PROXY STATEMENT

SPECIAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

YOU SHOULD CAREFULLY READ THIS ENTIRE PROXY STATEMENT (INCLUDING THE ANNEXES) BEFORE YOU VOTE

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

The Special Committee of the board of directors of USANA Health Sciences, Inc. ("we" or "USANA"), is soliciting the enclosed proxy for use at the Special Meeting of Shareholders to be held at 10:00 a.m., Mountain Daylight Time, on Thursday, May 23, 2002, and at any adjournment thereof. USANA will mail this proxy statement and the enclosed proxy card to shareholders on or about April 8, 2002.

We will pay the expense of the solicitation of proxies for the Special Meeting, including the cost of printing and mailing these materials. We have made arrangements with brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries to send proxies and proxy materials to their principals, and we will reimburse them for their expense in so doing. In addition to solicitation by mail, our management may solicit proxies personally or by telephone or facsimile without additional compensation. We have also engaged the services of Morrow & Co., Inc., a proxy solicitation firm, to assist us to solicit proxies on our behalf for the Special Meeting. We expect to pay approximately $25,000 in fees for Morrow's services and we will reimburse Morrow for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. If the Transaction is completed, the asset purchase agreement states that the parties will pay these and other Transaction expenses equally.

RECORD DATE AND OUTSTANDING COMMON STOCK

Only holders of record of the common stock at the close of business on March 20, 2002, will receive notice of, and will be permitted to vote at, the Special Meeting. As of March 20, 2002, there were 9,663,837 shares of common stock outstanding.

VOTING AND REVOCATION OF PROXIES

Shareholders of record on the Record Date may receive notice of, and vote at, the Special Meeting. Each share of common stock gives the holder the right to one vote upon each matter to be presented at the Special Meeting.

Each properly dated, executed and returned proxy received by us prior to the Special Meeting will be voted at the Special Meeting in accordance with the instructions indicated thereon. If no specific instructions are given on a proxy received before the Special Meeting, the shares represented by that proxy will be voted FOR the Transaction and FOR the amendment to our Articles of Incorporation to change our corporate name to Innova Ventures, Inc. upon closing of the Transaction. The Special Committee knows of no other matters to be presented at the Special Meeting or any adjournment thereof; however, all properly dated and executed proxies returned to us and received before the Special Meeting will be voted on any such matter in accordance with the judgment of the proxy holders, unless authority to vote on those other matters is withheld.

A shareholder giving a proxy may revoke it at any time before the Special Meeting. You may revoke your proxy by doing any of the following:

Giving written notice of revocation to our Secretary before the Special Meeting,

Giving another written proxy bearing a later date, provided we receive it before the Special Meeting, or

Attending the Special Meeting and voting in person (although attendance at the Special Meeting will not, in and of itself, constitute a revocation of your proxy).

If you vote online or by toll-free telephone, you may change your vote by following the directions you receive when voting.

QUORUM, ABSTENTIONS, AND BROKER NON-VOTES

At the Special Meeting, the following procedures will apply:

A quorum will be deemed present for all purposes at the Special Meeting if there are represented, either in person or by proxy, (1) a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock at March 20, 2002, eligible to vote, and, (2) a majority of the shares of common stock held by "Disinterested Persons." The Special Committee has determined that Disinterested Persons for purposes of the Special Meeting are those shareholders of USANA other than Gull Holdings and its affiliates, as well as other shareholders as the Special Committee may reasonably determine. Before action may be taken at the Special Meeting, we must determine that a quorum is present following this procedure. Calculating the number of shares present at the Special Meeting for purposes of determining whether there is a quorum present will be accomplished by reviewing the proxies received before the Special Meeting and by counting the number of shares owned by shareholders actually present at the Special Meeting.

If an executed proxy is returned and the shareholder has abstained from voting on any matter, the shares represented by that proxy will be considered present at the meeting for purposes of determining a quorum and for purposes of calculating the vote, but will not be counted as voting in favor of the matter. If an executed proxy is returned by a broker holding shares in "street name," which indicates that the broker lacks discretionary authority to vote part or all of those shares on one or more matters to be considered at the Special Meeting, those shares will be considered present at the meeting for purposes of determining a quorum, but will not be considered to be represented at the meeting for purposes of calculating the vote with respect to those matters for which the broker lacked authority to vote.

REQUIRED VOTE

The Special Committee has determined that we will proceed with the Transaction only if a quorum is present as determined by the Special Committee and the Transaction is approved by:

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

A majority of all issued and outstanding shares, and

In the interest of fairness, a majority of all issued and outstanding shares held by Disinterested Persons, as reasonably determined by the Special Committee. The Special Committee, in its discretion, may accept the approval of less than a majority of the issued and outstanding shares held by Disinterested Persons, provided that at least 70% of the shares held by Disinterested Persons represented at the Special Meeting vote in favor of the Transaction.

The proposal to amend our Articles of Incorporation to change our corporate name to Innova Ventures, Inc. will be approved if we receive the affirmative vote of a majority of all shares actually voted at the meeting. We will only file the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation if the Transaction is also approved and completed.

There is no cumulative voting, each share counts as one vote. Shareholders are not entitled to dissenters' rights in this Transaction. Dissenters' rights allow shareholders to dissent from business combinations and other transactions and receive a fair cash payment for their shares. However, because our common stock trades on The Nasdaq Stock Market, shareholders will not have dissenters' rights in this Transaction. Shareholders may sell their shares in the market if they do not wish to continue to own common stock after the Transaction.

SUMMARY

This summary highlights selected information from this proxy statement and may not contain all of the information that is important to you. To better understand the Transaction, before voting you should carefully read this entire proxy statement, including the annexes, one of which is the asset purchase agreement. The asset purchase agreement is the legal document that governs the Transaction.

When and where is the Special Meeting?

The Special Meeting will be held on Thursday, May 23, 2002 at the Sheraton City Centre Hotel, 150 West 500 South, Salt Lake City, Utah, 84101, commencing at 10:00 a.m. Mountain Daylight Time.

What matters will be voted upon at the Special Meeting?

Shareholders will vote on two proposals: (1) approval of the Transaction, and (2) approval of an amendment to our Articles of Incorporation to change our corporate name to Innova Ventures, Inc, effective upon completion of the Transaction.

If the shareholders approve the Transaction, we will sell to USANA Acquisition Corp. ("UAC") substantially all of our operating assets (excluding real estate and other personal property). UAC will assume substantially all of our liabilities, except liabilities related to assets we retain. The assets sold to UAC will include the name "USANA" and we have agreed that we will change our corporate name to Innova Ventures, Inc., effective upon completion of the Transaction.

What are the reasons for the Transaction?

Our shares have been publicly traded since 1993. Market conditions in recent years generally have not been favorable for companies using network marketing channels or operating in the nutrition industry. Our operations involve both network marketing and nutritional products. While we have operated profitably for the past six years, this performance has not been reflected in the market price of our common stock. Dr. Myron Wentz, our founder, has expressed a desire to acquire our business and to operate it as a privately held entity. The Special Committee determined that the Transaction is in the best interests of USANA, our shareholders, and our Associates. The Special Committee recommends that you vote to approve the Transaction and the related change of name. Neither Dr. Wentz nor David Wentz served as members of the Special Committee.

Did the board of directors obtain the opinion or appraisal of outside experts?

Yes. The Special Committee engaged Houlihan Valuation Advisors ("Houlihan"), independent valuation and capital consultants, to prepare an opinion as to the fairness of the transaction. Houlihan has delivered its opinion to the Special Committee that the Transaction is fair, from a financial point of view, to USANA. The full text of Houlihan's written opinion, dated March 16, 2002, is attached to this proxy statement as Annex B. Houlihan's opinion is addressed to the Special Committee and is not a recommendation to any shareholder as to any matter relating to the proposed Transaction. We encourage you to read the entire opinion and all of the additional information in this proxy statement carefully to better understand the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken by Houlihan in the preparation of its opinion. See "The Houlihan Fairness Opinion" on page 20 and the opinion attached as Annex B.

Does the board of directors recommend that I vote for approval of the Transaction?

Yes. The Special Committee of the board of directors believes that the Transaction is in the best interests of USANA and its shareholders, and recommends that you vote to approve the Transaction. The Special Committee also recommends that you approve the change of name in connection with the Transaction. See "Recommendation of the Board of Directors" at page 37.

What is the financial condition of USANA and how will it be affected by the Transaction?

We have been profitable all but one quarter since 1994 and every fiscal year since 1993. For the year ended December 29, 2001, our most recently completed fiscal year, we reported net sales of $114.3 million and net earnings of $2.2 million ($0.23 per share). Therefore, we believe that USANA has sufficient cash and other resources to meet its current and anticipated obligations for the foreseeable future. We also believe that following the closing of the Transaction both USANA and UAC will have sufficient cash and other resources to meet their respective and anticipated obligations.

What will the shareholders own after the Transaction?

The shareholders will continue to own their shares after the Transaction. USANA will continue to own assets with a net tangible book value of approximately $1.75 per share. These assets will include cash, a promissory note, real estate and personal property. Additionally, we believe that the net market value of our real estate will exceed its book value by $0.16 to $0.29 per share. Our Unaudited Pro Forma Financial Statements are included in this proxy statement and illustrate the estimated effect of the Transaction on our financial statements. You should review them carefully with the other information and material included in this proxy statement.

Will the Transaction affect my ownership of common stock or my rights as a shareholder?

No. You will continue to own the same number of shares after the Transaction closes as you do before the Transaction. Except for the surrender of shares exchanged by Gull Holdings in the Transaction, we will not redeem or purchase any other outstanding shares of common stock. You are not being asked to exchange your shares of common stock for any other shares or for cash or other property. Before the Transaction there are 9,663,837 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. After the closing of the Transaction, following the surrender and redemption of the shares now owned by Gull Holdings, there will be 4,877,555 shares of common stock issued and outstanding.

What will USANA do after the completion of the Transaction?

Following the Transaction, we will change our name to Innova Ventures, Inc. and pursue acquisitions and similar transactions. We have not identified any targets and we do not expect to identify a target before the Special Meeting. We cannot estimate a timetable for completing one of these transactions, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to complete a transaction at all. Until we complete a transaction, we will generate revenues primarily by receipt of payments of principal and interest on the promissory note delivered as partial payment for the assets and rental payments under the lease. See "Our Business Following the Transaction," on page 29.

What are the basic terms of the Transaction?

If the shareholders approve the Transaction, the following will occur:

UAC will acquire our operating assets and assume substantially all of our liabilities, except for assets and liabilities specifically excluded under the asset purchase agreement. The book value of the assets to be purchased by UAC is approximately $22 million.

UAC will pay us a purchase price of approximately $25 million, by:

Surrendering for redemption 4,786,282 shares of common stock at $1.60 per share,

Delivering a promissory note in the principal amount of $5 million, payable with interest at 14% per annum over five years in equal monthly installments of principal and interest, with penalties for nonpayment, and

Assuming liabilities of approximately $12 million.

UAC will lease the real estate, including fixtures and improvements, currently used in our operations under a long-term lease at annual rental payments of $1.32 million.

We will change our name to Innova Ventures, Inc. and pursue a new business plan based on the acquisition of other businesses.

The asset purchase agreement also contains other terms and conditions customary for this type of transaction. See "Description of the Asset Purchase Agreement" at page 14.

How will USANA use the excluded assets?

The assets that we keep in the Transaction will include $3 million in cash (before payment of costs and taxes related to the Transaction), real estate, and other personal property. We intend to use a portion of the cash to pay applicable Transaction costs and taxes incurred in connection with any profit or gain we realize in the Transaction. We will also reduce retained indebtedness and pay expenses associated with our ongoing public company reporting requirements. Remaining cash will be retained pending use in acquisitions and similar transactions. See "Our Business Following the Transaction" at page 29.

Do I have dissenters' rights?

No. Dissenters' rights allow shareholders to dissent from business combinations and other transactions and receive a fair cash payment for their shares. However, because our common stock is traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market®, shareholders will not have dissenters' rights in this Transaction. Shareholders may sell their shares in the market if they do not wish to continue to own common stock after the Transaction.

How will the Transaction affect the net book value of my shares?

Before the Transaction (at December 29, 2001, the end of the most recently completed fiscal year), the net tangible book value of our common stock was approximately $1.50 per share. We estimate the net tangible book value of our assets after the Transaction will be approximately $1.75 per share. Additionally, we believe that the net market value of our real estate will exceed its book value by $0.16 to $0.29 per share. See the Unaudited Pro Forma Financial Statements at page 31.

Will USANA have positive cash flow following the Transaction?

Yes. After the closing of the Transaction, USANA will receive interest under the promissory note delivered by UAC at closing and lease payments under the lease. We believe these revenues will exceed the debt service and other cash obligations of USANA.

What are the federal income tax consequences of the Transaction?

The Transaction alone will not produce any separate and independent federal income tax consequences directly to you. The Transaction will be taxed to USANA as a sale of assets and will result in gain or loss depending on whether the net proceeds realized from the sale of the various assets exceeds our basis in those assets, as determined on an asset-by-asset basis. We estimate that the tax in connection with the Transaction will be approximately $1.6 million and we intend to pay these taxes with the cash remaining at the closing. If at any time after the closing of the Transaction and prior to the expiration of applicable statutes of limitation, it is determined by the IRS or by our independent accounting firm, that the total taxes payable by us with respect to the sale of assets in the Transaction is greater than $1.7 million, and we are required to pay the additional tax, UAC has agreed to reimburse us for the amount of taxes paid by us in excess of $1.7 million. See "Federal Income Tax Consequences" at page 37.

Who may vote at the Special Meeting?

Only shareholders of record at the close of business on March 20, 2002 will receive notice of and be permitted to vote at the Special Meeting. See "Voting and Revocation of Proxy" at page 1.

If my broker holds my shares in "street name," will my broker vote my shares for me?

Your broker will vote your shares at the Special Meeting only if you provide written instructions on how to vote. You should follow the directions provided by your broker regarding how to instruct your broker to vote your shares. See "Quorum, Abstentions, Broker Non-Votes," at page 2.

May I change my vote after I have submitted my proxy?

Yes. You may change your vote before the Special Meeting by:

Giving notice to us of your changed vote in writing, provided that we must receive your notice of a change in your vote prior to the Special Meeting

Executing and delivering to us prior to the Special Meeting a subsequently dated proxy

Attending the Special Meeting and giving oral notice of your intention to vote in person

If you vote online or by toll-free telephone, you must follow the directions you received when voting if you wish to change that vote. You should be aware that simply attending the Special Meeting will not automatically revoke your proxy. See "Voting and Revocation of Proxy" at page 1.

