Notes to Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

Note 1. Basis of Presentation

Basis of Presentation: The condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2011, which has been derived from audited financial statements, and the unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements of The Dolan Company (the Company) have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States for interim financial information and the instructions to the quarterly report on Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted pursuant to these rules and regulations. Accordingly, these unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited consolidated financial statements and related notes for the year ended December 31, 2011, included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K filed on March 9, 2012, with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In the opinion of management, these unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements reflect all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of the Company's interim financial results. All such adjustments are of a normal and recurring nature. The results of operations for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of results for the full calendar year.

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements include the accounts of the Company, its wholly-owned subsidiaries and its majority ownership interests in American Processing Company, LLC d/b/a NDeX (NDeX), DiscoverReady LLC (DiscoverReady) and Legislative Information Services of America (LISA). The Company accounts for the percentage interests in NDeX, DiscoverReady and LISA that it does not own as noncontrolling interest.

All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

When the Company refers to Albertelli sellers in these notes, it means James E. Albertelli, P.A., The Albertelli Firm, P.C., Albertelli Title, Inc. and James E. Albertelli, as a group.

In 2011, the Company committed to a plan of action to sell two of its stand-alone businesses within the Business Information segment. Accordingly the Company has removed from its operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, the results of these businesses and presented them within discontinued operations. The assets of these operations, net of related liabilities, are included in assets held for sale. See Note 8 for further information on businesses held for sale.

New Accounting Pronouncements: In June 2011, the Federal Accounting Standards Board (FASB) amended its accounting guidance to increase the prominence of items reported in other comprehensive income (OCI). The guidance requires the presentation of the components of net income, the components of OCI and total OCI either in a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. The guidance was effective for the Company beginning with its March 31, 2012, financial statements. The Company has elected presentation of two separate but consecutive statements.

Note 2. Basic and Diluted Income Per Share

Basic per share amounts are computed, generally, by dividing net income attributable to The Dolan Company by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding. The Company has employed the two-class method to calculate earnings per share, as it relates to the redeemable noncontrolling interest in NDeX, based on net income attributable to its common stockholders. At June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011, there were no shares of preferred stock issued and outstanding. Diluted per share amounts assume the conversion, exercise, or issuance of all potential common stock instruments (see Note 14 for information on stock options and restricted stock) unless their effect is anti-dilutive, thereby reducing the loss per share or increasing the income per share.

Table of Contents

The following table computes basic and diluted net income attributable to The Dolan Company per share (in thousands except for per share amounts):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2012	2011	2012	2011
Net income attributable to The Dolan Company	$ 4,917	$ 2,572	$ 5,086	$ 6,047
Decrease in redeemable noncontrolling interest in NDeX, net of tax		1,558		2,522
Net income attributable to The Dolan Company common stockholders	$ 4,917	$ 4,130	$ 5,086	$ 8,569
Basic:
Shares used in the computation of basic net income per share	30,276	30,107	30,226	30,118
Net income attributable to The Dolan Company common stockholders per share basic	$ 0.16	$ 0.14	$ 0.17	$ 0.28
Diluted:
Shares used in the computation of basic net income per share	30,276	30,107	30,226	30,118
Stock options and restricted stock	80	104	81	134
Shares used in the computation of dilutive net income per share	30,356	30,211	30,307	30,252
Net income attributable to The Dolan Company common stockholders per share diluted	$ 0.16	$ 0.14	$ 0.17	$ 0.28

For both the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, options to purchase approximately 2.2 million weighted shares of common stock were excluded from the computation because their effect would have been anti-dilutive. For both the three and six months ended June 30, 2011, options to purchase approximately 1.8 million weighted shares of common stock, were excluded from the computation because their effect would have been anti-dilutive.

Note 3. Business Combinations

Management is responsible for determining the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed at the acquisition date. The fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed represent management's estimate of fair values. Management determines valuations through a combination of methods, which include discounted cash flow models, outside valuations and appraisals and market conditions. The results of the business combinations are included in the accompanying consolidated statement of operations from the respective transaction dates forward.

Acquisition of ACT Litigation Services, Inc.: On July 25, 2011, the Company, through DiscoverReady, completed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of ACT Litigation Services, Inc. (ACT), and as such, the results of ACT's operations are included in the Company's financial statements from that date forward. The acquisition included certain earnout payments, which management estimates at each reporting date. In the second quarter of 2012, the Company made net payments of $13.7 million related to earnouts. Additionally, the majority of the remaining balance of the earnout payable was converted in the second quarter of 2012 to a note payable, due in March 2013, and is subject to further adjustment based on certain revenue targets for 2012. In the second quarter of 2012, management revised its estimates relating to the earnouts expected to be paid to a balance of $1.4 million at June 30, 2012, resulting in a $10.1 million reduction to the earnout liability. Such amount was recorded within operations in fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities. The Company has determined that the earnout liability is a Level 3 fair value measurement within the FASB's fair value hierarchy, and such liability is adjusted to fair value at each reporting date, with the adjustment reflected in fair value adjustments on earnout liabilities. See Note 5 for information pertaining to changes in the fair value of this liability during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012. Additionally, during the second quarter, management recorded a retrospective adjustment of $2.1 million to reduce goodwill and the initial earnout liability estimate recorded at the acquisition date.

Pro Forma Information: Actual results of operations reflecting the equity interests and assets acquired in 2011 are included in the unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements from the dates of the applicable business combination. The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statement of operations of the Company, set forth below, gives effect to the Company's 2011 acquisitions of ACT and noncontrolling interest in DiscoverReady, using the purchase method as if they occurred on January 1, 2011. These amounts are not necessarily indicative of the consolidated results of operations for future years or actual results that would have been realized had the business combinations occurred as of the beginning of each such year (in thousands, except per share data):

	Three Months Ended June 30, 2011	Pro Forma Six Months Ended June 30, 2011
Total revenues	$ 77,470	$ 158,410
Net income attributable to The Dolan Company	3,348	7,855

Actual/Pro forma weighted average shares outstanding:
Basic	30,107	30,118
Diluted	30,211	30,252

Note 4. Derivative Instruments

The Company has entered into two interest rate swap agreements to manage the risk associated with a portion of its floating-rate long-term debt. The Company does not utilize derivative instruments for speculative purposes. Both interest rate swaps involve the exchange of fixed-rate and variable-rate payments without the exchange of the underlying notional amount on which the interest payments are calculated. The notional amount of the first interest rate swap agreement is $50 million through December 30, 2012, $35 million from December 31, 2012 through December 30, 2013, and $25 million from December 31, 2013 through June 30, 2014. The notional amount of the second interest rate swap agreement is $25 million through December 31, 2014. The Company has designated both swaps as cash flow hedges and has determined that they qualify for hedge accounting treatment. Changes in fair value of the cash flow hedge are recorded in other comprehensive loss (net of tax) until income or loss from the cash flows of the hedged item is realized. In addition to these swaps, the Company held a swap agreement with a notional amount of $25 million, which matured on March 31, 2011. This swap was not designated for hedge accounting treatment and therefore any changes in the fair value were recorded through the statement of operations.

At both June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011, the Company had $1.2 million in other accumulated comprehensive loss related to unrealized losses (net of tax) on the cash flow hedges. Unrealized gains and losses are reflected in net income attributable to The Dolan Company when the related cash flows or hedged transactions occur and offset the related performance of the hedged item.

The cash flow hedges were highly effective for the six months ended June 30, 2012. The Company does not expect to reclassify any amounts from other comprehensive income to net income attributable to The Dolan Company during 2012. The occurrence of these related cash flows and hedged transactions remains probable.

The Company had liabilities of $1.9 million and $2.1 million resulting from interest rate swaps at June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011, respectively, which are included in other liabilities on the balance sheet. Total floating-rate borrowings not offset by the swap agreements at June 30, 2012, totaled $94.0 million.

