Subject: Update on Andrew Merger Announcement

After our Wednesday announcement of the Andrew merger and ADC's 2QFY06 results, the price of ADC's stock decreased approximately 20%. I would like to share with you why we continue to believe this merger is an extremely exciting and significant opportunity for ADC.

For the last two years, the ADC leadership team has been telling our shareholders, customers and employees that we intend to become a global leader in network infrastructure. We stated that we planned to accomplish this through both internal product and market developments, and acquisitions. During this time we have launched new products, opened new markets and acquired KRONE, OpenCell and FONS. Through all of these efforts, together we have grown the company to a point where we could pursue a merger with the leader in wireless infrastructure - Andrew.

ADC has a vision and strategy to build a great company with long-term value to our shareowners. We continue to believe our vision and strategy will drive shareholder value in the long run.

We believe that ADC and Andrew together will be able to create more value for our customers, shareowners and employees than we could on our own. I believe we can achieve superior operating and financial performance with our shared mission to provide innovative wireline and wireless infrastructure solutions supported with superior customer service. I strongly believe that this is the correct plan and we will continue in our pursuit to become a leader.

I said it on Wednesday but want to highlight this point again. Remain vigilant in the support you provide to our customers. Stay focused on our business so that together we can successfully execute on our third and fourth quarter goals.