What shareholder vote is required to approve the Transaction?

The Special Committee has decided to seek shareholder approval of the Transaction as though it included the sale of all or substantially all of our assets. Gull Holdings owns 49.5% of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock and has agreed to vote those shares in favor of the Transaction. Other individuals or persons affiliated with Gull Holdings (including the Wentz family) also own shares. Consequently, the affirmative vote of a relatively few shareholders in addition to Gull Holdings would ordinarily be sufficient to approve the Transaction. In the interest of fairness, the Special Committee has established quorum and voting procedures for the Special Meeting. Those procedures generally require representation at the Special Meeting of, and approval of the Transaction by, a majority of the shares held by Disinterested Persons. The Special Committee may accept the affirmative vote of less than the majority of the shares held by Disinterested Persons, provided that at least 70% of the shares held by Disinterested Persons represented at the Special Meeting are voted in favor of the Transaction. See "Vote Required" on page 37.

How will Gull Holdings vote at the Special Meeting?

Gull Holdings has agreed in the asset purchase agreement to vote all shares of common stock held by it, and to use its best efforts to cause its related parties to vote all shares of common stock held by them, in favor of the Transaction and the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation to change our corporate name.

How will the Transaction affect management of USANA?

At the closing of the Transaction, Dr. Wentz and David Wentz will resign as executive officers and directors and Dr. Denis Waitley will resign as a director. Gilbert A. Fuller, currently our Sr. Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, will become our CEO and a director and John B. McCandless, currently our Sr. Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, will serve as President and director after the Transaction. Other members of the board of directors will also continue to serve as directors following the closing. Dr. Wentz and David Wentz will manage the operations of UAC. It is anticipated that UAC will retain substantially all other employees, except for Messrs. Fuller and McCandless.

What will I receive in the Transaction?

You will continue to own your shares of common stock. You will not receive any cash, stock or other property in connection with, or as a result of, the Transaction.

Will the common stock continue to be publicly traded?

Yes. We expect that the common stock will continue to be quoted on The Nasdaq Stock Market after the Transaction. The Nasdaq Stock Market requires listed companies to maintain minimum stockholders' equity of $10 million. Upon closing of the Transaction, we will have shareholders' equity of approximately $8.5 million. However, we expect to continue to qualify under a transition rule that allows listed companies as of June 29, 2001, to qualify for listing until November 1, 2002, if they maintain net tangible assets of $4 million. Although we will make every effort to retain our listing, if our efforts are not successful we believe that the common stock will be transitioned from The Nasdaq Stock Market to The Nasdaq SmallCap Market. We cannot assure you that we will in fact be successful in moving directly to The Nasdaq SmallCap Market, and even if we are successful, we cannot predict whether a transition from The Nasdaq Stock Market to The Nasdaq SmallCap Market would have an adverse effect on the trading price of the common stock.

What do I need to do now?

First, read this proxy statement carefully. Then you should, as soon as possible, submit your proxy by carefully completing, signing, and returning the enclosed proxy card. Your shares represented by proxy will be voted in accordance with the instructions you specify on the proxy card. The Special Committee recommends that you vote in favor of the Transaction. If you submit a proxy card without specifying how your shares should be voted, they will be voted for the approval of the Transaction and for the approval of the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation authorizing the name change. You may also vote your shares online or by toll-free telephone call by following the directions on the enclosed proxy card.

Who should I call if I have questions?

If you have questions about the proposals, you may call Cindy England, USANA Investor Relations, at (801) 954-7100.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has not approved or disapproved the Transaction or passed upon the fairness or merit of the Transaction or the accuracy or adequacy of this proxy statement. Any representation to the contrary is unlawful.

The number and percentage of shares beneficially owned is determined in accordance with Rule 13d-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the information is not necessarily indicative of beneficial ownership for any other purpose. Under this rule, beneficial ownership includes any shares as to which the shareholder has sole or shared voting power or investment power and also any shares that the shareholder has the right to acquire within 60 days.

All percentages have been rounded to the nearest 1/100th of one percent. Percentages are based on 9,663,837 shares outstanding before the Transaction and 4,877,555 shares outstanding after the Transaction. Shares of common stock subject to options that are presently exercisable or exercisable within 60 days are deemed to be beneficially owned by the person holding the options for the purpose of computing the percentage ownership of that person, but are not treated as outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of any other person.

PROPOSAL #1

APPROVAL OF THE TRANSACTION

General

At the Special Meeting, the shareholders will be asked to consider and vote upon the sale of substantially all of our operating assets (excluding the Retained Assets) and assignment of substantially all of our liabilities (except the Excluded Liabilities) on the terms and under the conditions contained in the asset purchase agreement attached as Exhibit A to this proxy statement (the "Transaction").

The terms of the Transaction are summarized in this proxy statement under the caption "Description of the Asset Purchase Agreement" beginning on page 14. For a more detailed understanding of all of the terms of the Transaction you should carefully read the asset purchase agreement and the attachments and exhibits to that agreement.

The Parties

USANA Health Sciences, Inc.

USANA Health Sciences, Inc. ("USANA") is a Utah corporation in the business of manufacturing and distributing health, nutrition, weight management, and beauty aid products. USANA is a publicly held corporation and its common stock is quoted on The Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbol "USNA." As of March 20, 2002, we had 9,663,837 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Our net sales for the fiscal years ended December 30, 2000 and December 29, 2001 were $123.2 million and $114.3 million, respectively. As of March 8, 2002, we had approximately 85,000 independent distributors (we refer to our distributors as "Associates"). Associates purchase and distribute our products in a network marketing system and are compensated under a network marketing compensation plan. Our customers and Associates are located primarily in North America, Asia and Pacific Rim countries. We also sell products directly to preferred customers. Unlike Associates, preferred customers are not permitted to resell products and they do not earn commissions. Our principal offices are located at 3838 West Parkway Boulevard, Salt Lake City, Utah 84120-6336; and the telephone number is (801) 954-7100.

Gull Holdings Ltd. and USANA Acquisition Corp.

Gull Holdings, Ltd. ("Gull Holdings") is an Isle of Man company. The sole shareholder of Gull Holdings is Dr. Wentz, our founder, and current Chairman, CEO and President. The administrative offices of Gull Holdings are located at 4 Finch Road, Douglas, Isle of Man. Gull Holdings is our single largest shareholder, owning approximately 49.5% (4,786,282 shares) of the issued and outstanding common stock. Gull Holdings does not conduct business or maintain a place of business in the United States. Gull Holdings will effect the Transaction through a wholly owned subsidiary, USANA Acquisition Corp. ("UAC"), a newly formed Utah corporation. Before the Transaction, UAC will have conducted no business or owned any assets. Following the Transaction, UAC will change its name to USANA Health Sciences, Inc. and will operate the acquired business at the premises located at 3838 West Parkway Blvd., Salt Lake City, Utah 84120-6336 under a long-term lease.

Reasons for the Transaction

USANA is a network marketing and nutrition company. While we have explored several alternatives for maximizing shareholder value during the past several years, we have not been successful in locating an acceptable acquisition, reaching acceptable terms with any target, or establishing a suitable strategic relationship. The market for shares of nutrition and network marketing companies has become increasingly weak during the past 24 months. These market conditions have adversely affected the market price of our common stock. We also believe the market value of our common stock has been adversely affected by the fact that a relatively small percentage of our shares are held by non-affiliates and by the fact that approximately half of the issued and outstanding shares are beneficially owned by a single shareholder. We believe that the obligation to file periodic reports disclosing substantial material marketing and financial information about our operations puts USANA and its Associates at a distinct marketing disadvantage when compared to privately held network marketing entities. After analyzing the various alternatives, we agreed to enter into the Transaction with Gull Holdings. We will use the proceeds from the sale of assets, along with the retained cash and other property to discharge liabilities (including taxes incurred in the Transaction) and to pursue acquisitions and similar transactions with the objective of maximizing shareholder value.

Background Information

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

Dr. Wentz founded USANA in 1992 and has been its Chairman, CEO and President since its inception. USANA was originally a division and then a wholly owned subsidiary of Gull Laboratories, Inc., a publicly held corporation acquired by Dr. Wentz in 1974. In 1992, the board of directors of Gull Laboratories authorized the spin-off of USANA. The spin-off was completed in 1993 by distributing USANA's common stock pro rata to the shareholders of Gull Laboratories. Dr. Wentz, as the single largest shareholder of Gull Laboratories at the time of the spin-off, became the single largest beneficial owner of USANA common stock, with those shares held directly by Gull Holdings.

During the past two years, the management of USANA has explored alternatives for maximizing shareholder value. Among other things, USANA actively pursued a variety of acquisitions and strategic alliances, holding active discussions with several industry participants and investment bankers. For a variety of reasons, USANA either was not interested in or was unable to consummate any strategic acquisition or other business development transaction on acceptable terms and conditions that met USANA's exacting criteria or that USANA believed might result in significantly increased shareholder value. Market conditions declined during the past two years, particularly for nutrition companies and for companies in the network marketing channel with shares traded in the stock market. The typical multiples for shares of companies in this industry and channel range from 9.5 to 37.5 times earnings. USANA operates in both the nutrition industry and network marketing channel and has been adversely affected by market factors pressuring the valuation of companies in this industry and channel. Based on the results of operations of USANA for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2001, and assuming a stock price of $1.60 per share, the multiple applicable to the common stock of USANA is approximately seven times earnings.

In the past several years, USANA experienced a significant deterioration in its stock market valuation. This decline actually began in 1998 and continued into 2002. The common stock traded as high as $24.125 on July 28, 1998 and as low as $0.875 on December 26, 2000. Valuations have since increased, but only to levels that remain significantly below the market valuations experienced during 1997 and 1998. On March 15, 2002, the last trading day before the announcement of the plan to sell the business to Gull Holdings or its affiliate, the closing sale price of the common stock was $1.66 per share, with a low of $1.60 and a high of $1.66, on a total of approximately 3,100 shares traded.

Following the decline in the stock price in the first half of 2001, Dr. Wentz and other senior executives of USANA began preliminarily to consider strategic alternatives because of the stock's unsatisfactory market performance. They considered that USANA might have greater flexibility as a private company to invest in the future of the business, particularly given the longer term pay-off anticipated from investments in new geographic and product markets. Among other things, these senior executives considered that certain of the markets into which USANA expects to expand in the future will require a substantially greater lead-time and investment in infrastructure than countries opened by USANA in the past. In addition, the senior executives considered that new markets, such as Japan, might be less likely to deliver the rapid growth historically experienced in other new markets, such as Australia, Canada, and New Zealand. These types of investments may require significant up-front expenditures, the benefits of which may not be apparent in financial results until significantly later periods. The senior executives considered that, as a public company, USANA would have less flexibility to make these kinds of long-term investments.

As a publicly traded entity, USANA is required to file periodic and current reports and other schedules and forms with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The rules and regulations governing the preparation and filing of those reports require the disclosure of significant and material industry and business information, including financial information, product pricing information, and other strategically important data that is useful to competitors and detractors of USANA. USANA believes that this public disclosure of strategic information places USANA at a distinct disadvantage in comparison to its privately held competitors and others.

Beginning in June 2001, the board of directors directed senior executives to have preliminary communications with several investment banking firms concerning possible alternatives to increase shareholder value. Some of these firms addressed the advantages and disadvantages of various capital markets transactions, including the purchase of other businesses or product lines, a going private transaction, a leveraged recapitalization transaction financed in part by a private equity sponsor, and a self-tender. Based on the discussions with these investment banks and the factors discussed above, senior management suggested that a possible sale of the business to an entity owned or controlled by Dr. Wentz was superior to the other alternatives in terms of enhancing shareholder value. From September 2001 through November 2001, senior executives interviewed several investment banking and financial advisory firms to obtain their views concerning the advisability of structuring and financing a transaction. During this period and through December 2001, we were assisted by consultants, financial advisors, and outside counsel in the analysis and in leading discussions on a confidential basis with potential strategic partners.

After reviewing and pursuing various alternatives, senior executives reported to the board of directors that the current market conditions and circumstances unique to USANA, including the role of Dr. Wentz as the founder and principal visionary behind the science of USANA, made the purchase of or merger or combination with another entity an undesirable alternative. Dr. Wentz expressed a desire to acquire the business. The board of directors instructed senior management to review alternative transactions and to recommend a possible deal structure to the board of directors.

On December 19, 2001, the board of directors met to consider the proposed terms of a sale of the business to Dr. Wentz. After reviewing the proposed terms, the board of directors authorized management to negotiate a sale to Dr. Wentz. Dr. Wentz indicated that he would pursue the Transaction through Gull Holdings or an entity owned by Gull Holdings. Because of the inherent conflict of interest presented by the Transaction with Dr. Wentz, he and his son David (a director and executive officer), abstained from the board's action, after indicating to the board that they endorsed the proposal and were interested in pursuing the transaction on the terms outlined in the proposal. On December 21,

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

2001, the independent members of the board of directors instructed management to negotiate the terms of the Transaction, subject to the availability of acceptable financing, approval by the shareholders (other than Gull Holdings and other interested persons), and receipt of a fairness opinion from an independent valuation expert. The board of directors determined that USANA should engage Houlihan Valuation Advisors ("Houlihan") to prepare and present to the board an analysis of the Transaction and a fairness opinion from the perspective of the shareholders.

On March 15, 2002, the board of directors met and again considered the proposed terms of the Transaction. At that meeting the board appointed a Special Committee, comprised of outside directors Robert Anciaux, Jerry G. McClain and Ronald S. Poelman, to consider the transaction and recommend its approval to the shareholders or, in the alternative, to reject the terms of the proposed Transaction and either continue or terminate further negotiations. On March 16 and 17, 2002, the Special Committee met and approved the Transaction, subject to the condition that the shareholders approve the Transaction at a special meeting of shareholders. The Special Committee also unanimously determined that it would recommend that the shareholders approve the Transaction at the Special Meeting. Gull Holdings formed a new wholly owned subsidiary, UAC, to effect the Transaction.

The Special Committee, in consultation with its financial and legal advisors, carefully considered the terms and conditions of the Transaction as contained in the asset purchase agreement and related agreements. In reaching its decision to approve execution of the asset purchase agreement and its determination that the Transaction is in the best interest of USANA, the Special Committee of the board of directors carefully considered a number of factors. The factors considered by the Special Committee included, among others, the following:

The proposed terms and conditions of the asset purchase agreement.

The fact that USANA has been unable to locate an acceptable acquisition or strategic partner or to receive any proposals on terms that were acceptable and favorable to USANA.