By their nature, derivative instruments are subject to market risk. Derivative instruments are also subject to credit risk associated with counterparties to the derivative contracts. Credit risk associated with derivatives is measured based on the replacement cost should the counterparty with a contract in a gain position to the Company fail to perform under the terms of the contract. The Company does not anticipate nonperformance by the counterparty.

Table of Contents*Note 5. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company's financial assets and liabilities are measured at fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (exit price). The Company classifies the inputs used to measure fair value into the following hierarchy:

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 Quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities, or quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, or inputs other than quoted prices that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for the asset or liability.
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability that are supported by little or no market activity. These fair values are determined using pricing models for which the assumptions utilize management's estimates or market participant assumptions.

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis. The fair value hierarchy requires the use of observable market data when available. In instances where inputs used to measure fair value fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, the fair value measurement has been determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular item to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment, including the consideration of inputs specific to the asset or liability.

The fair value of interest rate swaps are determined by the counterparty based on interest rate changes. Interest rate swaps are valued based on observable interest rate yield curves for similar instruments. The fair value of the earnout liability recorded in connection with the NDeX Florida operations acquired from the Albertelli sellers, the earnout liability recorded in connection with the DataStream acquisition and the earnout liability recorded in connection with the ACT acquisition are determined by management based on projected financial performance and an estimated discount rate. The fair value of the redeemable noncontrolling interest in DiscoverReady is determined by management using a market approach.

The following table summarizes the balances of liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of June 30, 2012 (in thousands):

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Interest rate swaps	$	$ 1,878	$	$ 1,878

Non-Financial Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Non-Recurring Basis. Certain assets and liabilities are measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis and are subject to fair value adjustments in certain circumstances (e.g., when there is evidence of impairment). No such fair value adjustments were required during the current quarter.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments: The carrying value of cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these instruments. The carrying value of the Company's debt is the remaining amount due to its debtors under borrowing arrangements. To estimate the fair value of its variable-rate debt issues that are not quoted on an exchange, the Company estimates an interest rate it would be required to pay if it had to refinance its debt. At June 30, 2012, the carrying value of variable-rate debt under the Company's senior credit facility of $169.0 million approximates its estimated fair value.

Note 6. Investments

Investments consisted of the following at June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011 (in thousands):

	Accounting Method	Percent Ownership	June 30, 2012	December 31, 2011
The Detroit Legal News Publishing, LLC	Equity	35.0%	$ 10,923	$ 11,334
Other	Equity	19.5%	539	567
Total			$ 11,462	$ 11,901

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, and 2011, the equity (loss) in earnings of affiliates is as follows (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2012	2011	2012	2011
The Detroit Legal News Publishing, LLC	$ 609	$ 459	$ 1,051	$ 1,216

Total	$ 599	$ 441	$ 1,024	$ 1,189

The Detroit Legal News Publishing, LLC: The Company owns a 35% membership interest in The Detroit Legal News Publishing, LLC ( DLNP ). DLNP publishes ten legal newspapers, along with one quarterly magazine, all located in southern Michigan. The Company accounts for this investment using the equity method. Under DLNP's membership operating agreement, the Company receives quarterly distributions based on its ownership percentage.

The difference between the Company's carrying value and its 35% share of the members' equity of DLNP relates principally to an underlying customer list at DLNP that is being amortized over its estimated economic life through 2015.

The following tables summarize certain key information relating to the Company's investment in DLNP as of June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011, and for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011 (in thousands):

	As of June 30, 2012	As of December 31, 2011
Carrying value of investment	$ 10,923	$ 11,334
Underlying finite-lived customer list, net of amortization	5,152	5,906

Amortization expense	377	377	754	754

Note 7. Intangible Assets

Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets: Indefinite-lived intangible assets consist of trade names and goodwill. The Company has determined that these assets have an indefinite life and therefore will not be amortized. The Company reviews indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment annually in the fourth quarter or whenever an indicator is identified which suggests an impairment may be present.

Finite-Life Intangible Assets: Total amortization expense for finite-lived intangible assets for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, was approximately $5.0 million and $4.3 million, respectively, and for the six months ended June 30, 2012, and 2011, was approximately $9.9 million and $8.8 million, respectively.

Note 8. Assets Held for Sale

During the fourth quarter of 2011, the Company committed to sell two of its smallest-market stand-alone businesses within the Business Information segment, The Mississippi Business Journal and The Colorado Springs Business Journal. The businesses' operations and cash flows have been eliminated from ongoing operations as a result of the anticipated sales and the Company will not have significant continuing involvement in the operations after the sales. The Company has classified the net assets and liabilities of these operations as assets held for sale and reported the results of the businesses in discontinued operations.

In the second quarter of 2012, the Company completed the sale of The Colorado Springs Business Journal and realized a de minimis pretax gain, reported in discontinued operations.

Note 9. Long-Term Debt, Capital Lease Obligation

A summary of long-term debt is as follows (in thousands):

	June 30, 2012	December 31, 2011
Senior secured debt (see below):
Senior variable-rate term note	$ 42,500	$ 45,000
Senior variable-rate revolving note	126,500	128,700
Total senior secured debt	169,000	173,700

Less current portion	7,831	7,667
Long-term debt, less current portion	$ 164,251	$ 168,724

Senior Secured Debt: The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries have a credit agreement with a syndicate of banks for a $215.0 million senior secured credit facility comprised of a term loan facility in an initial aggregate amount of $50.0 million due and payable in quarterly installments with a final maturity date of December 6, 2015, and a revolving credit facility in an aggregate amount of up to $165.0 million, which may be increased pursuant to an accordion feature to up to $200.0 million, with a final maturity date of December 6, 2015. In the first quarter of 2012, the Company entered into a second amendment to the credit agreement for the Company's senior secured credit facility that increased the maximum aggregate amount of the revolving credit facility from $155.0 million to $165.0 million and amended certain of the credit agreement's definitions and covenants. The Company paid fees of approximately $0.3 million in connection with this amendment.

At June 30, 2012, the Company was in compliance with all loan covenants with the exception of the covenant related to minimum adjusted EBITDA for the previous two fiscal quarters. The Company obtained a waiver from the banks for falling below this minimum adjusted EBITDA threshold, and is in the process of negotiating additional amendments to certain of the credit agreement's terms and covenants in order to maintain compliance with the covenants in the credit agreement going forward.

Unsecured Notes Payable: In the second quarter of 2012, the Company recorded a note payable to the sellers of ACT related to earnouts payable. Such note is payable in March 2013, and is subject to further adjustment based on 2012 revenue targets. The balance at June 30, 2012, is $1.4 million, and represents the fair value of such liability.

Note 10. Common Stock

The Company's stock buy-back plan permits the Company to repurchase up to 2 million shares of issued and outstanding common stock at prevailing market prices or negotiated prices at any time through December 31, 2013. The number of shares and the timing of the purchases will be determined at the discretion of management. No shares were repurchased during the six months ended June 30, 2012. During the six months ended June 30, 2011, the Company repurchased 137,500 shares under this plan at an average price of $12.27 per share, for a total of $1.7 million.

Note 11. Income Taxes

The provision for income taxes for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, was $4.3 million for both periods, or 43.9% and 38.8%, respectively, of income before income taxes. The provision for income taxes during the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011 is comprised of federal, state and local income taxes. The year-over-year increase in effective tax rate is due in part to a lower projected book income, higher state income tax expense as a percentage of book income and a smaller impact from noncontrolling interest adjustments. In addition, the company recorded discrete tax expense in the period associated with share-based compensation expense for which an insufficient additional paid-in capital (APIC) pool existed to absorb the charge. The provision for income taxes during interim quarterly reporting periods is based on our estimates of the effective tax rates for the respective full fiscal year.

Note 12. Major Customers, Related Parties and Concentration of Credit Risk

NDeX has eight law firm customers and, of those customers, Trott & Trott, the Barrett law firm (both related parties) and Albertelli Law together comprised 36.5% and 36.6% of the Company's total revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012.

