RRI Energy Reports Third Quarter 2010 Results

Merger with Mirant to create GenOn Energy will create significant near-term value driven by $150 million annual cost savings

Received stockholder approval from both companies

Entered into revolving credit facility and agreements to borrow $1.925 billion, which will satisfy the financing condition in the merger agreement

Received FERC approval and NY Public Service Commission clearance

Expect to close by the end of the year

HOUSTON RRI Energy, Inc. today is reporting open EBITDA of $212 million for the third quarter of 2010, compared to $133 million for the third quarter of 2009. The improvement was primarily due to improved energy margins driven by higher heat rates related to warmer weather in July and early August and improved economic conditions compared to the same period last year. The company reported adjusted EBITDA of $212 million in the third quarter of 2010, compared to $100 million in the third quarter of 2009. The improvement was primarily due to the items mentioned above and a reduction in losses from coal hedges. Free cash flow provided by continuing operations during the first nine months of 2010 was $84 million, compared to a use of cash of ($182) million for the first nine months of 2009. The improvement was primarily a result of improved earnings and lower environmental capital expenditures.

We have made excellent progress toward completing the steps necessary to finalize our proposed merger with Mirant and expect to close the transaction by the end of the year after we receive clearance from the Department of Justice, said Mark Jacobs, president and chief executive officer of RRI Energy. Third quarter financial results and market conditions have improved relative to last year, but still reflect continued depressed commodity prices and weak economic conditions.

Open EBITDA was $241 million for the first nine months of 2010, compared to $129 million for the same period of 2009. Adjusted EBITDA was $244 million for the first nine months of 2010, compared to $42 million for the same period of 2009. The improvements were due to the same factors as described above, partially offset by increased plant operation and maintenance expenses to improve equipment performance.

Income from continuing operations before income taxes for the third quarter of 2010 was $41 million, compared to a loss from continuing operations of $9 million for the third quarter of 2009. The 2010 reported results include net unrealized gains from energy derivatives of $51 million, $5 million in merger-related costs and a $113 million charge for long-lived assets impairments. The reported numbers for 2009 include net unrealized gains from energy derivatives of $7 million.

The loss from continuing operations before income taxes for the first nine months of 2010 was $361 million, compared to $334 million for the first nine months of 2009. The 2010 reported results include net unrealized gains from energy derivatives of $112 million, a $17 million charge for western states litigation and similar settlements, $19 million in merger-related costs and a $361 million charge for long-lived assets impairments. The reported numbers for 2009 include net unrealized losses from energy derivatives of $30 million and $8 million in severance charges. Operating cash flow from continuing operations was $252 million for the first nine months of 2010, compared to a use of cash of ($275) million for the same period of 2009.