The lack of acceptable offers or opportunities superior to UAC's offer, particularly considering the unique relationship of Dr. Wentz as the founder of USANA and as the visionary behind its science, the importance to the Associates of his continued involvement with the business, and his willingness to support the current Transaction.

The average trading price of the common stock for the ten trading days ending March 15, 2002 was $1.59 per share.

The ramifications of fixing the value of Gull Holdings' shares of common stock to be redeemed at a $1.60 per share, given the limited volume of trading of our common stock and whether that price was representative of the fair market value of our common stock.

The opinion of Houlihan to the Special Committee that, as of March 16, 2002, and subject to the assumptions and limitations enumerated in the fairness opinion, the consideration to be paid for the assets and liabilities was fair, from a financial point of view, to USANA.

The fact that the asset purchase agreement requires that the Transaction would be approved by a majority of the outstanding shares of common stock and by a majority of the shares held by Disinterested Persons, as determined by the Special Committee.

The fact that the Transaction may facilitate a merger with or acquisition of an operating business by us that could generate a higher return on investment than our current business or marketing methods.

The conflict of interest of Dr. Wentz and his son David in the Transaction.

The fact that Dr. Wentz may value the business of USANA differently than the Special Committee.

The Special Committee believed that overall, because of the lack of available acceptable alternatives, the risks associated with the Transaction were outweighed by the benefits of the Transaction.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

This discussion of the information and principal factors considered by the Special Committee is not intended to be exhaustive. Because of the wide variety of the factors considered by the Special Committee in evaluating the Transaction and the complexity of these matters, the Special Committee did not find it practicable to, and did not, quantify or otherwise attempt to assign any relative weight to the various factors considered.

The Transaction

Under the terms of the asset purchase agreement and subject to the approval of the shareholders at the Special Meeting, we will sell to UAC substantially all of the operating assets of USANA used in the manufacture and distribution of health, nutritional, weight management, and beauty products. Included in the Transaction will be fixed assets, tangible and intangible assets, equipment, machinery, vehicles, personal property, inventory, securities (including the shares of our wholly owned subsidiaries), material contracts (including all Associate agreements), insurance policies (excluding our directors and officers insurance policy), work in process, cash balances (except for $3 million), other current assets, all but two employees, all employee benefit and welfare plans, intellectual property, product formulations, trademarks, trade names, trade dress, patents, patent applications, patent registrations, product registrations, business registrations, licenses, equipment leases, and corporate names. UAC will also assume substantially all of the liabilities of USANA, including bank debt (not to exceed $7 million), accruals, accounts payable, operating leases, Associate contracts, mortgages, payroll, tax liabilities (excluding net deferred tax liabilities), litigation, and contingent liabilities. The asset purchase agreement refers to the assets to be acquired by UAC as the Acquired Assets. The liabilities to be assigned to and assumed by UAC in the Transaction are referred to as the Assumed Liabilities.

Excluded from the Transaction and retained by USANA are cash of $3 million, real estate (including land, building and fixtures, subject to a long-term lease) located at 3838 W. Parkway Blvd., Salt Lake City, Utah, and valued at an estimated $12 million (subject to appraisal), insurance policies, and other personal property. Excluded liabilities are estimated to be approximately $8 million, and will be secured by a mortgage on the retained real estate, renegotiated or refinanced before closing of the Transaction. The asset purchase agreement refers to the assets to be retained by USANA in the Transaction as the Retained Assets. The liabilities described in the asset purchase agreement to be retained by USANA in the Transaction are referred to as the Excluded Liabilities.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ASSET PURCHASE AGREEMENT

This section describes the key provisions of the asset purchase agreement. This is only a summary and does not include all of the terms or conditions of the Transaction. You should refer to and review the full text of the asset purchase agreement attached as Annex A to this proxy statement for a more complete discussion of the terms and conditions of the Transaction.

Purchase and Sale

USANA will sell and UAC will purchase the Acquired Assets. UAC will also accept assignment of the Assumed Liabilities. UAC will take final possession of the business at the closing and will be responsible for all expenses and other liabilities of the business from that date forward.

Payment of Purchase Price

UAC will pay the purchase price for the Acquired Assets by:

Surrendering for redemption 4,786,282 shares of common stock at a price of $1.60 per share,

Issuing a promissory note in the principal amount of $5 million, and

Accepting assignment of and responsibility for the Assumed Liabilities totaling approximately $12 million.

Terms of Promissory Note

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

The promissory note delivered by UAC as partial payment of the purchase price will be payable over five years from the date of closing, with monthly payments of principal and interest at 14% per annum. UAC may prepay the note, subject to giving USANA 180 days notice of prepayment in the first year and 90 days notice in the second year. Any prepayments of less than the entire outstanding principal amount of the note will be in amounts of at least $1,000,000.

The obligations of UAC under the note will be secured by a second position on all of the assets acquired in the Transaction, with priority subordinate only to existing bank liens, and by all outstanding shares of UAC, which are held by Gull Holdings. The note and the security agreement provide that UAC will not increase its borrowings without the consent of USANA and that permitted borrowings (excluding amounts owing under the note) will not exceed $8 million the first year and $5 million thereafter. If UAC defaults on senior debt obligations or its obligations under the lease or any other agreement entered into in connection with the Transaction, that default will also be an event of default under the note and USANA may exercise its rights under the security agreement to accelerate the payment of all amounts owing under the note at the date of default and to otherwise pursue its remedies as a secured creditor.

Lease of Real Estate

UAC will lease from us the premises located at 3838 W. Parkway Blvd., Salt Lake City, Utah, under a long-term lease agreement to be entered into at the closing of the Transaction. The lease will be structured as an operating lease, with a term that is to be the maximum duration allowed for an operating lease. The lease will include options to renew and to purchase. The purchase option will be exercisable by UAC at any time during the first 36 months of the lease term, with the purchase price to be determined by the fair market value of the real estate at the time of sale. Thereafter, for the remainder of the term, UAC will have a right of first refusal to purchase the real estate, at fair market value at the time of sale as determined by third party appraisal. Annual rental payments under the lease will be $1.32 million, payable in equal monthly installments, with annual increases based on the CPI. UAC will pay all insurance, utilities, taxes, and related expenses on the property.

Employees and Associates

All of the current employees of USANA, except for two executive officers, will become employees of UAC at closing. UAC will assume all benefit and welfare plans, including the 401(k) savings plan, cafeteria plan, and the medical, dental, term life and disability insurance plans currently in effect at USANA.

UAC also will assume USANA's rights and obligations in and to the entire network marketing distribution system, including all Associate agreements, Associate compensation obligations, and all preferred customer accounts. All Associate downlines and sales networks will remain in place as they exist at the date of closing. It is anticipated that there will be no interruption in the sales or payment cycles for Associates or in the delivery of product. Telephone numbers, Internet URLs, e-mail addresses and other contact information for the business will be assigned to UAC and will continue without change after the Transaction.

Indemnification

The parties have agreed to indemnify each other for a period of one year from the date of closing of the Transaction for liabilities directly or indirectly relating to, resulting from or arising out of any untrue representation, misrepresentation, breach of warranty or non-fulfillment of any covenant, agreement or other obligation by or of the indemnifying party under the asset purchase agreement. The indemnification obligations will not terminate at the end of the one-year period as to any item as to which an indemnified person has made a claim by delivering notice of the claim before the expiration of the indemnification period. For the purposes of the indemnification provisions of the asset purchase agreement, the representations and warranties of the parties in the agreement will survive the closing for a period of one year. No claim for indemnification can be made unless the amount of all claims for which a party seeks indemnification exceeds $50,000, and no claims for indemnification can be made against any party in amounts exceeding $5 million.

Representations and Warranties

The Transaction is on an "as is" basis, meaning that some of the representations and warranties customarily provided by the seller and purchaser in transactions involving unrelated third parties are not contained in the asset purchase agreement, subject to the right of the parties to conduct reasonable due diligence before the date of the Special Meeting.

We made limited representations and warranties to UAC in the asset purchase agreement and will renew them at the closing, including those relating to:

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

Corporate organization and similar corporate matters;

Authorization, execution, delivery, performance and enforceability of, and any required consents, approvals and authorizations relating to, the asset purchase agreement and the related agreements;

Absence of conflict with, violation or breach of, or default under the certificate of incorporation, bylaws and contracts and applicable laws in connection with the asset purchase agreement and the related agreements;

Absence of undisclosed liabilities and material adverse events that would prevent the consummation of the Transaction; and

Receipt of a fairness opinion.

UAC and Gull Holdings made limited representations and warranties to us in the asset purchase agreement and will renew them at the closing, including those relating to:

Corporate organization and similar corporate matters;

Authorization, execution, delivery, performance and enforceability of, and any required consents, approvals and authorizations relating to, the asset purchase agreement and the related agreements;

Absence of conflict with, violation or breach of, or default under the certificate of incorporation, bylaws and contracts and applicable laws in connection with the asset purchase agreement and the related agreements; and

Absence of undisclosed liabilities and material adverse events that would prevent the consummation of the Transaction.

Pre-Closing Covenants

The parties have agreed that during the period between the execution date of the asset purchase agreement and the closing of the Transaction:

They will promptly advise each other of any event that would render a representation or warranty untrue or any breach of a covenant or obligation under the asset purchase agreement;

They will advise each other of any material adverse change that might affect the Transaction or the party's ability to conclude the Transaction;

USANA will use its commercially reasonable best efforts to preserve the business relationships with its customers, Associates, suppliers, licensors, licensees, employees, consultants and others with whom it has business dealings in connection with the business;

USANA will conduct the business in the ordinary course of business consistent with its past practice, and will not take certain specified actions without the prior written consent of UAC;

USANA will file any applications, notifications or other filings for any necessary regulatory approvals required in connection with the consummation of the Transaction;

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

The parties will use their commercially reasonable best efforts to obtain all required consents, releases, and waivers necessary to perform their respective obligations under and to satisfy all conditions to closing contained in the asset purchase agreement;

USANA will allow UAC and its advisors and agents access at reasonable times to the files, books, records, technology, contracts, employees, contractors and officers of USANA for the purpose of completing their due diligence review of the business;

The parties will not use or disclose each other's confidential information except for the purposes relating to the asset purchase agreement;

USANA will call the Special Meeting for the purpose of obtaining shareholder approval of the Transaction;

Gull Holdings will vote and will use its best efforts to cause its affiliates to vote all shares of common stock that they own in favor of the Transaction and the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation to change the corporate name; and

USANA will not solicit any other offer or proposal from any other person concerning the sale of the business or similar transaction, except that the board of directors may consider a bona fide, unsolicited proposal concerning the sale of the business or similar transaction if the board of directors concludes that the other unsolicited acquisition proposal may constitute a superior offer or if the board of directors otherwise determines that its fiduciary duty to the shareholders requires it to consider the other unsolicited acquisition proposal.

The Special Meeting

The Transaction is a sale of operating assets and liabilities. Some assets, primarily cash, real estate, and other personal property, will be retained by USANA and excluded from the Transaction. The Special Committee has determined that it will seek the approval of the shareholders before consummating the Transaction. USANA has agreed to take all necessary action to prepare this proxy statement, cause it to be mailed to the shareholders at the earliest practicable time following the execution date of the asset purchase agreement and to convene the Special Meeting seeking approval of the Transaction as promptly as practicable (including the filing and mailing of the proxy statement). Because the parent company of the purchaser, Gull Holdings, is the owner of approximately 49.5% of the issued and outstanding common stock of USANA, the proposed transaction presents an inherent conflict of interest for Gull Holdings' sole shareholder, Dr. Myron Wentz, who also serves as our Chairman, President and CEO. Therefore, in the interest of fairness, the Special Committee has established quorum and voting procedures for the Special Meeting, as follows.

A quorum will be deemed present for all purposes at the Special Meeting if there are represented, either in person or by proxy, (1) a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock at March 20, 2002 eligible to vote, and, (2) a majority of the shares of common stock held by "Disinterested Persons." The Special Committee has determined that Disinterested Persons for purposes of the Special Meeting are those shareholders of USANA other than Gull Holdings and its affiliates, as well as other shareholders as the Special Committee may reasonably determine. Before action may be taken at the Special Meeting, we must determine that a quorum is present following this procedure.

The Special Committee has determined that we will proceed with the Transaction only if a quorum is present as determined under the procedure described above and the Transaction is approved by the affirmative vote of:

A majority of all issued and outstanding shares, and

A majority of all issued and outstanding shares held by Disinterested Persons, as reasonably determined by the Special Committee. The Special Committee, in its discretion, may accept the approval of less than a majority of the issued and outstanding shares held by Disinterested Persons, provided that at least 70% of the shares held by Disinterested Persons represented at the Special Meeting are voted in favor of the Transaction.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

The proposal to amend our Articles of Incorporation to change our corporate name to Innova Ventures, Inc. will be approved if we receive the affirmative vote of a majority of all shares actually voted at the meeting. We will only file the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation if the Transaction is also approved and consummated.

There is no cumulative voting, each share counts as one vote. Shareholders are not entitled to dissenters' rights in this Transaction. Dissenters' rights allow shareholders to dissent from business combinations and other transactions and receive a fair cash payment for their shares. However, because our common stock trades on The Nasdaq Stock Market, shareholders will not have dissenters' rights in this Transaction. Shareholders may sell their shares in the market if they do not wish to continue to own common stock after the Transaction.

The Closing

The closing of the Transaction is expected to occur approximately two business days following the satisfaction or waiver of all of the conditions to each party's obligations under the asset purchase agreement. The parties anticipate that the closing will occur on or about June 4, 2002.

Conditions to Closing

The obligation of UAC to consummate the Transaction is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

USANA shall have performed in all material respects all of its covenants and obligations in the asset purchase agreement;

There shall have been no material adverse change to the business of USANA since December 29, 2001;

There shall be no threatened, instituted or pending litigation concerning the ownership or operation by USANA of any material portion of the acquired assets or the business or seeking the divestiture by USANA of any of the acquired assets; and there shall be no other legal restraints by any governmental authority applicable to the acquired assets that could result in such consequences;

USANA shall have delivered all required consents;

USANA shall have executed and delivered assignments to UAC of all patents, trademarks, service marks, Internet domain names, URLs and registrations thereof included in the acquired assets;

UAC shall have obtained a commitment for financing in a minimum of $7 million for its ongoing operations following the closing;

UAC shall have obtained a legal opinion as described in the asset purchase agreement from counsel for USANA; and

USANA shall have delivered the acquired assets and delivered all other documents required to be delivered to UAC under the asset purchase agreement.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

The representations and warranties of UAC shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the closing date;

Financing shall have been approved and available at closing in the amount of at least $8 million, secured by real estate located at 3838 W. Parkway Blvd., Salt Lake City, Utah, which shall have appraised for at least $11.5 million;

The Special Committee shall have received the fairness opinion;

There shall be no litigation against either party in connection with the Transaction or that would adversely affect the Transaction.

