PROXY STATEMENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

Tuesday, July 22, 2003

The enclosed proxy is solicited by the Board of Directors of Legg Mason, Inc. (Legg Mason) and may be revoked by the stockholder at any time before it is exercised. The cost of soliciting proxies will be borne by Legg Mason. Proxies will be solicited by mail and may be solicited by Legg Mason's officers, directors and employees personally, by telephone or by any other means of communication. Legg Mason may reimburse brokers, banks, custodians, nominees and other fiduciaries for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in forwarding proxy materials to their principals. Legg Mason is sending this proxy material to stockholders on or about June 18, 2003.

Stockholders of record at the close of business on May 23, 2003 are entitled to notice of and to vote at the meeting. As of the close of business on that date, there were outstanding and entitled to vote (i) 65,069,442 shares of Common Stock, $.10 par value (Common Stock), of Legg Mason, each of which is entitled to one vote and (ii) 2,256,745 Exchangeable Shares, no par value (Exchangeable Shares), of a Canadian subsidiary of Legg Mason, each of which is exchangeable into, and has voting rights identical to, one share of Common Stock.

Directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the holders of shares of Common Stock and Exchangeable Shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting, with a quorum present. Abstentions and broker non-votes do not affect the plurality vote for the election of directors.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Legg Mason's Board of Directors is divided into three classes. Each year one class is elected to serve for a term of three years. The stockholders will vote at this Annual Meeting for

- the election of five directors for the three-year term expiring at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders in 2006; and
- the election of Dennis R. Beresford for the two-year term expiring at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders in 2005. Mr. Beresford was elected as a director by the Board of Directors in September 2002 to fill a vacancy on the Board. To balance the classes, he was assigned to the class whose term expires in 2005. Under Maryland law, Mr. Beresford must be elected by stockholders at this Annual Meeting.

All nominees presently serve as directors.

The persons named in the enclosed proxy will vote for the election of the nominees named below unless authority to vote is withheld. In the event any nominee is unable to serve, the persons named in the proxy may vote for a substitute nominee that they, in their discretion, shall determine. The Board of Directors has no reason to believe that any nominee will be unable to serve.

STOCK OPTIONS

The following table summarizes option grants made by Legg Mason during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 to the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table.

Name	Individual Grants(1)					Grant Date Present Value(2)
	Number of Securities Underlying Options Granted	% of Total Options Granted to Employees in Fiscal Year	Exercise Price ($/Share)	Expiration Date

- (1) Option grants made pursuant to the Legg Mason, Inc. 1996 Equity Incentive Plan. The exercise price of each option granted under the Plan is not less than the fair market value of the Common Stock on the grant date. Options generally are not exercisable during the first year after the date of grant, and thereafter generally become exercisable in cumulative installments of 20% on each anniversary of the date of grant, so that the options are fully exercisable on and after 5 years from the date of grant until the eighth year following that date. In all cases, vesting of options may be accelerated in certain circumstances. Option holders may use previously owned shares to pay all or part of the exercise price.
- (2) The stock options were valued using the Black-Scholes Option Pricing Model. The following assumptions were made for purposes of calculating the Grant Date Present Value: an expected option term of 7 years to exercise, based on the expected period until exercise; a dividend yield of .81%; stock price volatility of 33.56%, based upon the daily Common Stock market price for 7 years prior to the grant date; and a risk-free interest rate of 4.16%. The actual value realized, if any, on stock option exercises will be dependent on overall market conditions and the future performance of Legg Mason and its Common Stock. Legg Mason cannot be certain that the actual value realized will approximate the amount calculated under the valuation model.

The following table summarizes option exercises during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 by the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table and the value of their unexercised options at March 31, 2003.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Legg Mason's executive compensation program is designed to attract, motivate and retain the management talent needed to strengthen Legg Mason's position in the financial services industry and to achieve its business objectives.

Salaries of senior executive officers are set at levels which the Compensation Committee (the Committee) of the Board of Directors believes are competitive with salaries of executives in similar positions at comparable financial services companies. In addition, in determining senior executive compensation, the Committee places substantial emphasis on incentive compensation directly related to short and long-term corporate performance through annual cash bonuses, restricted stock awards and stock option grants. The members of the Committee are non-employee directors.

As is common in the financial services industry, a significant portion of the total cash compensation of Legg Mason's executive officers is paid in the form of bonuses. For example, in fiscal 2003, approximately 95% of the annual cash compensation of Raymond A. Mason, Legg Mason's Chief Executive Officer (CEO), was paid as bonuses. This is intended to maximize the portion of an individual's compensation that is subject to fluctuation each year based upon corporate and individual performance.

The compensation program is structured to recognize each executive's level of responsibility and to reward exceptional individual and corporate performance. The program takes into account both annual operating results and the desirability of providing incentives for future improvement. This includes the ability to implement Legg Mason's business plans as well as to react to unanticipated external factors which can have a significant impact on corporate performance. Compensation decisions for all executives, including the CEO, are based on the same general criteria.

