% Adjusted over Average Assets	8.5%	8.4%	-	8.2	8.5	-

In the year, the R$3.290 billion Adjusted Net Interest Income appreciation was due to:

- a R$2.538 billion increase in result from interest income operations, mainly driven by the expansion of loan operations; and
- a R$752 million increase in non-interest income, principally as a result of higher Securities and Treasury gains.

In the quarter, the R$178 million increase was derived from:

- a R$225 million increase in non-interest income, mainly as a result of lower Securities and Treasury gains in 3Q06, partly due to the negative mark-to-market adjustment of the derivative financial instruments used to hedge the market risk of loan operations in Brazil; and
- partially affected by the R$47 million reduction in the result from interest income operations, basically, by the drop verified in spreads.

Note: The R$309 million supplementary provision for labor proceedings recorded in 3Q06, which is presented in a highlighted line in our statement of income, is not included.

In the year, the R$620 million variation was due to:

- the increase in payroll resulting from the 2006 collective bargaining agreement (3.5%) which affected expenses by R$54 million: R$ 14 million of labor provisions and R$40 million of payroll increase;

- Banco BEC/American Express Brasil consolidation in 2006; and
- the investments in the improvement and optimization of the IT platform.

Bradesco Seguros e Previdência posted Net Income of R$2.159 billion (+35.2% compared to 12M05). In the quarterly comparison, the profit of R$568 million remained stable when compared to the R$550 million recorded in the previous quarter.

Up to December 2006, the client base grew by 6.3% compared to December 2005, totaling 18.267 million clients.

Technical Provisions totaled R$48.7 billion, reflecting, according to Susep data, a 37.1% share in the Brazilian market (November/06 market data).

Combined Ratio

The improvement in the combined ratio is due to:

1) A reduction in claims of the Auto/RCF segment - resulting from the profile implementation, which completed one and a half year as well as in the Basic Line, due to the expressive growth of the residential insurance (with low loss ratios). Referring to the Health segment, the drop in claims resulted from the improved efficiency of operating controls/measures.

2) A reduction of administrative costs in the Insurance Group as a whole, which, in nominal terms, are currently in the same levels as presented in 2003.