The parties shall have received all authorizations, consents and approvals of governmental agencies and third parties required to carry out the Transaction;

The retained real property shall have appraised at a minimum of $11.5 million and not more than $12.5 million;

There shall be no adverse material effect as defined in the asset purchase agreement; and

The shareholders shall have approved the Transaction (see p. 37, "Vote Required").

Covenant Against Competition

For a period of three years following the Transaction, USANA will not:

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

Contact any of the Associates or preferred customers of UAC for the purpose of soliciting orders or establishing relationships for any business enterprise that competes with the acquired business anywhere in the world, and

Market through any network marketing systems or direct sales arrangements (including catalogue sales organizations), any nutritional, health or beauty aids, skin care products, weight management products or health foods, supplements or other products that compete with the products marketed by UAC.

Termination

The parties may terminate the asset purchase agreement by mutual agreement. In addition, either party may terminate the asset purchase agreement if:

HOULIHAN FAIRNESS OPINION

The Special Committee retained independent valuation advisor, Houlihan Valuation Advisors ("Houlihan"), to render an opinion as to the fairness of the consideration to be received by USANA in the Transaction.

On March 16, 2002, Houlihan delivered its opinion to the Special Committee, which stated that based on matters described in the letter and as of that date, the consideration to be received by USANA in the Transaction is fair to the public shareholders of USANA from a financial point of view.

This section of the proxy statement is only a summary of the opinion and the considerations of Houlihan in rendering the opinion. The complete text of the fairness opinion setting forth all the assumptions made, documents and information reviewed, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the review is attached as Annex B to this proxy statement. The opinion addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view from the perspective of the public shareholders. It is not a recommendation as to how any shareholder should vote with respect to the Transaction. The summary description of the fairness opinion in this proxy statement does not include all of the information in the opinion or all of the information that Houlihan may have considered important in reaching its determination that the transaction is fair. You should read the entire fairness opinion.

The Houlihan Opinion and Analysis

In conducting its investigation and analysis and in arriving at its fairness opinion, Houlihan reviewed information and took into account investment, financial and economic factors it deemed relevant and material under the circumstances. In addition, Houlihan conducted the following analytical procedures:

Met with our representatives at our administrative offices and conducted discussions regarding matters pertinent to the analysis;

Made inquiries to officers with senior responsibility for operations, financial condition, future prospects and projected operations and performance;

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

Inquired of management as to (1) its awareness of any events or conditions that might cause any of the assumptions set forth in the opinion to be incorrect, and (2) its awareness of any material change in our assets, financial condition or business outlook since September 29, 2001 (the last day of USANA's third fiscal quarter);

Undertook generally recognized financial analysis and valuation procedures to ascertain our financial condition as well as to estimate the fair value of the common stock on a minority interest basis; and

Performed such other analyses and reviewed and analyzed such other information as it deemed appropriate.

Other than as set forth in its opinion letter, Houlihan did not review any additional information in preparing its fairness opinion that, independently, was deemed by Houlihan to be material to its analysis. The board of directors did not place any limitation upon Houlihan with respect to the procedures followed or factors considered by Houlihan in rendering its fairness opinion. In rendering its fairness opinion, Houlihan assumed and relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was publicly available or provided to Houlihan by, or on behalf of, USANA, and did not independently verify such information.

Houlihan assumed, with the board of directors' consent, that:

All information was accurate and complete;

The management projections were reasonably prepared and based upon the best available estimates and good faith judgments of management at the time of preparation for the future performance of USANA; Houlihan did not assume any responsibility for the projections or the assumptions relating to them; and

There has been no material change to the assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects since December 29, 2001, the date of the most recent financial statements. Houlihan did not undertake an independent appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) and no appraisals were provided to it.

Houlihan's fairness opinion did not predict or take into account any possible economic, monetary or other changes which may occur, or information which may come available, after the date of the opinion.

Houlihan performed a variety of valuation, financial and comparative analyses. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to summary description. Houlihan has advised us that it believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole, and that selecting portions of its analyses and the factors considered by it, without considering all such factors and analyses, could create an incomplete view of the processes underlying the opinion. Moreover, the estimates contained in these analyses are not necessarily indicative of actual values or predictive of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those suggested by such analyses. In addition, analyses relating to the value of businesses or securities do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which businesses or securities actually may be sold. Accordingly, these estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainties.

Summary of Houlihan Opinion

The following is a summary of the analyses performed and factors considered by Houlihan. Houlihan cited the information contained in this summary, and other than information specifically provided by us to Houlihan, we have not undertaken to independently verify the accuracy of Houlihan's characterization or description of documents, studies, reports, or summaries referenced in its opinion.

Industry Trends

Summary of Nutritional Supplement Industry Trends. Houlihan estimates that the worldwide market for vitamins and nutritional supplements (excluding sports nutrition, food bars and diet products) was over $40 billion in 1999. Furthermore, Houlihan suggests that the vitamin and nutritional supplements market reached its present size due to a number of factors, including:

Interest in healthier lifestyles, living longer and living well,

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

The publication of research findings supporting the positive health effects of certain nutritional supplements, and

The aging of the Baby Boom generation combined with the tendency of consumers to purchase more nutritional supplements and natural foods as they age.

According to Houlihan, the industry grew significantly during 1997 and 1998 due in part to widespread publicity surrounding herbs such as echinacea, garlic, ginseng, ginkgo, saw palmetto and St. John's Wort. Despite the growth of 1997 and 1998, however, Houlihan cites industry sources that indicate that the growth rate in the nutritional supplement industry slowed significantly from 1999 through 2000.

According to Houlihan, the slowdown was partially due to a decline in sales at the retail level of St. John's Wort and other herbal products that were in greater demand in the first half of 1998, largely as a result of media attention, and to a more generalized industry-wide slowing of growth across most product categories.

In addition, while public awareness of the positive effects of vitamins and nutritional supplements on health was heightened by widely publicized reports of scientific findings supporting those claims during 1997 and 1998, negative media attention focusing on questions of efficacy, safety and label claim content had a significant adverse impact on the supplement industry over the past two years.

In Houlihan's opinion, the slowdown in growth in the nutritional supplement industry has also been caused by the lack of new "blockbuster" products and increasing competition, including intense private label expansion. Based upon these factors, traditional commodity vitamins, minerals and herbal products experienced flat to negative growth throughout the industry during 1999 and 2000.

Houlihan suggests that there may be reasons to be cautiously optimistic about potential growth of the entire nutritional supplement industry due to the presence of those trends that led to significant industry growth in 1997 and 1998, including:

Favorable demographic trends towards older Americans, who are more likely to be health conscious as they experience middle age health issues,

Product introductions in response to new scientific research findings supporting the positive health effects of certain nutrients,

The nationwide trend toward preventive medicine in response to rising health care costs,

Increased consumer interest in alternative health and herb-related supplements, and

The heightened understanding and awareness of healthier lifestyles and a connection between diet and health.

As the industry returns to favor, Houlihan believes a market consolidation trend may arise. However, Houlihan also notes that the nutritional supplement sector has been slower to consolidate, despite being a highly fragmented industry.

Summary of Network Marketing Trends. Houlihan refers to the Nutrition Business Journal, to report that non-retail or direct sales channels accounted for approximately 15% or $7.6 billion of the total $49.5 billion United States nutrition industry in 2000. The same report, according to Houlihan, indicates that the vast majority of natural and organic foods and functional foods are sold in retail stores and that one-third of supplements and nearly half of natural personal care products are sold outside traditional retail channels.

According to Houlihan, the Direct Selling Association estimates that the supplements and natural personal care business account for almost 20% of the $25.4 billion U.S. direct selling industry comprised of a total sales force of 10.3 million Americans.

Whereas growth of nutrition sales in retail channels has averaged approximately 8% per annum over the past two years, Houlihan notes that direct channels have varied considerably. In 2000, nutrition industry sales over the Internet increased 70% to $300 million, and practitioner sales grew 11% to surpass $1.2 billion. However, network marketing sales actually declined during the same period approximately 0.4%. Mail order sales grew 5% with flat sales in the catalog segment balancing strong growth in the direct response TV channel. Historically, the network marketing industry runs counter-cyclically to economic trends. Consequently, some industry analysts expected an upturn as a result of the U.S. economy entering a recession.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

According to Houlihan, perhaps the biggest challenge facing established network marketing companies comes from new network marketing ventures that offer compensation plans aimed at giving distributors a chance to earn substantial incomes and buy at wholesale prices with minimum investment. Many network-marketing companies require thousands of dollars of purchases or signing up large numbers of clients before giving distributors the chance to buy products at wholesale prices.

Additionally, Houlihan reports that many large stores like Wal-Mart and price clubs are offering nutritional products at very competitive prices to which consumers are sensitive. These large discounters are taking the network-marketing claim of removing the middleman and passing the savings on to the customer to the next level.

Analysis of Historical Financial Position

Houlihan reviewed and analyzed our historical and current financial condition, which included an assessment of recent financial statements, an analysis of revenue, growth and operating performance trends, an assessment of revenue mix, margin changes, and a review of industry market conditions and outlook.

Financial Statement Review and Trend Analysis. Houlihan analyzed financial results for the fiscal years 1998 through 2001, noting during this period, that:

Sales decreased from $126.3 million to $114.3 million, at an average rate of decline of 3.3%.

Cost of sales as a percentage of sales increased from 23.9% to 28.7%, averaging 26.1% for the four-year period. Gross margin declined during the period from 76.1% to 71.3%.

Operating expenses as a percent of total sales increased from 64.1% to 67.6% and averaged 67.1% for the four-year period. Operating income decreased both in absolute terms and as a percentage of total revenue. Operating income decreased during the period from $15.2 million to $4.2 million. As a percentage of total revenue, operating income decreased from 12.1% to 3.7%.

Net income declined from $9.5 million to $2.2 million. As a percent of total revenue, net income declined from 7.5% to 1.9% during the four-year period.

Return on total assets and return on equity declined during the period. Return on total assets declined from 23.8% to 6.2%. Return on equity decreased from 31.0% to 15.1%.

Houlihan further observed that from 1998 to 2001, total debt to total assets and long-term debt to equity ratios increased and current and quick ratios declined. Total debt to total assets increased from 0.0% in 1998 to 34.2% in 2001. During the same period, the current and quick ratios decreased from 2.0 times and 0.4 times, respectively, in 1998 to 1.0 times and 0.2 times, respectively, in 2001.

Analysis of Recent Stock Performance

Public Market for Common Stock. The common stock is traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market. Recent trading records indicate that there has been a limited amount of trading activity of the common stock in the public market. For the 25 trading days before March 8, 2002, Houlihan calculated that the average daily trading volume was 0.07% of the total number of shares issued and outstanding. By comparison, the average daily trading volumes of a Houlihan-selected "Sample Group" of companies was approximately three times higher during the period. Houlihan also noted that USANA has not paid cash dividends on the common stock and management does not anticipate that dividends will be paid in the foreseeable future.

Stock Performance Relative to Nasdaq Composite Average. Houlihan reviewed and analyzed the daily closing per share market prices and trading volume for the common stock from November 2001 through March 2002. Houlihan also reviewed the daily closing per share market price of the common stock and compared the movement of those daily closing prices with the movement of the Nasdaq Composite Average over the period from March 2001 through March 2002. Houlihan noted that, on a relative basis, the common stock performed significantly below the Nasdaq Composite Average for most of the entire period.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

On November 5, 2001, the closing price of the common stock was $1.52. Subsequently, the share price has shown considerable volatility, declining to $1.21 per share on December 21 and December 27, 2001, then rising to $1.80 on March 5, 2002, dropping to $1.50 on March 7 and closing at $1.66 per share on March 15, 2002. Throughout the period, the daily trading volume remained light, with an average daily trading volume of 4,324 shares.

Houlihan also analyzed the daily average of the high and low prices of USANA's common stock for the 25 trading days before March 18, 2002. Based on the data reported by Nasdaq, the average daily trading price of the daily high and low stock price for the common stock for this period was $1.64 per share, indicating a market capitalization on a minority interest basis of $15.9 million.

Comparison of Financial Performance with the Industry

Houlihan compared USANA's record with the average experience of other vitamin and nutritional supplement companies. Houlihan included data for the following companies ("Sample Group") in its analysis: Herbalife International, Nature's Sunshine Products, NBTY, Nu Skin, Nutraceutical International and Perrigo Company. Although the activities of the companies in the group may not be totally consistent with ours, Houlihan considered the information representative of firms engaged in the same types of activities as USANA and also believed that the data provided a reasonable backdrop for a comparative analysis of USANA's performance.

USANA is a significantly smaller company than the median of the Sample Group, with last twelve-month sales of $114.3 million compared to the median of $792.7 million for the Sample Group. USANA's revenue declined between 1999 and 2001 at an average compounded rate of 3.3% compared to median revenue growth for the Sample Group of 3.4% during the same period.

Median net income for the Sample Group for the last twelve-month period was $36.1 million compared to USANA's net income for 2001 of $2.2 million. Net income decreased at an average annual compounded rate of 38.6% compared to average annual compounded decrease in earnings for the Sample Group of 5.2%. The median net margin for the Sample Group for the last twelve months of 5.4% compared to USANA's net margin of 1.9% in 2001.

USANA's asset turnover ratios, which measure the efficiency with which the assets are utilized, were better than the Sample Group median, 3.2 times compared to the Sample Group median of 1.4 times.

According to Houlihan, USANA's financial liquidity, as measured by the current ratio, was less than the median of the Sample Group (1.0 times compared to 2.1 times). USANA was also substantially more leveraged than the median of the Sample Group as measured by total debt to equity (83.3% compared to 15.0%).

Houlihan noted that in its view a number of factors contributed to the lower multiples obtained by USANA. Those factors included declining sales and declining net income, financial risk as measured by the current ratio and total debt as a percent of equity.

Analysis of Market Multiples of Selected Comparable Public Companies

Houlihan analyzed the average of the average high and low prices of the common stock for the 25 trading days before the announcement of the Transaction ($1.64 per share), and calculated the price-to-revenue multiple at approximately 0.14 times compared to the median of the Sample Group of 0.75 times. USANA's price-to-book ratio was also lower at 1.09 times compared to the Sample Group median of 2.10 times. Similarly, USANA's price-to-earnings ratio was significantly lower than the Sample Group median (7.1 times compared to 13.6 times). Houlihan noted several factors that contribute to these lower multiples compared to the Sample Group:

The recent decline in total sales,

The significant decline in net earnings and earnings per share,

The existence of a controlling shareholder, and

The relatively low average trading volume of the common stock.