Amounts due from NDeX's eight law firm customers totaled $38.7 million, or 59.6%, of the Company's consolidated net accounts receivable balance at June 30, 2012. This includes both billed and unbilled amounts. One of those customers comprised 20.8% of the total consolidated net accounts receivable balance.

NDeX has entered into long-term services agreements with its law firm customers, including Trott & Trott and the Barrett law firm, that provide for the exclusive referral of mortgage default and other files for processing. These services agreements also contemplate the review and possible revision of the fees, on an annual basis, for the services NDeX provides.

Table of Contents*Note 13. Reportable Segments

The Company has two operating divisions: Professional Services and Business Information, and three reportable segments: (1) Mortgage Default Processing Services; (2) Litigation Support Services; and (3) Business Information. The Mortgage Default Processing Services and Litigation Support Services segments are part of the Professional Services Division as these segments provide professional services supporting, primarily, attorneys and/or their clients. The Business Information segment is part of the Business Information Division. The Mortgage Default Processing Services segment generates revenue from NDeX, which provides mortgage default processing and related services to its customers. The Litigation Support Services segment generates revenue by providing discovery management and document review services through DiscoverReady and appellate services through Counsel Press, LLC. Both of these operating segments generate revenues through fee-based arrangements. The Business Information segment provides products, data and certain services through subscription-based products and a variety of media, including court and commercial newspapers, weekly business journals and the Internet. The Business Information segment generates revenues primarily from display and classified advertising (which includes events), public notices, and subscriptions and other. The Company determined its reportable segments based on the types of products sold and services performed.

The tables below reflect summarized financial information concerning the Company's reportable segments for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011 (in thousands):

Note 14. Share-Based Compensation

The Company has reserved 4.8 million shares of its common stock for issuance under its incentive compensative plan, of which there were 1.0 million shares available for issuance as of June 30, 2012. Total share-based compensation expense related to stock options for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, was $1.1 million and $1.2 million, respectively, and for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, was $1.9 million and $2.0 million, respectively.

Stock Options: Share-based compensation expense related to stock options for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, was $0.5 million and $0.7 million respectively, and for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, was $1.0 million and $1.2 million, respectively.

The following assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of stock options granted in 2012:

Dividend Yield	0.0%
Expected volatility	50.0%
Risk free interest rate	0.68 - 0.75%
Expected term of options	4.5 years
Weighted average grant date fair value	$ 2.56 - 3.12

The following table represents stock option activity for the six months ended June 30, 2012:

	Number of Shares	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value	Weighted Average Exercise Price	Weighted Average Remaining Contractual Life (in years)
Outstanding options at December 31, 2011	2,323,091	$ 4.79	$ 12.93	4.30

Options exercisable at June 30, 2012	1,665,787	$	4.78	$ 13.62	3.22

At June 30, 2012, the aggregate intrinsic value of options outstanding and options exercisable was $0.5 million and $0.3 million, respectively. At June 30, 2012, there was $3.4 million of unrecognized compensation cost related to outstanding options, which is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.4 years.

Restricted Stock Grants: Share-based compensation expense related to grants of restricted stock for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, was $0.6 million and $0.5 million, respectively, and was $0.9 million for both the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011.

The following table represents a summary of nonvested restricted stock activity for the six months ended June 30, 2012:

	Number of Shares	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value
Nonvested, December 31, 2011	402,148	$ 11.40
Granted	398,428	6.17
Vested	(138,147)	11.42
Canceled or forfeited	(5,048)	$ 9.92
Nonvested, June 30, 2012	657,381	$ 8.24

Total unrecognized compensation expense for unvested restricted shares of common stock as of June 30, 2012, was $4.8 million, which is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.6 years.

Note 15. Contingencies and Commitments

Litigation: From time to time, the Company is subject to certain claims and lawsuits that have arisen in the ordinary course of its business. Although the outcome of such existing matters cannot presently be determined, it is management's opinion that the ultimate resolution of such existing matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations or financial position.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

We recommend that you read the following discussion and analysis in conjunction with our unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements and the related notes included in this report.

In this quarterly report on Form 10-Q, unless the context requires otherwise, the terms we, us, and our refer to The Dolan Company and its consolidated subsidiaries. When we refer to National Default Exchange or NDeX in this report, we mean all of our mortgage default processing operations in Michigan, Indiana and Minnesota and at Barrett-NDeX, as well as the Florida mortgage default and related title operations acquired from the Albertelli sellers in October 2009. When we refer to Barrett-NDeX in this report, it means the entities that constitute the mortgage default processing operations serving the Texas, California and Georgia markets that NDeX acquired on September 2, 2008. The term Barrett law firm refers to Barrett Daffin Frappier Turner & Engel, LLP and its two law firm affiliates. When we refer to the Albertelli sellers in this report, it means James E. Albertelli, P.A., The Albertelli Firm, P.C., Albertelli Title, Inc. and James E. Albertelli, as a group. We also refer to James E. Albertelli, P.A. and The Albertelli Firm, P.C., together, as the Albertelli law firm.

Forward-Looking Statements

This discussion and analysis contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933. Forward-looking statements are statements such as those contained in projections, plans, objectives, estimates, statements of future performance, and assumptions relating to any of the foregoing and can often be identified by the use of words such as may, will, expect, anticipate, believe, intend, estimate, goal, continue, and similar words or expressions. By their nature, statements are based on information currently available to us and are subject to risks, uncertainties and other factors that could cause our actual results, performance, prospects or opportunities to differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, these forward-looking statements. These risks, uncertainties and other factors include:

our businesses operate in highly competitive markets and depend on the economies and demographics of the legal, financial and real estate markets we serve, and changes in those sectors could have an adverse effect on our revenues, cash flows, and profitability;

if the number of case files referred to us by our mortgage default processing service law firm customers (or loan servicers and mortgage lenders we serve directly for mortgage default files in California) decreases or fails to increase, or if one or more of our law firm customers fails to pay us for our mortgage default processing services, our operating results and ability to execute our growth strategy could be adversely affected;

bills introduced and laws enacted to mitigate foreclosures, voluntary relief programs and voluntary halts by servicers or lenders, governmental investigations, enforcement actions, litigation, court orders, settlements, and any resulting additional procedures and longer processing times may have an adverse impact on our mortgage default processing business, including its margins, and on our public notice business;

our efforts to grow our business may place a strain on our management and internal systems, processes and controls, may result in operating inefficiencies, and may negatively impact our operating margins;

we intend to continue to pursue acquisition opportunities, which we may not do successfully and which may subject us to considerable business and financial risk or require us to raise additional capital or incur additional indebtedness;

a failure to comply with covenants under our debt instruments could result in acceleration of debt or an inability to access availability under our credit facility;

Overview

We are a leading provider of necessary professional services and business information to legal, financial and real estate sectors in the United States. We serve our customers through two complementary operating divisions: our Professional Services Division and our Business Information Division. Our Professional Services Division comprises two reporting segments: mortgage default processing services and litigation support services. Through our subsidiary, NDeX, we provide mortgage default processing services to eight law firm customers located in California, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, and Texas, as well as directly to mortgage lenders and loan servicers on residential real estate located in California. Our subsidiaries DiscoverReady and Counsel Press comprise our litigation support services reporting segment. DiscoverReady provides outsourced discovery management and document review services to major United States and global companies and their counsel. Counsel Press provides appellate services to law firms and attorneys nationwide. Our Business Information Division publishes business journals, court and commercial media and other highly focused information products and services, operates web sites and produces events for targeted professional audiences in about 20 geographic markets across the United States. Our information is delivered through a variety of methods, including more than 60 print publications and more than 80 web sites. Through subscription-based offerings, our Business Information Division also offers transcription services and access to our legislative databases which provide federal and state legislative and regulatory information.

Our total revenues decreased $4.6 million, or 6.8%, from $68.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2011, to $63.8 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012, primarily as a result of a $4.6 million decrease in our mortgage default processing services revenues. The decrease in mortgage default processing services revenues was driven primarily by a decrease in the number of new foreclosure files received for processing, as discussed below. Income from continuing operations increased from $2.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2011, to $5.6 million for the current quarter. This increase was primarily the result of fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities recorded in the current quarter of $10.4 million.

