DUPONT REPORTS FIRST QUARTER 2006 EARNINGS;
INCREASES FULL-YEAR GUIDANCE

Highlights

- The company reported first quarter earnings of $.88 per share. Excluding significant items, earnings for the quarter were $.93 per share, compared to $.96 per share last year.
- Local prices were 3 percent higher than 2005, offsetting about 75 percent of the impact of higher energy and ingredient costs which increased $350 million above first quarter 2005.
- Worldwide sales volumes were up 2 percent on a comparable-business basis, largely driven by growth in Asia Pacific and Latin America.
 - Fixed costs, excluding significant items, were lower than last year's first quarter and improved 40 basis points to 39.6 percent of sales.
 - The company increased its outlook for 2006 reported earnings to $2.80 per share. Excluding significant items, the company expects to earn $2.85 per share, 22 percent higher than 2005 earnings per share of $2.34.

"We knew it would be a difficult operating environment in the first quarter, and I am very encouraged by the better than expected performance of our company," said Charles O. Holliday, Jr., DuPont chairman and chief executive officer. "I am especially pleased with how our people delivered these results. We are fully committed to growing revenue, controlling costs and improving return on assets across all of our businesses."

Global Consolidated Net Income and Sales

Consolidated net income for the first quarter was $817 million, or $.88 per share, including a previously announced Coatings & Color Technologies restructuring charge of $.10 per share, partly offset by a favorable tax audit settlement of $.05 per share. First quarter net income reflects higher local selling prices across all regions which were more than offset by the impact of higher raw material costs and the adverse effect of the stronger dollar. First quarter 2005 net income was $967 million, or $.96 per share.

Consolidated net sales for the first quarter were $7.4 billion, essentially equal to the first quarter 2005, and up 2 percent on a comparable business basis. For the quarter, volume increased 2 percent, reflecting increases in all regions except Europe, which had a modest decline. U.S. volume was up 1 percent in spite of reduced production for most of the quarter at the DeLisle, Miss., titanium dioxide (TiO₂) plant, resulting from Hurricane Katrina.

	Three Months Ended			Percentage Change Due to:

* Percentages shown are on a comparable business basis by excluding first quarter 2005 sales of $167 million for former elastomers businesses transferred to The Dow Chemical Company on June 30, 2005.

Earnings Per Share

The table below shows the variances in first quarter 2006 earnings per share (EPS) versus first quarter 2005, by major element:

EPS ANALYSIS

			1 st Quarter
EPS - 2005			$.96
Local prices			.20
Volume			.02
Variable costs			(.26)
Fixed costs			(.03)
Currency			(.06)
Lower shares net of higher interest			.05
Other			.05
Subtotal			.93
1Q'06 Significant items (see Schedule B)			(.05)
EPS - 2006			$.88

Improved local pricing and higher volumes offset much of the impact of higher raw material costs. While total fixed costs were lower than last year, and fixed cost productivity (measured as percent of sales) improved 40 basis points versus last year, total fixed costs, excluding a currency translation benefit and portfolio changes, were slightly higher.

Business Segment Performance

Segment pretax operating income (PTOI) for first quarter 2006 was $1.3 billion, including a restructuring charge of $135 million for the Coatings & Color Technologies segment. Segment PTOI, sales, and percentage changes versus first quarter 2005 are shown in the tables below.

* 2006 PTOI includes a $135 restructuring charge; excluding this charge, PTOI declined 7 percent.

* Segment sales include inter-segment transfers and a pro rata share of affiliates' sales. Percentages shown for Performance Materials are after excluding first quarter 2005 sales of $167 million for former elastomers businesses transferred to The Dow Chemical Company on June 30, 2005.

Following are summaries of first quarter 2006 performance for the business segments. Additional information on segment performance is available on the DuPont Investor Center at www.dupont.com.

Agriculture & Nutrition

- PTOI decreased $169 million with current quarter earnings of $588 million versus $757 million in the prior year. The decline reflects negative currency impact, higher cost of goods sold and slightly lower volumes, partly offset by a $28 million gain on the sale of a technology license.