Houlihan noted that in applying the median multiples derived from the Sample Group (adjusted by Houlihan to reflect the differences between the Sample Group companies and USANA) to USANA's 2001 financial results indicated slightly higher values than the market currently places on the common stock. Applying the Sample Group derived price-to-revenue multiple to USANA's 2001 revenue yielded an indicated value on a minority interest basis of $17.5 million. Applying the Sample Group derived price-to-earnings multiple to USANA's 2001 earnings yielded an indicated value on a minority interest basis of $17.3 million, and applying the Sample Group derived price-to-book multiple to USANA's 2001 fiscal year end book value indicated a value on a minority interest basis of $17.6 million.

Houlihan noted that before the Transaction, Gull Holdings owned less than 50% of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock and will acquire control of the operating assets of USANA in the Transaction. Applying a premium for control to the market derived value indications for USANA resulted in controlling interest value indications of $33.8 million based on the price-to-revenue multiple, $33.6 million based on the price-to-earnings multiple, and $34.2 million based on the price-to-book multiple.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis Projections Assuming Pre-Transaction Ownership

Houlihan performed a discounted cash flow analysis based on projected earnings. The projections were prepared by management and assume the continuing operation of the business under pre-Transaction ownership.

The discounted cash flow approach values a business based on the current value of the future cash flow that the business will generate plus the estimated value of the business at some future date. To establish a current value under this approach, future cash flow must be estimated and an appropriate discount rate determined. Houlihan used estimates of projected financial performance for the fiscal years 2002 through 2004 prepared by management. Houlihan aggregated the present value of the projected net free cash flows through 2004 with the present value of the terminal value. The terminal value was computed based on projected net income in the calendar year 2005, to which a terminal capitalization rate was applied. Houlihan discounted these cash flows using a discount rate reflective of historical rates of return for publicly held common stock, risks inherent in the industry, and company specific risks. Houlihan noted that this analysis, which was based on projections prepared by management, indicated a value estimate of $26.3 million on a controlling interest basis.

Selected Comparable Sales Analysis

Houlihan reviewed six merger and acquisition transactions occurring in 1999 and 2000 and noted that no transactions of comparable companies were found in 2001. The reviewed transactions all involved nutritional supplement and personal care companies considered by Houlihan to be reasonably comparable to USANA and for which information was publicly available: PDK Labs, Inc., Rexall Sundown, Inc., MET-Rx Nutrition, Inc., Bactolac Pharmaceutical, Inc., Enrich International, Inc., and Cell Tech. For each of the comparable transactions, Houlihan calculated, among other things, total transaction value as a multiple of sales, book value and earnings; analyzed premiums paid for acquisition of controlling interests over the market price of minority interests before the announcement of the sale of the subject company; and adjusted the indicated transaction multiples for company specific risks and for valuation on a minority interest basis.

For the comparable transactions, multiples of transaction prices to revenue ranged from 0.4 times to 2.6 times with a median multiple of transaction price to revenue 1.2 times on a controlling interest basis. There was only one transaction with a multiple of transaction price-to-book value. That multiple was 0.7 times. Multiples of transaction price to earnings ranged from 9.5 times to 37.5 times with a median multiple of transaction price to earnings of 20.1 times on a controlling interest basis.

The median multiples derived from this analysis were adjusted to reflect company specific risks (namely, the recent decline in revenue and significantly greater decline in earnings) and subsequently applied to USANA's most recent financial data to determine a range of implied equity values on a controlling interest basis. The analysis of comparable transactions yielded implied equity values ranging from a low of $7.1 million (price-to-book multiple) to a high of $43.4 million when applying the price-to-revenue multiple. Application of the price-to-earnings multiple resulted in an indicated value of the common stock of $33.1 million.

Houlihan noted, however, that the reasons for and the circumstances surrounding the comparable transactions were specific to each transaction. Because of the inherent differences between the business, operations and prospects of USANA and the businesses, operations and prospects of the companies in the comparable transactions group, it was Houlihan's opinion that it was inappropriate to rely solely on the quantitative results of the analysis. In addition, no transactions of a comparable nature were reported for 2001. Houlihan recognized that market conditions changed significantly between 1999 and the Transaction date and that data derived from transactions occurring in 1999 and 2000 may not necessarily be applicable to current market conditions. Accordingly, Houlihan made qualitative judgments concerning differences between the characteristics of the comparable transactions and the Transaction that would affect the acquisition values of USANA and these acquired companies. Houlihan believed that USANA's declining sales and profitability warranted the application of significant discounts to comparable company multiples.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis Net Free Cash Flow of Surviving Public Company

Management prepared projections for USANA following the Transaction. Houlihan analyzed the free cash flow available to the public shareholders post-Transaction. Based on these projections and Houlihan's assessment of the risk characteristics specific to USANA, the net present value of the net free cash flow was estimated to be in the range of $8.8 million on a minority interest basis.

Analysis of Transaction

Management provided Houlihan with their analysis of the Transaction.

Based on the structure provided to it, Houlihan estimated that the total value of consideration to be paid by Gull Holdings and UAC to USANA is approximately $25 million, computed as follows:

Houlihan's Transaction Analysis

Consideration	Value
Market value of redeemed shares	$ 7,658,000
Note	5,000,000
Assumed Liabilities	12,093,000
 Estimated Value of UAC Consideration	 $ 24,751,000

Houlihan predicated the calculation upon the assertion by management that the fair market value of the real estate to be retained is approximately $12 million and that the total liabilities remaining with USANA at the conclusion of the Transaction will be approximately $8 million.

Relevant Market and Economic Factors

Houlihan considered, among other factors, the condition of the U.S. stock markets, particularly as it relates to the nutritional supplement and personal care products industries, and the current level of economic activity.

No company used in the analysis of selected publicly traded companies or any transaction used in the analysis of selected transactions summarized above is identical to USANA. Accordingly, these analyses must take into consideration differences in the financial and operating characteristics of the industry sample group, selected transactions and other factors that would affect the public trading value and acquisition value of these companies and industry groups.

Houlihan's Conclusion

Based on all of these considerations, Houlihan advised the Special Committee of the board of directors that in its opinion the Transaction was fair to USANA.

Formation of Houlihan Valuation Advisors Opinion

In arriving at its opinion as to the fairness of the Transaction to the public shareholders, Houlihan considered, among other things, the above analyses. The analyses indicated ranges of value for the on-going operations as USANA was configured before the Transaction. The analyses also considered the value of the surviving public company following the Transaction as well as the consideration to be paid by Gull Holdings and UAC to acquire the operating assets.

We paid Houlihan a fee of $42,000 for rendering the opinion. In addition, we agreed to reimburse Houlihan for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with rendering the opinion. In addition, the parties to the Transaction have agreed to indemnify Houlihan and its directors, officers, agents, employees and controlling persons, for certain costs, expenses, losses, claims, damages and liabilities related to or arising out of its rendering of services under its engagement as financial advisors.

The Special Committee retained Houlihan based upon Houlihan's qualifications, reputation, experience and expertise. Houlihan, as a customary part of its business, is engaged in valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes.

OUR BUSINESS FOLLOWING THE TRANSACTION

If the Transaction is approved and consummated, we will change our corporate name to Innova Ventures, Inc. Management and the board of directors of Innova will actively seek other operating businesses for Innova to acquire or invest in. We cannot estimate at this time what form these transactions might take and there can be no assurances that Innova will be able to negotiate and complete multiple transactions. Even if transactions are completed, there can be no assurances that the market price of Innova's common stock will improve after the closing. Even if Innova does not complete any transactions in the immediate future, we estimate that we will have positive cash flow. No efforts have been or will be made before the closing to implement our new business purpose.

The rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission require us to provide shareholders with disclosure documentation in connection with proposed business combinations, including audited financial statements of a target business. Accordingly, any target business that is selected would be required to have audited financial statements or be audited in connection with the transaction. It is anticipated that Innova will not enter into a business combination or similar transaction with a financially unstable company or an entity in its early stage of development or growth (including entities without established records of revenue or income). Although management will endeavor to evaluate the risks inherent in a particular industry or target business, you cannot assume that they will properly ascertain or assess all risks.

The role of Innova's management following a purchase or other transaction cannot be stated with any certainty. Although it will be management's intent to scrutinize closely the management of a prospective target business in connection with its evaluation of a business combination with a target business, there can be no assurance that the assessment of management will prove to be correct.

The time and costs required to select and evaluate a target business (including conducting a due diligence review) and to structure and consummate the business combination (including negotiating and documenting relevant agreements and preparing requisite documents for filing pursuant to applicable corporate and securities laws) cannot be determined at this time. Any costs incurred in connection with the identification and evaluation of a prospective target business with which a business combination is not ultimately consummated could result in a loss to us and reduce the amount of capital available to otherwise complete a business combination or for the resulting entity to utilize.

As a general rule, federal and state tax laws and regulations have a significant impact upon the structuring of acquisitions and business combinations. We expect that Innova will evaluate the possible tax consequences of any prospective business combination and will endeavor to structure a business combination so as to achieve the most favorable tax treatment. There can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service or relevant state tax authorities will ultimately assent to Innova's tax treatment of a particular consummated business combination. To the extent the Internal Revenue Service or any relevant state tax authorities ultimately prevail in recharacterizing the tax treatment of a business combination, there may be adverse tax consequences to Innova, the target business, and their respective stockholders.

We also expect that Innova may acquire one or more companies or businesses by purchasing the securities of the target company or business. However, we do not intend to engage primarily in trading or selling securities. Specifically, we expect that Innova will conduct its business so as to avoid being classified as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act of 1940, and therefore avoid application of the costly and restrictive registration and other provisions of the Investment Company Act and related regulations.

Section 3(a) of the Investment Company Act excepts from the definition of an "investment company" an entity which does not engage primarily in the business of investing, reinvesting or trading in securities, or which does not engage in the business of investing, owning, holding or trading "investment securities" (defined as "all securities other than government securities or securities of majority-owned subsidiaries") the value of which exceeds 40% of the value of its total assets (excluding government securities, cash or cash items). Innova intends to implement its business plan in a manner, which will result in the availability of this exception from the definition of an investment company. Consequently, Innova's acquisition of a company or business through the purchase and sale of investment securities will be limited. Although Innova intends to act to avoid classification as an investment company, the provisions of the Investment Company Act are extremely complex and it is possible that Innova may be classified as an inadvertent investment company.

Innova will vigorously resist classification as an investment company, and endeavor to take advantage of any exemptions or exceptions from application of the Investment Company Act, which allows an entity a one-time option during any three-year period to claim an exemption as a "transient" investment company. The necessity of asserting any such resistance, or making any claim of exemption, could be time consuming and costly, or even prohibitive, given our limited resources.

Innova will continue to be subject to the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act. Among other things, those requirements include the obligation, in the event significant acquisitions take place, to furnish information including audited financial statements for the acquired company covering one, two or three years depending upon the relative size of the acquisition. Consequently, acquisition prospects that do not have or are unable to obtain the required audited financial statements will not be appropriate for acquisition so long as the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act are applicable. Various impediments to an acquisition of a business or company or a merger may arise such as appraisal rights afforded the shareholders of a prospective acquisition or merger partner under the laws of the state of organization of the prospective acquisition company. This may prove to be a deterrent to a particular combination.

SECURITIES EXCHANGE REPORTING AND NASDAQ STOCK MARKET LISTING

Following the Transaction, we intend to maintain our status as a reporting company under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as well as the listing of the common stock with The Nasdaq Stock Market. The continuing listing requirements of The Nasdaq Stock Market System require that listed companies maintain minimum net equity of $10 million. We estimate that the net equity of the shareholders following the closing of the Transaction will be approximately $8.5 million, and will therefore fall below the minimum shareholders' equity requirement. However, we expect to continue to qualify until November 2002 under a transition rule that allows companies listed as of June 2001 to maintain their listing under the former standard of $4 million net tangible assets. If we are not successful in maintaining the listing on the The Nasdaq Stock Market, we nevertheless believe that we will qualify for listing on The Nasdaq SmallCap Market and therefore the common stock is expected to continue to be listed for trading on a public market. Although every reasonable effort will be made by management to maintain this listing after the Transaction, there is no assurance that we will be successful.

ACCOUNTING TREATMENT

The Transaction will be treated as a disposition of a business and redemption of common stock under generally accepted accounting principles. Upon consummation of the Transaction, we will record the redemption of 4,786,282 shares of common stock from Gull Holdings, recognize a note receivable of $5 million, remove the net assets sold from the consolidated balance sheet, and record the gain or loss on the Transaction, net of Transaction and other related costs, including applicable state and federal income taxes, in our consolidated statements of earnings.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The unaudited pro forma data presented in the following unaudited pro forma financial statements are included to illustrate the effect of the Transaction on USANA's financial statements. USANA intends to sell substantially all of its assets and liabilities to UAC.

The unaudited pro forma financial statements give effect to the Transaction as if it had occurred, for balance sheet purposes, on December 29, 2001 (the ending of fiscal 2001) and, for statement of earnings purposes, on December 31, 2000 (the beginning of fiscal 2001). The pro forma adjustments are based upon available information and certain assumptions that management believes are reasonable. The unaudited pro forma financial statements are provided for informational purposes only and should not be construed to be indicative of our financial position or results of operations had such events been consummated on the dates assumed and do not project our financial position or results of operations for any future date or period.

The unaudited pro forma financial statements should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and related notes thereto appearing in our most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K.

- (3) There will be a mortgage obtained from a financial institution on the real estate located at 3838 W. Parkway Blvd., Salt Lake City, Utah, that is retained by USANA. The mortgage will require monthly principal and interest payments for the 15-year amortization, five-year term note at an annual interest rate of 7.8%. The intent is for USANA to sell the real estate to UAC before the end of the five-year term in accordance with the Asset Purchase Agreement.

- (4) Income tax calculated at a rate of 37%.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES

The proposed sale of operating assets of USANA by itself will not produce any separate and independent federal income tax consequences to the shareholders of USANA.

The proposed surrender by Gull Holdings of 4,786,282 shares of common stock will not produce any separate federal income tax consequences to Gull Holdings or USANA.