Recent Developments

Discontinued Operations / Assets Held for Sale

In the fourth quarter of 2011, management committed to a plan of action to dispose of two of our smallest-market operating units within the Business Information Division. As explained in Business Information Division Results below, we classified the results of these operations (net of tax benefit), as discontinued operations. The assets of these operations, net of related liabilities, are included in assets held for sale.

In the second quarter of 2012, the Company completed the sale of The Colorado Springs Business Journal and realized a de minimis pretax gain, reported in discontinued operations.

Regulatory Environment

Beginning in 2008, federal, state and local governmental entities and leaders have increasingly focused attention on foreclosures and have proposed and enacted legislation or taken other action that may have, and some of which has had, an adverse impact on the number of mortgage default case files NDeX is asked to process, the length of time and amount of work it takes to process such files, the time over which we recognize revenue associated with the processing of those files, our margins on our processing work, and the number of foreclosure public notices placed in our Business Information products and DLNP (our equity method investment) for publication. There also have been voluntary foreclosure relief programs developed by lenders, loan servicers and the Hope Now Alliance (a consortium that includes loan servicers). We have described these programs in our annual and quarterly reports in the past few years.

During the past 21 months, the mortgage foreclosure industry has experienced heightened scrutiny by various government agencies and individuals, leading to voluntary slowing of foreclosure referrals by servicers and lenders as they reviewed systems and provided information requested by the government, many audits of our processes, and newly mandated procedures.

In the federal sector, 14 major mortgage servicers signed consent orders with the Board of Governors of The Federal Reserve System and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency ( OCC ) in April 2011, agreeing to submit action plans detailing how they will comply with new requirements for servicing defaulted loans. The OCC consent agreements required improvements to certain internal processes and enhanced controls related to third-party vendors that provide services related to residential default or foreclosure, including the law firm customers of NDeX. In June 2011, the OCC issued guidance clarifying that, in addition to these 14 major mortgage servicers, all mortgage servicers under OCC supervision must ensure compliance with foreclosure laws, conduct foreclosures in a safe and sound manner, and establish responsible business practices that provide accountability and appropriate treatment of borrowers. This OCC bulletin provided additional expectations regarding governance of foreclosure process to include adequate staffing and training, dual-track processing, management of affidavit and notary practices, documentation, oversight of third-party service providers, and adherence to all laws and regulations related to mortgage foreclosure. The OCC required servicers to complete revisions in foreclosure processing to the satisfaction of the Federal Reserve and the OCC and to reorganize their related foreclosure operations to follow the amended procedures. In addition, all national banks were required by the end of September 2011 to conduct a self-assessment of foreclosure management practices and to correct any weaknesses identified. The OCC continues to review the plans and information the banks submitted. The OCC indicated that it may require changes to the plans provided and that it is working with the United States Department of Justice and other federal and state authorities to finalize and synchronize the plans into a consistent set of servicing requirements.

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau ( CFPB ) outlined its approach in July 2011 to supervising large depository institutions to ensure compliance with federal consumer protection laws. This supervisory process applies to the 111 depository institutions with total assets of more than $10 billion. The CFPB then issued Supervision and Examination guidance for all lenders. This guidance covers how the CFPB will examine lenders and servicers processes going forward. We do not see a direct impact of this process upon our operations except that it further complicates operations of the mortgage servicers, making them more concerned about compliance issues and potentially extending their current slowdown in foreclosure referrals. In October 2011, the CFPB outlined its initial approach to supervising mortgage servicers to ensure they comply with federal consumer financial protection laws. It said it will focus initially on loans in default where consumers are struggling to make payments. CFPB examiners are looking to ensure that information provided to consumers about loan modifications and foreclosures is timely and transparent.

At the state level, in April 2012, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia approved the settlement among the attorneys general of 49 states and the District of Columbia and the nation's five largest mortgage lenders. That settlement applies to privately held mortgages issued between 2008 and 2011, not those held by government-controlled Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. Under the settlement, the lenders committed $17 billion toward reducing the principal that certain homeowners owe on their mortgages. The lenders also committed another $3.7 billion toward refinancing mortgages for borrowers who are current on their payments, and the lenders will pay an additional $5 billion in fines to the states and federal government. The lone attorney general not a part of this nationwide settlement was from Oklahoma, and he reached a $18.6 million settlement with the five lenders in February 2012.

Table of Contents

Given the OCC deadlines for reports and compliance, the CFPB's requirements, the attorneys general efforts and recent settlement, and the generally heightened scrutiny that residential mortgage foreclosure servicers experienced in the past 21 months, servicers have continued to react to this scrutiny by reviewing and verifying their policies and procedures, applying more steps, checks, and reviews to pending foreclosures, and releasing into foreclosure only those cases that have been carefully reviewed. Many servicers also reacted to this environment of increased scrutiny by requesting additional information and process verification from law firms and other third-party vendors. These servicer actions continued to reduce the number of mortgage defaults being referred to begin foreclosure. We believe that servicers will continue to exercise an abundance of caution, examining each default referral in extreme detail, effectively continuing the slow pace of referrals. Until any new foreclosure procedures are made uniform and final, such new procedures cannot become automated as part of our proprietary workflow process management systems. We believe that the reduced level of foreclosure referrals is likely to continue until final procedures are in place, and that once final procedures are in place that different lenders will refer remaining foreclosures out with varying rates and timing, but that a large number of defaulted loans in pre-foreclosure status and pending foreclosures remain to be undertaken and completed.

For additional information about legislation and regulatory activity impacting or potentially impacting our business, please see Item 7: Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations Recent Developments Regulatory Environment in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on March 9, 2012, as well as the Regulatory Environment discussions in our prior reports filed with the SEC on Form 10-Q and Form 10-K.

Recent Acquisitions

We have grown significantly since our predecessor company commenced operations in 1992, in large part due to acquisitions, such as the ACT acquisition in 2011:

Acquisition of ACT Litigation Services, Inc.

On July 25, 2011, we, through DiscoverReady, completed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of ACT for (i) an upfront payment of approximately $60.0 million in cash that was paid in full at closing, plus (ii) up to $5.0 million in potential additional purchase price that will be held back for a period of 20 months (subject to partial early release) to secure certain obligations of ACT and its shareholders, plus (iii) an earnout payment based primarily upon the extent to which an agreed-upon multiple of ACT's pro forma EBITDA for the year ended December 31, 2011, exceeds the base purchase price of $65.0 million, plus (iv) two additional earnout payments of up to a maximum of $15.0 million in the aggregate that are contingent upon reaching certain revenue milestones for the years ended December 31, 2012 and 2013. All of the earnout payments are subject to certain set-off rights under the purchase agreement. In the second quarter of 2012, net earnouts of $13.7 million were paid. Additionally, the majority of the remaining balance of the earnout payable was converted in the second quarter of 2012 to a note payable, due in March 2013, and is subject to further adjustment based on the achievement of certain revenue targets for 2012. In the second quarter of 2012, we revised our estimates relating to the earnouts expected to be paid to a balance of $1.4 million at June 30, 2012 resulting in a $10.1 million reduction to the earnout liability. Such amount was recorded within operations in fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities. Additionally, during the second quarter, management recorded a retrospective adjustment of $2.1 million to reduce goodwill and the initial earnout liability estimate recorded at the acquisition date.

ACT specializes in providing technology and process solutions to clients with electronic discovery needs. It also provides hosting and review services. The acquired operations of ACT are part of our Litigation Support Services segment within our Professional Services Division.

Revenues

We derive revenues from two operating divisions, our Professional Services Division and our Business Information Division, operating as three reportable segments: (1) mortgage default processing services; (2) litigation support services; and (3) business information. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, our total revenues were $63.8 million and $130.5 million, respectively, and the percentage of our total revenues attributed to each of our divisions and segments was as follows:

69% and 71%, respectively, from our Professional Services Division (44% and 44%, respectively, from mortgage default processing services and 25% and 27%, respectively, from litigation support services); and 31% and 29%, respectively, from our Business Information Division.