7

- First quarter sales of $2.2 billion were down 5 percent, in line with expectations, reflecting negative currency impact and lower seed volumes.
- Cost of goods sold increased as a result of higher raw material and seed production costs.
- Important recent pipeline advances include the U.S. launch of corn hybrids with the new Herculex® Root Worm trait and licensing agreements for the company's proprietary herbicide tolerance trait -- Optimum™ GAT™ -- and a new high efficacy insecticide, Rynaxypyr™ .. DuPont also announced the formation of a joint venture with Syngenta, GreenLeaf Genetics, to out-license genetics and biotech traits.

Coatings & Color Technologies

- PTOI of $15 million was reduced by a $135 million charge associated with the transformation program in performance coatings. Prior year PTOI was $161 million.
- First quarter sales were $1.5 billion, down 1 percent. U.S. dollar (USD) prices increased 2 percent, while volumes were 3 percent lower, primarily the result of reduced production earlier in the quarter at the DeLisle TiO₂ plant due to hurricane damage. Full production at the plant was restored in March.
- Higher USD selling prices largely reflect local price improvements for titanium dioxide and refinish products, partly offset by a negative currency impact.
- The transformation program for the coatings unit focuses the business on higher growth market segments, and is expected to reduce segment costs by $165 million per year.

Electronic & Communication Technologies

- PTOI was $163 million versus $110 million in the prior year, up 48 percent. Higher sales and lower fixed costs more than offset higher ingredients costs.
- First quarter sales were $0.9 billion, up 6 percent, with 1 percent higher USD selling prices.

- Revenue growth principally reflects higher sales volumes and precious metal prices for electronic materials and higher prices and volumes for fluoroproducts. Key growth applications included photovoltaics, semiconductor fabrication, cell phones, and wire and cable.

Performance Materials

- PTOI was $137 million versus $211 million in 2005, a decline of 35 percent, primarily resulting from significantly higher raw material costs, raw material supply disruptions, and an asset impairment charge of $27 million.
- First quarter sales of $1.7 billion increased 6 percent on a comparable business basis, reflecting higher selling prices and volumes that more than overcame a negative currency impact.
- Revenue growth in engineering polymers and elastomers occurred in all major product lines and across all regions.

8

Safety & Protection

- PTOI was $269 million versus $231 million in the prior year, largely as a result of sales growth in aramids, nonwovens and solid surfaces. PTOI margins increased moderately as a result of effective manufacturing operations and fixed costs leverage.
- First quarter sales of $1.4 billion reflected double-digit growth before currency impacts. USD prices increased 5 percent despite negative currency impact, and more than offset higher raw materials costs. Volumes grew in almost all businesses.
- Demand remained firm across major markets such as personal protection, construction and industrial.

Outlook

On January 25, the company provided its full-year earnings outlook of $2.60 per share, up 11 percent from $2.34 per share in 2005 before significant items. On March 15, this outlook was increased to $2.70 per share, excluding significant items, because of improved operating performance by many of the company's businesses. Today, the company increased its full-year 2006 outlook to about $2.80 per share, including first quarter significant items totaling a net charge of $.05 per share. Excluding significant items, the company expects to earn about $2.85 per share, 22 percent higher than 2005 earnings per share of $2.34.

For the second quarter, the company expects to earn about $.90 per share, anticipating that continued pricing strength, volume and fixed cost control will offset higher energy and ingredient costs and competitive pressures in its production agriculture businesses.

"We are raising our full-year earnings outlook in light of first quarter performance and the progress we have made in successfully implementing initiatives to accelerate shareholder value," Holliday said. "We are building on the positive momentum achieved in the first quarter, taking the necessary measures in underperforming businesses, and accelerating execution to deliver on our commitments."

Use of Non-GAAP Measures

Management believes that measures of income excluding significant items ("non-GAAP" information) are meaningful to investors because they provide insight with respect to ongoing operating results of the company. Such measurements are not recognized in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and should not be viewed as an alternative to GAAP measures of performance. Reconciliations of non-GAAP measures to GAAP are provided in Schedule E.