The gain on the sale from the Transaction will be taxable to USANA. We will recognize gain or loss based on the difference between the amount of the purchase price allocated to the assets and our tax basis in the assets. For purposes of determining the amount realized with respect to specific assets, the total amount realized by us will generally be allocated among the assets according to the rules prescribed under Section 1060(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as presently in effect. Our basis in the assets sold is less than the cost of the assets, as adjusted for certain temporary differences, such as depreciation, deferred profit on inter-company sales and asset and liability provisions. The determination of whether gain or loss is recognized will be made with respect to each of the assets included in the Transaction. Accordingly, we may recognize gain on the sale of some of the assets and a loss on the sale of others, depending on the amount of consideration allocated to an asset as compared with the basis of that asset. It is anticipated that our total tax liability in the Transaction will be approximately $1.6 million and that we will pay this tax from the cash remaining in USANA at closing.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Special Committee of the board of directors has determined that the Transaction is in the best interest of USANA. The Special Committee has unanimously approved the asset purchase agreement and unanimously recommends that you vote in favor of the Transaction.

VOTE REQUIRED

The Special Committee has determined that the Transaction may constitute a sale of "all or substantially all" of our assets based on current interpretations of that term. The Special Committee has determined that we will proceed with the Transaction only if a quorum is present as determined by the Special Committee and the Transaction is approved by:

A majority of all issued and outstanding shares, and

A majority of all issued and outstanding shares held by Disinterested Persons, as reasonably determined by the Special Committee. The Special Committee, in its discretion, may accept the approval of less than a majority of the issued and outstanding shares held by Disinterested Persons, provided that at least 70% of the shares held by Disinterested Persons represented at the Special Meeting are voted in favor of the Transaction.

THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE FOR THE PROPOSAL TO APPROVE THE TRANSACTION.

PROPOSAL #2

AMENDMENT OF OUR ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION TO CHANGE OUR NAME TO "INNOVA VENTURES, INC."

General

We agreed in the Transaction that we would change our name to not include the word "USANA" or "Health Sciences." On March 16, 2002, the Special Committee, determining it to be in the best interests of USANA and our shareholders to change our name to Innova Ventures, Inc. if the Transaction is consummated, authorized the preparation and filing of an amendment to the Articles of Incorporation, subject to the consummation of the Transaction. If you approve Proposal No. 2 and the Transaction is consummated, we will file the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation. The amendment to the Articles of Incorporation will effect a change of our name to Innova Ventures, Inc., the form of which is attached as Annex C to this proxy statement and incorporated herein by reference.

Other than the name change, the remaining provisions of our Articles of Incorporation, as currently in effect, will not be changed as a result of the approval of the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation.

Vote Required

Approval of the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of common stock voted at the Special Meeting.

ASSET PURCHASE AGREEMENT

THIS ASSET PURCHASE AGREEMENT (the "Agreement") is made and entered into the 21st day of March, 2002 (the "Agreement Date"), by and among: USANA Health Sciences, Inc., a Utah corporation ("Seller"); USANA Acquisition Corp., a Utah corporation ("Buyer"); and Gull Holdings, Ltd., an Isle of Man corporation and the sole shareholder of Buyer ("Gull"). Seller, Buyer and Gull are sometimes referred to herein individually as a "Party" and collectively as the "Parties." For purposes of this Agreement, and unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them in Exhibit A attached hereto.

Recitals

A. Seller owns and operates a business engaged in the development, production, procurement, manufacture and marketing of health, nutrition and beauty aids, supplements and other products, with the distribution of such products being carried out through a network marketing system of independent distributors (the "Business").

B. On March 16, 2002, Seller and Gull entered into a non-binding term sheet for the purchase of the Business by Gull or its designated subsidiary (the "Term Sheet"), subject to the execution of a definitive purchase agreement consistent with the terms and conditions contained in the Term Sheet. The Parties intend that this Agreement shall be the definitive agreement referenced in the Term Sheet.

C. On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, Buyer desires to acquire substantially all of the operating assets of Seller, including all assets utilized in and required for the operation of the Business (the "Acquired Assets" as defined in Section 1.1 below), and in connection with such acquisition is willing to assume substantially all of the liabilities and contractual obligations relating to the Business and the Acquired Assets (the "Assumed Obligations and Liabilities" as defined in Section 2.1.1 below).

D. Seller is willing to sell the Acquired Assets to Buyer upon the terms and conditions and for the consideration set forth herein, and believes that its participation in the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are in the best interests of Seller and its shareholders.

E. The Parties desire to enter into this Agreement in order to set forth and establish their rights and obligations with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby.

Agreement

NOW THEREFORE, intending to be legally bound, and in consideration of the above-recited premises and the mutual promises, covenants and conditions contained herein, the Parties hereto agree as follows:

Article I

Assets to be Acquired by Buyer and Retained by Seller

1.1 Assets to be Acquired by Buyer. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, at the Closing (as defined in Section 3.1 below), Seller shall convey, transfer, assign and deliver to Buyer, and Buyer shall purchase, acquire and accept from Seller, all of Seller's tangible and intangible assets and properties, rights, titles and interests of every kind owned, leased or licensed by Seller as of the date of the Closing, other than the Excluded Assets (as defined below), including all assets, rights and interests used in and required for the operation of the Business, and including without limitation the Cash Equivalents, Accounts Receivable, Assumed Benefit Plans, Credits, Securities (including shares and ownership interests of all Seller Subsidiaries), Inventories, FF&E, Intellectual Property, Permits, Assumed Claims, Assumed Agreements and Other Assets, all as defined and described in Exhibit B attached hereto (collectively, the "Acquired Assets").

1.2 Assets Being Retained by Seller. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Acquired Assets will not include, and Seller will retain all rights and interests in, and all obligations with respect to, the Retained Real Estate, Retained Cash, Retained Vehicles, Retained D&O Insurance Policy, Retained Agreement Rights and Excluded Software, all as defined and described in Exhibit C attached hereto (collectively, the "Excluded Assets"). The Excluded Assets will not be sold, conveyed, transferred, assigned or delivered to Buyer at the Closing.

1.3 Nonassignable Rights. Nothing herein shall be deemed to require the transfer of any assets which by their terms or operation of law cannot be transferred; provided, however, that Seller shall cooperate with Buyer to seek to obtain any necessary consents or approvals for the transfer of all Acquired Assets contemplated to be transferred pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. In the event that the transfer of any of the Acquired Assets is not consummated as of the Closing, Seller, as the Party retaining such Acquired Assets, shall hold such Acquired Assets in trust for the use and benefit of Buyer, and take such other action as may be reasonably requested by Buyer, in order to place Buyer, insofar as is reasonably possible, in the same position as would have existed had Seller's interests in such assets been transferred to Buyer as contemplated hereby. As and when any such Acquired Asset becomes transferable, such transfer shall be effectuated forthwith. The Parties agree that, as of the Closing, Buyer shall be deemed to have acquired Seller's entire rights, title and interests in and to all of the Acquired Assets, together with all powers and privileges incident thereto and all duties, obligations and responsibilities incident thereto, which Buyer is entitled to acquire or required to assume pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

1.4 Books and Records. Seller shall retain its corporate books and records, shareholder records and ledgers, financial statements and tax records, and books and records relating to the Retained Real Estate. All other historical books and records of the Business, including the corporate books and records of all Seller Subsidiaries, records of distributors, customers and associates, and records of sales, compensation and customers (whether written or electronic or in other formats or media), as well as employment records of all employees except for those employees of Seller named on Exhibit I attached hereto who will remain as employees of Seller following the Closing (the "Continuing Employees"), shall be transferred to Buyer as part of the Acquired Assets, provided that Seller shall be entitled to retain a copy of such historical records. Following the Closing, each Party shall have the right to reasonable access to historical records of the other to the extent required to respond to tax audits or fulfill its other legal obligations.

Article II

Consideration Payable for Acquired Assets

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

2.1 Consideration for the Acquired Assets. The consideration payable for the Acquired Assets (the "Purchase Price") will consist of the assumption by Buyer of the Assumed Obligations and Liabilities, as well as the surrender and transfer to and redemption by Seller of outstanding shares of Seller's Common Stock held by Gull, and the issuance to Seller of Buyer's promissory note, all as more fully set forth below:

2.1.1 Assumption of Obligations and Liabilities. From and after the Closing, Buyer shall assume, become responsible for, and undertake to pay, defend, discharge and perform as and when due or required all debts, obligations and liabilities of Seller arising from or relating to the Business, including those items listed below (the "Assumed Obligations and Liabilities"), but excluding the Retained Liabilities (as defined in Exhibit D attached hereto), and subject to the other limitations and exceptions specifically provided for herein:

(a) Bank Debt. Buyer will assume all obligations owed by Seller to Bank of America, N.A. ("Bank"), with respect to the revolving line of credit (but not the term loan) established pursuant to that certain Amended Credit Agreement dated March 26, 2001 (the "Credit Agreement"), up to a maximum amount of $7,000,000 (such assumed indebtedness being referred to herein as the "Assumed Bank Indebtedness").

(b) Legal Claims. Buyer will assume all responsibility to defend and to indemnify Seller from, the Assumed Claims as described in Exhibit B, Schedule B.9 and Exhibit D attached hereto. Buyer will, from and after the Closing, have full authority and discretion regarding the handling and disposition of the Assumed Claims, provided that it shall be required to satisfy all obligations and liabilities resulting therefrom.

(c) Assumed Obligations and Agreements. Buyer will assume all obligations of Seller under the Assumed Agreements referenced in Exhibits B and D attached hereto.

(d) Other Assumed Obligations. Buyer will assume all accounts payable, tax liabilities (excluding net deferred tax liabilities on the books of Seller), contingent liabilities and other liabilities of Seller specifically identified on Exhibit D attached hereto.

2.1.2 Redemption of Gull Shares. At the Closing, Gull will sell, assign, transfer and surrender to Seller all 4,786,282 shares of Seller's Common Stock currently held by Gull (the "Gull Shares"), free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances. For purposes of this Agreement, the redemption price of the Gull Shares has been set at $1.60 per share. The average of the high and low sales prices of the Common Stock over the ten trading days preceding the public announcement of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement was $1.59 per share. Upon such transfer and redemption, the Gull Shares shall return to the status of authorized but unissued shares, so that the total number of shares of Seller's Common Stock outstanding immediately after the Closing will be reduced by 4,786,282, and the percentage equity interests of Seller's continuing shareholders will be proportionately increased. Seller shall have no right or obligation to redeem any other shares of Seller's Common Stock, if any, hereafter acquired by Buyer or Gull.

2.1.3 Issuance of Buyer's Promissory Note. At the Closing, Buyer will issue to Seller a promissory note in an original principal amount of $5,000,000 ("Buyer's Note"). Buyer's Note will be in the form attached hereto as Exhibit E, and will provide for payments and interest as set forth therein. Buyer's obligations under Buyer's Note will be secured by a pledge of the Acquired Assets and of Buyer's outstanding shares held by Gull, pursuant to the terms of a Loan and Security Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit F (together with the exhibits attached thereto and forming a part thereof, the "Security Agreement"). Buyer will undertake certain obligations and covenants to Seller pending payment of Buyer's Note, pursuant to the terms of the Security Agreement.

2.2 Allocation of Purchase Price. The Purchase Price shall be valued and allocated among the Acquired Assets in accordance with Buyer's reasonable determination, consistent with the terms of this Agreement, and Buyer will provide Seller with the specified allocation prior to the Closing. All Parties agree to report the transactions contemplated hereby for U.S. federal tax purposes in a manner consistent with such allocation.

Article III The Closing

3.1 Closing. Subject to termination of this Agreement as provided elsewhere herein, the closing of the transactions contemplated hereby (the "Closing") shall take place at the offices of Snell & Wilmer LLP, Gateway Tower West, 15 West South Temple, Suite 1200, Salt Lake City, Utah 84101, or at such other location as may be mutually agreed upon by the Parties, at 10:00 a.m., local time, upon the date of satisfaction or waiver of the last to be fulfilled of the conditions to the Closing as set forth in Article 4 hereof that by their terms are not to occur at the Closing, or on such later date as the Parties may mutually agree upon (the "Closing Date").

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

3.2 Seller's Obligations at Closing. At the Closing, Seller will deliver to Buyer the following:

3.2.1 Bill of Sale. An executed Assignment and Bill of Sale in the form attached hereto as Exhibit G (the "Bill of Sale"), conveying to Buyer legal title, and the respective rights, title and interests of Seller in and to the Acquired Assets, free and clear of all liens, claims, charges and encumbrances, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement.

The term "Seller Acquisition Proposal" as used herein means any offer or proposal for, or any indication of interest in, a merger or other business combination directly or indirectly involving Seller or any Seller Subsidiary or the acquisition of a substantial equity interest in, or a substantial portion of the assets of, any such party, other than the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

5.12 Access to Information. Seller will allow the other Parties and their agents reasonable access to the files, books, records, technology and offices of Seller including, without limitation, any and all information relating to the Acquired Assets, the Assumed Obligations and Liabilities and the Business. Seller will cause its accountants to cooperate with the other Parties and their agents in making available all financial information reasonably requested by them. Buyer and Gull shall have the right to inspect at all reasonable times during business hours all of the Acquired Assets.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

5.13 Additional Actions. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, each of the Parties hereto agrees to use all reasonable efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all action and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under applicable laws and regulations, or to remove any impediments or delays, to consummate and make effective the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, subject, however, to the Seller Shareholder Vote.

5.14 Further Assurances. Each Party hereto agrees to use all reasonable efforts to obtain all consents and approvals and to do all other things necessary for the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The Parties agree to take such further action to deliver or cause to be delivered to each other at the Closing and at such other times thereafter as is reasonably agreed by such additional agreements or instruments as any of them may reasonably request for the purpose of carrying out this Agreement and agreements and transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. The Parties will afford each other access to all information, documents, records and personnel who may be necessary for any Party to comply with laws or regulations (including without limitation the filing and payment of taxes and handling tax audits), to fulfill its obligations with respect to indemnification hereunder or to defend itself against suits or claims of others.

5.15 Publicity. None of the Parties will issue or cause the publication of any press release or other announcement with respect to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby without the prior consultation of the other Parties hereto, except as may be required by law or by any listing agreement with a national securities exchange, and each will use reasonable efforts to provide copies of such release or other announcement to the other Parties hereto, and give due consideration to such comments as such other Party may have, prior to such release.

5.16 Confidentiality and Noncompetition

5.16.1 Seller Duty to Maintain Confidentiality. Seller has confidential and proprietary information relating to the Business, including information described in the definition of Intellectual Property, which will become property of Buyer upon the Closing. Seller acknowledges that such information is essential to the continued success of the Business and achievement of the value of the Acquired Assets, and will be of importance to the business activities and plans of Buyer after the Closing. Seller further acknowledges that the unauthorized disclosure of such confidential information to others or the unauthorized use of such information by others would cause substantial loss and harm to Buyer. Accordingly, Seller agrees that from and after the Closing it will not use or disclose any of such confidential information, except as may be required by law or by any listing agreement with a national securities exchange, and will require its executive officers to likewise refrain from any unauthorized use or disclosure of any such confidential information.