Professional Services. Our Professional Services Division generates revenues primarily by providing mortgage default processing, outsourced discovery management and document review, and appellate services through fee-based arrangements. We further break down our Professional Services Division into two reportable segments, mortgage default processing services and litigation support services.

Mortgage Default Processing Services. Through NDeX, we assist eight law firms in processing foreclosure, bankruptcy, eviction and, to a lesser extent, other mortgage default case files for residential mortgages that are in default. We also provide foreclosure processing services directly to mortgage lenders and loan servicers for properties located in California. In addition, NDeX provides loss mitigation support on mortgage default files to its customers and related real estate title work primarily to the Barrett and Albertelli law firms. We refer to revenues that NDeX derives from these sources collectively as mortgage default processing service revenues. Shareholders and/or principal attorneys of our law firm customers, including David A. Trott, chairman of NDeX, are executive management employees of NDeX.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, we received for processing approximately 63,100 and 129,300 mortgage default case files, respectively. Our mortgage default processing service revenues accounted for 44% of our total revenues and 63% of our Professional Services Division revenues for both the three and six months ended June 30, 2012. For the six months ended June 30, 2012, each of the Barrett law firm, Trott & Trott and Albertelli law firm accounted for more than 10% of our mortgage default processing services revenues, and together accounted for more than three-quarters of these revenues. We recognize mortgage default processing service revenues on a proportional performance basis over the period during which the services are provided, the calculation of which requires management to make estimates. For more information regarding how we recognize revenue, please see Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates Revenue Recognition in Item 7 Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on March 9, 2012.

NDeX's revenues are primarily driven by the number of residential mortgage defaults in each of the states in which we do business, as well as the type of files we process (e.g., foreclosures, evictions, bankruptcies or litigation) because each has a different pricing structure. Although the services agreements with our law firm customers contemplate the review and possible revision of the fees for the services we provide, price increases have not historically affected our mortgage default processing revenues materially. In some cases, our services agreements adjust the fee paid to us for the files we process on an annual basis pursuant to an agreed-upon consumer price index. In other cases, our services agreements require us to agree with our law firm customer regarding the terms and amount of any fee increase. If we are unable to negotiate fixed fee increases under these agreements that at least take into account the increases in costs associated with providing mortgage default processing services, our operating and net margins would be adversely affected. You should refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations Revenues in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on March 9, 2012, for more information about the conditions under which the fixed fee per file we charge our law firm customers may change.

Deferred revenue includes mortgage default processing services billed in advance that we expect to recognize in future periods due to the extended period of time it takes to process certain files. At June 30, 2012, we had such deferred revenue on our balance sheet in the amount of $11.4 million.

Litigation Support Services. Our litigation support services segment generates revenues by providing discovery management and document review services through DiscoverReady and appellate services through Counsel Press. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, our litigation support services revenues accounted for 25% and 27%, respectively, of our total revenues and 37% and 38%, respectively, of our Professional Services Division revenues.

DiscoverReady provides its services to major United States and global companies and their counsel and assists them in document reviews and helping them manage the discovery process. Discovery is the process by which parties use the legal system to obtain relevant information, primarily in litigation and regulatory matters. This process can be expensive and time-consuming for companies depending upon the volume of emails, electronic files and paper documents a company must review to respond to a document request. DiscoverReady also provides related technology management services. DiscoverReady bills its customers primarily based upon the number of documents reviewed and the amount of data or other information it processes in connection with those reviews. Accordingly, our discovery management and document review services revenues are largely determined by the volume of data we process, host and review.

Counsel Press assists law firms and attorneys throughout the United States in organizing, preparing and filing appellate briefs, records and appendices, in paper and electronic formats that comply with the applicable rules of the U.S. Supreme Court, any of the 13 federal courts of appeals and any state appellate court or appellate division. Counsel Press charges its customers primarily on a per-page basis based on the final appellate product that is filed with the court clerk. Accordingly, our appellate service revenues are largely determined by the volume of appellate cases we handle and the number of pages in the appellate cases we file.

We recognize litigation support services revenues during the month in which the services are provided. In the case of Counsel Press, this is when our final appellate product is filed with the court. In most cases, DiscoverReady bills its customers each month for the services provided. DiscoverReady's services consist of multiple element deliverables, and as such, revenue is assigned to each deliverable service and recognized as those services are performed. In situations where we bill our customers in advance of services performed, revenue is deferred until the month it is earned. At June 30, 2012, we recorded an aggregate $0.8 million as deferred revenues related to litigation support services on our balance sheet. You should refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates - Revenue Recognition in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on March 9, 2012, for more information about how we recognize revenue on DiscoverReady's multiple element arrangements.

Business Information. Our Business Information Division generates revenues primarily from display and classified advertising, public notice and subscriptions. We sell commercial advertising consisting of display and classified advertising in all of our print products and on most of our web sites. We include within our display and classified advertising revenue those revenues generated by sponsorships, advertising and ticket sales generated by our local events. Our display and classified advertising revenues accounted for 9% and 8%, respectively, of our total revenues and 29% and 28%, respectively, of our Business Information Division revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012. We recognize display and classified advertising revenues upon publication of an advertisement in one of our publications or on one of our web sites. Advertising revenues are driven primarily by the volume, price and mix of advertisements published as well as how many local events are held.

We publish more than 300 different types of public notices in our court and commercial newspapers, including foreclosure notices, probate notices, notices of fictitious business names, limited liability company and other business entity notices, unclaimed property notices, notices of governmental hearings and trustee sale notices. For both the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, our public notice revenues accounted for 13% of our total revenues and 44% of our Business Information Division revenues. We recognize public notice revenues upon placement of a public notice in one of our court and commercial newspapers. Public notice revenues are driven by the volume and mix of public notices published, which can be affected by the number of residential mortgage foreclosures in the markets where we are qualified to publish public notices and the rules governing publication of public notices in such states. In many of the states in which we publish public notices, the price for public notices is statutorily regulated, with market forces determining the pricing for the remaining states.

Table of Contents

We sell our business information products primarily through subscriptions, including our DataStream and Federal News products, which are both part of our public affairs intelligence group. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, our subscription and other revenues, which consist primarily of subscriptions, single-copy sales, transcriptions and access to state and federal legislative information, accounted for 8% of our total revenues for both periods and 27% and 28%, respectively, of our Business Information Division revenues. We recognize subscription revenues ratably over the subscription periods, which range from three months to multiple years, with the average subscription period being twelve months. Deferred revenue includes payment for subscriptions collected in advance that we expect to recognize in future periods. At June 30, 2012, we had such deferred revenue on our balance sheet in the amount of $7.4 million. Subscription and other revenues are driven primarily by the number of copies sold and the subscription rates charged to customers.

Operating Expenses

Our operating expenses consist of the following:

Direct operating expenses, which consist primarily of the cost of compensation and employee benefits for the operational staff at NDeX, DiscoverReady, and Counsel Press and our editorial personnel in our Business Information Division, production and distribution expenses, such as compensation (including stock-based compensation expense) and employee benefits for personnel involved in the production and distribution of our business information products, the cost of newsprint and delivery of our business information products, and packaging and data service fees in connection with our California foreclosure files;

Selling, general and administrative expenses, which consist primarily of the cost of compensation (including stock-based compensation expense) and employee benefits for our sales, human resources, accounting and information technology personnel, publishers and other members of management, rent, other sales and marketing-related expenses and other office-related payments;

Amortization expense, which represents the cost of finite-lived intangibles acquired through business combinations allocated over the estimated useful lives of these intangibles, with such useful lives ranging from two to thirty years;

Depreciation expense, which represents the cost of fixed assets and software allocated over the estimated useful lives of these assets, with such useful lives ranging from one to thirty years; and

Fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities, which consists primarily of non-cash adjustments to estimates of earnouts to be paid to sellers of businesses we acquire, based on management's estimated fair value of the earnout liability at each reporting date.

