclosure was in error and I would have used the incorrect number of shares in my filing and in my financial analysis. I am sure others are not as familiar with the Company's financials and will use the wrong number. The proper share count is obviously an important disclosure for calculating book value per share, other per share ratios and market cap.

I checked some public websites and I noted that Bloomberg.com had the wrong number of shares outstanding (4,867,121) which led them to calculate a higher market cap than is correct. The Bloomberg machine, used by thousands (millions?) of portfolio managers, analysts, brokers and other users worldwide also had the incorrect number. I am sure other financial websites, investors and analysts also used the incorrect number disclosed by the Company. See the attached.

Specifically, in the January 24, 2008 press release, the stockholders' equity section of the consolidated balance sheet did not disclose the number of issued, treasury and outstanding shares at all. Instead, in a table below the consolidated balance sheet the number of shares was disclosed as follows:

Common stock, issued and outstanding	4,867,121
Treasury stock	305,200

This is incorrect and confusing. The issued and outstanding shares are actually the net of those two numbers (i.e. 4,561,921). The way it was disclosed in the press release would imply that the issued shares are 5,172,321 and the issued and outstanding shares are 4,867,121, which is incorrect.

I suggest that you fix the disclosure and also incorporate the disclosure into the body of the stockholders' equity section as most companies do (I noticed that in the Form 8-K filing dated January 24, 2008 which incorporated the January 24, 2008 press release, that you did move the disclosure up into the body of the stockholders' equity section, however the issued and outstanding share count was still improperly disclosed because the number of treasury stock shares was shown as well as the issued and outstanding shares). If you review any other balance sheet of a company that has treasury stock you will see how to do this properly so it is not misleading.

I suggest that you make sure your upcoming Form 10-K filing fixes this error. You should consult with your advisors to see if an amended Form 8-K should be filed with an amended fourth quarter press release. I also noted that the September 30, 2007 Form 10-Q had a similar error.

I am including extra copies of this letter for the Audit Committee so that the committee has a chance to evaluate whether additional procedures or reviews are needed prior to the release of (unaudited) financial statements in the future. Please ensure that each of the Audit Committee members get a copy of this letter, which will be publicly filed in our next Schedule 13-D.

Dear Richard:

Thank you for your letter of February 4, 2008 in which you identified an error in the presentation of issued and outstanding and treasury shares. We are filing an amended Form 8-K to correct this and clarify that as of December 31, 2007, issued and outstanding shares totaled 4,561,921 shares. While the September 30, 2007 Form 10-Q had a similar presentation, we note that the number of shares outstanding as November 1, 2007 was reflected on the cover page, and accordingly, we do not believe a corrective filing is necessary. Fortunately, to date Schedule 13G filers appear to be basing their ownership calculations on the November 1, 2007 number.

As you requested, we are providing a copy of your letter to the members of our Audit Committee. We also have provided a copy to our external auditors who reviewed the unaudited financial statements included with the January 24, 2008 press release prior to its release.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Linda H. Simmons

PL CAPITAL ANNOUNCES INTENT TO NOMINATE THREE OUTSIDE DIRECTORS TO THE BOARD OF BANCORP RHODE ISLAND, INC.

Naperville, IL February 5, 2008 /PR Newswire/ On February 4, 2008, PL Capital Group principal Richard Lashley submitted a notice of intent to nominate Daniel J. Mullane, himself, and fellow PL Capital Group principal John W. Palmer to serve as nominees for director at the 2008 annual meeting of Bancorp Rhode Island, Inc. (NASDAQ: BARI). The PL Capital Group beneficially owns 387,920 shares of Bancorp Rhode Island (Bancorp RI), approximately 8.5% of the outstanding common stock.

PL Capital Group principal John Palmer noted, We are extremely pleased to add Daniel Mullane to the PL Capital Group slate. Mr. Mullane was the former Chairman, Chief Executive Officer and President of The Advest Group Inc., a New England based NYSE member firm with brokerage and trust banking operations. During his 15 years at Advest, he was instrumental in growing Advest's customer service capabilities, revenue and profitability.

Mr. Mullane added, I believe I fully understand, and know how to meet, the challenges of growing a financial services organization in New England, including meeting the financial services needs of individuals and businesses, while enhancing the profitability and value of the organization. Bancorp RI faces many of the same opportunities and challenges I faced at Advest. I also understand the strategic alternatives that every board of directors must periodically consider.

The PL Capital Group will file a proxy statement detailing its reasons for pursuing board seats in opposition to the management of Bancorp RI, which will include among other things the following concerns and observations:

Bancorp RI's core return on equity (ROE) of 7.72% in 2007 was the lowest annual core ROE in Bancorp RI's history (1997 to 2007);

Bancorp RI's core ROE for the last 8 years remains in a downtrend:

- 2000: 11.58%
- 2001: 11.25%
- 2002: 12.35%
- 2003: 9.43%
- 2004: 10.99%
- 2005: 9.85%
- 2006: 7.78%
- 2007: 7.72%

Edgar Filing: BANCORP RHODE ISLAND INC - Form SC 13D/A

Bancorp RI's efficiency ratio was 73.4% in 2007, the second worst annual efficiency ratio in Bancorp RI's history (1997 to 2007). Bancorp RI's efficiency ratio also remains unfavorably elevated relative to its peers and industry standards.

PL Capital principal Richard Lashley observed, "I have been auditing and analyzing bank operations and financial statements for 25 years, and I believe that Bancorp RI has reached the point at which it is unable to substantially grow its business and profitability without changes in the existing management team, operating structure, capital structure and/or business model. In part, this is why we intend to run for the board seat currently occupied by Ms. Merrill Sherman, the CEO of Bancorp RI, as well as two other board seats. After 10 years of deteriorating core ROE's and efficiency ratios, we believe that it is time to challenge the status quo, particularly if the board remains committed to its strategy of not pursuing strategic alternatives to maximize the value of Bancorp RI."
