1.01.

On December 21, 2009, we obtained a new $400 million unsecured revolving credit facility, which replaces our previously existing revolving credit facility that had been scheduled to mature on May 1, 2010. We expect to use our new revolving credit facility for working capital purposes and for the short-term funding of our development and acquisition activity and, in certain instances, the repayment of other debt. Continuing ability to borrow under the revolving credit facility allows us to quickly capitalize on strategic opportunities at short-term interest rates. There are currently no amounts outstanding under our revolving credit facility. We have no debt maturing through the end of 2011 other than our $70 million secured construction facility, which is scheduled to mature in December 2010 but can be extended by us for two successive one-year periods assuming no defaults have occurred, and a $137.5 million unsecured term loan that matures in February 2011.

Banc of America Securities LLC and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC served as Joint Lead Arrangers and Joint Book Runners on the new revolving credit facility with Bank of America, N.A. serving as Administrative Agent and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association serving as Syndication Agent. Branch Banking & Trust Co. and PNC Bank are Co-Documentation Agents. Other lenders include US Bank, Regions Bank, Capital One, N.A./Chevy Chase Bank, Comerica Bank, Morgan Stanley Bank, N.A., RBC Bank (USA), Union Bank, N.A. and First Tennessee Bank.

Our new revolving credit facility is scheduled to mature on February 21, 2013. The new revolving credit facility includes an accordion feature that allows for an additional $50 million of borrowing capacity subject to additional lender commitments. Assuming we continue to have three publicly announced ratings from the credit rating agencies, the interest rate and facility fee under our revolving credit facility are based on the lower of the two highest publicly announced ratings. Based on our current credit ratings, the interest rate is LIBOR plus 290 basis points and the annual base facility fee is 60 basis points.

Like our previous revolving credit facility, our new revolving credit facility requires us to comply with customary operating covenants and various financial requirements, including a requirement that we maintain a ratio of total liabilities to total asset value of no more than 60%. For purposes of our new revolving credit facility, total asset value depends upon the effective economic capitalization rate (after deducting capital expenditures) used to determine the value of our buildings. Depending upon market conditions for comparable property types, the lenders have the right to increase the capitalization rate by up to 25 basis points once each calendar year. Any such increase in capitalization rates, without a corresponding reduction in total liabilities, could make it more difficult for us to maintain a ratio of total liabilities to total asset value of no more than 60%, which could have an adverse effect on our ability to borrow additional funds under our new revolving credit facility. Upon an event of default, lenders having at least 66.7% of the total commitments under our new revolving credit facility can accelerate all borrowings then outstanding and prohibit us from borrowing any further amounts under our new revolving credit facility, which could adversely affect our ability to fund our operations.

We are currently in compliance with all such covenants and requirements. Although we expect to remain in compliance with these covenants and ratios for at least the next year, depending upon our future operating performance, property and financing transactions and general economic conditions, we cannot assure you that we will continue to be in compliance. See our 2008 Annual Report on Form 10-K and subsequent SEC reports for a discussion of factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our current expectations.