Total operating expenses as a percentage of revenues depends upon our mix of business from Professional Services, which is our higher margin revenue, and Business Information. This mix may continue to shift between fiscal periods.

Equity in Earnings of Affiliates

We own 35.0% of the membership interests in DLNP, the publisher of The Detroit Legal News and 10 other publications. We account for our investment in DLNP using the equity method. For the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, our share of DLNP's earnings was $0.6 million and $0.5 million, respectively. This is net of amortization of $0.4 million for each period. NDeX handles all public notices required to be published in connection with files it services for Trott & Trott pursuant to our services agreement with Trott & Trott and places a significant amount of these notices in The Detroit Legal News. Trott & Trott pays DLNP for these public notices. See Liquidity and Capital Resources Cash Flows Provided by Operating Activities below for information regarding distributions paid to us by DLNP.

Noncontrolling Interest

Noncontrolling interest ( NCI ) at June 30, 2012, consisted of a 6.2% redeemable interest in NDeX held by the sellers of Barrett-NDEx or their transferees (as a group), a 10.0% redeemable interest in DiscoverReady held by DR Holdco LLC and a 20% interest in Legislative Services of America (LISA) held by Telran, Inc.

Under the terms of the NDeX operating agreement, each month we are required to distribute the excess of NDeX's earnings before interest, depreciation and amortization less debt service with respect to any interest-bearing indebtedness of NDeX, capital expenditures and working capital reserves to NDeX's members on the basis of common equity interest owned. No such distributions were paid during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2011, we made distributions of $0.2 million.

There is no similar distribution obligation under the DiscoverReady limited liability company agreement; however, we are obligated to make quarterly distributions to pay tax liabilities to DR Holdco, the minority member of DiscoverReady. No such distributions were made during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 or 2011.

The sellers of Barrett-NDEx, each as members of NDeX, have the right, for a period of six months following September 2, 2012, to require NDeX to repurchase all or any portion of their respective membership interest in NDeX. To the extent any minority member of NDeX timely exercises this right, the purchase price of such membership interest will be based on 6.25 times NDeX's trailing twelve month earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, less the aggregate amount of any interest bearing indebtedness outstanding for NDeX as of the date the repurchase occurs. The aggregate purchase price would be payable by NDeX in the form of a three-year unsecured note bearing interest at a rate equal to prime plus 2.0%.

Under the terms of DiscoverReady's amended limited liability company agreement, DR Holdco has the right, for a period of 90 days following November 2, 2012, to require DiscoverReady to repurchase approximately 50% of DR Holdco's equity interest in DiscoverReady, and for a period of 90 days following November 2, 2013, to require DiscoverReady to purchase DR Holdco's remaining equity interest in DiscoverReady. In addition, for a period of 90 days following November 2, 2013, DiscoverReady also has the right to require DR Holdco to sell its entire equity interest in DiscoverReady. In each case, if either party timely exercises its right, we would pay DR Holdco an amount based on the fair market value of the equity interest. These rights may be exercised earlier under certain circumstances. The purchase price for any equity interests repurchased or sold pursuant to these rights, if exercised, will be paid in cash to the extent allowed by the terms of our then-existing credit agreement, or pursuant to a three year unsecured promissory note, bearing interest at a rate equal to prime plus 1.0%.

The NDeX NCI is adjusted to the estimated redemption amount at each reporting period based on the formula as discussed above if the result of the formula is greater than its carrying value. The DiscoverReady NCI is adjusted to fair value each period using a market approach if the fair value is greater than its carrying value. Please see our unaudited condensed consolidated statements of stockholders' equity, as well as Note 5 to our unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements, included in this report on Form 10-Q for further information regarding accounting for noncontrolling interests and its implications to our financial statements.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Please see Note 1 to our unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements included in this report on Form 10-Q as well as Note 1 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on March 9, 2012. Further, we discuss our critical accounting estimates in Item 7, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011. There has been no significant change in our critical accounting policies or critical accounting estimates since the end of 2011.

	2012	2011	(in millions)
Total revenues	$ 63.8	$ 68.4	$ (4.6)	(6.8)%

Our total revenues declined primarily as a result of a decrease in our mortgage default processing services revenues. The decrease in mortgage default processing services revenues was driven largely by a decrease in the number of new foreclosure files received for processing. Our litigation support services revenues increased $0.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012, while our business information revenues were down $0.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012. You should refer to the more detailed discussions in Professional Services Division Results and Business Information Division Results below for more information regarding the causes of these changes.

We derived 69.5% and 70.7% of our total revenues from our Professional Services Division and 30.5% and 29.3% of our total revenues from our Business Information Division for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. In our Professional Services Division, revenues from our mortgage default processing services segment accounted for 44.1% and 47.8% of our total revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. Revenues from our litigation support services segment (also part of our Professional Services Division) accounted for 25.4% and 23.0% of our total revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. We continue to expect litigation support services to be a larger percentage of total revenues as a result of ongoing investments in the DiscoverReady business.

Fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities	(10.4)	(10.4)	not meaningful

Excluding the impact of fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities, total operating expenses as a percentage of total revenues increased from 92.1% for the three months ended June 30, 2011, to 98.5% for the three months ended June 30, 2012. This was largely due to decreased revenues in our mortgage default processing services business and negative operating leverage at DiscoverReady as discussed below.

Direct Operating Expenses. The change in our direct operating expenses consisted of a $1.3 million decrease in our Professional Services Division and a $0.5 million decrease in our Business Information Division. You should refer to the more detailed discussions in Professional Services Division Results and Business Information Division Results below for more information regarding the causes of these changes. Direct operating expenses as a percentage of total revenues increased slightly to 45.4% for the second quarter of 2012, from 44.9% for the same period in 2011.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. The change in our selling, general and administrative expenses consisted primarily of a $1.6 million increase in our Professional Services Division, partially offset by a $0.3 million decrease in our Business Information Division. You should refer to the more detailed discussions in Professional Services Division Results and Business Information Division Results below for more information regarding the causes of changes in our selling, general and administrative expenses. Cost associated with our corporate operations decreased $0.6 million, largely as a result of lower legal and other professional fees. Selling, general and administrative expense as a percentage of revenue increased to 42.2% for the three months ended June 30, 2012, from 38.3% for the same period in 2011.

Fair Value Adjustments on Earnout Liabilities. Fair value adjustments on earnout liabilities consisted of $(10.1) million for the Professional Services Division and $(0.3) million for the Business Information Division. You should refer to the more detailed discussions in Professional Services Division Results and Business Information Division Results below for more information regarding these items.

Amortization and Depreciation Expense. Our total amortization and depreciation expense increased primarily as a result of the depreciation and amortization of the assets acquired as part of the ACT acquisition.

Cash interest expense on interest rate swaps	0.3	0.6	(0.3)	(48.5)%
Amortization of deferred financing fees	0.1	0.1		13.5 %

Interest expense related to our bank credit facility increased as a result of the increased borrowings to fund, primarily, the ACT acquisition in July 2011. Our average outstanding debt was $176.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012, compared to $130.6 million for the same period one year ago. At the same time, the average interest rate on our credit facility was 3.4% for the three months ended June 30, 2012, compared to 2.8% one year ago.

Our effective tax rate was 44.2% and 40.5% during the quarters ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. The provision for income taxes during interim quarterly reporting periods is based on our estimates of the effective tax rates for the respective full fiscal year. The tax rate in any quarter can be affected positively or negatively by adjustments that are required to be reported in the specific quarter of resolution. Tax expense for the quarter ended June 30, 2012, reflects a projected annual effective tax rate of 41.9% and an additional $0.2 million of tax expense recorded as discrete items in the period.