There are three major components of Legg Mason's executive compensation program: base salary; short-term awards; and long-term incentive awards.

Base Salary

A competitive base salary is important in fostering a career orientation among executives consistent with the long-term nature of Legg Mason's business objectives. The Committee determines the salary of the CEO and Legg Mason's other senior executive officers based on its consideration of the CEO's recommendations.

Salaries and salary adjustments are based on the responsibilities, performance and experience of each executive, regular reviews of competitive positioning (comparing Legg Mason's salary structure with that of similar companies) and business performance. While there is no specific weighting of these factors, the responsibilities, performance and experience of each executive and reviews of competitive positioning are the most important considerations.

Raymond A. Mason, Legg Mason's CEO, has more than 40 years of service with Legg Mason. The Committee established his fiscal 2003 salary of $400,000 based upon competitive positioning and Legg Mason's overall compensation approach of limiting base salary levels and emphasizing incentive compensation.

Short-Term Awards

Short-term awards to executives are based on Legg Mason's fiscal year operating results and the performance and responsibilities of the individual executives. Short-term awards also reflect each executive officer's contributions to the business during the fiscal year.

Legg Mason's Executive Incentive Compensation Plan provides for an executive bonus pool in an amount up to 10% of Legg Mason's pre-tax income (calculated before deduction of the bonuses) for annual awards to the CEO and other key executive officers selected by the Committee. Because the pool amount is based on pre-tax income, the total size of the pool varies with Legg Mason's performance. During the first quarter of the fiscal year the Committee established maximum percentage allocations of the total pool for certain key executive officers. Mr. Mason's maximum percentage allocation for fiscal 2003 was established at 39%. After the end of each fiscal year, the Committee approves specific bonuses from the pool for each participating executive officer, which may not exceed the maximum percentage previously allocated. The pre-established maximum percentage allocation and the specific bonus the CEO and each of the other selected executives receives within the amount determined pursuant to the pre-established percentage allocation is dependent on the executive's level of responsibility, individual performance, corporate performance, initiative, business judgment and management skills.

In addition, when circumstances warrant, the Committee may award an executive officer a bonus that is in addition to the bonus awarded under the bonus pool. These bonuses are awarded based on the same factors used in allocating the bonus pool, and generally are used to reward outstanding performance that the Committee feels warrants a bonus in excess of the maximum percentage allocated to that executive officer from the bonus pool.

In fiscal 2003, the Committee granted Mr. Mason quarterly supplemental bonuses totaling $844,688 conditioned upon the proceeds being applied to repay a portion of the outstanding principal on a loan from Legg Mason. This was done pursuant to the Committee's decision, when it granted the loan in 1998 as part of a compensation arrangement, to award supplemental bonuses that Mr. Mason would use to repay the loan.

Total bonuses (including restricted stock awards) to the CEO and the four other named executive officers with respect to fiscal 2003 aggregated 4.3% of pre-tax income (before deduction of the bonuses), with 52% of the total bonuses (2.2% of Legg Mason's pre-tax income before deduction of the bonuses) being awarded to Mr. Mason. As discussed below, for certain executive officers, not including Messrs. Mason and Brinkley, the Committee approved the issuance of restricted shares of Common Stock in May 2003 in lieu of paying a portion of their cash bonuses for fiscal 2003. The total bonuses awarded to Mr. Mason for fiscal 2003 reflect his significant personal contributions to Legg Mason and its business, and were based on the Committee's general evaluation of Mr. Mason's overall contribution to Legg Mason's business. Although market conditions made fiscal 2003 a difficult year for companies in the financial services industry, the Committee feels that Mr. Mason did an excellent job in guiding Legg Mason throughout the year. The Committee believes that Mr. Mason's salary and cash bonuses were appropriate in relation to compensation of CEOs of comparable companies, taking into account the size, business results and stock performance of Legg Mason and those companies.

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code limits deductions for certain annual compensation in excess of $1,000,000 paid to individuals required to be named in the summary compensation table in proxy statements of public companies. The Committee believes it is important to balance the effectiveness of executive compensation plans with the materiality of potentially reduced tax deductions. Accordingly, the Committee may authorize payments that may not be fully deductible if the Committee believes it is in the interest of Legg Mason to do so.

Long-Term Incentive Awards

Long-term incentive awards are designed to reinforce the importance of building long-term value for Legg Mason's stockholders. All long-term incentive awards made in fiscal 2003 were made under the stockholder-approved Legg Mason, Inc. 1996 Equity Incentive Plan.

Stock options and restricted shares of Common Stock were the only long-term incentives granted to executive officers for fiscal 2003. The Committee believes that stock option grants focus management's attention on long-term growth in stockholder value and stock price appreciation. Generally, options have a term of up to eight years, are granted at the fair market value of Legg Mason Common Stock on the date of grant, and an initial portion of the options becomes exercisable one year from the date of grant, with the balance becoming exercisable in increments over the ensuing four years. Generally, recipients must remain employed by Legg Mason to exercise their options.