5.16.2 Duty of Buyer and Gull to Maintain Confidentiality. Buyer and Gull have obtained, and prior to the Closing will obtain, access to information that is confidential and proprietary to Seller. Prior to the Closing, Buyer and Gull will not use such information for any purpose other than to evaluate whether to proceed with the Closing and to prepare to conduct the Business upon the Closing. In the event the Closing does not occur as contemplated herein, then upon the termination of this Agreement Buyer and Gull will return to Seller all confidential and proprietary information of Seller, and will refrain from using or disseminating any such information which has not entered the public domain, through no fault of Buyer or Seller.

5.16.3 Seller Agreement Not to Compete. Seller agrees that for a period of three (3) years from and after the Closing Date it will refrain from (i) contacting any of the distributors or affiliates of Buyer for the purpose of soliciting orders or establishing relationships for any business enterprise that competes with the Business anywhere in the world, and (ii) marketing through any network marketing systems or direct sales arrangements, including catalogue sales organizations any nutritional, health or beauty aids, skin care products, weight management products or health foods, supplements or other products that compete with the products marketed through the Business.

5.16.4 Remedy and Right to Injunction. The Parties agree that damages in the event of a breach of this Section 5.16 would be difficult if not impossible to ascertain, and it is therefore agreed that a Party, in addition to and without limiting any other remedy or right it may have, shall be entitled, as a matter of course, to obtain an injunction from any court of competent jurisdiction restraining any further such violation, as well as to recover from the breaching Party any and all costs and expenses sustained or incurred by the Party in obtaining such an injunction and recovery, including without limitation reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements. Each Party's right to obtain an injunction (and to recover such costs and expenses) shall be cumulative and in addition to any other rights and remedies to which such Party may be entitled, including the right to recover damages.

5.17 Expenses. In the event the Closing occurs as contemplated herein, the Parties agree that Seller and Buyer will each share, pay and be responsible for, one-half of the fees, costs and expenses incurred by the Parties and associated with the negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, including without limitation, legal, accounting, consulting and advisory fees; provided, however, that Buyer and Gull will be solely responsible for any expenses or fees incurred in connection with their due diligence investigation under Section 4.3.8 of this Agreement. The Parties agree to meet promptly following the Closing to compile and compute the amount of all such transaction fees, and arrange for the allocation and payment of those fees equally between and by Seller and Buyer, including any credits for any portion thereof paid previously by any of the Parties.

5.18 Ownership of Gull Shares. Until the Closing or earlier termination of the Agreement, Buyer will not encumber or dispose of any of the Gull Shares, but will continue to hold the Gull Shares free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances.

5.19 Actions to Achieve Financial Arrangements. The Parties agree to use their reasonable efforts so that at the Closing (i) Buyer will be able to assume the Assumed Bank Indebtedness, (ii) the Retained Cash will be available for retention by Seller, and (iii) all liens attached to the Acquired Assets with respect to indebtedness owed by Seller other than the Assumed Bank Indebtedness will be removed to allow the transfer of the Acquired Assets to Buyer, free of liens, claims and encumbrances, except for liens, claims and encumbrances relating to the Assumed Bank Indebtedness and the Assumed Obligations and Liabilities. To this end, and unless otherwise agreed by the Parties: (i) Buyer agrees that at, or concurrently with, the Closing it will utilize the financing available through the commitment referenced in Section 4.3.4 above to pay and refinance the Assumed Bank Indebtedness; (ii) Seller agrees that at or concurrently with the Closing it will utilize the financing available through the commitment referenced in Section 4.2.4 above to pay and refinance all indebtedness owed to the Bank pursuant to the Credit Agreement, other than the Assumed Bank Indebtedness, and to otherwise reduce indebtedness so that the Assumed Bank Indebtedness does not exceed the maximum amount referenced in Section 2.1.1(a) above; and (iii) Seller agrees that at or concurrently with the Closing it will further utilize the financing available through the commitment referenced in Section 4.2.4 above to ensure that the Retained Cash is held by Seller at the Closing.

5.20 Payment to Seller to Offset Specified Excess Tax Obligations. Seller agrees that all tax returns relating to the profit or gain realized by Seller in connection with the sale of the Acquired Assets to Buyer as contemplated by this Agreement will be in a form prepared by Seller in a manner consistent with the terms of this Agreement and approved by Buyer and the accounting firm of Grant Thornton (or another accounting firm of recognized regional standing approved by Buyer). In the event that at any time after the Closing and prior to the expiration of applicable limitations periods, Seller is advised by such accounting firm or the Internal Revenue Service that the total federal and state taxes payable by Seller with respect to any profit or gain realized by Seller in connection with the sale of the Acquired Assets to Buyer as contemplated by the Agreement are in excess of $1,700,000, and Seller determines to pay such excess amount, then Seller will promptly notify Buyer in writing of such advice and payment, and provide to Buyer a copy of the determination of such accounting firm or the Internal Revenue Service, as given to Seller, and evidence of Seller's payment of such taxes. Buyer agrees that promptly (and in any event within thirty days) following the receipt of such notice and accompanying items, it will reimburse Seller the amount by which the total federal and state taxes paid by Seller with respect to the sale of the Acquired Assets exceed $1,700,000. Upon such payment, Buyer will have the right to pursue any adjustment of the taxes paid by Seller with respect to such transaction, and to contest the determination of the Internal Revenue Service with respect thereto, and will be entitled to any refund relating thereto. Buyer's obligation as set forth above shall not apply to any taxes payable as a result of a breach by Seller of any of its covenants in this Agreement, or any penalties payable as a result of Seller's failure to timely pay any tax determined to be due or file any applicable tax returns.

Article VI Representations and Warranties

The execution, delivery and performance by Seller of this Agreement and the Seller Ancillary Agreements have been duly and validly approved and authorized by Seller's Board of Directors (or its special committee, as the case may be), and no other corporate proceedings on the part of Seller are necessary to authorize this Agreement or the Seller Ancillary Agreements or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, other than the receipt of the Seller Shareholder Vote. The special committee of Seller's Board of Directors has determined the transactions contemplated by this Agreement to be in the best interests of Seller and its minority shareholders, and will recommend that such shareholders approve the Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

(b) Validity. This Agreement has been, and each of the Seller Ancillary Agreements is, or upon execution will be, duly and validly executed and delivered by Seller and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery hereof and thereof by the other Parties hereto and thereto, constitutes, or upon execution will constitute, valid and binding obligations of Seller, enforceable against Seller in accordance with their respective terms, (i) subject to receipt of the Seller Shareholder Vote and (ii) except as such enforceability may be subject to the effects of bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and other laws relating to or affecting the rights of creditors and of general principles of equity (the "Enforceability Exceptions").

6.1.3 No Conflict. Neither the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement or the Seller Ancillary Agreements, nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby nor compliance with the provisions hereof or thereof will conflict with, or result in any violations of, or cause a default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of termination, amendment, cancellation or acceleration of any obligation contained in, or the loss of any material benefit under, or result in the creation of any lien, security interest, charge or encumbrance upon any of the material properties or assets of Seller or the Seller Subsidiaries, under any term, condition or provision of (i) their articles or certificate of incorporation or bylaws, or (ii) any loan or credit agreement, note, bond, mortgage, indenture, lease or other material agreement, judgment, order, decree, statute, law, ordinance, rule or regulation applicable to Seller or any Seller Subsidiary or any of their properties or assets, except for such violations, breaches, defaults, or rights of termination, cancellation or acceleration, or losses as to which requisite waivers or consents have been obtained.

6.1.4 Redemption of Gull Shares Does Not Violate Utah Law. The acquisition by Seller of the Gull Shares will not constitute an unlawful distribution or prohibited acquisition of Seller's own shares under the Utah Revised Business Corporation Act. After giving effect to the Closing, Seller will not be unable to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of business, and Seller's total assets will be greater than the sum of its total liabilities.

6.1.7 Absence of Certain Changes or Events. Neither Gilbert Fuller nor John B. McCandless is aware of any event or occurrence relating to the Acquired Assets or Business, or Seller's relationships with its distributors, associates, vendors, customers or governmental agencies, or the violation of any covenant or agreement that is likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on the Business that has not been disclosed to Dr. Myron Wentz, David Wentz, Seller's Board of Directors, or one or more of the officers of Seller other than the Continuing Employees.

6.1.8 Fees and Expenses. Neither Seller nor any of the Seller Subsidiaries has paid or become obligated to pay any fee or commission to any broker, finder or intermediary in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

6.2. Representations and Warranties of Buyer and Gull.

6.2.1 Organization; Good Standing; Qualification. Each of Buyer and Gull is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the jurisdiction of its incorporation, and has all requisite corporate power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and to carry on its business as now being conducted. Buyer is a newly formed entity, and has not conducted any material business activities prior to, or other than, the negotiation and execution of this Agreement and the Buyer Ancillary Agreements (as defined below). Upon the Closing, the Acquired Assets will constitute Buyer's entire assets, and the Acquired Liabilities, the Buyer's Note and the Security Agreement will constitute Buyer's entire liabilities, other than other obligations and liabilities arising out of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, and as a result of the assumption of the Assumed Agreements.

6.2.2 Corporate Power and Authority. Each of Buyer and Gull has the requisite corporate power and authority to enter into and perform its obligations under this Agreement, and all other agreements and instruments contemplated hereby to which such entity is or is intended to be a party (the "Buyer Ancillary Agreements"). The execution, delivery and performance by each of Gull and Buyer of this Agreement and the Buyer Ancillary Agreements to which such entity is a party have been duly and validly approved and authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Board of Directors and the shareholders of such entity, and no other corporate proceedings on the part of Buyer or Gull is necessary to authorize this Agreement and the Buyer Ancillary Agreements or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby.

6.2.3 Validity. This Agreement and each of the Buyer Ancillary Agreements are, or upon execution will be, duly and validly executed and delivered by Buyer and/or Gull, as the case may be, and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery hereof and thereof by the other Parties hereto and thereto, constitute, or upon execution will constitute, valid and binding obligations of Buyer and/or Gull, as the case may be, enforceable against such Parties in accordance with their respective terms, except for the Enforceability Exceptions.

6.2.4 No Conflict. Neither the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement, nor the Buyer Ancillary Agreements, nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby nor compliance with the provisions hereof or thereof will conflict with, or result in any violations of, or cause a default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of termination, amendment, cancellation or acceleration of any obligation contained in, or the loss of any material benefit under, or result in the creation of any lien, security interest, charge or encumbrance upon any of the Acquired Assets, under any term, condition or provision of (i) their articles of incorporation or bylaws, or (ii) any loan or credit agreement, note, bond, mortgage, indenture, lease or other material agreement, judgment, order, decree, statute, law, ordinance, rule or regulation applicable to Buyer and/or Gull, or the Acquired Assets, as the case may be.

6.2.5 Government Consents. No consent, approval, order or authorization of or registration, designation, declaration or filing with, any governmental entity is required to be obtained by Buyer or Gull in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement, the Buyer Ancillary Agreements, or the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, except for such filings, authorizations, orders and approvals which, if not obtained or made, would not (A) materially impair the ability of Buyer or Gull to perform its obligations under this Agreement or any Buyer Ancillary Agreement or (B) prevent the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

6.2.6 Gull Shares. Gull now owns, and immediately prior to the Closing will own, the Gull Shares free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances. Gull is not a party to, and the Gull Shares are not subject to, any agreement, mortgage, pledge, security interest, lien or encumbrance of any kind that would prevent or prohibit the sale and transfer of the Gull Shares as contemplated by this Agreement.

6.2.7 Fees and Expenses. Neither Buyer nor Gull has paid or become obligated to pay any fee or commission to any broker, finder or intermediary in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Article VII Termination of Agreement

7.1 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing as set forth below:

7.1.1 Mutual Agreement. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing by the mutual written agreement of the Parties hereto.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

7.1.2 For Failure of Closing. This Agreement may be terminated by any Party hereto if the Closing has not occurred by 11:59 p.m., Mountain Daylight Savings Time, on June 29, 2002, provided that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 7.1.2 shall not be available to any Party whose failure to fulfill any obligation under this Agreement has been the cause of, or resulted in, the failure of the Closing to occur on or before such date.

7.1.3 For Failure of Conditions. Any Party may terminate this Agreement by giving written notice of termination to the other Parties, if prior to the Closing another Party has breached any of its material representations, warranties, or covenants contained in this Agreement in any material respect, and the breach, if curable, has continued without cure for a period of fifteen (15) business days following the date of receipt of the termination notice by the breaching Party.

7.2 Effect of Termination. If this Agreement is terminated as provided above, all rights and obligations of the Parties hereunder shall terminate without liability of any Party to any other Party; provided, however, that nothing herein will relieve any Party from liability for the willful breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement prior to such termination.

Article VIII Indemnification

8.1 Indemnification. Each Party (as an "Indemnifying Party") agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless each of the other Parties (as an "Indemnified Party"), and each of the Indemnified Party's shareholders, affiliates, officers, directors, employees, agents, successors and assigns (an Indemnified Party and such related persons being referred to herein as the "Indemnified Persons") for, from and against each claim, loss, liability, cost and expense (including without limitation, interest, penalties, costs of preparation and investigation, and the reasonable fees, disbursements and expenses of attorneys, accountants and other professional advisors) (collectively "Losses"), directly or indirectly relating to, resulting from or arising out of any untrue representation, misrepresentation, breach of warranty or non-fulfillment of any covenant, agreement or other obligation by or of the Indemnifying Party pursuant to this Agreement.

8.2 Indemnification Procedures. An Indemnified Person shall promptly notify an Indemnifying Party of any claim, demand, action or proceeding for which indemnification will be sought under Section 8.1 above and, if such claim, demand, action or proceeding is a third party claim, demand, action or proceeding, the Indemnifying Party will have the right at its expense to assume the defense thereof using counsel reasonably acceptable to the Indemnified Party. The Indemnified Persons shall have the right to participate, at their own expense, with respect to any such third party claim, demand, action or proceeding. In connection with any such third party claim, demand, action or proceeding, the Indemnifying Party and Indemnified Persons shall cooperate with each other and provide each other with access to relevant books and records in their possession. No such third party claim, demand, action or proceeding shall be settled without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Persons. If a firm written offer is made to settle any such third party claim, demand, action or proceeding and the Indemnifying Party proposes to accept such settlement and Indemnified Party refuses to consent to such settlement, then: (i) the Indemnifying Party shall be excused from, and the Indemnified Persons shall be solely responsible for, all further defense of such third party claim, demand, action or proceeding; and (ii) the maximum liability of the Indemnifying Party relating to such third party claim, demand, action or proceeding shall be the amount of the proposed settlement if the amount thereafter recovered from the Indemnified Persons on such third party claim, demand, action or proceeding is greater than the amount of the proposed settlement. Whether or not an Indemnifying Party shall have assumed the defense of any such third party claim, action, demand or proceeding, no Indemnified Person shall admit any liability with respect to, or settle, compromise or discharge, any such claim, demand, action or proceeding without the Indemnifying Party's prior written consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. If Buyer is entitled to indemnification as provided herein, Buyer shall be entitled to deduct any Losses from any amount owing to Seller pursuant to Buyer's Note or the Lease.