	(in millions)
Total revenues	$ 44.3	$ 48.4	$ (4.1)	(8.5)%
Mortgage default processing services	28.1	32.7	(4.6)	(14.0)%
Litigation support services revenues	16.2	15.7	0.5	3.1 %

Mortgage default processing services revenues decreased primarily due to decreased file volumes in many of the markets we serve, which is a continuation of trends we experienced throughout 2011. Our total files received for processing for the three months ended June 30, 2012, were down 21.9%, from 80,800 mortgage default case files for the three months ended June 30, 2011, to 63,100 mortgage default case files for the three months ended June 30, 2012. In the current quarter, foreclosure files received for processing were down about 16% compared to the second quarter of 2011. We believe these file volume decreases are due to continued marketplace and regulatory dynamics that intensified in late 2010, causing many large loan servicers to slow down and reduce the referral of defaulted files for foreclosure processing. Given current market conditions, we expect a modest improvement in mortgage default processing services revenues in the second half of 2012 due to modest increases in file volumes and services fees.

The Barrett law firm, Albertelli law firm and Trott & Trott each accounted for more than 10%, and together accounted for approximately 83% of our mortgage default processing services segment and 53% of our Professional Services Division revenues during the three months ended June 30, 2012. In the three months ended June 30, 2011, the Barrett law firm, Albertelli law firm and Trott & Trott each accounted for more than 10%, and together accounted for approximately 83% of our mortgage default processing services segment and 56% of our Professional Services Division revenues.

The net increase in litigation support services revenues is primarily a result of the added revenues from DiscoverReady's ACT operations acquired in July 2011. DiscoverReady had one customer in excess of 10% of segment revenues in the second quarter of 2012, accounting for about a quarter of such revenues. In the second quarter of 2011, DiscoverReady had two customers in excess of 10% of segment revenues, together accounting for just over half of such revenues.

Direct operating expenses decreased as a result of file volume decreases as discussed above and steps taken to reduce our costs at NDeX. Selling, general and administrative expenses also decreased as a result of cost control efforts in place in the quarter. For example, total headcount at all NDeX operations is down by 11.9% from the prior year.

Total operating expenses attributable to our mortgage default processing services segment as a percentage of segment revenues increased to 98.9% for the three months ended June 30, 2012, from 93.5% for the three months ended June 30, 2011. This increase was primarily a result of a reduction in revenues.

Depreciation expense	0.7	0.3	0.4	147.9 %
Fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities	(10.1)		(10.1)	not meaningful

The increases in direct and selling, general, and administrative expenses are due primarily to the increased costs associated with operating DiscoverReady's ACT business acquired in July 2011. The fair value adjustment of $(10.1) million was related primarily to management's revised estimates of earnouts to be paid related to DiscoverReady's ACT acquisition.

Excluding the impact of the fair value adjustment on earnout liabilities, total operating expenses attributable to our litigation support services segment as a percentage of segment revenues increased to 98.4% for the three months ended June 30, 2012, from 76.3% for the same period in 2011. This decrease in margin is primarily due to negative operating leverage at DiscoverReady due to investments made by DiscoverReady to grow its business. We expect improvement in the second half of 2012 as a result of cost-cutting measures and revenue improvement.

The decrease in display and classified advertising revenues is due primarily to the timing of special publications, as well as a decrease in the number of ads placed in our publications. Public notice revenues increased slightly over the same period last year, continuing the modest climb experienced in the previous few quarters.

Our revenues declined primarily as a result of decreased revenues in our mortgage default processing services segment. Revenues in this segment were down primarily due to decreased file volumes in many of the markets we serve. Our total files received for processing for the six months ended June 30, 2012, was down 25.3%, from 173,100 mortgage default case files for the six months ended June 30, 2011, to 129,300 mortgage default case files for the six months ended June 30, 2012.

The increase in litigation support services revenues is primarily a result of the added revenues from DiscoverReady's ACT operations acquired in July 2011. DiscoverReady had one customer in excess of 10% of segment revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2012, accounting for about a quarter of such revenues. In the second quarter of 2011, DiscoverReady had two customers in excess of 10% of segment revenues, together accounting for nearly half of such revenues.

During the fourth quarter of 2011, management committed to sell two of our smallest-market stand-alone businesses within the Business Information Division. We are currently negotiating with prospective buyers of our Mississippi Business Journal and related assets. We expect the sale of these assets to occur in 2012. In the second quarter of 2012, we completed the sale of The Colorado Springs Business Journal and realized a de minimis pretax gain, reported in discontinued operations. We have classified the net assets and liabilities of these operations as assets held for sale and reported the results of the businesses in discontinued operations.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

We have not entered into any off balance sheet arrangements.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary sources of liquidity are cash flows from operations, available capacity under our credit facility, distributions received from DLNP, and available cash reserves. The following table summarizes our cash and cash equivalents, working capital and long-term debt, less current portion as of June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011, as well as cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011 (in thousands):

	June 30, 2012	December 31, 2011
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 1,156	$ 752
Working capital (deficit)	2,175	(3,329)
Long-term debt, less current portion	164,251	168,724
	Six Months Ended June 30, 2012	2011
Cash flows from operating activities	$ 24,040	$ 13,816
Cash flows from investing activities:
Acquisitions and investments	(145)	(5,071)
Capital expenditures	(2,770)	(3,904)
Cash flows from financing activities	(20,843)	(6,785)

Cash Flows Provided by Operating Activities

The most significant inflows of cash are cash receipts from our customers. Operating cash outflows include payments to employees, payments to vendors for services and supplies and payments of interest and income taxes.

Net cash provided by operating activities for the six months ended June 30, 2012, increased $10.2 million, or 74.0%, to $24.0 million from $13.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. Excluding the impact of fair value and other adjustments on earnout liabilities and the related tax impact of these adjustments, income from continuing operations decreased in the first six months by about $7 million compared to last year, but through disciplined management of working capital and favorable cash collections, we were able to increase our net cash provided by operating activities over the same period last year.

Working capital changed from a deficit of $3.3 million at December 31, 2011, to $2.2 million at June 30, 2012. This resulted primarily from the earnout payment in connection with the ACT acquisition.

Our allowance for doubtful accounts, allowance for doubtful accounts as a percentage of gross receivables, and days sales outstanding (DSO), as of June 30, 2012, December 31, 2011, and June 30, 2011, are set forth in the table below:

	June 30, 2012	December 31, 2011	June 30, 2011
Allowance for doubtful accounts (in thousands)	$ 1,447	$ 1,416	$ 1,282
Allowance for doubtful accounts as a percentage of gross accounts receivable	2.2 %	1.9 %	1.9 %
Days sales outstanding	100.7	99.1	91.3

Our allowance for doubtful accounts as a percentage of gross accounts receivable remained relatively constant for each period shown.

We calculate DSO by dividing net receivables by average daily revenue excluding circulation. Average daily revenue is computed by dividing total revenue for the quarter by the total number of days in the quarter. Our DSO increased from year-end primarily as a result of increased DSO at DiscoverReady due to reduced revenues. We did have strong collections in the quarter, but lower revenues contributed to the increase in the DSO. Our DSO increased from the second quarter of last year primarily as a result of carrying larger receivable balances in some of our NDeX operating units as a result of an increase in the length of time it takes to process foreclosures, most notably in Florida as this is a judicial state with longer foreclosure processing cycles. Please refer to Recent Developments - Regulatory Environment above for an explanation of some of the current factors that are contributing to the increase in time it is taking to process foreclosures.

At June 30, 2012, we had a significant concentration of credit risk relating to amounts due from NDeX's eight law firm customers. Of our total consolidated net receivable balance, $38.7 million, or 59.6%, is related to amounts due from these customers, and includes both billed and unbilled amounts. Billed amounts represent $30.9 million, or 47.6%, of our total consolidated net receivable balance. Partially offsetting our total accounts receivable exposure for these law firm customers is deferred revenue, for amounts billed but not yet earned, in the amount of $11.4 million, which represents 29.4% of the total balances due. We do not carry an allowance for doubtful accounts as it relates to these law firm customers as we have not experienced any write-offs with these customers in the past.

