E-mail Message from Connie Lau to HEI Employees

Aloha,

Last week was a big week for all of us, and there's been a lot to absorb. In the end, I hope that you like me look forward to what this transaction with NextEra Energy means for Hawaiian Electric and American Savings Bank, our customers, our community, and for you. For Hawaiian Electric, it's really a transformational opportunity one that will accelerate the achievement of a more affordable clean energy future for Hawai'i. As an independent public company, American Savings Bank is well positioned to continue to thrive, enabling residents and businesses to prosper.

I also want to say I know you all must have questions I certainly did in the beginning. So I hope you'll be comfortable sharing those questions with us. We want to hear what's on your mind and do everything we can to address your questions.

In the meantime, here are a few updates that you might find helpful:

- FAQ: We're gathering questions and comments and developing a Frequently Asked Questions document that we'll continue to update on our dedicated intranet page. I encourage you to keep sending your questions to: corporatecommunications@hawaiianelectric.com.
- Town Halls: We're also planning town halls this month a great opportunity for you to meet with executives and share your thoughts and questions. Stay tuned for the schedule from Corporate Communications.
- Video transcript: For those of you who had trouble watching the video message from Alan Oshima and me last week, here's a transcript for your reference.

This journey is just beginning, so let's take the time to learn, talk, and ask questions. Thanks to those of you who have already shared your feedback. I look forward to talking with more of you in the weeks and months to come.

Mahalo,

Connie

Forward Looking Statements

This document contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements are typically identified by words or phrases such as may, will, anticipate, estimate, expect, project, intend, plan, believe, predict, and target and of similar meaning. Forward-looking statements involve estimates, expectations, projections, goals, forecasts, assumptions, risks and uncertainties. HEI cautions readers that any forward-looking statement is not a guarantee of future performance and that actual results could differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements about the anticipated benefits of the proposed merger involving NEE and HEI, including future financial or operating results of NEE or HEI, NEE's or HEI's plans, objectives, expectations or intentions, the expected timing of completion of the transaction, the value, as of the completion of the merger or spin-off of HEI's bank subsidiary or as of any other date in the future, of any consideration to be received in the merger or the spin-off in the form of stock or any other security, and other statements that are not historical facts. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by any such forward-looking statements include risks and uncertainties relating to: the risk that HEI may be unable to obtain shareholder approval for the merger or that NEE or HEI may be unable to obtain governmental and regulatory approvals required for the merger or the spin-off, or required governmental and regulatory approvals may delay the merger or the spin-off or result in the imposition of conditions that could cause the parties to abandon the transaction; the risk that a condition to closing of the merger or the completion of the spin-off may not be satisfied; the timing to consummate the proposed merger and the expected timing of the completion of the spin-off; the risk that the businesses will not be integrated successfully; the risk that the cost savings and any other synergies from the transaction may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected; disruption from the transaction making it more difficult to maintain relationships with customers, employees or suppliers; the diversion of management time and attention on merger and spin-off-related issues; general worldwide economic conditions and related uncertainties; the effect and timing of changes in laws or in governmental regulations (including environmental); fluctuations in trading prices of securities and in the financial results of NEE, HEI or any of their subsidiaries; the timing and extent of changes in interest rates, commodity prices and demand and market prices for electricity; and other factors discussed or referred to in the Risk Factors section of HEI's most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These risks, as well as other risks associated with the merger, will be more fully discussed in the proxy statement/prospectus that will be included in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 that will be filed with the SEC in connection with the merger. Additional risks and uncertainties are identified and discussed in HEI's reports filed with the SEC and available at the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. Each forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date of the particular statement and HEI does not undertake any obligation to update or revise its forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