The number of options that the Committee grants to executive officers is based on individual performance and level of responsibility, and is approved by the Committee after considering the recommendations of the CEO. Award levels must be sufficient in size so that executives develop strong incentives to achieve long-term corporate goals.

In order to increase stock ownership of executive officers and further align the incentives of management and stockholders, the Committee granted restricted shares of Common Stock to several executive officers in lieu of paying a portion of their cash bonuses for fiscal 2003 under Legg Mason's Executive Incentive Compensation Plan. In May 2003, each recipient was granted shares that had a fair market value, on the date the Committee approved the grant, equal to the amount of cash bonus that was replaced. One-third of the shares of restricted stock granted vest on each of the first three anniversaries of the grant date. Prior to vesting, the shares may not be transferred and are generally subject to forfeiture in certain circumstances.

In October 2002, the Committee determined to abandon a proposed new long-term incentive program under the Legg Mason, Inc. 1996 Equity Incentive Plan for fiscal 2003 that it had adopted in April 2002. Under that program, certain executive officers would have been granted supplemental bonuses, paid in shares of Common Stock, if Legg Mason's diluted earnings per share in fiscal 2003 exceeded its diluted earnings per share in fiscal 2002 by a specified amount. Mr. Mason did not believe that a supplemental long-term incentive program was appropriate in the current environment and recommended that the program be abandoned. Based on Mr. Mason's recommendation, the Committee decided to abandon this program.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003, John E. Koerner, III and James E. Ukrop served on the Compensation Committee. Neither of these individuals has ever been an officer or employee of Legg Mason or any of its subsidiaries and no compensation committee interlocks existed during fiscal 2003 since no Legg Mason executive officers served on the boards of other publicly traded companies.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors assists the Board of Directors in its oversight of the financial reporting of Legg Mason and its subsidiaries by recommending the independent accountants, reviewing the scope and results of the independent accountants' audits, reviewing the activities of Legg Mason's internal auditors and reviewing the organization and scope of Legg Mason's internal system of accounting and financial controls. The Audit Committee is composed of four non-employee directors and operates under a written charter adopted by the Board of Directors. A copy of that charter was included in Legg Mason's 2001 Proxy Statement. The Board of Directors has determined that each member of the Audit Committee is independent and financially literate and, although no members of the Audit Committee are currently professionally engaged in the practice of accounting or auditing, at least one member has accounting or other related financial management expertise, in each case as such qualifications are defined under the current rules of the New York Stock Exchange.

The Audit Committee held six meetings during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003. The meetings were intended, among other things, to facilitate communication among the Audit Committee, management, internal auditors and Legg Mason's independent accountants. The Audit Committee reviewed with Legg Mason's internal auditors and its independent accountants the overall scope and plans for their respective audits, and discussed with both the internal auditors and the independent auditors the results of their examinations and their evaluations of Legg Mason's internal controls.

Legg Mason's management is responsible for the financial reporting process, including the system of internal controls, and for the preparation, presentation and integrity of consolidated financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Legg Mason's independent accountants are responsible for auditing those financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. The Audit Committee monitors and reviews these processes. The members of the Audit Committee rely, without independent verification, on the information provided to them and on the representations made by management and the independent accountants.

In this context, the Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the audited consolidated financial statements of Legg Mason as of and for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 with management and Legg Mason's independent accountants. The Audit Committee has also discussed with the independent accountants the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, Communication with Audit Committees. Furthermore, the Audit Committee has received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent accountants required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, Independence Discussions with Audit Committees, and has discussed with the independent accountants their independence from Legg Mason and its management. When considering the independent accountants' independence, the Audit Committee considered whether their provision of services to Legg Mason beyond those rendered in connection with their audit and review of Legg Mason's consolidated financial statements was compatible with maintaining their independence. The Audit Committee also reviewed, among other things, the amount of fees paid to the independent accountants for audit and non-audit services.

Based on the reviews, reports and discussions described in this Report, and subject to the limitations on the Audit Committee's role and responsibilities referred to above, the Audit Committee has recommended to the Board of Directors that Legg Mason's audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 be included in Legg Mason's Annual Report on Form 10-K.

In the ordinary course of its business, Legg Mason has extended credit to certain of its directors and executive officers in connection with their purchases of securities in margin accounts. Extensions of credit have been made on terms comparable to loans to unaffiliated customers and did not involve more than the normal risk of collectability or present other unfavorable features. No such extension has resulted in a loss to Legg Mason. Subsequent to the enactment of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, Legg Mason has made no new margin loans to directors or executive officers who are not employees of LMWW and has not permitted increases in any margin loans to directors or executive officers who are not employees of LMWW.
