Item 1.02 Entry Into A Definitive Material Agreement

On June 30, 2009, Fuel Tech, Inc. (the Company) entered into a Loan Agreement (the Agreement) and a Revolving Credit Note (the Note) with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (the Lender) establishing an unsecured $25 million maximum principal amount revolving credit facility for the Company, as Borrower, and provides for the Company's Italian subsidiary, Fuel Tech S.r.l., as a guarantor. The Agreement and Note are dated as of June 30, 2009 and terminate June 30, 2011.

Under the Agreement, the interest rate on revolving credit loan is, as selected by the Borrower, either a Variable Rate or a LIBOR-based Rate. The Variable Rate is, for any day, the rate as announced by the Lender as its Prime Rate, provided that the Variable Rate shall never be less than the Adjusted One Month LIBOR Rate, plus up to fifty basis points, as determined via the use of a spread matrix tied to the Company's Leverage Ratio. The LIBOR-based Rate is the rate, as selected by the Borrower, of from one to six month LIBOR, plus a spread range of between 250 basis points to 300 basis points, as determined via the use of a spread matrix tied to the Company's Leverage Ratio. The Commitment Fee Rate for unused amounts of the credit facility is 25 basis points, paid quarterly in arrears. Letters of Credit in amounts aggregating up to $25 million may be issued as loans under the Agreement and will be charged a rate of between 200 basis points and 250 basis points, as determined via the use of a spread matrix tied to the Company's Leverage Ratio.

Under the Agreement, the Company provided the Lender a negative pledge on all assets as collateral and covenants that: its aggregate capital expenditures in any fiscal year shall not exceed $10 million; that at any time the aggregate amount of consolidations, mergers or similar transactions in any fiscal year shall not exceed $10 million; that its Minimum Tangible Net Worth on the last day of each Fiscal Year shall not be less than $42 million plus adjustments for 50% of Net Income and 100% of all capital contributed through the issuance of Equity Interests in the Company beginning with the date of the Agreement; that it shall have Minimum Net Income of ($2) million and $750,000 for the three months ended June 30, 2009 and September 30, 2009, respectively; that, for the three months ended December 31, 2009, its Leverage Ratio shall not exceed 2.0:1.0; and that, for each fiscal quarter beginning January 1, 2010, its leverage Ratio shall not exceed 1.5:1.0. The Agreement also includes other covenants as are typical for such a transaction including, but not limited to, the incurring of additional debt, the incurring of liens on any of the Company's property or the guaranty of any debt. The Lender will also become the primary depository and disbursement institution of the Company.

Except for an obligation that may require prepayment of a LIBOR-Based Rate Loan, the Company may prepay in whole or in part any portion of any Loan without premium or additional charge.

Reference is made to the more complete terms and conditions of the Agreement and the Note set out in the copies of those documents attached as Exhibits 10.1 and 10.2 to this report on Form 8-K.
