As part of the Company's plan to restructure its continuing operations and address its current liquidity problems, the Company's management has been negotiating several transactions, including sales of assets and businesses and an extension of its overadvance availability under its financing arrangement with Bank of America. The outcomes of these negotiations, which are expected to be known within days following the April 1, 2002 due date of the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2001, will likely significantly impact the disclosures in such report. Additionally, these negotiations have resulted in a reallocation of resources that has caused the Company to experience delays in assembling data and finalizing accounting matters for its annual report on Form 10-K. As a result, the Company is unable to complete and file its annual report on Form 10-K by the prescribed date without unreasonable effort or expense. Pursuant to Rule 12b-25 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Company respectfully requests a fifteen-day extension to file its annual report on Form 10-K for year ended December 31, 2001.