We own 35.0% of the membership interests in The Detroit Legal Publishing, LLC, or DLNP, the publisher of The Detroit Legal News, and received distributions of $1.5 million and $2.1 million during the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. The operating agreement for DLNP provides for us to receive quarterly distribution payments based on our ownership percentage, which are a significant source of operating cash flow.

Cash Flows Used in Investing Activities

Net cash used in investing activities decreased $5.8 million to $2.8 million during six months ended June 30, 2012, from $8.6 million during six months ended June 30, 2011. This decrease was primarily a result of reduced spending on acquisitions and investments, because in 2011, we bought out approximately one-third of the outstanding membership units in DiscoverReady held by DR Holdco. Capital expenditures decreased $1.1 million from the first six months of 2011, and we expect the costs for capital expenditures to be in the range of 2-3% of our total revenues, on an aggregated basis, for the full year 2012.

Cash Flows Used in Financing Activities

Cash provided by financing activities primarily includes borrowings under our revolving credit agreement and the issuance of long-term debt. Cash used in financing activities generally includes the repayment of borrowings under the revolving credit agreement and long-term debt, payments on unsecured notes, payments to repurchase our common stock and the payment of fees associated with the issuance of long-term debt.

Net cash used in financing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2012, totaled $20.8 million, compared to $6.8 million during six months ended June 30, 2011. Cash used in financing activities for both periods included similar amounts paid on our credit facility, but in the second quarter of 2012, we paid $14.4 million of deferred acquisition costs and earnouts. Long-term debt, less current portion, decreased $4.4 million, or 2.7%, to $164.3 million as of June 30, 2012, from $168.7 million as of December 31, 2011.

Credit Agreement. On December 6, 2010, we entered into a third amended and restated credit agreement with a syndicate of bank lenders for a $205.0 million senior secured credit facility comprised of a term loan facility in an initial aggregate amount of $50.0 million due and payable in quarterly installments with a final maturity date of December 6, 2015, and a revolving credit facility in an initial aggregate amount of up to $155.0 million, which may be increased pursuant to an accordion feature to up to $200.0 million, with a final maturity date of December 6, 2015. The credit agreement was amended on March 6, 2012, to increase the maximum aggregate amount of the revolving credit facility from $155.0 million to $165.0 million and to amend certain of the credit agreement's definitions and covenants. At any time after December 6, 2012, if the outstanding principal balance of revolving loans under the revolving credit facility of the credit agreement exceeds $50.0 million, $50.0 million of such revolving loans shall convert to an amortizing term loan due and payable in quarterly installments with a final maturity date of December 6, 2015.

At June 30, 2012, we were in compliance with all loan covenants with the exception of the covenant related to minimum adjusted EBITDA for the previous two fiscal quarters. We obtained a waiver from the banks for falling below this minimum adjusted EBITDA threshold, and we are in the process of negotiating additional amendments to certain of the credit agreement's terms and covenants in order to maintain compliance with the covenants in the credit agreement going forward.

At June 30, 2012, we had $42.5 million outstanding under our term loan, and $126.5 million outstanding under our revolving line of credit.

At June 30, 2012, the weighted average interest rate on our credit facility was 3.7%. If we elect to have interest accrue (1) based on the prime rate, then such interest is due and payable on the last day of each month and (2) based on LIBOR, then such interest is due and payable at the end of the applicable interest period that we elect, provided that if the applicable interest period is longer than three months interest will be due and payable in three month intervals. At June 30, 2012, almost all of the outstanding balance of our credit facility was based on LIBOR.

Future Needs

We expect that cash flow from operations, supplemented by short and long-term financing and the proceeds from our credit facility, as necessary, will be adequate to fund day-to-day operations and capital expenditure requirements, along with the holdback and/or earnouts due to the sellers of businesses we have acquired, including Datastream, NDeX Florida (acquired from the Albertelli Sellers), and ACT Litigation Services, and our payment obligations in connection with our 2009 and 2010 purchases of ownership interests in NDeX from minority partners. However, our ability to generate sufficient cash flow in the future could be adversely impacted by regulatory, lender and other responses to the mortgage foreclosure crisis, including new and proposed legislation and lenders' voluntary and required loss mitigation efforts and moratoria, including those described in Recent Developments Regulatory Environment earlier in this quarterly report.

Over the long term, we plan to continue to develop and evaluate potential acquisitions to expand our product and service offerings and customer base and enter new geographic markets. We would intend to fund these acquisitions with funds generated from operations and borrowings under our credit facility. We may also need to raise money to fund these acquisitions, as we did for the acquisition of Barrett-NDeX in 2008, through the sale of our equity securities or additional debt financing, including takedowns under our $200 million shelf registration statement declared effective by the SEC on January 27, 2010.

Table of Contents

Our ability to secure short-term and long-term financing in the future will depend on several factors, including our future profitability and cash flow from operations, the quality of our short and long-term assets, our relative levels of debt and equity, the financial condition and operations of acquisition targets (in the case of acquisition financing) and the overall condition of the credit markets.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

We are exposed to market risks related to interest rates. Other types of market risk, such as foreign currency risk, do not arise in the normal course of our business activities. Our exposure to changes in interest rates is limited to borrowings under our credit facility. However, as of June 30, 2012, we had swap arrangements that convert $75 million of our variable rate term loan into a fixed rate obligation. The aggregate notional amount of our two swap agreements will mature on various dates through December 31, 2014. In addition to this swap, we held a swap agreement with a notional amount of $25 million, which matured on March 31, 2011. We enter into derivative financial instrument transactions, such as swaps, in order to manage or reduce our exposure to risk from changes in interest rates. We do not enter into derivatives or other financial instrument transactions for speculative purposes.

We recognize all of our derivative instruments as either assets or liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet at fair value. We record the fair value of our swap agreements in accrued liabilities or other liabilities on our balance sheet, depending on the timing of the expiration of the swap agreement. The accounting for changes in the fair value of a derivative instrument, like our interest rate swap agreements, depends on whether it has been designated and qualifies for hedge accounting. As of June 30, 2012, we have designated our two interest rate swap agreements for hedge accounting treatment. Accordingly, we record changes in the fair value of these swap agreements in other comprehensive income or loss (net of tax) on our balance sheet for the period then ended. Conversely, we treated the fair value of the swap agreement that terminated on March 31, 2011, and did not qualify for hedge accounting treatment, as a component of interest income (expense) in our statement of operations for the period then ended.

During the first quarter of 2011, we recognized interest income of $0.3 million related to the fair value of the interest rate swap agreement that did not qualify for hedge accounting and terminated on March 31, 2011. We did not hold any interest rate swap agreements that did not qualify for hedge accounting during the six months ended June 30, 2012. At June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, we had $1.2 million and $1.3 million (net of tax), respectively, included in other accumulated comprehensive loss related to the fair value of our interest rate swap agreements. At both June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011, the estimated fair value of our fixed interest rate swaps was a liability of $2.1 million.

If the future interest yield curve decreases, the fair value of our interest rate swap agreements will decrease and interest expense will increase. If the future interest yield curve increases, the fair value of our interest rate swap agreements will increase and interest expense will decrease.

Based on the variable-rate debt included in our debt portfolio, a 75 basis point increase in interest rates would have resulted in additional interest expense of $0.2 million (pre-tax) for the three months ended June 30, 2012, and $0.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures*Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on such evaluation, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer have concluded that, as of the end of such period, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective and provided reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported accurately and within the time frames specified in the SEC's rules and forms and accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act) during the three months ended June 30, 2012, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

We are from time to time involved in ordinary, routine litigation incidental to our normal course of business, and we do not believe that any such existing litigation is material to our financial condition or results of operations.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

There have been no material changes from the risk factors we previously disclosed in Part I Item 1A. Risk Factors in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on March 9, 2012.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds

In December 2010, our Board of Directors approved a common stock repurchase program that allows us to purchase up to 2 million shares of our common stock at market prices at the discretion of management at any time through December 31, 2013. At June 30, 2012, 1,862,500 shares remained available under the program. No repurchases were made during the second quarter of 2012.