8.3 Cooperation of the Parties. The Parties hereto shall cooperate with each other in the resolution of any claim or liability with respect to which an Indemnifying Party is obligated to indemnify any Indemnified Persons hereunder, including by making commercially reasonable efforts to mitigate or resolve any such claim or liability. In the event that an Indemnified Party shall fail to make such commercially reasonable efforts to mitigate or resolve any claim or liability, then notwithstanding anything else to the contrary herein, the Indemnifying Party shall not be required to indemnify any person for any losses that could reasonably be expected to have been avoided if the Indemnified Party had made such efforts.

8.4 Exclusive Remedy. The Parties acknowledge and agree that, after the Closing their sole and exclusive remedy with respect to any and all claims relating to this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby (other than for fraud) shall be pursuant to the indemnification provisions set forth in this Article VIII. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Parties hereby waive, from and after the Closing, to the fullest extent permitted under applicable law, any and all rights, claims and causes of action (other than causes of action arising from fraud), any Indemnified

Persons may have against an Indemnifying Party under or based upon any federal, state, local or other statute, law, ordinance, rule, regulation or otherwise (except pursuant to the indemnification provisions set forth in this Article VIII).

8.5 Limitation and Termination of Indemnification Obligations. The indemnification obligations set forth in this Article VIII shall terminate on the date which is one year following the Closing; provided that such obligations shall not terminate as to any item as to which the Indemnified Persons shall have, before the expiration of such one year period, previously made a claim by delivering a notice of such claim (stating in reasonable detail the basis of such claim) to the Indemnifying Party. All of the representations and warranties of the Parties contained in this Agreement shall survive the Closing for a period of one year. No claim for indemnification shall be made by any Party under this Article VIII unless the amount of all such claims as to which such Party seeks indemnification exceeds $50,000, and no claims for indemnification shall be made against any Party in amounts exceeding $5,000,000.

Article IX Miscellaneous Provisions

9.1 Governing Law, Jurisdiction and Venue. The internal laws of the State of Utah (irrespective of its choice of law principles) will govern the validity of this Agreement, the construction of its terms, and the interpretation and enforcement of the rights and duties of the Parties hereto. In the event of any claim or dispute arising hereunder, the Parties consent to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the federal and state courts residing in Salt Lake City, Utah.

9.2 Assignment; Binding Upon Successors and Assigns. Neither Party hereto may assign any of its rights or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the other Parties hereto. This Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

9.3 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof, will for any reason and to any extent be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect and the application of such provisions to other persons or circumstances will be interpreted so as reasonably to effect the intent of the Parties hereto. The Parties further agree to replace such void or unenforceable provision of this Agreement with a valid and enforceable provision that will achieve, to the extent possible, the economic, business and other purposes of the void or unenforceable provision.

9.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which will be an original as regards any Party whose signature appears thereon and all of which together will constitute one and the same instrument. This Agreement will become binding when one or more counterparts hereof, individually or taken together, will bear the signatures of each of the Parties reflected hereon as signatories.

9.5 Amendment and Waivers. Any term or provision of this Agreement may be amended and the observance of any term of this Agreement may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a writing signed by the Party or Parties to be bound thereby. The waiver by a Party of any breach hereof or default in the performance hereof will not be deemed to constitute a waiver of any other default or any succeeding breach or default. This Agreement may be amended by the Parties hereto any time before or after approval of the Seller's shareholders, but after such approval no amendment will be made which by applicable law requires the further approval of the Seller's shareholders without obtaining such further approval.

9.6 Attorneys' Fees. Should suit be brought to enforce or interpret any part of this Agreement, the prevailing Party will be entitled to recover, as an element of the costs of suit and not as damages, reasonable attorneys' fees to be fixed by the court (including without limitation, costs, expenses and fees on any appeal).

9.7 Notices. Any notice or other communications pursuant to this Agreement will be in writing and will be deemed given if delivered personally, teletyped, sent by nationally-recognized overnight courier or mailed by registered or certified mail (return receipt requested), postage prepaid, to the Parties at the following addresses (or at such other address for a Party as will be specified by like notice):

Re: Fairness Opinion USANA Health Sciences, Inc. Sale of Assets to Shareholder

Dear Directors:

Houlihan Valuation Advisors ("HVA") has been retained by the Special Committee of Directors of USANA Health Sciences, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "USANA", "the Company" or "Seller") to issue a fairness opinion regarding the sale of substantially all of the operating assets of the Company to Gull Holdings, Ltd. or its wholly owned subsidiary (the "Purchaser" or "Gull"). The fairness opinion ("Opinion") is issued from a financial point of view from the perspective of the public shareholders of USANA. The Opinion is as of March 16, 2002 and is valid as of that date.

The Transaction

Gull will acquire substantially all of the assets and certain liabilities comprising the continuing business of USANA as approved by the Board of Directors of USANA and by the principal shareholder of Gull on December 18, 2001 (the "Transaction"). The terms of the Transaction are described in a Term Sheet dated February 25, 2002 and subsequently amended on March 16, 2002 between the Seller and Purchaser and include the following:

Acquired Assets: Purchaser will acquire substantially all of the operating assets and assume certain of the liabilities of the Seller. The acquired assets will include, without limitation, fixed assets, equipment, machinery, vehicles, personal property, inventory, securities (including the shares of Seller's wholly owned subsidiaries), insurance policies, work in process, cash balances, other current assets, employees, intellectual property, product formulations, trademarks, trade names, trade dress, patents, patent applications, product registrations, business registrations, licenses, leases, and corporate names.

Excluded Assets. Excluded from the assets acquired by Purchaser are cash of $3,000,000 (subject to adjustment based on net tax impact resulting from an increase in the fair market value of the common stock of Seller as described below), land located at 3838 W. Parkway Blvd.,

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

Salt Lake City, Utah, and buildings and improvements thereon (subject to a lease as described below) valued at an estimated $12,000,000 (subject to appraisal), the current directors and officers insurance policy, and the automobiles assigned to Gilbert A. Fuller and John B. McCandless. The amount of cash remaining with Seller at Closing will be adjusted upward by the amount, if any, of all additional tax payable as a result of an increase in the fair market value (as determined in the manner provided below) of the common shares delivered as part of the purchase price in excess of $1.50 per share.

Assumed Liabilities. Purchaser will also assume certain liabilities of Seller related to the business acquired from Seller, including, without limitation, bank debt, accruals, accounts payable, operating leases, mortgages, payroll, tax liabilities, litigation, and contingent liabilities. It is anticipated that the assumed bank debt will not exceed $7,000,000.

Excluded Liabilities. Excluded liabilities retained by Seller will not exceed $8.0 million, which Seller expects to secure by a mortgage on the excluded real estate and buildings renegotiated or refinanced prior to closing of the Transaction. This is subject to adjustment based upon appraisal of the land and building and lender acceptance.

Consideration. In addition to the assumption of certain liabilities as provided above, the consideration paid by Purchaser to Seller for the acquired assets will be (a) the assignment of all shares of common stock of Seller owned by Purchaser, and (b) a secured promissory note subordinated only to senior bank debt, in the principal amount of $5,000,000. The allocation and amount of consideration will be adjusted by the mutual agreement of the parties in the event the appraised value of the real estate is less than $11,750,000 or greater than $12,250,000, or if, for tax purposes, the redemption value of the common stock surrendered as part of the purchase price is in excess of $1.60 per share.

For purposes of the Transaction, the parties agree that the redemption value of the common stock surrendered will be $1.60 per share.

Terms of Purchaser Note: The terms of Purchaser's Note (above) are to be as follows:

1. Principal Amount: $5.0 million, subject to adjustment based on valuation and appraisal of the acquired assets and acquired liabilities.
2. Annual Interest Rate: 14%
3. Amortization: Fully amortizing payments of principal and interest will be made monthly for the five-year term of the note. There will be no penalty for prepayment.
4. Security: The note will be secured by a second position on all assets acquired by Purchaser, with priority subordinate only to existing bank liens, and by all shares of the Purchaser or its subsidiary used to effect the acquisition and continuing the operations acquired by Purchaser.
5. Customary Mezzanine Financing Covenants: The loan agreement between Purchaser and Seller will feature customary security and performance features, including:
 - a) Financial Statements: Until the payment of the Purchaser's note in full, Purchaser will provide audited financial annual statements and unaudited quarterly statements prepared in accordance with US GAAP for the continuing operations acquired by Purchaser from Seller.
 - b) Transferability: The note will be transferable by Seller.
 - c) Rights and Remedies Upon Events of Default: Seller will have rights and remedies as a secured creditor under the note.
 - d) Financial Performance Covenants: Covenants of the type customary in such notes will be binding upon Purchaser during the term of the note and will, to the extent practicable, mirror those contained in senior debt obligations.

Lease of Real Property

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

Purchaser will lease the real property and buildings excluded from the sale under a triple net operating lease. The term of the lease will be 10 years, with an option to purchase exercisable by Purchaser at any time during the first 36 months, purchase price to be fair market value at the time of sale. Thereafter, for the remainder of the term, Purchaser will have the right of first refusal to purchase the property, at fair market value at the time of sale. Subject to the appraised value of the property under lease, annual rental payments under the lease will be $1.32 million, payable in equal monthly installments, with annual increases based on the CPI. A written lease agreement containing the terms of the lease and the option and right of first refusal will be executed at closing of the Transaction. The lease will contain other terms and provisions customary in commercial lease agreements.

In addition to a review of the above-described documents, the following analytical procedures were conducted in arriving at our Opinion:

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

HVA met with representatives of the Company at the Company's administrative offices in Salt Lake City, Utah and conducted discussions regarding matters pertinent to our analysis. Inquiries were made with certain officers of the Company who have senior responsibility for operating matters regarding the operations, financial condition, future prospects and projected operations and performance of the Company. HVA inquired of management as to i) its awareness of any events or conditions which might cause any of the assumptions set forth in this Opinion to be incorrect; and (ii) its awareness of any material change in the Company's assets, financial condition or business outlook since September 29, 2001, the date of the Company's most recent 10-Q filing generally recognized financial analysis and valuation procedures were undertaken to ascertain the financial condition of USANA as well as to estimate the fair market value of the Company's common stock on a minority interest basis performed such other analyses and reviewed and analyzed such other information as HVA deemed appropriate

In rendering this opinion, HVA did not assume responsibility for independently verifying, and did not independently verify, any financial or other information concerning USANA, furnished to it by USANA, or the publicly-available financial and other information regarding USANA and other nutritional supplement and personal care product firms. HVA has assumed that all such information is accurate and complete. HVA has further relied on assurances of Company management that they are not aware of any facts that would make such financial or other information relating to such entities inaccurate or misleading.

With respect to financial forecasts for USANA prepared by Company management, HVA has assumed, for the purposes of this opinion, that the forecasts have been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best available estimates and judgments of management at the time of preparation as to the future financial performance of USANA. We assume no responsibility for the projections or the assumptions relating to them.

HVA has assumed that there has been no material change in USANA's assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects since December 29, 2001, the date of the Company's most recently generated financial statements. HVA did not undertake an independent appraisal of the assets or liabilities of USANA nor was HVA furnished with any such appraisals. HVA's conclusions and opinion are necessarily based upon economic, market and other conditions and the information made available to HVA as of the date of the Opinion. HVA expresses no opinion on matters of a legal, regulatory, tax or accounting nature related to the Transaction.

We have not been requested to, and did not, solicit third party indications of interest in purchasing the assets being sold by the Company in the Transaction. Furthermore, at your request, we have not negotiated the Transaction or advised you with respect to alternatives to it.

Limiting Conditions

The Opinion is subject to the following limiting conditions:

1. Neither HVA nor its principals have any present or intended interest in USANA, Gull or in any related entities. HVA's fees for the Opinion are based on professional time and a charge for the Opinion, and are in no way contingent upon the final conclusions derived.
2. The Opinion is intended only for the specific use and purpose stated herein. It is intended for no other uses and is not to be copied or given to unauthorized persons without the direct written consent of HVA. The Opinion and information contained herein are valid only for the stated purpose and date of the study, and should in no way be construed to be investment advice.
3. It is beyond the scope of the Opinion to render any opinion relative to the solvency or insolvency of USANA or Gull either prior to or following the Transaction. HVA has not been requested to render such an opinion, and nothing in the Opinion should be construed as such.
4. This engagement is limited to the production of the Opinion and the conclusions and opinions contained herein. HVA has no obligation to provide future services (e.g., expert testimony in court or before governmental agencies) related to the contents of the Opinion unless prior arrangements for such services have been made.

Edgar Filing: USANA HEALTH SCIENCES INC - Form PRES14A

It is our understanding that USANA's Board of Directors either has had or will have the opportunity to make their own independent investigation of the Transaction, and their decision to participate in the Transaction should be based primarily on such investigation. Delivery of the Opinion to USANA, its Board of Directors, or the shareholders of USANA is subject to the conditions, limitations and assumptions set forth in the Opinion.

This opinion is for the benefit of USANA's Special Committee of Directors and shall not be relied upon by others and shall not be published or otherwise used, nor shall any public references to HVA be made without our written consent. However, notwithstanding the foregoing, HVA consents to a description of and the inclusion of the text of its written Opinion in any filing required to be made by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with the Transaction and in materials delivered to the Company's stockholders that are a part of such filings, provided that any such description or inclusion shall be subject to HVA's prior review and approval, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. Any summary of, or reference to, the Opinion, any verbal presentation with respect thereto, or other references to HVA in connection with the Transaction, will in each instance be subject to HVA's prior review and written approval.

Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing and in reliance thereon, it is our opinion that the Transaction, assuming it is consummated as proposed, is fair from a financial point of view to the public shareholders of USANA based on the circumstances existing as of March 16, 2002. HVA reserves the right, in the event that events or facts subsequent to the date of the Opinion become known which have a material impact on the value of the Company, to supplement or withdraw the Opinion prior to the closing date of the Transaction.
